

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, dullness, confusion of the mind, etc., are due to derangement of the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, and in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with nerve fluid or force. This is likewise true of many diseases of the heart and lungs. The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nerve force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to every station, large or small. Ordinary physicians fail to regard this fact; instead of treating the nerve centers for the cause of the disorder arising therefrom they treat the part affected.

Franklin Miles, M. D., L. D., the highly celebrated specialist and student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, has recently realized the truth of the first statement, and his Restorative Nervine is prepared on that principle. Its success in curing all diseases arising from derangement of the nervous system is wonderful, as the thousands of unsolicited testimonials in possession of the company manufacturers have remedied amply prove.

CONDENSED SPORTING CHAT.

Harrietta, 2:09 1/2, has been bought for $10,000 by a New York broker, and it is said, will never race again. She is one of Nancy Hanks' most promising rivals. C. W. Williams, the world famous breeder and trainer of trotters, will build a new track at Galesburg, Ills., and endeavor to retrieve his fallen fortunes. Con Coughlin, the Irish giant, hammer thrower and would be pugilist, was nearly killed recently in a friendly bout with Bob Fitzsimmons by a blow over the heart. Coughlin is 6 feet 6 inches tall, but a very bad boxer. The Dickinson college baseball team has two Indian pitchers, and the Harrisburg Baseball club also possesses an Indian twirler named Mackay. Budd Doble denies emphatically the report that he is to give up driving this season. Buckrene, the colt that won the Arkansas Derby, is a son of the very fast blind mare Irene, who made a sensation on the western and Saratoga tracks three years ago. Leland Stanford university has declined the challenge of the University of California to a boat race to be held this spring. The interesting fact is noted in connection with the famous Oxford-Cambridge boat race that the heavier crew has won the yearly race 41 times out of 57 races. Edmund Clarence Stedman, the poet and broker, is an enthusiastic baseball crank. Millionaire John W. Mackay recently gave a dinner to James J. Corbett. The champion pugilist was formerly a clerk in Mackay's San Francisco bank. Pittsburg Phil recently stated to a friend that his losses last season amounted to about $100,000. His winnings are believed to be $240,000. A New York fortune teller who finds picking race track winners more profitable than plucking other secrets from the planets declares that Sport will win the Brooklyn handicap. Champion Corbett Has Money to Burn. Pugilism pays very well if a fighter succeeds in getting to the top round of the ladder. James J. Corbett, the present champion, is probably worth at least $100,000, all of which he has made in about three years. Since the battle with Mitchell, which must have netted him at least $25,000, he has been clearing in the neighborhood of $3,000 a week on his work as an actor, and now he has gone abroad to test the English public's liking for actor pugilists—a test that will probably add very materially to his bank account. He literally has money to burn; but, unlike such noted lights of the ring as John L. Sullivan, Jack McAuliffe and dozens of less famous fistie heroes, he burns very little of it. Corbett recently bought a brownstone mansion on West Eighth street, New York, for $35,000, and altogether he has at least $60,000 invested in real estate near the metropolis. Petet Jackson probably has $10,000 or $15,000. Charley Mitchell is said to be worth about $200,000, but this is without doubt a gross exaggeration. John L. Sullivan has made over $300,000 during his ring career, but he has been a notorious spendthrift and would undoubtedly have difficulty in placing his hands on $1,000 today. A Sullivan in miniature is Jack McAuliffe, who has made at least $200,000 and parted with it about as rapidly as he won it. It is said to his credit, however, that he given his mother and sister considerable money. George Dixon won $12,000 in the ring last year and is probably worth $25,000 or $30,000. Bob Fitzsimmons has made nearly $50,000 since he came to America six years ago, but he has very little to show for it now. Some statistician figures that the different fighters divided $170,000 in stakes and purses last year.

Salvator and the White Cat. Some peculiarities of the great Salvator are related by Mr. Joseph Switzer, who, in speaking of the famous record holder, says: "He was the most vigorous yearling I ever saw. The planks of the stall he occupied down in my place when he was yearling and a 2-year-old are covered with imprints of his heels. He was given to the most peculiar attachments. There was an old white cat about the stable, and the pair became companions. Any other animal that entered the stall would send Salvator into a rage, and he would trample upon it and kill it. But many a time have I seen this old cat perched upon the colt's back perfectly at ease. It would get down and rub its back against the colt's legs, and he would head his head and lick it all over."

Fly Casters to Contest. Among the May sporting attractions of the California Midwinter fair will be a fly casting tournament, the first event of the kind ever held on the Pacific coast. The contestants will be mainly from California, the great distance barring eastern experts from the competition. The champion single handed expert fly-caster of the world for distance is R. C. Leonard of New York, who made his record of 102 1/2 feet in New York, May 23, 1888. He used a rod that weighed 10 1/2 ounces and was a little over 11 feet long. The Chicago Tribune, speaking of Leonard's style at the World's fair tournament last September, said: "Of Mr. Leonard's casting it might be said that up to 60 or 65 feet no more graceful angler ever handled a rod, but after passing that distance his casting loses that grace and naturalness and becomes rather labored and awkward, but he gets there just the same."

H. W. Hawes of New York holds the record for salmon casting. His best cast, 138 feet, was made May 23, 1888. A year previous he captured the record for switch fly casting with a performance of 102 feet. The heavy bass casting record of 120 feet 1 inch was made by W. H. Wood in New York, May 23, 1887. S. Frey, 177 feet 2 inches, is the champion minnow-caster, and the light fly rod record of 95 feet is held by Leonard.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

New York Stock Market. New York, April 28.—Speculation at the stock exchange to-day was confined to the industrials, and of these Sugar was the most conspicuous. The stock opened at 101 1/2 and jumped to 104 1/2, closing at 104 1/2. The rise was brought about by rumors from Washington that the Senate finance committee had agreed upon a Sugar schedule providing for a duty of 40 per cent. ad valorem, 1/2 of a cent additional on refined and 1 1/2-1 of a cent per pound additional on Sugars imported from countries paying a bounty. The shorts made a perfect rush to cover, but they were unable to get all the stock they needed even at the advance. Transactions were heavy, amounting to 37,100 in a grand total of 610 shares. Lead was a good second and jumped from 38 to 40 1/2 for the common and from 84 to 86 1/2 for the preferred. The stock was favorably influenced by Washington advices that the duty on Lead would be raised. Cordage was firmer on the settlement of international discussions. Chicago Gas and General Electric were also in demand in a slightly higher range. The general railway list was quiet and about firm. Union Pacific was exceptionally weak on reports of a $20 assessment. The announcement of the New England reorganization plan had no effect on the stock. Speculation closed firm.
