FROM ALL AROUND THE CITY.

Current Local Events of the Day Briefly Told.

Sits of Facts and Gossip Gathered on the Streets by Times Reporters—Points Political, Social and General Happening Yesterday.

A Delightful Place.

On a hot day one of the most pleasant places in town is under the huge fans at Massie's soda fountain, and particularly so when every drink he serves is faultless.

Koanoke Street to be Repaired.

The chain gang has been ordered to grade and repair Koanoke street, between Salem avenue and Franklin road. This work will be started in a short time.

A Slaughter House Burned.

The slaughter house, owned and occupied by the late D. E. Brady, at the junction of the Lynchburg turnpike and Tinker Creek, was destroyed by fire between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Harrisonburg's New Daily.

The first number of the Evening Gleaner, a four column daily folio just published at Harrisonburg, Va., has been received. It is small, but lively and in its salutatory says it has come to stay. THE TIMES wishes it the success its enterprising publishers merit.

Recital by Mrs. Nellie Brophy's Pupils.

The closing recital of Mrs. Brophy's music class takes place on Thursday evening at 8 p. m. and promises to be an enjoyable and instructive entertainment. An attractive program has been arranged for the pleasure of the patrons and friends of the class.

An Enterprising Roanoke Firm.

A shipment of the galvanized iron cornice work was made last week by the Roanoke Roofing and Metal Cornice Company to Jacksonville, Fla. Contracts have been received this week for similar work on a stone building in Charlottesville and a jail in King George county, Va.

Where is Edmund J. Shuler?

Chief of Police Dyer has received a request from the police authorities of Brooklyn, N. Y., to keep a lookout for Edmund J. Shuler, who disappeared from his home in March, 1894. He is described as being 20 years of age, 5ft. 5in. in height, light complexion, brown eyes, auburn hair, and is hard of hearing in the right ear.

To Argue a Damage Suit.

Mr. A. P. Staples, of the law firm of Scott & Staples, went to Wytheville yesterday morning to argue, before the court of appeals, the case of the Norfolk and Western Railroad Company vs. J. M. Neely. This is a damage suit, in which Mr. Neely obtained a judgment of $800 in the Roanoke city court, and an appeal was taken by the railroad company.

Breaking Up a Bad Practice.

The police authorities are determined to break up the practice of boys jumping on and off the street cars. Yesterday morning Police Justice Williams fined Bird Wade and Ed. Coleman, both colored, $2.50 each for this offense and as they were unable to pay their fines they were sent to the chain gang. Judge Williams also disposed of four other minor cases.

Broke His Arm at the Elbow.

John Neville, the 8-year-old son of Mr. G. W. Ammen, while climbing a fence at his home, in the West End, yesterday evening about 8 o'clock fell and broke his right arm at the elbow. Dr. J. B. Rawlings was sent for at once and rendered the necessary surgical attention. At last accounts the little fellow was resting easily and no serious results are apprehended.

The Norfolk Excursion.

A committee for the excursion to Norfolk on the 25th has been composed of the following ladies: Mrs. C. M. Fortune, Mrs. T. C. Vost, Mrs. T. H. Stewart, Mrs. Martin Peters, Mrs. C. E. Rohrer and Mrs. R. B. Adams, who will act as chaperones to all young ladies wishing to go. Cheap rates have been secured at the best private boarding houses. See what Christian & Barbee say about it in their ad.

Death of Miss Minnie Thompson.

Miss Minnie Thompson, an accomplished young lady who formerly resided in this city where she was employed as stenographer by L. E. Evans, the broker, died at her father's residence near Hollins last week and was buried Sunday afternoon at Pinesville. Miss Thompson left here about the first of last February. She contracted a case of grippe last winter from which she never recovered.

Sales of Real Estate.

A deed was recorded in the clerk's office yesterday by C. L. Woolford and wife, transferring to A. L. Rife, of Radford, their house and lot on Patterson avenue in the West End. The price paid for the property is $4,500. The sale was made through J. F. Wingfield, real estate agent of this city. A number of other deeds have been recorded lately and the officials report a decided improvement in the real estate market.

Professor Morris Will Sing.

A large and attentive congregation greeted Rev. Mr. Stringfellow at Christ Church last night. Much interest is manifested in the services and the many friends of the church sincerely hope the work will prosper. To-night the choir will give the following program: Processional, hymn 232, Sullivan; Gloria, Gretzler; Nunc Dimittis, 250, Blow; Deus Misereatur, Beethoven; hymn 335, Monk; hymn 443, Lane; offertory "The Good Shepherd," Odoardo Barri.

Professor Johnson Morris will sing the offertory. This talented gentleman has recently located in Roanoke and already his influence is being felt in musical circles.

Dr. Smith's Rumored Resignation.

For a few days past it has been rumored in Richmond that Dr. W. W. Smith was going to resign the presidency of Randolph-Macon College. He was chosen to fill the position of educational agent of the Methodist Church South, at the last conference, and according to the report he will have to give up one or the other of the positions. A gentleman from Randolph-Macon said he had heard that Dr. Smith would surrender the position to which he was more recently elected. Should he give up the presidency Dr. Siedd, Dr. Paul Whitehead or Dr. A. G. Brown will probably succeed him.—Richmond State.

COUNTERFEITER CAPTURED.

A Campbell Man Charged With Making the "Queer."

Marshall Covington, of Campbell, was arrested at Rustburg last Friday, charged with manufacturing and passing counterfeit notes of one dollar, and five cent silver coins. It is reported that he has passed quite a number in Rustburg, and that there are some in circulation in Lynchburg. Plaster Paris dies were used, and the counterfeiting is said to be excellently done and calculated to deceive the thoughtless.

Covington is a simple countryman and has lived in the neighborhood of Maysville all his life. He is unmarried. This is not the first time he has been in the hands of the law, but he has never attempted counterfeiting. It is also reported that he had a confederate in Lynchburg who "shoved the queer" very successfully, so much so that a member of his family exchanged a good five dollar bill for five spurious coins. The young man suspected has skipped from the city. It is said that Covington is having a preliminary examination at Rustburg to-day.—Lynchburg Advance.

Lost.

A SMALL, fine gold watch chain, with little silver pig charm. Probably lost on Salem avenue, between Jefferson street and Academy of Music, or at Academy of Music. Finder will be rewarded upon return to THE TIMES office.

It's a Grand Success.

The fact has been demonstrated by the thousands of testimonials the Mayers Drug Company, of Oakland, Md., has received since it sent its famous Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure out to the sufferers of catarrh. No medicine has received such an endorsement from the people in so short a time as it did. The makers sell the medicine on business principles, and a patient is not required to buy the medicine by the dozen to get a cure. The Mayers' Magnetic Catarrh Cure sells for $1 per bottle, one bottle to last for a three month's treatment. 3 bottles is the highest record ever required to complete a cure. General catarrh one bottle is guaranteed. No cure, no pay. This is an unequalled offer and if you are a sufferer from catarrh get a bottle from your druggist, if no benefit derived costs you nothing. A prominent R. R. conductor speaks:

CUMBERLAND, Md., April 29, 1893. To The Mayers Drug Co., Gentlemen:—Yours to hand, in reply will say that I have the highest regard for your Catarrh Remedy, my trouble is in a chronic form and expect to use more than one bottle. I used one bottle which removed the trouble from the head in good shape and am on the second bottle for throat trouble, if I should succeed with the latter as I did in the former I shall write you again in the near future. Hoping it will do for the suffering humanity what it did for me, I remain Yours truly,

G. J. SCHMUTZ For sale at Massie's Pharmacy.

You get polite attention and good meals at Catogni's.

If you want a superior nickel cigar ask your dealer for Gold Seal.

DEVILED and soft shell crabs at Catogni's to-day.

Knights of the Maccabees.

The State commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children, we tried Dr. King's New Discovery, and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience proves that it cures where all other remedies fail."—Signed, F. W. STEVENS, State Com.—Why not give this great medicine a trial, as it is guaranteed and trial bottles are free at Christian & Barbee's drug store. Regular size, 50c. and $1.

OPERA AT THE ACADEMY.

A Splendid Performance of The Pretty Persian.

Lecoq's comic opera, The Pretty Persian, was given by the Andrews Opera Company last night to a fairly good audience. The opera is one of Lecoq's best efforts from a musical standpoint, and sparkles from beginning to finale with tuneful melodies and bright, brilliant choruses. Its rendition by the Andrews Company is deserving of the highest commendation, each member being thoroughly at home in his or her part, and completely in touch with the ridiculous absurdities and grotesque situations evolved by the plot.

Myra Morella, the prima donna, again created a splendid impression by her charming acting and singing, her every appearance being greeted with applause. Miss Morella's voice is finely trained and under perfect control, its range is unusually extensive and its quality brilliant. She has thoroughly established herself as a favorite with Roanoke audiences.

Mr. Jay Taylor had not as exacting a role as fell to his lot in Martha, but he sang just as delightfully, his beautiful tenor again charming the audience with its mellow sweetness and the excellent method of its owner.

A delightful bit of grotesque acting and singing was given in the last act by Miss Jessie Andrews and Jack Allison, which fairly caught the audience and elicited shouts of laughter. Mr. Allison had a congenial character to assume in this opera, and he proved himself a complete master of all its requirements, which were comic throughout. Ed. Andrews also scored a success as Hool-a-Boom the marriage broker. The chorus did their work well and sang with spirit and volume. The opera throughout was given in fine style, and was much better suited to the capabilities of the Andrews Company (as a whole) than Plotow's Martha which preceded it on Monday night.

ALPHONSE DAUDET.

A Slow Writer, and He Is Never Satisfied With His Work.

Alphonse Daudet thus describes his method of writing a book: "I write slowly, very slowly, and revise and revise. I am never satisfied with my work. My novels I always write myself. I never could dictate a novel. As to my plays, I used formerly to dictate them. I had a certain talent in my legs, just as Napoleon had a certain genius in the legs of his soldiers. My books go through many processes. To begin with, I fill my notebooks. Each note as it is used is scratched out in blue or red pencil. From these written notes and the tablets of my memory—the delmoi of my memory—I write out in copybooks the first copy of my novel.

"I write this first copy on alternate pages of my copybooks, and leave the opposite sheet blank. When the book is finished in its rough state, I rewrite it page by page on the blank sheets. The page on the right is the amended copy of the page on the left. Then my wife looks at this second copy and suggests to me what improvements might be made. I note these down.

"Then I rewrite the whole book again with the joy of a schoolboy who feels that a wearisome task is ended. So that, apart from my notes, I write each manuscript three times over, and if I could do so I would write it as many times more, for, as I have said, I am never satisfied with my work. But I am very irregular in my way of working. Sometimes I work 18 hours a day, and day by day."—Rockland (Me.) Tribune.

Uncloggenia.

A washerwoman applied for help to a gentleman, who gave her a note to the manager of a certain club. It read as follows: "Dear Mr. X.—This woman wants washing." Very shortly the answer came back: "Dear Sir—I dare say she does, but I don't fancy the job."—London Tit-Bits.

CANCER CURED - AND A - LIFE SAVED By the Persistent Use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"I was troubled for years with a sore on my knee, which several physicians, who treated me, called a cancer, assuring me that nothing could be done to save my life. As a last resort, I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and, after taking a number of bottles, the sore began to disappear and my general health improve. I persisted in this treatment, until the sore was entirely healed. Since then, I use Ayer's Sarsaparilla occasionally as a tonic and blood-purifier, and, indeed, it seems as though I could not keep house without it."—Mrs. S. A. FIELDS, Bloomfield, In.
