

PROMINENT DENVER MAN WITH TWO WIVES IS NOW IN TROUBLE

Dr. Henry Dalton, who has lived a Double Life for Seven Years. Disappears when his Two Wives Discover that he is a Bigamist.

DENVER, Sept. 13.—When Mrs. Henry Dalton, of Cambridge, Mass., arrived in Denver yesterday to visit her husband, Dr. Henry Dalton, who has been here for four years, because of ill health, she discovered he had married another woman. Shocked almost beyond belief, she denounced the couple when she entered the office of her husband unannounced, and found them together. Dr. Dalton disappeared and the police are searching for him. His first wife vows that she will prosecute him for bigamy.

Dr. Dalton is a member of the Denver club, a noted surgeon, writer, graduate of Harvard and Heidelberg universities, and the son of a rich and cultured family. He has contributed notable articles to the London Lancet and other medical journals. The romance of his marriage with his first wife is known here. The existence of another wife was unsuspected. The woman for whom Dr. Dalton risked everything was Mrs. Bruce McClellan, wife of James Bruce McClellan, who committed suicide when she eloped with Dalton seven years ago. Dalton was then a student at Heidelberg university.

Mrs. Dalton second, is daughter of a Persian Satrap, a resident of Teheran. Her father, who was in authority over six provinces in Persia, was implicated in a revolution, and was banished for ten years. He took his daughter to London where she was educated. The wedding to McClellan followed. She travelled in Europe, and went to Paris, where her beauty as a singer and dancer, and her beauty captivated the Parisians. While living there she eloped with Dalton. The Cambridge wife, he married before he went to Europe to study. She is wealthy and mother of three children.

TELEPHONES WITHOUT GIRLS INSTALLED IN PENNSYLVANIA TOWN

Girlless System to be Introduced in Ten of the Largest Cities in State Depriving Several Hundred Girls of Employment.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 13.—The Consolidated Telephone company has decided to spend $200,000 in installing girlless telephone plants here and at Hazleton, depriving more than 100 girls of jobs. They will be out soon as the new plant is to be ready by Dec 1. Sixty girls here are so cross about it that many have left instantly and the service is greatly impaired.

The directors say they are sorry for the girls but they calculate the girlless exchange will save $20,000 a year. If the trial of the plant is successful, as it is believed that it will be, the girlless system will be installed in the entire consolidated territory, which includes Scranton, Wilkesbarre, and ten other of the largest cities in Pennsylvania east of the Susquehanna river. More than 400 girls are employed in these exchanges.
