Released on a Writ of Habeas Corpus.
Jennie Sales, who was arrested a couple of weeks ago, charged with being one of the parties who stole $235 from W. H. Reynolds, on Railroad avenue, was released yesterday afternoon on a writ of habeas corpus and recognized for her appearance before the grand jury. The writ was issued on a certificate certified to by Dr. Buckner, the city physician, that she was very ill with malaria and the confinement in jail would probably result in her death.

Is Marriage a Failure?
HAVE you been trying to get the best out of existence without health in your family? Have you been wearing out your life from the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion? Are you sleepless at night? Do you wake in the morning feeling languid, with coated tongue and sallow, haggard looks? Don't do it. A shout in the camp tells how Aunt Fanny's Health Restorer has cured others; it will cure you. Trial package free. Large size 50c., at Christian & Barbee.

Consumption.
THE most to be dreaded of all diseases often begins in a simple cold, simply neglected. No cough should be allowed to run a single day without using the finest remedy in the world, Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure. It acts like magic, strengthening the lungs, allaying all irritation and cures a cough where all other remedies fail. 25 and 50c per bottle at Mason & Martin's, cor. Commerce street and Salem avenue.

William Skene's.
OF 11 Academy street, Janesville, Wis., under date of May 23, says: Messrs. Kenyon & Thomas: This is to certify what I know about Dr. Hale's Household Ointment. I have had a bothersome sore on my lip for fifteen years, which terminated in a cancer. I had tried various remedies purporting to cure, but all without avail until I purchased a box of your Dr. Hale's Household Ointment and with two months' using it has entirely cured it, and I freely give this for the benefit of the people.
Truly yours,
WM. SKENEY.

This wonderful medicine is for sale at Mason & Martin's drug store, corner Commerce street and Salem avenue.

LAI'D TO REST.
The Last Sad Rites over the Remains of J. H. Skinker

The last sad rites were paid to the remains of J. H. Skinker yesterday at half past 1 o'clock. The funeral services were conducted at the First Presbyterian Church, of which he had been a consistent member for twenty years, by Rev. W. C. Campbell. Miss Dalby presided at the organ. The services were opened by singing the old and beautiful hymn, "Asleep in Jesus," after which an eloquent and able prayer was offered by Dr. Campbell and the 20th, 21st and 22nd chapters of the Book of Revelations were read. Hymn No. 795, entitled "Abide in Me," was then sung by special request.

Dr. Campbell paid a beautiful tribute of respect to the deceased. The floral offerings placed on the casket by friends were numerous and beautiful. After the services at church the remains were followed by a long line of carriages to Fairview Cemetery, where the services were concluded.

The pall-bearers were R. E. Scott, C. C. Tallaferro, C. W. Thomas, Judge Williams, Judge Gordon Robertson, Judge J. A. Dupuy, W. P. Dupuy, Dr. J. A. Gale and Capt. Henry Davis.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.
From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Grotton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled in my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Savior, determined if I could not say with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottle free at Christian & Barbee's drug store, regular size, 50c. and $1.

We Live in Deeds, Not Years.
We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths;
In feelings, not in figures on a dial,
We should count time by heart throbs. He most lives
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.
And he whose heart beats quickest lives the longest—
Lives in one hour more than in years do some
Whose fat blood sleeps as it slips along their veins.
Keep the spirit pure
From worldly taint by the excellent strength
Of virtue. Think on noble thoughts and deeds
Ever. Still count the rosary of truth,
And practice precepts which are proven wise.
Walk boldly and wisely in the light thou hast—
There is a hand above will help thee on.
Lay an earnest, and believe in all
Religions—fragments of one golden world
Yet to be reft in its place in heaven.
—P. J. Bailey.

Yearning for Home.
It comes to me often in silence,
When the bright splinters low—
When the black, uncertain shadows
Seem wreaths of the long ago;
Always with a throb of heartache
That thrills each pulsive vein
Comes the old, unquiet longing
For the peace of home again.

I'm sick of the roar of cities,
And of faces cold and strange;
I know where there's warmth of welcome,
And my yearning fancies range
Back to the dear old homestead
With an aching sense of rest;
But there'll be joy in the coming,
When I go home again.
When I go home again! There's music
That never may die away,
And it seems the hands of angels,
On a mystic harp, at play,
Have touched with a yearning sadness
On a beautiful, broken strain,
To which is my fond heart working—
When I go home again.
—Eugene Field.

The Pean of Peace.
With ever some wrong to be fighting,
With self ever seeking for place,
The world has been striving and fighting
Since man was evolved out of space.
Bold history into dark legends,
His torchlight has fearlessly cast;
It shows us tribes warring in legends,
In the jungle of ages long passed.
Religion, forgetting her station,
Forgetting her birthright from God,
Set nations to warring with nation
And scattered dissolution abroad.
Dear creeds have made men kill each other,
Fair faith has bred hate and despair,
And brother has battled with brother
Because of a difference in prayer.
But earth has grown wiser and kinder,
For man is evolving a soul;
From wars of an age that was blinder
We rise to a peace-girdled goal.
Where once men would murder in treason,
And slaughter each other in hordes,
They now meet together and reason,
With thoughts for their weapons, not swords.

The brute in humanity dwindles
And lessons as time speeds along,
And the spark of divinity kindles
And blazes up brightly and strong.
The seer can behold in the distance
The race that shall people the world—
Strong men of a godlike existence,
Unarmed, and with war banners furled.

No longer the bloodthirsty savage
Man's vast spirit strength shall unfold;
And tales of red warfare and ravage
Shall seem like ghost stories of old.
For the booming of guns and the rattle
Of carnage and conflict shall cease,
And the eagle call leading to battle
Shall change to a pean of peace.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

The Three Birds.
"Fly over the mountains," I said to the dove,
"Over the fields of the barley and hay,
And bring me the talisman flower of Love."
But the dove sighed, "It's too far away!"
To the eagle I said, "On thy valor I count;
That shall staid me Love's flame from the sky;
Spread thy plumes to reach it and heavenward mount!"
But the eagle replied, "It's too high!"
To the vulture I cried: "What is left wilt thou spare?
Of this heart that can still hope and wait?
Then tear out the rest, for her image dwells
there!"
But the vulture made answer, "Too late!"
—Florence Henniker.

Beautiful Things.
Beautiful faces are those that wear—
It matters little if dark or fair—
Whose soiled honesty printed there.
Beautiful eyes are those that show,
Like crystal pans where hearth fires glow,
Beautiful thoughts that burn below.
Beautiful lips are those whose words
Leap from the heart like song of birds,
Yet whose utterance prudence guards.
Beautiful hands are those that do
Work that is earnest and brave and true,
Moment by moment, the long day through.
Beautiful feet are those that go
On kindly ministries to and fro,
Down lowliest ways, if God wills it so.

Beautiful shoulders are those that bear
Ceaseless burdens of homely care
With patient grace and daily prayer.
Beautiful lives are those that bless—
Silent rivers and happiness
Whose hidden fountains but few may guess.
Beautiful twilight at set of sun;
Beautiful goal, with race well won;
Beautiful rest, with work well done.
Beautiful graves, where grasses creep,
Where brown leaves fall, where drifts lie deep
Giver warm hands—oh, beautiful sleep!
—Ellen P. Allerton.

Remember suddenly—Willie, where is Pied Island?
William—I don't know, sir, I ain't had it.—Harper's Bazar.
