ROANOKE RED.

The Springs Two Thousand Feet Above the Sea.

A correspondent writing from Roanoke Red Sulphur Springs says: As one reads the daily published accounts of such great suffering in the cities, the visitors at this delightful resort have renewed occasion for thankfulness, that the heat of summer is so tempered by the pure air from surrounding mountain gorges, that underneath the shade of those forest trees, while the "city folks" are sweltering in the blaze of the burning sun, we are fanned by refreshing breezes, and each night sleep comfortably under a blanket.

There are now fully 250 guests here, and they seem to enjoy themselves. Mr. and Mrs. Patton have proved themselves efficient caterers, and the fare is excellent; indeed, one who is a connoisseur in such matters and who has been coming here for the past ten years, says that he never knew the fare as good, the rooms so well furnished, or the general service so satisfactory as this season, and the natural result is a well satisfied and constantly increasing company. Many who came expecting to remain but a brief time have prolonged their stay indefinitely. As the "Red" is only thirteen miles from Roanoke, and can be reached in less than three hours by private conveyance, persons desiring a brief respite from business care and a refreshing rest, may visit this resort with the assurance of finding here pleasant recreation and a mineral water of established medicinal value.

The history of the Roanoke Red is doubtless of some interest to many readers. In 1857 Col. D. C. Shanks, Col. Board, Col. A. H. Huppand Messrs. William Walton and G. W. Shanks, all of Salem, purchased the property and commenced building. When $50,000 had been expended Col. Board sold out to his associates, declining to submit to the last assessment, which was necessary to complete the establishment and start it. However, the springs were triumphantly opened in 1858 by the company, who continued to run it for two years. In 1860 Col. Board and F. J. Chapman leased the property, and then about 1863 the ownership passed into the hands of Messrs. Bliss and Crawford, of Lynchburg. When the war was over Drs. Wiley, Bruffey and Berkeley became the owners and, with Capt. Smith as manager, conducted the springs until 1878, when it was leased by its present owner, F. J. Chapman, who since then purchased it, and with the aid of his sons, has made for the Roanoke Red Sulphur Springs a national reputation for the healthfulness of its location and the wonderful curative properties of its waters.

Just now all our young folks are on the tip-top of expectation for the grand favor german which takes place here Thursday night. The Italian orchestra of the Roanoke Red discourses such sweet dance music and in such perfect time that it naturally inspires one with an intense longing to trip it lightly, which is greatly enhanced when one views the smooth and brightly polished floor of the splendid ball room, which, on this occasion, will be beautifully decorated. It is whispered that the toils of the young ladies Thursday night will be radiantly beautiful, also that a number of the young men from Roanoke and Salem will be present. The following are the committees: On invitation—Ed G. Langhorne, R. B. Moorman, Jr., Whorton Griffin, A. Lanutti, Gooch Vaughan and Albert Walker. On reception: J. R. Graham, Col. H. T. Wright, Dr. J. W. Crowders, Col. T. Handy, Col. James Haughton; floor managers, Thomas Robertson, Robert Clark, F. P. Fleming, J. D. White, W. H. Horton.

BREVITIES.

H. S. Frizzelle, the master-painter of Salem, will be married to Miss Sallie F. Owen at the First Presbyterian Church to-night at seven o'clock.

At the regular meeting of Salem Council, Knights of Pythias two pages were made esquires, and two esquires knights. The order is on a regular boom here, and applicants for membership are being voted on at every meeting.

Professor Smith and wife have returned from visiting friends in Asheville, Morehead and Conover, North Carolina.

James O. Lavinder, of Back Creek, was brought to Salem yesterday morning and taken before Magistrates Weber, Camper and Coon, sitting as a commission of lunacy. The evidence of two neighbors and Dr. O. Urley having been heard, and after a legal examination Lavinder was adjudged a lunatic and remanded to jail until he could be sent to Marion.

The Cleveland and Stevenson Anti-Force Bill Club, of Salem, has been placed on the roll of the National Association of Democratic Clubs, of which Chauncey F. Black is president and L. Gardner secretary.

Gill Thomas gave a performance to a slim crowd in the town hall Monday night. It was generally conceded that while one or two numbers of the programme were interesting that the whole was somewhat monotonous.

Gilbert Walden, the elocutionist, was registered at Hotel Lucerne yesterday.

Agnes Jones, colored, who lives on the Green Hill property near town, was knocked senseless Monday afternoon by lightning which struck two trees near the house in which she was attending to her duties. The woman regained consciousness after half an hour and was not injured.

Mrs. F. E. Bachman and family returned from Blue Ridge Springs last Saturday.

Rev. Father Lynch and Thos. W. Miller Esq., of Roanoke, were in town yesterday.

A Bad Break.
Mose Schauburg, the Harlem merchant prince, had his usual annual failure last week. A Gentle creditor was so completely eaten up with curiosity that he asked:
"What percentage are you going to allow your creditors—twenty per cent., I suppose."
"Ven you suppose I allows my creditors dot much you vash one of dem moshly supposititious men I efer met. Five pershent ish more den I am in de habit of allowing dose greditoccs."—Texas Siftings.

An Ax to Grind.
"Is your father at home?" asked Mr. Smith.
"No, sir," answered Dan; "but you will find the grindstone in the shed."
"I do not care for the grindstone," replied Mr. Smith. "What made you think that I did?"
"Because papa says you never come here unless you have an ax to grind," answered Dan, innocently.—Harper's Young People.

PRESSING WILD FLOWERS.

Unlike the City Article.
Little Country Girl—Therel You've spilt a lot of rich cream all over your nice ney dress!
Visiting Cousin (from the city)—What difference does that make?
"It'll make a great big grease spot."
"O, how nasty! It isn't a bit like the cream we have at home!"—Chicago Tribune.

A Reasonable Deduction.
Ponsonby—Precious stones now being discovered are named after their discoverers, Hiddenite after Hidden, Thompsonite after Thompson, and so on.
Popinjay—If a man named Israel found a stone I presume it would be called Israelite?—Jewelers' Circular.

The Revised Version.
"I like Mr. Dolloy well enough," said Miss Blecker, of New York, "but he talks through his hat."
"Yes," assented Miss Emerson, of Boston, "he is somewhat addicted to the practice of conversing through his chapeau."—Judge.

Plenty of Elbow Room.
Ranchman's Wife—Drive over and bring our daughter in. You'll have to hurry, because supper will be ready in an hour.
Ranchman—Where is she?
Ranchman's Wife—She's swinging on the front gate.—N. Y. Weekly.

A Household Martyr.
Wife—Here I am roasting myself to death cooking you a nice steak, and you making fun of me.
Husband—I was only laughing, my dear, to think what an easy thing it is to be burned at the steak.—Texas Siftings.

A New Version.
O, for the wings of a dove,
Just for a wee little week!
I'd go and exhibit myself,
And make a big pile as a freak.—Puck.

The Borrower Overtaken.
"If you please, Mrs. Covenhoven," said a child, presenting herself before a back-door neighbor, "mother wants to know if you will be kind enough to lend her that bowl full of sugar that you borrowed and forgot to return the other day."—Judge.

Judicial Note.
Judge Cowing—Mr. Clerk.
Sheriff—Yes, your honor.
"Call the names of the absent jurymen that are not here, and tell them they needn't wait."—Texas Siftings.

A Good Way.
She—Yes, but how can they manage to make love at Narragansett Pier this summer?
He—Oh, I don't know. In diere ways, perhaps.—Brooklyn Life.

Her Comment.
"Isn't this chrysanthemum a pretty flower?" asked Mrs. Snooper of her four-year-old baby girl.
"Yes'm," replied the tot, "but its hair needs brushin'."—Judge.

There Are Exceptions.
Trotter—How wonderfully some girls improve after you've known them a season or two.
Poster—Yes; and how wonderfully some don't.—Life.

Not Desirable.
"I believe we all become what we eat," said Fudby.
"I hope not," returned Nupop. "If we do my baby will become a milkmaid."—Puck.

Fiddles and Violins.
Doy—Is this instrument called a fiddle or a violin?
Professor—Ven I blay it it's a violin. Ven you blay it it's a fiddle.—Good News.

A Different Matter.
"I hear you're in love with Lord Fitzhugh Adelbert Arthur Trelawney."
"Oh, no. I'm going to marry him."—Chicago News.

The Point of View.
"Upon Downes is' very fast, isn't he?"
"His tailor says not. Says he's very slow."—Puck.

No Great Change.
"Johnson's fallen into bad habits."
"Not much of a fall, I guess."—Chicago News.

The Largest House-furnishing Establishment IN THE SOUTH.

In selecting goods in any line it is always desirable to do so from large stocks, and where large stocks in every line can be combined under one management the cost of handling them is reduced, and both an advantage in prices and convenience secured to the purchaser. These advantages can be secured at THE E. H. STEWART FURNITURE CO., where larger stocks of Furniture, Carpets, Wall Paper, Curtains, Glass and China can be found than in most houses that confine themselves to these separate lines. We are just in receipt of our Spring Stock, to which we invite your attention.

It is one of the largest Natural Premium Life Insurance Companies in the country. Its policy contains every valuable feature of old line insurance, and is furnished at about ONE-HALF the rate, thereby giving the insurer the best possible security at the lowest possible cost.

T. B. MASSIE & CO.,

GENERAL AGENTS FOR MARYLAND AND SOUTHWEST VIRGINIA.

Office: No. 8 Campbell Street, (Masonic Building.)

We are prepared to show to the satisfaction of any business man that our plan of insurance is the most perfect yet offered to the public—far superior to that offered by any old line company. And it will give us pleasure to demonstrate this fact in the presence of any old line agent, especially of one who in order to secure business makes a practice of "running down" our system of insurance.
