THE ATLANTA EXPOSITION.

The Great Show Began Yesterday.

After a Grand Parade and Numerous Speeches, the President Touched the Button at Buzzard's Bay, and the Ponderous Machinery Began to Move—A Grand and Unequivocal Success.

ATLANTA, Ga., Sept. 18.—The morning of the opening day of the South's greatest show, the Cotton States and International Exposition, dawned auspiciously bright and clear, affording to the thousands of Northern visitors in the city a sample of typical Southern September weather. As the day wore on the heat began to pass the limit of comfort, but the buoyant crowds on the streets did not seem to mind the temperature, and good humor reigned supreme.

During the night the finishing touches had been put on a number of the buildings, and every effort had been made to get the grounds in good shape for the opening, and those who left the park yesterday afternoon found this morning that a great transformation had been wrought. From the tops of the 347 flag shafts on the buildings around the grounds, there floated the pennants and flags of the nations of the earth, and the doors of the buildings, which have been closed for several days, were all thrown open.

In the interior of the buildings a great deal of work had been accomplished. Over nine-tenths of the exhibits were complete and neatly arranged at the entrance at each booth. The policemen had advanced and were patrolling the grounds, and everything was ready for the crowd. As the day grew older, the crowds who had not been admitted to the grounds, gathered about the gates and anxiously awaited the appearance of the military and the directors.

Down-town preparations began early for the parade to the grounds and the uniforms of the United States regulars and visiting and local military lent a material tone to the multitudes that congregated in the neighborhood of the corner of Broad and Marietta streets, where the marching forces were mobilized.

The city is a mass of bunting and the waving decorations, the flying flags, the bands of music and the general atmosphere of gayety offer the strongest possible contrast to the dismantled Atlanta of '64 so familiar to many of the veterans of the federal army who to-day participated in the celebration of the greatest victory of peace the South has ever won.

At high noon every steam whistle in the city broke forth into noisy chorus, the crowds in the streets cheered long and loud, and the festivities of opening day were fairly begun. At 1 o'clock the procession, under command of Col. W. L. Kellogg, of the United States Army, began to move. In the line were the Fifth regiment, United States Army; the Washington Artillery, New Orleans' crack company, commanded by Col. John B. Richardson; the Fifth regiment of Georgia and various visiting State troops, making twenty-five companies in all. Five bands, including Gilmore's famous band, headed by Victor Herbert, furnished music for the tramping column, which swept its brilliant length out toward the Exposition Park between continuous lines of admiring and cheering spectators.

As the head of the column reached the gate, the companies were halted and the exposition directors and their guests in carriages passed into the grounds, then the military companies stepped on the plaza, stacked arms and were taken to the barbecue stand, where they were guests of the exposition for a short while.

The guests and directors went to the auditorium, where the formal opening occurred. Speeches were delivered on the small stage which was profusely decorated. While the crowd was still gathering, Victor Herbert's band rendered his new and original "Salute to Atlanta" amid great applause. Ex-Gov. R. B. Bullock, as master of ceremonies, presented Bishop Cleland Kinlock Nelson, who offered the opening prayer. Governor Bullock presented Col. Albert Howell, who read the exposition ode, written by Frank L. Stanton. Then Governor Bullock introduced President Collier, who delivered the opening address. President Collier was followed by Mrs. John Thompson, president of the board of women managers, who spoke in behalf of the women's department. Booker Washington, the principal of the Tuskegee Normal Institute, then delivered an address in behalf of the negro department. Mayor King spoke for the city.

The parade to the grounds was one of the most notable ever seen in the South. It included members of the government board in carriages, also members of the staff of the government of Louisiana. The foreign countries represented were as follows: Venezuela, Mexico, Argentina, Costa Rica, France, Great Britain and Italy.

Among the State commissioners were representatives of the following State boards: Connecticut, Illinois, Massachusetts, New York, Arkansas, and a number of others.

A unique feature was the appearance in the line immediately following the carriage of the woman's board of a number of representatives of the negro board.

This morning Mayor King received a telegram of greeting from the mayor of Mobile, Hon. O. L. Lavrette.

The new auditorium within the exposition grounds was packed to its remotest corners during the delivery of the addresses, all of which were received with enthusiasm. The program presented the remarkable spectacle of ex-Governor Rufus B. Bullock elected chief executive of the State by Republican votes during the reconstruction period, now a leading citizen of Atlanta, and director of the exposition, acting as master of ceremonies, introducing Mrs. Jos. H. Thompson, president of the women's board, and Booker T. Washington, the representative of the negro race.

When Judge Speer concluded his oration, the ceremony of touching the button took place. Wires had been stretched from Gray Gables to Buzzard's Bay, and still another wire had been stretched from the auditorium here to the machinery building. While Judge Speer was delivering his address, the operator cleared the line to Gray Gables shortly after 4 o'clock, and soon everything was ready.

Herbert's band played a selection, and suddenly a flash of light from an electric lamp illuminated the building. There were great cheers. The Exposition was formally opened. Down at machinery hall Engineer Charles W. Foster, with his assistants, stood watching the engines.

Mr. Foster was sitting by the big engine waiting for the signal from the President, and when the valve clicked and the hissing steam poured into the cylinder he waved his hand to the engineers around him and at once all the engines were open. The wheels began turning and the ponderous machine announced the opening of the great show.

Standing on the banks of Lake Clara Meer, Mr. Luther Steininger directed the operations of the fountain, the greatest electrical creation in the history of the world. The single jet from the center of the machine suddenly began spouting, and as it rose above the banks of the lake, the men at Palne's fireworks building began a salute of 100 bombs. The first bomb, thrown high into the air, notified the crowds around the grounds that the Exposition had really started, and great cheers rent the air. This closed the regular programme and the great crowd distributed itself over the grounds. The opening was a complete and unequivocal success and the Exposition begins with every good omen in its favor.

The President's Congratulations.

BUZZARD'S BAY, Sept. 18.—The gold rimmed button attached to a wire connecting Gray Gables, the summer residence of President Cleveland, with the motor in the machinery hall, at the great Cotton States and International Exposition at Atlanta, Ga., was pressed by the chief executive of the United States at 6:56 this evening.

Shortly before this time the President's evening mail was brought into the room, and picking up an evening paper, one served by the United Press, Mr. Cleveland's eye fell upon a heavily loaded article on the first page, announcing that he had pressed the button at 8 p. m. The President read aloud some lines of the article with manifest disapproval, as at that moment it was several hours past the time mentioned in the article.

Just before 5 o'clock a message came to the President from the committee on ceremonies at Atlanta, thanking him for his interest in the exposition and for pressing the button, to which the President sent the following reply:

"Fully appreciating the value and importance of the exposition inaugurated to-day I am especially gratified to be related to its inception and progress and to participate in its opening ceremonies. I sincerely congratulate those whose enterprise and energy have accomplished such splendid results and heartily wish the exposition they have set on foot will be completely successful in consummating all the good results contemplated by its promoters."

The Alleged Cuban Filibusters.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 18.—The twenty Cuban filibusters recently arrested near here were placed on trial to-day in the United States circuit court before Judge Wales. When court was opened District Attorney Vandegrift asked for a postponement, claiming that the government was awaiting some important evidence which would not get here until next Wednesday. Counsel for the prisoners opposed the postponement saying his clients were held under the charge of crime and should have a speedy trial. Judge Wales denied the motion to postpone. A trial jury was then drawn.

Small Drifts Coming In.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The Treasury Department to-day received by express $100,000 from the People's National Bank, of Pittsburg, in exchange for notes of $5, $10 and $20 denominations, without conditions as to expressage or character of the notes other than stated. Considerable gains were also made in New York and elsewhere, so that, if there are no withdrawals to-day, to-morrow's statement will likely show a gain of about $250,000. With the addition of the $100,000 received from Pittsburg the reserve to-day stands at $85,556,954.

Hard on Senator Tillman.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 18.—Gen. M. C. Butler arrived in the city to-day, and gave out the following card with reference to Tillman's attack on him in a speech in the constitutional convention Monday: "I have denounced Senator Tillman to his face as a liar, a coward and a thief, and I cannot keep up with a constitutional liar. If I should kick him now, he would probably run off and howl, and have me indicted for assault and battery. His statements concerning me in the constitutional convention on Monday were a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end."

The Governor Will Stop It.

AUSTIN, Tex., Sept. 18.—Governor Guiberson was seen this morning with reference to Judge Hurt's opinion. He refused to express himself, but it is evident he will ignore the opinion and prevent the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight at all hazards.

CHICKAMAUGA NATIONAL PARK.

The Imposing Dedication Ceremonies There.

Monuments Dedicated by the Governors of the States of Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Massachusetts and Turned Over to the United States—Speeches by Vice-President Stevenson and Others.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 18.—If one may judge by the events of the last ten days the Mason and Dixon line has been wiped off the map. In the friendly, brotherly feeling that has been displayed here this week and as shown at Louisville last week by the boys of the Grey and the boys of the Blue, the bitter sectionalism that has so long divided the Union no longer exists.

For nearly a fortnight now the doors of the South have been opened to those who came here thirty-three years ago bearing arms of slaughter and destruction. Not a single incident that would indicate a feeling of hatred on either side has been recorded.

"Yankees" and "Johnny Rebs" grown gray with years have gone over the great battlefield together, discussed the events of those awful days, drank together, and even in some instances slept together without stirring up anything like an angry thought. Generals who commanded armies for the Union have been guests of the generals of the Confederacy, and each has solemnly declared that there is "No North and No South."

The events of to-day have bound us together as nothing else could have done, and the solemn, yet joyous events of to-morrow will seal the tie forever. So spoke a venerable veteran on the North to one of the South at Snodgrass Hill to-day, and the latter replied, with tears in his eyes: "Comrade, you are right. Shake hands," and they did.

Chattanooga is an enterprising Chicago-like town with forty thousand inhabitants. Both the town and the people have every look of prosperity. The people have done as much for the entertainment of their Northern visitors as any one could wish. At early dawn the town and the surrounding country awoke. In less than two hours there was a general exodus from the town to the battlefield.

There were bands of music followed by regiments of militia. There were thousands upon thousands of battle-scarred veterans and there were thousands upon thousands of men, women and children, who personally never knew what war was.

The first event of the day was the dedication of the Michigan State monuments at Snodgrass Hill, a point at which there was probably more hard fighting during the battle than on any part of the field. Gov. John T. Rich, with his staff, arrived at the hill a few minutes after 9 o'clock.

Chairman C. E. Helknap, president of the Michigan committee, in a brief speech introduced Gov. John T. Rich. Col. Henry M. Duffield, of Detroit, responded.

In the northeast corner of the park the monuments of Wisconsin were turned over to the Government at 11 o'clock. Colonel Watkins formally turned the monuments over to Governor W. H. Upham, who received them, and then transferred them to the Government. General Harry Hardin made a speech in response.

The veterans of Ohio took possession of the Snodgrass Hill as soon as those from Michigan had finished. Gen. John Batty, president of the Ohio committee, presided.

Short addresses were made by ex-Governor Campbell and others, after which Gen. Aquilla Wiley formally turned the monuments over to Governor McKinley, who transferred them to the national government.

The Illinois monuments were dedicated on the site where Widow Glenn's house stood during the battle. It is a few hundred yards southeast of the famous "Bloody Pond."

Col. H. S. Reeves, president of the Illinois committee, called the meeting to order. After prayer Governor Altgeld was introduced and turned the monument over to the Government. Responses were made by Vice-President Stevenson, Senator Palmer and others and the benediction was then pronounced.

The exercises attendant upon the transfer of the Indiana monuments to the Government took place at Lytle Hill, which was killed there. Gen. M. C. Hunter was master of ceremonies, and Gen. Lew Wallace and Col. I. N. Walker, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., spoke.

The Massachusetts monuments were dedicated at Knob's Hill at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The ceremonies were short, simple and impressive. Gov. Fred T. Greenhalge made the address of the occasion. In concluding he spoke of the dedication of the field as a national park in honor of heroes who fell there. The governor and staff, together with the State committee, then went to the National Cemetery and decorated the graves of the Massachusetts soldiers buried there.

Florida Filibustering Exposition.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Information reached the Treasury Department to-day of the seizure of the schooner Lark, of Pine Key, Fla., substantially as telegraphed by The Associated Press last night. The Spanish minister to-day called at the State Department with a statement obtained from the Spanish consul at Key West that the Lark was only a part of an extensive filibustering expedition fitting out in Florida waters, and asking that the commanders of the revenue cutters now on duty there be instructed to use increased diligence in apprehending all offenders.

CLIPPED THE ORIOLES' WINGS.

The Bostons Play the Champions to a Shut-out.

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—The home team played great ball and shut out the Orioles to-day. Hoffer was knocked out of the box in the second inning. At the end of the first inning Brodie got into a dispute with Umpire Murray and was fined $25 and ordered out of the game. A shuffle of positions resulted and the visitors went to pieces. The game was called at the beginning of the eighth on account of darkness.

OFFER TO RESAIL THE RACE.

Mr. Kersey Says Dunraven Never Received Mr. Iselin's Letter.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—Lord Dunraven's representative, M. H. Kersey, called upon ex-Commodore James D. Smith, chairman of the America's cup committee, to-day, and took with him the letter in which Mr. C. Oliver Iselin offered to resail the race in which the Valkyrie fouled the Defender. The letter is as follows:

"ON BOARD DEFENDER, }
"September 12th, 1895. }
"DEAR LORD DUNRAVEN:—Although the regatta committee have given Defender yesterday's race, under the circumstances, I should much prefer calling the race off and resail it to-morrow. I trust this will meet with your views. If so, kindly answer at once. Very truly yours
C OLIVER ISELIN."

H. Maitland Kersey gave out the following statement:
"Lord Dunraven would like it clearly understood that the offer contained in Mr. Iselin's letter of September 12, which appeared in this morning's papers, to resail either the last two races or the whole series, has never been made known to him either by Mr. Iselin or the members of the cup or regatta committee."

Mr. Kersey was seen at the White Star dock this afternoon. Regarding his statement he said:
"I was merely speaking for Lord Dunraven. He says that he never received a letter from Mr. Iselin offering to resail the race."

On the steamer Majesty, which sailed for Liverpool this afternoon, were Commodore Glenn, the intimate friend of Lord Dunraven; Sallmaker Thomas Ratsey, and twenty-five members of the Valkyrie crew.

Joint Investigating Committee.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The joint American and British committee, which is investigating the missionary riots at Ku Cheng, is making most satisfactory progress in fixing the responsibility for the outrages and securing the summary punishment of the guilty parties. Cablegrams were received at the State Department to-day from both Minister Denby at Peking and Consul-General Jernigan at Shanghai, stating that seven of the Chinese who were convicted by the committee of being ring-leaders in the assault, were decapitated this morning. The committee is still proceeding with its work. Minister Denby also reports that he is making headway in the organization of the independent committee that will investigate the Cheng Tu mission riots.

Spain's Efforts Against Filibusters.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—An evidence of the active efforts being made by the Spanish government to frustrate the departure of filibustering expeditions from the South to Cuba is afforded by the appointment of four Spanish consular officers for Florida alone. These have been recognized by the President as follows: Enrique Mariategui and Pedro Solis Ariza, as vice consuls of Spain at Tampa; Manuel Garcia Cruz, vice consul of Spain at Jacksonville, Fla.; Manuel Roderiguez Escudero, consul of Spain at Key West.

W. C. T. U. Convention.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Sept. 18.—The Women's Christian Temperance Union of Virginia met in convention here to-day with about sixty delegates in attendance. Mrs. R. H. Jones, of Norfolk, presided.

SENTRY THE CHAMPION PACER.

He Lays Patchen Out in Good Shape.

The North Carolina Horse Beats His Most Formidable Rival, Joe Patchen, in Three Straight Heats at the Milwaukee Fair Grounds Yesterday—No Records Were Wiped Out—The Fastest Mile, 2:05 1/4.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 13.—John R. Gentry, the fastest stallion in the world, to-day added another to the list of victories which brightens his remarkable record by beating Joe Patchen, his most formidable rival, in three straight heats at the fair grounds. No records were wiped out, and the two pacing kings did not show the speed which they have proven themselves possessed of, but the time was such as only these horses could have made.

The fastest mile, which was the first paced, was done in 2:05 1/4 and the fastest quarter was in 29, provided no mistake was made by the official timers, and there seemed to be an impression among some of the persons who held watches that this was the case. This was the final quarter of the third and last heat and McHenry drove Gentry hard and was close pressed most of the way by Vera Capello, the fast Wisconsin mare, who was in the race to make a record for herself and to urge the others on if they should need it, which turned out not to be the case.

The exhibition was a fine one and the only thing that marred it was Patchen's failure to get started in the last heat, he losing his feet and being practically out of the contest as soon as they left the wire. Twenty thousand people saw the race.

Summary—Special match pacing, purse $3,000. John R. Gentry (McHenry), 1, 1, 1; Joe Patchen (Curry), 2, 2, 2; Vera Capello (Tom Dunbar), 3, 3, 2. Time 2:05 1/4, 2:05 3/4, 2:07.

COLORED REPUBLICANS.

Meeting of Rival State Conventions in New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., Sept. 18.—Rival colored Republican State conventions met here to-day with about one hundred delegates each. One convention was called to order by P. T. Caldwell, chairman of one of the rival State committees, and J. C. Gunnall, of Hudson, was elected chairman. The other convention was called to order by Chairman Johnson, of the other State committee, and Alexander Huggs, of Essex, was made chairman.

R. Henry Herbert, of the Johnson committee, moved for the appointment of a conference committee of five to bring about a unity of the two committees. Herbert was made chairman, appointed by Presiding Officer Huggs. The other committee is not disposed to accept the olive branch and both conventions will probably go ahead and select some person for recommendation as a member of the Republican State convention, which will have to settle the dispute to-morrow.

More Territory For the Pope.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—Discussing the revival of the rumor that Italy may be induced to sell a small territory to the Pope, a Paris correspondent telegraphs that the project for the Pope's ransom by the Catholic world, which is described as "a noble American conceit," is no secret in the cabinets of Europe, which have been in possession of the details of the plan. It embodies an addition to the establishment of the papacy of a principality with its own seaport, certain naval privileges, and the restoration of confiscated church property. Negotiations are said to be progressing between the Vatican and the Quirinal.

Charged With Forgery.

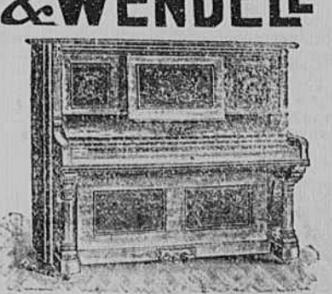

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—C. M. Emerson, son of J. E. Emerson, a wealthy manufacturer of Beaver Falls, Pa., was arrested here to-day charged with forging his father's name. Emerson is charged with having passed forged checks at Norfolk, Va., and Minneapolis.

A Respite for Marable.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 18.—Governor O'Ferrall to-night respite Solomon Marable, who was to have been executed in Lunenburg on Friday, until the 23rd of October.
