Why do we sell them so cheap? Because we only have a few odd sizes and in order to get them out of the way we make this

DECIDED CUT.

OUR PRICES TO CLOSE WILL BE:

- Ladies' Jackets that were $10, are now $7 to $4.
- Ladies' Jackets that were $15, are now $9.
- Ladies' Jackets that were $20, are now $7.
- Ladies' Jackets that were $25, are now $8.

We will also offer children's jackets, from 4 to 10 years, in a lot of styles, that were left from last season, but good and warm. If you care for service more than style, you can get $4 for $1.

Children's jackets in Reefers and Blazers that were $5 to $12, we will sell at $1 to $3.50 apiece.

As we said the lot is limited, probably 25 garments in all. They must go if price will move them. See them at once. We also offer a lot of

Dress Lengths in Novelties,

Not so novel as they were, but in fine materials, as follows:

Dress lengths, which were $8 to $14 for the length, will be sold at $5.00.

THOSE GIVEN AWAY.

The plan for saving $13 in the purchase of the necessities of life is meeting with a hearty reception by the people of this city, who know a good thing when they see it. But it must be understood that The Times is running no coupon arrangement. The tickets printed in another column are only fac-simile of those which are presented to every subscriber when six dollars is paid in advance for a year's subscription to The Times. The advertisement is only to show you the idea of the whole plan. Tickets which will insure you the discount stated on each can be obtained through agents of The Times, or at the publication office, No. 122 Campbell avenue southwest.

CHIMES OF NORMANDY AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC TO-NIGHT.

"DENISETTE" AT THE ELKS' BENEFIT.

A Large Audience Greets the Marie Greenwood Opera Company.

The theatre-going public of Roanoke and Salem and many others who are not frequent attendants at the Academy of Music turned out on masse last night at the Elks' benefit, at which the Marie Greenwood Opera Company, appeared in the sprightly little opera, "Denisette." It was the best audience of the season, and the work of the prima donna, Miss Greenwood, and her associates was evidently highly satisfactory to them all.

The story of the opera has already appeared in THE TIMES, and, although it will never be the great success of many of the other pieces in Miss Greenwood's repertoire, it gives a good chance to display the very decided vocal abilities of the star in the title role and the other members of the cast. Next to Miss Greenwood, whose rendition of "Dixie" brought down the house, the work of Helen St. Clair as Eglantine, the mayor's wife, was the most acceptable. She has a fine contralto voice of much sweetness and power.
W. P. Guiberson, as Narcesse, the village barber, took his part to perfection, and his singing was one of the features of the entertainment. Tom Martin and Robert Lett furnished the fun and, especially the former, proved themselves comedians of no mean ability. The chorus of the company is excellent.

The opera, "Chimes of Normandy," will be presented by the company to-night. This opera was played here by Miss Greenwood's company on a previous engagement and was very enthusiastically received.

Don't fail to see the Greenwood Opera Company at the Academy to-night.
