

POET AND DIPLOMAT.

Remarable Career of the Late James Russell Lowell. James Russell Lowell, the great American poet and diplomat, who died August 12, was born February 22, 1819, at Elmwood, near Cambridge.

JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL.

dialogue form; in 1848 a series of "Poems," dealing to a great extent with the abolitionist question, which the author had so nearly at heart—also "The Vision of Sir Launfal," a poem founded on the "Quest of the Holy Grail," "A Fable for Critics," a poetical satire anonymously published, and, greatest of all, that book of world-wide renown, "The Biglow Papers," by which the author's fame was at once established.

In 1855 Mr. Lowell succeeded Longfellow as professor of modern languages and belles-lettres in Harvard college. The degree of D. C. L. was conferred upon him in 1873; by the English university of Oxford, and that of LL. D. by Cambridge in 1874. The latter degree he received also from St. Andrew's, Edinburgh, Harvard and Bologna.

From 1857 to 1863 he was editor of the Atlantic Monthly, and he had previously been connected with the Pioneer, a magazine of high character, the Anti-Slavery Standard Putnam's Monthly, and from 1864 to 1866 was editor of the North American Review. He has also been a lecturer before the Lowell institute in Boston on the British poets.

Towards the close of 1874 Mr. Lowell was offered the post of minister to Russia, which he declined, but in 1877 accepted that of minister to Spain, from which he was transferred in 1880 to that of minister to Great Britain. On the change of administration in 1885 he resigned this position and returned to the United States. The speeches which he delivered in England were republished in 1887 under the title of "Democracy and Other Addresses."

During the slavery agitation prior to the civil war he was a prominent advocate of its abolition, and had been equally outspoken in more recent years in urging the reform of the civil service.

BICYCLE CARRIAGE.

natural inclination to answer back if not treated just as, in his opinion, he should be treated. This would result in serious complications at times. Suppose at a distance of twenty miles from home you suddenly find your propelling power inclined to be a trifle fractious. A whip would not aid you. If your friends in front are not pumping along at just the pace you would like to catch the cooling breeze, it would not be wise to kick them in the back, as you would surely feel tempted to do; nor yet to throw the ashes of your cigar on them, nor indeed, to even say "get along there, Charley," or Maud S., as the case might be. You are reduced to purely diplomatic measures, and be it said, the very refinement of Machiavelian shrewdness and Mephistophelian manipulation is necessary to succeed at all well. Persuasive power is all you have to rely on, so you would have to lay in a stock for each ride.

It may not be long, however, before these bicycle vehicles will be in use, says the Chicago Post. Practical illustration is the only way to determine their positive virtues. Fathers are now commonly seen speeding along the roads with their small offspring comfortably seated in a swing attached for this purpose to their bicycles.

RADFORD.

RADFORD SOCIETY.

The Brilliant Event of the Season.

ROANOKE TIMES BUREAU, RADFORD, VA., Nov. 13. The grand hop is on and one hundred and fifty of Radford's handsomest men and prettiest women are enjoying the hospitality of Mine Host G. F. Colebaugh and his charming wife, A. P. Page and R. E. Griffith, at the Radford Inn.

Nothing has been spared to make this the crowning event of the season, which it is conceded to be. The elegant parlor has been draped with evergreen, and the spacious dining-room has likewise been so arranged and the floor is in perfect condition. With such surroundings and the beautiful strains of Roanoke's select musicians to enliven the scene, is it a wonder that the bloom is brought to the cheek and every one made to feel the exhilarating influence?

The following are those present: Lieut. Gov. Tyler and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Black, Hon. J. L. Radford, J. Hampton Hoge and wife, S. H. Hoge and wife, Capt. Wm. Ingles and wife, Col. W. H. Barclay and wife, W. J. Kenderdine and wife, Ranpolf Madison and wife, Dr. Aaron Jeffery and wife, Dr. W. A. Wilson and wife, J. D. Moffatt and wife, Col. G. J. Crockett and wife, G. T. Keasler and wife, R. P. Harkness and wife, Misses Mary and Josephine Harkness, Dr. W. T. Partridge and wife, R. E. Smith and wife, C. H. Haldeman and wife, H. L. Kirk and wife, H. P. Powers and wife, Hugh Moore and wife, Miss Annie Moore, G. B. Kimball and wife, George E. Cassell and wife, R. H. Adams and wife, E. W. McNeal and wife, E. S. Jones, K. H. Lylo and wife, E. Z. Mayer and wife, James N. Gamble, Cincinnati; J. K. Dimmick; W. J. Smith, with Miss Mollie Barclay; S. W. Fuller; R. C. Adams, with Miss Maggie Shanks; Lexington, Va.; G. A. Tyler; D. D. Hoge; J. R. Kent; E. T. Hunt and wife; J. A. Falck, with Miss Carter; J. H. Washington and Wiley; Miss Blarrie Green, William Galway, R. L. Jordan, C. M. Caldwell, Geo. N. Stone, J. B. Miles, W. B. Wood, W. S. Battle, Jr., R. B. James, H. Wood, Miss Blanche Sanders, Wythe county; Miss Mary Wade, Christiansburg; Misses Agnes Palmer and Annie Penn; G. H. Penn, Roanoke; Miss Phillips, Pulaski.

Dancing was continued up to 1 o'clock, when the guests took their departure, regretting that the most delightful social event of the season had closed.

SMOKE new nickle cigar, Bo Bo Link, at Brugh & Meadows.
