ROOM MAKING SALE

Has been such a grand success that we will continue this sale one week longer--to Nov. 25th. Two carloads of Xmas goods en route and in storage, consisting of imported China Haviland ware, Statuary, bric-a-brac, Toys and Novelty Goods. Impossible to display them until we have more room. Carpenters and plasterers are now at work on our new room, 24x70, second floor, for the display of the above-mentioned goods. This will not give us half the room for the display needed, and in order to make room on the main floor we are going to slaughter goods at prices never heard of before--regardless of cost, regardless of value. Don't miss the chance, as you may never again have the opportunity to secure up-to-date and new merchandise at prices in many cases less than the raw material. This sale will only last six days--

CLOSES SATURDAY

Nov. 25th, at 10 o'clock p. m.

Six-Day Slaughter Sale IN OUR MEN'S Clothing Department

We have overbought in this line, our stock is too large for this season of the year, our sales in this department have been phenomenal which leaves us with broken lots and odds and ends. All this fall's styles and patterns. We have looked over this stock most carefully and find we have 146 mens' suits, two, three, and in some lots five and six suits, sizes ranging from 34 to 46 in regular sizes, suits for the fat and short, and suits for the slim and thin. We are going to place these broken lots of suits on sale for six days only at prices less than cost at wholesale prices.

MISTAKEN FOR DEER AND SHOT

BUCKLEY, WASH., Nov. 17.--A. O. Curtis, a saloon keeper of this place, was mistaken for a deer and shot and killed near Kangley by Mat Divine. Both were members of a hunting party of four which started out from Buckley. The body of Curtis was brought back today.

LONDON, Nov. 17.--"There are two great regrets in my life, one that I have not yet lifted the America's cup, and the other that I have not been married," is Sir Thomas Lipton's reply to the statement published in the United States years ago that he was secretly wedded to a Scotch girl. Sir Thomas received cable inquiries from New York on the subject.
