

MEN STILL CAN SALMON DAY AND NIGHT ON SOUND

ALL THE FISH THAT ARE NOW
CAUGHT ARE BEING CANNED
CANNERIES RUNNING DAY AND NIGHT.

BELLINGHAM, Aug. 5.—The canneries on the bay and all over the sound are still engaged night and day putting up salmon and there is no doubt that the pack of sockeyes will be all that is hoped for. The traps are yielding thousands of fish daily and all the canneries are getting enough to keep them working at their capacity. The independent trapmen and the seiners are catching many fish and while the prices are lower than ever before they are said to be earning big money.

The Pacific American Fisheries are still packing about 120,000 daily. Each day about 50,000 are sent to the cannery at Anacortes, and the Sehome and Washington canneries take a scow load each day. All the traps of the P. A. F. are being fished and all the fish that are caught are being canned, say the officials.

BOY SHOOTS HIS SISTER IN MOUTH

SIX YEAR OLD BOY PLAYS WITH A GUN
THAT WAS SUPPOSED TO BE UNLOADED
AND SERIOUSLY WOUNDS HIS YOUNG SISTER.

BALLARD, Aug. 5.—Grace Cordlund, 8 years old, was shot in the mouth by her 6 year old brother at the home of their father, August Cordlund, yesterday afternoon, while the children were playing with a pistol, which as usual, was supposed to be unloaded.

The .38 calibre bullet broke the little girl's front teeth, split her tongue and went down her throat. She is unconscious and the attending physicians say she has a chance of recovery unless she has sustained internal injuries not yet ascertained. The bullet has not yet been located.

HARVEST HELP SCARCE

Farmers Offer Good Wages but Cannot get Men
Enough to Save the Crops

PULLMAN, Aug. 4.—There is a shortage of help in the harvest fields and farmers are trying in vain to secure men to save their crops.

Despite the fact that high wages are offered, farmers are unable to secure enough men to run their machines. A free employment agency has been opened at the Artesian hotel for the benefit of farmers and men seeking work, and a large list of orders for men is posted on the bulletin board, but there are few applicants for the work. L. H. Soliday, proprietor of the Artesian hotel, said: "We have ten jobs for every man who applies for work. Farmers say they never saw it so difficult to obtain men as at present. Every man who has the appearance of a laborer is met by the farmers and asked to work for them. Good wages are being paid. We have orders for men for all kinds of work, ranging from shocking grain to all positions with threshing machines and headers. Wages run from $2 to $4 a day, depending on the kind of work. Board is given free by the employer. I believe that fifty men can find work here at good wages and men must be secured to save the crop."

Woman Hangs Herself.

PALOUSE, Aug. 5.—Fred Campbell, a rancher, brought word that Mrs. Dick Ross, who for several months has roamed about, committed suicide this morning by hanging herself in a shed. Her lifeless body was found hanging from a rafter in an old shed near Campbell's place. A fascinator was drawn tightly over her face, her satchel was placed near by with her hat and gloves and shoes laid carefully upon it. She had mounted an empty five gallon oil can, and after adjusting the rope on a rafter and about her neck, had kicked the can away.

The scores were: 10 to 6, 12 to 11, 9 to 10 in favor of the Fats, and 9 to 10 in favor of the Leans. The rivalry between them has been a great source of amusement to both players and spectators. It was stated a few days ago that both sides were out for blood tomorrow. This is a mistake. The victors are to receive a keg of beer.

The shock hurled him to the earth. He was carried to the office of the Tacoma Industrial company, by which he was employed.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS TO CRACK SAFE

MRS. PLAFF, WHO WORE MENS CLOTHING, ASSISTS HER BROTHER-IN-LAW IN AN ATTEMPT TO CRACK SAFE.

PORTLAND, Aug. 5.—Telegrams have been sent to all the large cities in the country for the apprehension of Roy Plaff and his sister in law, Mrs. Forest Plaff, who are accused of attempting to crack the East Side bank vault Saturday night.

Mrs. Plaff, it is alleged, wore men's clothes. She has an expert knowledge of electricity, and it is charged by the police, materially assisted in the attempted robbery by tapping the wires in the vicinity of the bank in order to secure power with which to work a drill.

Circumstances surrounding the incident make it one of the most remarkable in the annals of the local police department. Entrance to the building was gained through a window. A number of heavy tools were employed in the attempted burglary. Two holes were drilled in the door and the combination knocked off with a sledge hammer. The robbers were frightened away before the work was completed. There was a large amount of money in the vaults at the time.

The Plaffs were connected with the affair through a mill employe at the Cascade Locks, who had been telling that they had gone to Portland to blow the East Side bank safe. Further investigations by the police showed that the Plaffs were in Portland at the time of the affair and left here Monday, presumably for the East.

NAVIGATES AIRSHIP

Captain Baldwin's Airship Angelus Launched at Portland--Rises 3,000 Feet when Motor Fails

PORTLAND, Aug. 4.—The Angelus, Captain Baldwin's airship, today for the first time since it has been in Portland, demonstrated that it can be controlled. An unfortunate accident to the motor, however, after the craft had been in the air about 15 minutes, prevented the airship returning unassisted to the aeronautic concourse.

The vessel was launched into the air at 6 o'clock and rose to a height of about 1,000 feet, where it circled around for five minutes. Navigator Beachey then rose to an elevation of 3,000 feet and started northward in the face of a stiff breeze. Suddenly the motor failed and he was forced to descend.

The steamer Selkirk sustained a slight amount of damage to her paddle wheel this morning and was forced to tie up at Orondo. The Chelan will take the Selkirk's cargo up the river and the Selkirk will be towed down the river by the steamer North Star.
