LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mr. L. Obermyer, chief watchman at the Roanoke Machine Works, will leave to-day for a trip of two weeks to Altoona, Pa., during which time he will transact some business and visit his relatives and friends living there.

A safety plug blew out of a boiler in the erecting shop of the Roanoke Machine Works yesterday and caused some commotion for a time. When the water and steam blow out the noise subsided.

A marriage license was issued by the clerk of the court yesterday to W. C. Brewer and Mrs. Henrietta Burks.

Mrs. Williams, of Altoona, Pa., mother of Mrs. W. K. Carr, and her sister, Mrs. Nicodemus, of Philadelphia, are in the city, the guests of Mrs. Carr, Bullitt street.

F. S. Camper left yesterday for Radford on business. He may remain for several weeks, during which time he expects to locate there.

Misses Annie McCreary and Josephine Rife, of Hinton, W. Va., who have been visiting the family of Mr. M. A. Rife, returned to their homes yesterday morning.

Judge Diggs, of the corporation court of Lynchburg, is the city holding court in the place of Judge Robertson, who was a witness in the case of Commonwealth vs. Martha and Jordan Taylor.

Mr. Rush U. Derr has a letter from Dr. H. A. Sims, who moved to Chicago some weeks ago, saying that he liked the place very much and was building up a fine practice.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Temple, of Spencer, Mass., are stopping at Hotel Roanoke, guests of Jas. D. Lazell.

An Adventurous Career.

Frank Smith, who has been traveling for the firm of Harper & Watts, of Philadelphia, for fifteen years, is in Roanoke, superintending the repair work of Hotel Roanoke. Mr. Smith has had many thrilling adventures during his travels, but the narrowest escape from death he ever had was during the Johnstown flood. He was in the train that was washed away at that place and had just left his seat in one of the coaches and gone forward to the smoker, when the flood struck the train. Every one back of the smoker was washed away and Mr. Smith probably owes his life to his love of a cigar. He is a splendid conversationalist and his account of the flood is a very interesting one.

LYNCHBURG, March 14, 1887.

Dear Sirs: I take great pleasure in recommending the Kranich & Bach piano to all lovers of good music. I think for sweetness, brilliancy and depth of tone it has no superior. I have known them for years, and they have always given satisfaction.

Yours truly, Jos. L. Lee.

Organist Centenary M. E. Church. The above was an unsought testimonial to the merits of the great Kranich & Bach piano. Hobbie Music Co., sole agents, 157 Salem avenue, Roanoke.
