Protest Against the Minister's Action.
SHANGHAI, August 9.—The Americans here have sent a cable dispatch to President Cleveland protesting against United States Minister Denby's action in consenting that the British consul should represent America in the Sze Chuen Inquiry. They recommend a reconstruction of the commission by sending an American official of adequate rank and the exclusion of implicated Chinese officials. They also recommend that a marine escort accompany the commission.

An Editor Assaulted.
SAYANNAH, Ga., August 9.—Ethel Carter, an aeronaut, making ascents here, to-day invaded the office of the Free Lance, a weekly paper, armed with a cowhide whip, and assaulted the proprietor, William Orr, and his assistant editor, John Donelan. Miss Carter used the whip with such force that she finally broke it. The Free Lance charged that she failed to make an advertised balloon ascension because she was half intoxicated.

READY FOR THE BATTLE OF LIFE

Commencement of the National Business College

The Academy of Music Crowded With a Delighted Audience Last Night. Interesting and Enjoyable Program. Honored—Diplomas Presented to the Members of the Graduating Class.

Packed from pit to dome with the youth and beauty of Roanoke society, the Academy of Music last night presented a handsome appearance. Every seat in the house was occupied and the aisles were filled with interested spectators who stood throughout the whole evening without complaining in order that they might enjoy the excellent program that was being rendered. Never has a larger or more brilliant audience gathered in the city of Roanoke and their presence told more forcibly than words could do of the great popularity of the National Business College, an institution of learning that has a most enviable reputation and one to which it is adding daily.

The second annual commencement exercises of this college were held last night and those who attended enjoyed a rare treat. Those who stayed away missed seeing one of the best college commencements ever held in this city. Much credit is due Manager Hooper, of the Academy, for the excellent manner in which the vast audience was handled, and praise is also due Prof. C. Ellsworth Eckerle, president of the college, for the successful manner in which everything passed off. The stage was decorated with the college colors and the boxes were occupied by members of the graduating class.

The exercises began promptly at 8:30 o'clock. After a short address by President Eckerle, Rev. B. C. Anderson, Jr., pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, offered prayer. The salutatory was then delivered by Miss Cardwell. She spoke of the responsibilities which rest upon the people of to-day who are about to enter upon the stern realities of life. The prosperity of our country depends upon their exertions. They will become its bone and sinew and she warned her class mates to ever bear this fact in mind.

Miss Cardwell was followed by Messrs. Eberhardt and Thatcher, members of the Mabel Paige Opera Company, who rendered a banjo and mandolin duet. In such a charming manner that they were forced to respond to an encore. The third number on the program was an oration, "Royal Road to Success," delivered by Miss Hatcher. The young lady showed that she was fully capable of handling this subject, and treated it in a masterly manner. Perseverance, patience, concentration of mind, are all necessary adjuncts to a successful life. She referred to Calhoun and Garfield as examples of what these traits will accomplish.

Miss Farley followed with an essay on the "Woman of Today." The speaker demonstrated that woman's sphere is destined to be enlarged. Her mind and soul calls for more activity, and she is no longer content to be a drone, but a help-meet to man in the fullest extent. Lanier Gray's vocal solo, "For All Eternity," was rendered in this gentleman's most happy style. His accompanist was Mrs. Ludwig. "Reminiscences of the Class of 1895." To Miss Eula Cardwell was given the task of handling this subject, and right well did she acquit herself. She spoke of the sweet recollections of college life and many conflicting emotions they brought. The oration on "Self Reliance," by Miss Larkin, was one of the gems of the evening. The fair speaker referred to the lives of General Grant and Alexander Hamilton as showing what could be accomplished by this trait. The men and women of to-day should depend upon themselves. The best way to get help in this world is to help yourself. What the country needs is more leaders and less followers. Miss Cassel delivered the class prophecy and she painted in rosy colors the future lives of her classmates.

The second part of the program was opened with a violin solo from the Chimes of Normandy by W. C. Hunter, who was accompanied on the piano by Mr. W. C. Buddo. This was greatly enjoyed by the audience, who demanded an encore, but the strings on his violin breaking prevented Mr. Hunter from complying. Mr. Mitchell's reading of Sam's Letter, in which he impersonated a duke, was very enjoyable and gained much applause. The valedictory was delivered by Mr. Flory, who took as his subject "The Evils of God." The speaker acquitted himself nobly and his recital of the many wondrous works of God should have carried conviction to the heart of the most hardened skeptic.

Mrs. James E. Porter followed with the vocal solo, "Waltz Aria." Mrs. Porter is too well known to the Roanoke public and her reputation as a singer is too well established to need any further commendation. Her work last night was fully up to her standard. Mrs. Ludwig accompanied her most acceptably on the piano. Prof. W. W. Newcomer, musical director of the Mabel Paige Company, rendered "Annie Laurie" with variations on the piano so well that he was called back, when he gave "Liberty Bell" as an encore. A most interesting address was delivered by Rev. Mr. Anderson. He took for his topic the success of life, and classed the essential points of success under five heads, as follows: A clear and well-defined idea of what you want to do; to know how to do it; timely action; put energy into whatever you do; you must have principle to guide the work.

At the conclusion of Mr. Anderson's remarks Mr. Thatcher, by special request, rendered a mandolin solo, after which the diplomas were distributed by Professor Eckerle in a few well chosen words. The exercises closed with the benediction, pronounced by Mr. Anderson.

The following are the graduates:
H. Archer Mitchell, commercial.

The faculty and board of trustees of the college are composed of the following:

Faculty—C. Ellsworth Eckerle, A. M. Cassel, Miss Lena Hart, Miss Lena West Barnett.

Board of Trustees—Prof. C. Ellsworth Eckerle, Roanoke, Va., chairman; J. W. Coon, Roanoke, Va., vice-president; Prof. A. M. Cassel, Roanoke, Va., secretary and treasurer; B. A. Jones, C. C. Tallaferrro, Roanoke, Va.; Chas. R. Dawson, Norfolk, Va.; Jno. H. Hoover, Timberville, Va.

THE OUTRAGES IN CHINA.

The Government Urged to Take Vigorous Measures to Protect Americans.

WASHINGTON, August 9.—No official advices have reached the State Department concerning the reported destruction of American missionary property at Inoh, China. It is believed at the State Department that the place referred to is identical with Suikung, where troubles were reported two days ago and this second dispatch really relates to the same incident.

Acting Secretary McAdoo has received a telegram from Nashville, signed jointly by the Southern Methodist and Presbyterian missionary society officials, confirming the report of the outrageous character of the Kuehng massacre, and urging the State Department to protect the American missions in China.

Mr. McAdoo has responded by telegraph that United States Minister Denby had already taken the most vigorous measures to secure the safety of Americans, and that renewed instructions to that end had already been cabled to the minister. A high official of the navy to-day, commenting on the criticisms that have been made because American gunboats have done nothing to protect the missionaries in China, said that the situation is not understood by these critics.

The places where the riots have occurred are many hundred miles inland, where it is impossible for ships to go. He also believed that it would be useless to attempt to send a force from the ships by land, and drew as a comparison a supposed riot in Utah, where British subjects were killed, and said it would be as reasonable to expect British war ships to reach Salt Lake, or to send an armed force from New York as to expect the United States to reach the interior points in China by gunboats or by a land force.

SUGAR BOUNTY QUESTION.

Senator Caffery Raises Four Points for the Controller to Consider.

WASHINGTON, August 9.—Senator Caffery took the floor when the sugar bounty hearing was resumed to-day. He began by eliciting from Mr. Bowler, a brief statement of his position, which that gentleman based principally on the belief that the law was unconstitutional.

Mr. Caffery then laid down the following propositions as containing in brief the points that he would attempt to make:

1. That the judiciary power lodged by express constitutional grant in the judicial department and that alone.
2. If any judicial function lodges in any other department it must be by express constitutional grant, and if it lodges in the executive department at all it must be in its chief alone and not in his subordinates.
3. Conceding for argument's sake that the bounty law is not constitutional it is not so clearly so as to warrant the interpretation that it is unconstitutional, even from a court, much less from a ministerial officer. It is not prima facie unconstitutional.
4. Even conceding the unconstitutionality of the law the power lies in Congress to appropriate money, especially where it is appropriated for the purpose of repairing wrong or injury inflicted by Congress itself.

Hethen proceeded to elaborate these points in an argument devoted almost exclusively to the constitutionality of the bounty law, and consumed the entire day with his argument. As a consequence the conclusion of the hearing was postponed till to-morrow.

THE NEW YORK HORROR.

Six Bodies Taken Out of the Wrecked Building and Ten Persons Missing.

New York, August 9.—The work of clearing away the wreckage of the collapsed eight story building at West Broadway and West Third street was continued all of last night and to-day. During the day three bodies were recovered. The work is slow, for every pound of the great pile had to be turned over.

Contractor Galligan said that it will be several days before all the wreckage can be turned over. That there are many bodies beneath the ruins there is no doubt. None of the men reported to have been lost have reported themselves alive, and it is believed that there are at least ten bodies which will be discovered before the ruins have been turned over by the workmen.

The revised list of the dead and missing as furnished by the police is as follows: Dead—John Burk, plasterer, Brooklyn; Claus Peterson, electrician, New York; Charles Smith, electrician, New York; Michael Savage, plasterer, Brooklyn; Michael Flynn, laborer, New York; Michael O. Hare, laborer, Brooklyn. The missing—Patrick Cashin, laborer, Brooklyn; Patrick Conlin, plasterer, Brooklyn; James Grosse, New York; Edward Hanley, plasterer, Brooklyn; John Murphy, laborer, Brooklyn; Christopher O'Rourke, Brooklyn; Augustus Phillips, New York; George Smith, iron worker, New York; Wm. Hayes, Brooklyn.

THE SAME OLD STORY AGAIN.

Roanoke Could Neither Bat Nor Field the Ball.

Richmond Had No Difficulty in Winning Notwithstanding the Fact They Played a Loose Game—Lloyd Was Batted Out of the Box and Moores Took His Place—The Contest Dull and Uninteresting.

RICHMOND, August 9.—Special.—It was the same old story again to-day. Roanoke could neither bat nor field and the Hustlers had no difficulty in winning. Lloyd started in to pitch but was batted out of the box and gave way to Moores. The game was dull and uninteresting. Following is the score:

The Williams spoken of in the above clipping is Tom Williams, the Roanoke twirler. He has been loaned to Norfolk by the home management and will probably not return to Roanoke with the rest of the team to-morrow.

Result of the National League Games.

BALTIMORE, Md., August 9.—Baltimore and New York split even on the games to-day. Baltimore hit Meekin hard in the first game, but had no chance of winning on account of the poor work of Hoffer and Homming. Pond pitched the last two innings, and was quite effective. Clarke and McMahon were the opposing pitchers in the second game, and McMahon had the New Yorks at his mercy.

High Toned Country Club.

DOBBS FREEY, N. Y., August 9.—A syndicate composed of wealthy New Yorkers, including Cornelius Vanderbilt, J. Pierpont Morgan, General Samuel Thomas, William and John D. Rockefeller, Chauncey M. Depew, J. G. McComb and D. Archibald have purchased about 230 acres of land at this place and intend to establish a country club. The land purchased is valued at $1,000,000 and includes 167 acres of the Cyrus Field estate. A large hotel and casino, similar to that at Newport will be erected and there are other buildings which will be put up on the property will cost about $1,000,000 more. The club will charge an initiation fee of $250 and the annual dues will be $150. A private dock will be built, which will cost about $10,000.

THE RIGHT OF SEARCH.

How Japan and the United States Came Nearly to War Recently.

WASHINGTON, August 9.—In the event of war between Russia and Japan, the United States may find itself an unwilling party unless the Japanese retreat from a position which they assumed towards the United States during the progress of the last war with China. It is not generally known that just before the declaration of the armistice which preceded the signature of the treaty of peace, an issue had grown up between the United States and Japan that threatened to lead to actual hostilities between the two countries, and that a hostile clash was perhaps only averted by the conclusion of the Chinese war.

This issue arose through the assertion of the Japanese authorities of the right of search of American vessels. They insisted that they had the right to board an American vessel and, if they chose, to take from her any Chinese or any enemy they might find, even though they were but passengers. Minister Dun very promptly denied the existence of any such right on the part of a combatant and a hot correspondence ensued.

The Japanese insisted on their rights and even when Mr. Dun reminded them that the United States had gone to war with Great Britain on just this issue and had forced the abandonment of any claim to such a right, they refused to abate their pretensions one jot, though the minister intimated that the first assertion of such a right would be regarded by the United States as an unfriendly act, and, therefore, likely to lead to war.

The matter progressed to that perilous state when Admiral Carpenter was about to escort an American merchant steamship out of a Japanese port, to prevent her detention by the Japanese, the latter it is said gave orders to the shore batteries at the mouth of the harbor to fire upon the American vessels if they attempted to do so.

This fact came out after the conclusion of the armistice, which fortunately occurred at just this point in the negotiations, thereby preventing an incident that would certainly have led to war, but the significant point is, that since that time, the Japanese have steadily clung to the same contention, promising serious trouble in the event of another war in the East.

THE BUSINESS SITUATION.

Remarkable Increase in Manufactures, Especially of Iron and Steel.

NEW YORK, August 9.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: The features of the business week are continued with remarkable strength for a demand, increase in the production of and the advance in prices of steel and iron. Striking as was the demand for an increase in the price of wheat, leather, cotton and other staples for a month or two following March 1 last, no rebounds since the depression of 1894 has been stronger or more surprising than that in iron and steel.

Of the same nature is the evidence of improved business conditions shown by the activity in almost all manufacturing lines. More particularly, of course, those in which iron and steel are employed. The center of commercial activity at the West follows a line drawn from St. Louis through Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis with an improving demand also shown along the Ohio river valley.

Wholesalers at Chicago and St. Louis report receipt of good orders for dress goods, hats, caps, clothing and shoes, to a large degree, the result of personal selection by interior merchants.

More of Holmes' Villainies.

CHICAGO, August 9.—The pick of a workman in Holmes' castle uncovered a strange construction last night which carries a more terrible suggestion of the conspirators' work. In the closet room on the second floor where Holmes used to sleep there is a gas pipe running over the floor. Where the pipes meet in the wall they turn down into the floor, and beneath the boards is a cut-off. The pipe runs directly to the windowless room where it is believed Mrs. Conner was murdered. The cut-off is believed to be one of Holmes' instruments of death. Sitting in his room he could turn on the current that would fill the dark sleeping apartment with deadly gas, asphyxiating the occupants. The cut-off was a secret; it was reached simply by lifting a board in the closet.

Sale of a Railroad Ordered.

CHARLESTON, S. C., August 9.—In the suit of Charles Phinizy and Alfred Balfors against Port Royal and Western Carolina railroad, Central Trust Company of S. C., United States Circuit Judge Simonton to-day filed a decree ordering the sale of the road by Special Master Theodore G. Barker, at Greenwood, S. C., October 17 proximo. The road is now in the hands of John B. Cleveland, of Spartanburg, S. C., and includes the Augusta and Knoxville road from Augusta to Greenwood, S. C. The Savannah Valley, from McCormick, S. C., to Anderson, from Greenwood to Spartanburg, from Greenwood to Spartanburg and Greenville and Laurens, about 205 miles.

Women Voters in Kentucky.

LEXINGTON, Ky., August 9.—The ladies of Lexington have nominated four candidates, one from each ward of the city for the board of education, to be elected in November. This is the first time women have been given a right to vote in Kentucky, but their suffrage is restricted to voting for members of the board of education.

Americans Mobbed in Turkey.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 9.—Advices received here from Tarsus, Asia Minor, say that a mob has attacked the American school at that place, maltreated several of the students and threatened the missionaries. No details of the affair have yet reached here.

Governor Evans in North Carolina.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., August 9.—Gov. John Gary Evans, of South Carolina, arrived here to-day and will return to his home to-morrow.

A SENSATIONAL SHOOTING.

Murder of R. T. Dinkins, at Brandon, Mississippi.

He Was Standing at the Depot When T. B. Marshall, a Prominent Lawyer, Came Up, and Placing a Pistol on His Stomach, Fired—Two of Marshall's Friends Complete the Bloody Work.

JACKSON, Miss., August 9.—A special to the Associated Press from Brandon, Miss., fifteen miles east of here, gives the particulars of a sensational shooting affray which took place there at 9 o'clock this morning in which T. B. Marshall, a prominent lawyer and member of the State legislature from Vicksburg, and two of his friends shot and killed R. T. Dinkins, agent of the Austin Road Machine Company.

While standing on the platform of the depot Dinkins was approached by Marshall and his two companions, H. H. Coleman and O. P. Fox, of Vicksburg. Marshall walked up to Dinkins and said: "This is Mr. Dinkins," and placing a pistol at Dinkins' stomach discharged the weapon. Dinkins grabbed the pistol just as it was fired and possibly the first shot did not take effect. As Dinkins backed away from Marshall there was a fusillade of shots from Marshall's companions and Dinkins fell dead.

It is thought Dinkins fired Marshall's pistol at the latter, as it was found in his hand when dead. Marshall, Coleman, Fox and Marshall's partner, Mr. Vallen, met in the waiting room of the depot as soon as the bloody work had been completed and announced they were ready to surrender and Sheriff Dobson was called for. The excuse of the killing is the sensational story told on Marshall by Dinkins.

Two weeks ago Dinkins and Marshall occupied the same room, but different beds, at a hotel in Raymond, and next morning Dinkins told of what had transpired during the night, stating that Marshall was guilty of a crime similar to the one for which Oscar Wilde is now serving a term in the England prison. When the story came to the ears of Marshall he denounced it as a lie through the press. Dinkins, however, maintained that the story was true. Marshall was the Democratic nominee for Senator from Warren and Hinds counties. The killing is strongly condemned by the people.

Railroad Disasters.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 9.—Three persons were killed and two seriously injured on the rail in this city this morning. A wagon driven by Wm. Hasson was struck by a Pennsylvania locomotive on the outskirts of the city, at a grade crossing. The vehicle was smashed and Hasson was instantly killed. Edward Miskell and John Hasson, a younger brother of William, who were also in the wagon, were seriously injured internally. About the same time in another section of the city, Martin Ervin, while crossing the tracks of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, was struck by a locomotive and instantly killed. Willie H. Stanley, 6 years old, was ground to pieces under the wheels of a fast flying trolley car at 9 a. m., near his home in West Philadelphia.

Trial of Arthur Tuttle.

WINSTON, N. C., August 9.—The trial of Arthur Tuttle for the murder of Policeman Vickers, in Winston last May, opened here this morning. Twenty witnesses will be examined for the State. Policeman Dr. D. N. Dalton and Coroner Linville gave damaging evidence against the prisoner this afternoon. District Attorney Glenn is one of three lawyers representing the State, and Congressman Settle is one employed for the defense.

Message of Condolence.

BUZZARDS BAY, Mass., August 9.—President Cleveland this morning sent the following telegram of condolence to Mrs. Jackson, widow of the late Justice Jackson. "Mrs. Howell Jackson, Nashville, Tenn., I deeply sympathize with you in your bereavement. While I mourn the death of a devoted friend, the nation loses a brigat judge, a useful citizen and a honest man."
