

A Physicians Advice.

I suffered for years from general debility. Tried other remedies, and got no relief. My Physician prescribed S. S. S. Increased in flesh; My appetite improved; I gained strength; Was made young again; It is the best medicine I know of.

The reason RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER is the most wonderful medicine, is because it has never failed in any instance, no matter what the disease, from Leprosy to the simplest disease known to the human system.

Caused by Microbes, -AND- Radman's Microbe Killer

Externates the microbes and drives them out of the system, and when that is done you cannot have an ache or pain. No matter what the disease, whether a simple case of malaria fever or a combination of diseases, we cure them all at the same time, as we treat all diseases constitutionally.

Asthma, Consumption, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver Disease, Chills and Fever, Female Troubles, in all its forms, and in fact, every disease known to the human system.

The trouble with justice is that she does so little besides holding her scales. How can I get rid of superfluous hair, Mr. Druggist? Got married, sir. Boston Courier. Why do you call that group of middle-aged ladies on the piazza anatomists? Because they are always cutting up people. Boston Gazette. Papa, what is a savage? A savage, my son, is a man who occupies two whole seats in a railway car, while some poor woman with a sick baby has to stand up. Ram's Horn.

The meanest man in Washington is the one who made the minister give him a receipt when he paid him a dollar for officiating at his marriage. Washington Critic.

Great Publisher: Very sorry, sir, but your manuscript will not do. Old Time Novelist: Eh? What is the matter with it? Great Publisher: It seems to have a plot. N. Y. Weekly.

He: O, Ethel, promise you will be my wife. Ethel (who is packed to go away for the summer): No, George, I can not; at least, not until my return in October. Washington Star.

Mrs. Rural (at an art gallery and looking at a Madonna): Whose picture is that? Attendant: Raphael's, madam. Mrs. Rural: Why, sakes alive! I always thought Raphael was a man. Yalo Record.

Bank President (to cashier in jail): Why didn't you go to Canada? Cashier (haughtily): Because I've got some pride about me and I didn't want to go up there with only $25,000 and live on a back street in a strange city. Washington Star.

I don't believe papa sent this telegram at all. Mrs. Snaggs, after carefully scrutinizing one just received. Why not? asked her husband. Don't I know my own papa's handwriting? This doesn't look a bit like it. Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Lady Shopper: Doesn't it require considerable experience to put the color on? Clerk: No, ma'am, not at all; you can put it on yourself. Lady Shopper: Thank you, sir, but I wanted it for use on porcelain. Boston Transcript.

Alas! For a Lass: I'm in love and would marry. I'm really quite anxious to wed; And single no longer I'd tarry. I long to be double instead. Fogg: I see that by the new baseball rules a fellow who is at the bat and is hit by a pitched ball can take his base. Now, what is to prevent a man getting hit by the ball on purpose to get his base? Fielding: Have you ever been hit by a pitched ball? Fogg: No. Fielding: I thought not. America.

Great Editor: We shall have to dispense with your services, Mr. Jones. A man who knows no more about grammar than to write about a "female poetess" is hardly fitted for the newspaper business. New Reporter: I was a little afraid you would kick, but that exactly describes the kind of poetess she is. Terre Haute Express.

RUSSIAN SUPERSTITION. An Extraordinary Manifestation of Latter-Day Ignorance.

An old superstition, with specially Russian characteristics, has of late been manifested in Klishbeva, a village in the government of Moscow. At the beginning of June two peasants dug up a spring of water at that place. An old woman dreamed that the newly-discovered spring possessed curative properties, and she told her dream to the laborers of a factory near by. Thereupon masses of people, mostly women and children, began flocking around the healing waters. As the spring did not yield enough water to satisfy them all a fence was built around it, and a cross was erected on the spot. Several peasants of the village stand inside the fence and deal out the water in bottles to the applicants, each of whom deposits a coin at the foot of the cross. The money is collected by the elder of the village every evening and kept "for communal purposes." At the foot of the cross there stands a bottle with two lead frogs in it, who had come to their untimely end in a peculiar manner. Before the concourse of sick persons around the spring was great, some of the peasants caught two perfectly healthy women, told them that they were dangerously ill, and pinning them to the ground, made them drink the healing waters until they fainted. When the poor women were picked up from the ground the two frogs were found in their garments, and were declared to be leviads driven out by the virtue of the holy water. They are now exhibited in the bottle as a sign of the wondrous properties of the spring. The rush of people to that place is so great now that the authorities have great difficulty keeping them in order. An attempt on the part of the authorities to cover up the spring was met with loud protests by the villagers and the duped masses around the place, and had, therefore, to be abandoned. London Letter.

From the Portuguese. Mr. Thomas Stinky is precisely what his name would signify. The other day a friend visited him. It was very hot, and after a few words had been interchanged Mr. Stinky asked his caller, "Would you like to have some refreshment?" "With great pleasure, dear old boy!" exclaimed the poor fellow, who was awfully thirsty. "All right, I will open the windows. We'll have some breeze," - Judge.

In Sweet Accord. Mrs. Dontranto: O, dear! what can we give Milly Name for her wedding present. I suppose it must be in accord with her wealth and position. Mr. Dontranto: I suppose so. Well, let's give her a miniature ice chest, with a piece of real ice in it. Detroit Free Press.

Polite Under Trying Circumstances. Burglar: Now, fork out, Gimme yer watch. Now yer pocketbook. Yer silver match safe. Now yer small change. Polite Victim (an ex-merchant): Any thing else to-day, sir? Shall I send these? - N. Y. Sun.

FRIDAY IN HISTORY.

An Able Argument Which Proves That It Is Not an Unlucky Day.

Sailors, as a class, are superstitious, and attach much importance to signs and omens. When rats desert a sinking ship, Jack requires no further notice to pack his chest. In many ports at the present time, and in this port, sailors would leave a vessel if the sailing day was set for a Friday. As a matter of fact, history records the following: Friday, August 1, 1492, Columbus sailed on his great voyage of discovery. Friday, October 12, 1492, he first discovered land. Friday, January 4, 1494, he sailed on his return to Spain, which he reached in safety, the happy result which led to the settlement of this vast continent. Friday, June 13, 1494, he discovered the continent of America. Friday, March 5, 1496, Henry VIII., of England, gave to John Cabot his commission, which led to the discovery of North America. This is the first American state paper in England. Friday, September 7, 1465, Melendez founded St. Augustine, the oldest town in the United States by more than forty years. Friday, November 10, 1620, the Mayflower, with the Pilgrims, made the harbor of Provincetown, and on the same day they signed that august compact. Friday, December 21, 1620, the Pilgrims made a final landing at Plymouth Rock. Friday, February 22, George Washington was born. Friday, September 22, 1780, Arnold's treason was laid bare, which saved us from destruction. Friday, October 19, 1781, the surrender of Cornwallis took place. Friday, July 7, 1776, the motion was made in Congress by John Adams and seconded by Richard Henry Lee, that the United States colonies were, and of right ought to be, free and independent. Friday, November 20, 1721, the first Masonic lodge was organized in North America. Friday, March 15, 1609, the Hudson river was discovered. Friday, November 28, 1814, the first newspaper printed by steam, the London Times, was printed. Friday, December 25, 1742, Isaac Newton was born. Friday, June 3, the first steam vessel to cross the Atlantic sailed from Savannah. The Great Eastern left the Irish coast to lay the Atlantic cable on Friday and reached Heart's Content on Friday. Queen Victoria was married on Friday. Napoleon Bonaparte was born on Friday. Battle of Bunker Hill was fought on Friday. Joan of Arc burned at the stake on Friday. Battle of Waterloo fought on Friday. Battle of Marengo fought on Friday. Julius Caesar assassinated on Friday. Lee surrendered on Friday. Fort Sumter bombarded on Friday. Moscow burned on Friday. Shakespeare born on Friday. Battle of Orleans fought on Friday. Richmond evacuated on Friday. - Ocean.

Mrs. Youngbride: "And now what else have you got that would be nice?" Grocer: "Well, mum, there's some very fine egg-plant." Mrs. Youngbride: "O, yes; do send up an egg-plant. Clarence is so fond of omelette." - America.

A well known lawyer of Toronto who is about to be married ordered his wedding suit, whereupon it was attached by a lady to whom he owed $41, the payment of which he had systematically evaded. His wedding garments are now in the hands of a court official, and will be put up at auction if the matter is not settled.

Anxious Mother: My dear, it's perfectly abominable the way the men hug you at these hotel hops. Now, look at that couple coming this way. See how respectfully that gentleman treats the lady he is dancing with. He holds her almost at arm's length." Pretty Daughter: "But, ma, they are married." - N. Y. Weekly.

"Can you do any thing with my account to-day, sir?" asked a collector. "I'd like to pay it," replied Gazam, "but the fact is I haven't any gold coin, and the doctors declare that the notes carry the microbes about. One can't be too careful, you know, and under the circumstances I wouldn't pay you with notes for all the world."

The average velocity of the Gulf Stream is about three miles, yet there are places where it attains a speed of fifty-four miles, per hour. Through the Yucatan Channel, the current is only about one-fourth of a mile per hour. In the Straits of Benini, however, it has a breadth of fifty miles, a depth of about 2,000 feet, and a velocity of between four and five miles.

P. Thompson, of Pine Canyon, Cal., cut a bee tree, and in taking out the honey he found several hawk's eggs incorporated in different layers of comb. The comb had been built around the eggs in such a manner as to leave them in the center. Evidently there had been a contest as to the right of possession between bird and insect, and the latter had settled the case without recourse to the courts.

Years ago Ruskin vented his spleen against all kinds of cycles thuswise: "I not only object, but am quite prepared to spend all my best 'bad language' in reprobation of bi-, tri- and 4-, 5-, 6- or 7-cycles, and every invention for superseding human feet on God's ground. To walk, to run, to leap, and to dance are the virtues of the human body; and neither to stride on stilts, wriggle on wheels, or dangle on ropes, and nothing in the training of the human mind with the body will ever supersede the appointed God's ways of slow walking and hard working."

A game hen died on R. W. Gamble's place, at Cuthbert, Ga. This hen had reached the age of fourteen years, lacking only a few weeks. She continued to lay eggs until a year before she died. For several months she had been totally blind, but was fed and watered regularly by Miss Mary Gamble. In 1886, when Mr. Gamble moved to Macon, this hen was carried there, and brought back when he returned to Cuthbert. In the spring of 1882, when the cyclone struck Mr. Gamble's place and tore things up, this old hen was setting in a box on the kitchen hearth. The kitchen was blown away, the chimney was missing, but the hearth remained, and there sat the old hen in her box, as composed as if nothing had happened.

Guided Grant and Sheridan. I had as a guide on the battle-field of Waterloo, says a writer for the Lewiston Journal, an old resident of Waterloo, whose father at the date of the battle lived in yonder cottage on the right flank of Wellington. Perhaps you would like to hear this old guide's story: "I guided Sheridan, great cavalry man, big monstache-I show him battle-field of Waterloo. I also show General Grant, General Grant told me he was surprised that there was only three-fourths of a mile between the headquarters of Napoleon and Wellington. Grant said to me: 'War is different now. Bigger field, bigger guns, more shot.' Do you see that cottage in the young apple trees?-that is where Victor Hugo lived three months. I drank beer with Victor Hugo many times."

She Know the Blast. Husband: My dear, do you know what I'd do if I had a hundred thousand dollars? Wife: No, but I fancy you'd be so disappointed because it wasn't two hundred thousand that you'd make me wait just as long for a new silk dress as you do now. - N. Y. World.

A Bright Pupil. Teacher: Now, children, here we have the word "intuition." Who can tell me what it means? Phenomenally Bright Scholar: Intuition is that faculty of the human mind which enables a person to distinguish at a glance a patent medicine advertisement from a real news article. - The Jury.

A watch for blind people has been invented in Switzerland. In the middle of every figure is a small peg, which drops when the hour hand reaches the figure. The owner feels that the peg is down, and counts back to the peg to determine the hour.

I. N. Blankinship, of Marion, Mass., has a clock which was made in 1732. The works are of brass, and the clock keeps as good time as it did when it was made, 158 years ago, but the accounts vary as to the kind of time it kept in 1732.

Fully three-fourths of the babies of the world go naked until they get to be five or six years old. The Canadian Indians keep their babies naked up to a certain point, and as for the little Koreans, they wear nothing but a short skirt until they are as old as our school-boys.

A retired English army officer of means is on a tour through the Western States of America. When he sat down to dinner a day or two ago he met with quite a surprise. The waiter who took his order was his son, who had run away from home to scalp Indians some seven years ago.

GRAND OPENING SALE OF THE Wytheville Development Company. Sale will begin September 30, at 1 o'clock.

WYTHEVILLE, VA. "THE GEM OF THE ALLEGHANIES"-"THE SARATOGA OF THE SOUTH."

The county seat of Wythe county, which was awarded the diploma with $500 premium at the Virginia Exposition at Richmond, in 1888, in Minerals and Woods. Population 4,000. Altitude 2,360 feet.

Wythe County has two blast and fifteen charcoal iron furnaces, and several zinc and lead furnaces. Wytheville offers free the best sites and greatest inducements to manufacturing industries of any city in the South. The Wytheville Development Company's reserve fund for new industries alone amounts to $180,000. Wytheville is the centre of the richest mineral region in the South. Wytheville exempts all manufacturing industries from municipal taxation for ten years. Wytheville has beautiful and well-paved streets 60, 70 and 95 feet in width. Two electric light plants and three water systems. Wytheville has the best public schools and the handsomest school building in Virginia; has three female colleges and two male academies. Owing to its mineral waters, free to visitors, which are highly curative for many diseases, and its great altitude, it has grown into a great and fashionable health resort.

The Wytheville Development Company will place on the market, September 30, 500 residence and business lots of its property in the new West End Extension, lying between the Wytheville Cotton Mills and the "Jackson Park Hotel," on both of which work has just begun. This property to be offered for sale for the first time, September 30, is the most beautiful property in Wytheville, and will be priced at very reasonable figures in order to encourage investments. Investments in Wytheville real estate within the last ninety days have borne from 100 to 500 per cent. to investors.

The Norfolk and Western railroad, running from Norfolk to the West and Northwest, will have on sale at stations on line and agencies in New England special excursion round-trip tickets to Wytheville, good until October 31.

For further particulars, apply to W. L. YOST, president of the Wytheville Development Company, Wytheville, Va. sep21-1m
