FRIDAY DECEMBER 8, 1905

If Senator Barton were just bright enough to tender his resignation Kansas would probably get up three hours earlier than usual in the morning to accept it.

Dougherty must be right at home sorting green stock. It must be very similar to teaching young ideas to shoot, at which he was an adept.

Let us bear up patiently under the session of congress. It will adjourn in a few minutes for the holidays.

Fitzsimmons doesn't want to fight so much as he wants to take another swift punch at the gate receipts.

Hereafter let us hope that the insurance presidents will not be so low as to stoop to high finance.

Santa Claus would make a hit by sending the sleds and skates on ahead.

A nice Christmas present for the czar would be a volume on the quiet life.

What'll you bet that the czar doesn't wish he had some nice, quiet job at $7 a week as bill clerk in a shoe factory?

McCurdy has sold his fine country residence. He may not want to have any of his property lying around loose where a constable can lay rude hands on it.

Mr. Rockefeller will not be satisfied until he has succeeded in fitting a Sunday school tune to the words of the new song, "Everybody Works but Father."

Last month both customs and internal revenue made a considerable increase. Standing pat on the Dingley tariff is exceedingly easy and comfortable.

Before abandoning the contest for the mayor's office in New York Mr. Hearst will make sure that he has extracted every possible inch of advertising from it.

Under government regulation it is to be hoped that the railroad companies can be required to furnish sufficient cars to transport what the people raise.

WOMAN DIES TO SHOW HER NERVE

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Dec. 7.—Miss Louise Westwood a young society woman, was dining with a friend last night, when the conversation turned upon death. She spoke of those who feared death as foolish people. Then she left her friends for a few minutes and had no sooner reseated herself at the table than she fell to the floor dead. A doctor was called, who, after an examination, declared she had taken poison.

SEATTLE, Dec. 6.—Eli Smith, one of the best known mushers in Alaska, who has been carrying the mail from Candler to Point Barrow over the famous death valley trial, will go from Seattle to New York by dog team. It is proposed to leave Seattle shortly after January land to travel over the country with the dog team wherever there is sufficient snow to make sledding possible. It is planned to reach New York for the opening of the annual sportsman's show, the latter part of March, and Musher Smith and his dog team will make a feature of the show.

ADVICE FOR THE MEN

Some Thoughts Held out to the Married Men in the Hope that they may Prove an Inspiration and a Help

Lie to your wife if you want to but don't lie to other people before her. Its all right to look dignified but don't imagine your dignified when your only stiff and uncomfortable.

Perhaps she isn't as good looking as when you married her but take a look in the glass yourself. Don't say mean things about your wife's relations.

When you go down town in the evening don't make the excuse that you are going to work on the books. Even books will wear out.

There are worse things than cold feet. Anyway there were several times when you were accused of getting cold feet.

Take a bath. Don't use perfume. It's bad enough for the women to do that.

When the baby cries for an hour or so in the night you don't necessarily have to tell your wife that you would like to wring its neck even if you do mean it.

Wipe the gravy off your mustache. Don't feel offended when they say the baby looks like you. It is meant as a compliment.

Don't try to say witty things. Nor funny things.

Don't turn the house upside down if supper isn't ready when you get home. Take a look at the clothes line. Cut out flirting with your stenographer. It isn't treating her right and then besides your wife might find it out.

Don't be angry when your wife catches you in a lie. You snore too.

And a tobacco breath is something fierce.

Quit bragging about what a good cook your mother was. The chances are that your wife is a much better cook.

Don't explain too much. Drop the excuses. It's no use.

Get used to the idea that she knows almost as much as you do.

TO SETTLE CASE AGAINST SO CALLED BEEF TRUST

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—Fifty veniemen were summoned to the United States court yesterday, and from them will be chosen the twelve men who are to sit as jurors in the case of the government against the scalded beef trust. The trial is set for December 12, when the veniemen will answer the summons.

The jury will first take up the trial of issues of fact raised by the ten special pleas in bar of the defendants, and if its verdict on these questions is in favor of the government the main issue in the case—the charge of conspiracy in restraint of trade—will then be taken.

The special pleas of the defendant's allege that Commissioner of Corporations Garfield when making his investigation into the beef industry promised the packers immunity from subsequent criminal prosecution. The government denies this, raising issues of fact which must be settled by testimony from both sides.

Commissioner Garfield will be in Chicago Dec. 12, prepared to testify in the case, and it is possible that Attorney General Moody will also appear. All of the packers who are now under indictment, and some who are not, will give evidence for the defense.

BUFFALO STEAKS AT FOUR DOLLARS A PIECE

Seven Members of Almost Extinct Tribe at Chicago Stock Yards and will be Disposed of as Common Cattle--Shipped from Dakota.

CHICAGO, Dec. 8.—In a little pen at the Union stock yards surrounded by thousands of bellowing cattle, there are seven buffaloes, almost the last of their race, awaiting the butcher's knife. The buffaloes arrived yesterday, and are on the market like common beef, to be sold to the highest bidder.

The former kings of the prairies arrived yesterday morning, and all day the bidding was lively between the packers who desire to give buffalo steaks for Christmas dinners. The bids, however, were not considered high enough by the commission merchants to whom they were consigned, and they were not sold.

Four hundred dollars a piece is the price the buffaloes are expected to bring, which would make the price of a real good buffalo steak nearly $4. Some indignation was expressed at the yards yesterday that the buffalo should be sold as common cattle. The animals are the property of "Scotty" Phillips, of Pierre, S. D., who is said to own the only herd of buffaloes in the state of South Dakota.

Cy De Vry, head animal keeper at Lincoln Park, when told of the arrival of the buffaloes, expressed much indignation.

"It is an outrage," he said, "when the government has spent so much money trying to keep them in existence, to ship them to Chicago and put them on the market. There are only about one thousand buffaloes in the world."

De Vry declared his intention of visiting the stock yards this morning to find out what it meant to sell buffaloes like beeves on the open market.

He said that under no circumstances was it likely that the Lincoln park zoo would add them to its collection.

ROTTEN EGGS FOR THE DIVINE SARAH

QUEBEC, Dec. 7.—Rotten eggs were thrown at Madame Sarah Bernhardt after the performance at the Auditorium last night because she displeased a number of people in this city on account of an alleged interview she gave yesterday to a number of newspapers. This interview appeared in L'Evenement and was uncomplimentary to Canadians.

When the performance was over about 200 men and boys hung around the doors, and as Mr. Max, one of the performers, made his appearance he was struck by an egg. As Madame Bernhardt got into a sleigh she was applauded. However, a number of persons had proceeded to the station, and as the tragedienne was driving down the street eggs were thrown at her, which she fortunately escaped, but some of her company in other sleighs received several of them.

It is safer to do business with a self confessed sinner than with a self admitted saint.

It sometimes happens that when a man is fully occupied he is not too full to sit up and take notice.
