Cleveland and Harrison Exchange Visits.

A Wet Day Yesterday and a Cold Wave Approaching To-night—Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Dine at the White House for the First Time in Four Years—Washington Rapidly Filling With Crowds.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President-elect Cleveland and party passed a very restful night at the Arlington, and arose at 8:30 this morning. Breakfast was served in their private dining room about an hour later, when President-elect and Mrs. Cleveland were joined by the other members of the party, except Mr. and Mrs. Wilson.

At 10:30 Cleveland, accompanied by his private secretary, Mr. Thurber, entered a carriage and drove to the White House to pay his respects to President Harrison.

About two hundred people were gathered on the portico and about the main entrance to the White House, and when the President-elect arrived there the doors of the mansion were closed against an invasion of the general public until after the interview between the President and Mr. Cleveland, so that the lobby was not crowded, and the latter had free ingress to the blue room, where an exchange of courtesies took place.

As Cleveland's carriage was brought to a standstill under the portico of the main entrance, the crowd pressed closer together in the direction of the vehicle, and as Cleveland alighted, followed by Thurber, a hearty cheer went up. Raising his hand deprecatingly, as if to stop this demonstration, the President-elect passed rapidly through.

Punctual to the minute, President Harrison, according to arrangement, arrived at the Arlington Hotel at half past twelve o'clock and went immediately to the apartments of the President-elect to return his visit. He was accompanied by Private Secretary Halford and Lieutenant Parker, and was met at the private entrance to the hotel by Landlord Roessler. Scarcely half a dozen people had gathered at the entrance, as the hour for the President's visit was not known. The call lasted sixteen minutes, double the time spent by Cleveland at the White House this morning.

When President Harrison took his leave he was escorted to his carriage by Private Secretary Thurber. The half dozen people had been augmented in number to a score or so, and these viewed the departure of the Presidential party. There was no attempt at a demonstration and the President was driven back to the White House as unostentatiously as he came.

Yesterday was almost an ideal spring day. The sun shone brightly and the air was just cool enough to make walking thoroughly enjoyable, but this morning early risers saw a changed condition of things. The sun was obscured by rain-laden clouds, and the indications were that the day would prove quite as disagreeable as yesterday was beautiful.

As soon as it was announced that the President-elect would receive the committees they proceeded in a body to his apartments, and explained to him what arrangements had been made for his inauguration as President, and invited him to make such suggestions as he might see proper. He expressed his high appreciation of their thoughtfulness and the care with which the arrangements had been made. He had no important suggestions to make, as the arrangements seemed to be perfect.

The President-elect spent the afternoon in his apartments where he and Mrs. Cleveland received a number of visitors, mostly personal friends. This evening they dined with President Harrison at the White House. The hour set for dinner was half past 7 o'clock, but Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland were delayed in their departure and did not leave the Arlington until five minutes after that hour. At half past 7 not more than ten people were gathered about the carriage entrance to the Arlington, drawn there by a suspicion that the President-elect and his wife would appear.

A few minutes later the Kings County Democratic Association, with Congressman Clancy and ex-Congressman Archie Bliss, conspicuous in lead of the column, came along the broad plaza in front of the hotel, a band rendering "The Bowery" with vigor. The purpose of the association was to serenade the wives of a number of its members and, incidentally, the President-elect. It so happened that just as the association and band came to halt little Ruth Cleveland managed to pull up the curtain in one of the windows in the Cleveland apartments looking out on the plaza and pressed her nose against the pane in an endeavor to see the band. Members of the Kings County Association and a crowd of fully one thousand people who had gathered about them saw the child and set up a cheer. The leader of the band, correctly surmising that Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland had left their rooms and were about to appear, influenced in this belief, perhaps by the appearance of an elegant equipment at the entrance way, quickly changed the air to "Hail to the Chief" and to this familiar rendition, the President-elect and Mrs. Cleveland came out of the doorway with Private Secretary Thurber close at hand. There was shuffling of feet and a cry of "There he is," and then a mighty roar went up from the throng. Mrs. Cleveland entered the carriage first and the President-elect followed. The carriage whisked away in an instant, the cheers growing louder as it passed through the crowd, and Cleveland doffed his hat in recognition of the demonstration. Owing to the great number of people that blocked the more direct route to the White House, the carriage was driven there by a round-about way.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland were received by the President and Mrs. McKee and these four with little Robert McKee were the only persons present at the dinner, which was held in the private dining room.

Vice-President-elect Stevenson remained in his apartments all day and with but slight cessation there was a stream of callers. No formality of any kind was observed, the door was wide open and General Stevenson had a hearty handshake and pleasant word for all. It was the mecca of Democracy. Fully 3,000 people paid their respects during the day.

Gen. Stevenson and his family dined in the public dining room at 6 o'clock. After dinner they repaired to the public parlor, where they held a reception. Gen. Stevenson was assisted by his wife and daughters. For an hour or more they were kept busy receiving the greetings of friends and partisans. It was essentially a Democratic gathering. Many ladies came in evening dress, others in street costume, while some of the men wore dress suits, others their business clothes and still others their gaudy uniforms. The Illinois club, of Bloomington, called in a body and were warmly received. When the reception closed, the Vice-President-elect had shaken by hand nearly 1,000 friends.

Richmond Will be Represented.

RICHMOND, Va., March 3.—It is estimated that two thousand people will leave here before midnight for Washington. The Walker Light Guards, Richmond Light Infantry, Blues, Square Horse Guards and Colored Battalion of Infantry are the principal organizations that will go.

LAST PUBLIC RECEPTION.

Fifteen Hundred Persons Shake Hands With the Retiring President.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—President Harrison held his last informal public reception at the White House yesterday afternoon. These receptions are usually small affairs and are held three times a week, the attendance ranging from 100 to 300 people. The one of yesterday afternoon was the largest public function of this character in point of attendance held by Mr. Harrison since the first few days of his term as President.

It is estimated that 1,500 people passed the President and half that number failed to get into the East Room before he left.

BILLY McMILLAN THE WINNER.

Hines Knocked Out by the Washington Puglist in the Fifth Round.

NEW ORLEANS, La., March 3.—The Olympic Club opened its fistic carnival to night with a finish fight between Billy Hines, of Providence, R. I., and Billy McMillan, of Washington. The fight, which was awarded to McMillan, preceded the wrestling match between Evan Lewis, the strangler, and Ernest Roeber.

The failure of the club to bring off the Ryan Dawson fight acted as a damper, and not more than 1,500 spectators occupied seats in the harem-arena calculated to seat 6,000 people. But little betting was indulged in during the day. McMillan on form having a slight call in the betting at 4 to 5. Hines, who arrived in the city this afternoon, admitted that he had been sick and compelled to discontinue his training, and this report circulated around the St. Charles Hotel sent his odds flying back to 2 to 1.

The fight was set for 8 o'clock and precisely at the hour named Hines and McMillan appeared in the ring. In spite of his reported illness Hines looked as fit as a fiddle. He was attended by Henry Baker, of Chicago; Professor Robinson, of Bay St. Louis, and George Lutiger. McMillan was accompanied by Harry Black and Andy Bowen, of New Orleans, who acted as his seconds.

When Referee John Duffy called time both men sprung to the center of the ring and commenced hostilities at once. McMillan immediately assumed the aggressive, and punched his opponent hard and often. Hines responded with a couple of stingers, but just before the gong sounded McMillan sent him to earth with a hard left on the nose. Hines rose to his feet, apparently very groggy, when time was called.

In the second, third and fourth rounds McMillan did most of the fighting, and punished his adversary severely. At the end of the fourth round Hines' face looked like a piece of raw beef, while McMillan was unscathed.

McMillan came up determined in the fifth round, but met with a stiff jab on the neck. In the hard fighting which followed Hines received the most punishment. McMillan rushed Hines and sent his right and left into Hines' face, pounding him all over the ring. Hines was absolutely defenseless and fell to the floor with a hard right on the jaw, which knocked him out.

Lewis defeated Roeber in the wrestling match, gaining three falls out of five.

A Beautiful Instrument.

In the window of the Hobbie Music Company is a Knabe grand upright piano, which is one of the most beautiful pieces of workmanship ever seen in Roanoke. The case is of Bermuda birch with mosaic effect and a translucent tone, closely resembling in its beauty of finish a Mexican onyx. The base is elegantly carved and the mountings are of brass. There are but two of these magnificent instruments in the country; this one and another which was purchased by a New York house. The tone is pure, rich and full, and the touch as near perfection as years of development have brought the making of pianos.

Importer Worthelm Falls for $500,000.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Siegfried Worthelm, doing business under the style of A. Worthelm & Co., importer of sulphite pulp and paper stock, made an assignment to day. His liabilities are not definitely known, but are reported to be upward of $500,000.

A Late Confirmation.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Truxton Beale, of California, to be minister and consul general to Roumania, Servia and Greece.

WHEN THE BAND BEGINS TO PLAY
The Prides of Roanoke Off For Washington.

The Roanoke Light Infantry, the Roanoke Light Infantry Drum Corps, the Roanoke Machine Works Band and a Strong Body of Citizens Off for the Inauguration on the Noon Train.

The Roanoke Light Infantry, forty strong, Capt. John Bird commanding, left yesterday at 2 o'clock in a special car for Washington to attend the inauguration.

The company was escorted from the armory to the depot by the Roanoke Machine Works Band followed by the drum corps of the Light Infantry. The drum corps made a fine appearance with their new uniforms. A. E. Groves was the leader.

Mike, the big dog of THE TIMES office, was at the head of the procession as it marched down Campbell avenue and Jefferson street, and when in front of THE TIMES office chewed the baton of Drum Major Colman. At the depot the special car was ready, on which a streamer was hung bearing the following inscription:

Roanoke in 1883, 200; in 1893, 1,000. Roanoke Light Infantry, Roanoke, the Magic City of the South.

The party will return Sunday afternoon.

Among the citizens who left on the same train were: Messrs. T. W. Spindle, Geo. S. Jack, J. F. Boone, R. A. Buckner, J. Ernest Boone, E. R. Woodward, Louis Voight, H. H. Hankins, J. Brewer, J. C. Dennis, J. W. Fallon, R. F. Stone, Jr., Ashton Horton, J. E. Rooker, W. T. Henry, E. J. Woodbury.

SULLIVAN AND MITCHELL MEET.

John L. Was the Greatest Fighter, Says the Englishman.

ST. LOUIS, March 3.—John L. Sullivan and Charley Mitchell met yesterday afternoon for the first time since the memorable battle between Sullivan and Kilrain in July, 1888, when Mitchell acted as one of Kilrain's seconds.

The meeting between the gladiators occurred in the dressing room of the theatre where Sullivan is showing this week. Mitchell, his backer, Squire Abington Baird and Jack McAuliffe were in a box. After the first act the trio called on the ex-champion, who greeted Mitchell very cordially indeed. "I have never had any hard feelings against you, John," said Mitchell, "and if I win against Corbett I will forfeit the championship sooner than defeat you. Our fight in France I have always looked upon as a business transaction. As a fighter and a man I have always looked upon you as the superior of us all, and that has been the reason why I was always after you. There was money in it for me. The good showing I made against you I thought would benefit me much more than if I were to defeat ten ordinary men. Had you not been defeated at New Orleans I would never have entered the ring again."

Here Sullivan gave Mitchell his hand, with the remark, "Well, let bygones be bygones and let's drink a bottle to your success against Corbett."

It is given out that Sullivan will second Mitchell in his fight with Corbett.

FEDERALS SCORE NEW TRIUMPHS.

Defections From Government Troops Have Greatly Aided Them.

VALPARAISO, March 3.—The Herald correspondent in Rio Grande Do Sul telegraphs that the federals have 1,000 armed men outside the city of San Ugenio. They propose to make a dash into the city. There has been fighting outside of Santa Anna favorable to the federal troops. In the besieging army there were 3,000 well armed men, while the defenders of the city numbered but 1,000.

More defections from the government troops have been reported. The Sixth Cavalry stationed at Artigas went over to the federals in a body. Troops which had been sent in pursuit of General Tavarez have returned to Bago. Tavarez is on the road to Santa Anna to assist Sarava. It is reported that the federals in Santa Anna are short of arms, and are setting fire to the property of the Castelhistas.

News has also been received confirming the dispatch previously sent the Herald announcing the fall of San Pedro. The Federals, under General Tavarez, took the city. In the engagement 300 of the government troops were killed. Recruits are being hurried from all parts of the province to both armies. Atrocious cruelties are reported on the part of General Isodoro, one of the government officers, who killed women and children as a sort of pastime.

An Important Railroad Decision.

CHARLESTON, S. C., March 3.—In the United States Court today a decision was rendered in the case of the receivers of Richmond and Danville railroad to the effect that the court will refuse to interfere in suits brought against railroads in the hands of receivers, unless property be actually seized. The case came up from Fairfield county when certain parties had obtained judgment for damages against the Charlotte, Columbia and Augusta railroad. The case is also pending in the State court and the United States court refuses to interfere for that reason.

Abolishing the Convict Lease System.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 3.—The State senate today passed with only one dissenting vote the house bill abolishing the convict lease system. It is expected that the governor will sign the bill.

THE WEATHER.

Forecast for Virginia: Rain or snow in morning; probably clearing during the day; north winds; much colder by evening and cold wave during night; temperature will fall below freezing by 8 a. m. on Sunday.

BASKERVILLE GETS $600.

An Important Case Decided at Wytheville Against the Norfolk and Western.

WYTHEVILLE, March 3.—The case of Baskerville against the Norfolk and Western railroad, which has occupied the court and jury since the first of the week, was decided today in favor of the plaintiff. The damages fixed at $600. The case has caused a great deal of interest from the intimate connection with a criminal attempt to ditch a passenger train. Several months ago a negro named Anderson Allison, to satisfy a fiendish grudge, broke the lock and opened a switch on the Norfolk and Western railroad at Max Meadows, causing the passenger train which came along shortly afterwards to run into a freight train standing on the sidetrack. The negro was shortly afterwards apprehended, tried and sentenced to the penitentiary.

Mr. Walter I. Baskerville, a postal clerk, was one of the few who were injured, although the engine was totally disabled and the car next to it badly shattered. He had his arm crushed and received other injuries, for which he sued the company for $10,000 damages.

The question involved was whether the plaintiff was able to show contributory negligence on the part of the railroad company by reason of their failing to discover the open switch in time to prevent the accident, or, not having done so, whether they were justified in using the character of switches they were using at the time and in pulling the passenger train that night with a freight engine and a filled creak in lieu of a passenger engine with air brakes. The case will go to the court of appeals.

DUN'S REVIEW.

Volume of Trade Large and Business Improving in the South.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Dun and Company's weekly review of trade will say: Storms have greatly interfered with business and at the same time monetary uncertainty has been felt. While the volume of trade is still very large, actual distribution seems to have been scarcely up to expectations of late, though orders continue sufficient to give the great industries full employment.

The great feature for the past fortnight has been the unusual demand for money from the West and South, which has drawn large sums from New York, but money is tight at only one or two small points. Pittsburg reports better trade in iron with good demand for finished products, and very fair prospects for hardware. At Cleveland trade is fairly good, rolling mills full of orders. Southern points generally report some improvement, especially Louisville, Chattanooga, Little Rock, Memphis and Knoxville.

In the iron business consumption is enormous, but production relatively greater and concessions are frequent for pig iron of the best grades, while bar is at the lowest point ever known. Plates are demoralized in price, though the mills are busy and structural works are quite well employed. In general industrial production has never been surpassed at this season. The business failures during the last week number for the United States, 206; Canada, 45; total, 251.

Joe Goddard Whipped.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—Joe Goddard, the "Barrier Giant," and Ed. Smith, the Denver puglist, met to night in the arena of the Olympic Club for a purse of $10,000. The men entered the ring at 9:30, Goddard weighing 180 and Smith 160 pounds. Goddard at first objected to the gloves, claiming they were too small, but finally accepted them and time was called. Smith won in the eighteenth round.

Seriously Injured by a Fall.

WOODSTOCK, Md., March 3.—James A. Sonner, of Strawsburg, this county, while working on the Lutheran Church of that place last Monday evening, fell from the spire to the floor, a distance of thirty-five feet, breaking his leg in two places, two ribs, and sustaining internal injuries, the extent of which is not known. Hopes of recovery are slight. He is fifty years old and has a large family.

ADOLPH MUSH'S BANQUET.

The Popular Nutmegger Parts With Numerous Friends.

A full fledged, old time reception was enjoyed at the Merchant's Cafe by the friends of Adolph Mush, of the Lock Works, who in anticipation of his leaving the city brought his conferees together for a symposium, which lasted until midnight, but the fraternity will last till death.

Supper, music and speeches were the order of the evening and each enjoyed alike. There were fifty-one people present and the participants in the collation were entertained by remarks from F. J. Korte, J. M. Shannon, J. J. Sanderson, D. Dunn, Ed. Oppenheim and J. J. Fitzgerald, who have been so closely associated with the host during his stay in Roanoke.

Mr. Mush, in addition to the presents received during the week, was the recipient of a handsome badge from the Central Democratic Club with the inscription, "For God and Our Country," presented by E. W. Donnelly in its behalf. Mrs. Maurice Joo presented a cake and her daughter a beautifully knit silk tie. After the banquet a snap shot picture was taken of the guests, which will serve as a remembrance of the absent friends in Roanoke.

Death of Ernest L. Tanner.

Ernest L., son of T. R. and Annie L. Tanner, aged two years, died yesterday morning at an early hour from aliphtheria at the family residence, on Eighth avenue s. w. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. F. Hamner in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, after which the remains were interred in the City Cemetery.

TOTTERING ON ITS LAST LEGS.
The Fifty-second Congress Winding up Business.

The House Laboring With Appropriation Bills and Stubborn Conference Reports—The Senate Calmly Clearing the Decks For the New Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—When the House met at 11 o'clock the galleries were crowded with visitors, but the attendance of members on the floor was not unusually large.

Sayers, of Texas, moved to suspend the rules and non concur in the Senate amendments to the general deficiency appropriation bill. Sayers' motion was agreed to and the bill sent to conference. Holman, of Indiana, submitted the conference report on the sundry civil appropriation bill and the report was agreed to. Durborrow, of Illinois, moved that the House recede from its disagreement to the Senate amendment providing for the Government exhibit at the World's Fair.

After a long debate Durborrow's motion to recede was lost, yeas 133, nays 141. Pending further action on sundry civil bill, Herbert submitted the conference report on the naval appropriation bill. After a brief opposition by Holman and De Armond to the naval rendezvous section of the bill the report was agreed to. Hatch submitted the conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill and it was agreed to. Henderson, of North Carolina, submitted the conference report on the postoffice appropriation bill. The report was agreed to, and consideration of the Senate amendments to the sundry civil bill resumed. The World's Fair amendments were disagreed to and the bill was again sent to the conference. The House then at 5:15 took recess until 8 o'clock.

The condition of the appropriation bills to night is satisfactory. All of them have been agreed upon in conference and adopted by both houses, save the deficiency, sundry civil and Indian bills. The first two named contain a number of items upon which the conferees have so far been unable to agree and will cause some further contention in the House, notably the World's Fair appropriations on the sundry civil bill. The proposed purchase of the Cherokee outlet ingrafted on the Indian bill and agreed to in conference will also meet with some resistance in the House, but the outlook is for a settlement of all difficulties in ample time to-morrow.

IN THE SENATE.

The Senate gave another illustration to-day of the ease and celerity with which it can transact public business. Before it had been more than three hours in session it had discussed, voted on and agreed to conference reports on four general appropriation bills, the legislative, postoffice and naval bills. The paraphrase in the postoffice bill relating to the Southern fast mail appropriation was restored in conference as it originally came from the house, appropriating $196,000 for special mail facilities by New York and Washington to Atlanta and New Orleans.

After recess the conference report on the deficiency bill was presented and read. It showed an agreement upon all points except the French spoliation claims, Pacific railroad judgments, and clerks for senators, all these being reserved for further action. The conference report was agreed to, and the Senate voted to insist on the amendments not settled in conference and to have further conference as to them. The conference report on the sundry civil bill was then presented, showing several points on which the conference had been unable to agree.

Dawes presented the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill and it was agreed to without objection. Senator Hoar then called up the message of the House announcing that it had passed over the President's veto the bill providing for the appointment of a district attorney and a marshal for the middle district of Alabama. Messrs. Hoar and Pugh stated that the veto was based on a misapprehension of the provisions of the bill. It was passed over the veto, yeas 58, nays 1. (Frye) and therefore became a law notwithstanding the veto.

Collision in the English Channel.

LONDON, March 3.—A serious collision involving the probable loss of a number of lives, occurred last night in the English Channel. A vessel called Cacique was sunk by an unknown steamer. Ten survivors landed at Dover in a boat stated that thirteen others were missing. It is feared they are lost.

Two Fingers Gone.

Lindsay James, a colored brakeman employed on the West End yard yesterday evening while coupling cars, had his right hand so badly jammed as to render amputation of two fingers necessary. Drs. Koerner, Jones and Lawrence performed the operation.

Valuable but not Costly.

It may save you a great deal of trouble in cooking. Try it. We refer to the Gail Borden Eagle Brand Condensed Milk, regarded by most housekeepers as absolutely essential in culinary uses, and unsurpassed in coffee. All Grocers and Druggist sell the Eagle Brand.

Wife of a Distinguished Surgeon.

Mrs. S. B. Morrison, wife Dr. Morrison, of Rockbridge county, passed through the city yesterday en route home from a visit to friends in Knoxville. Dr. Morrison was a surgeon in the Confederate army and amputated the leg of Hon. John W. Daniel.

Rosa Rogers All Right.

Dr. Gale reports the condition of little Rosa, daughter of Capt. M. M. Rogers, who fell from the second story window of her home Thursday evening, as very favorable. There are no indications of any internal injuries and she is resting quietly.
