OLDEST WHITE MAN'S BIRTHDAY
 Mount Sunape, N. H., Sept. 7.—J. Bellows McGregor, the oldest Mason, and believed to be the oldest white man in the country, today celebrated his 107th birthday. He can read ordinary print without reading glasses, and is hale and hearty.

OPERATOR BLAMED FOR WRECK
 Missoula, Mont., Sept. 5.—Reports received here say that the following were killed in the collision of a passenger and a freight train on the Northern Pacific early today, 75 miles west of here:

Engineers Munson and Valentine. Firemen Robinson and Herrick; all of Missoula.

Brakeman Dixon and a tramp were reported seriously injured. The officials say the wreck was caused by the failure of Operator Mitchell at Parma to deliver an order to the conductor of the passenger train.

Mitchell claims that the passenger train had passed his station when the order was received.

Photo Postals.

You want it. Your fine tree, your fine fruit, your home on postals for your friends. I'm ready to make them for you. Miss Turnbull, Photographer. Phone 1775, Cal. Jones' ranch. 9-21

The Kind Gardener.
 "Willie's digging out the lettuce! Beatie's pulling up the peas!"
 "Precious darlings! Let 'em go!—Anything, you know, to please."
 "Johnny's crushing the tomatoes! Floasie's spilling all you've done!"
 "Well, no matter; let 'em go if they're having any fun."
 —Chicago Record-Herald.

Easier to Support.

Jane's Mother—Jane can't make up her mind which to marry, Mr. Byng or Mr. Bang.

Fane's Father—Tell her to pick Bang. He seems to have the smaller appetite.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Horsepower.

"How many horsepower is your machine?"

"It's too heavy for one horse, so I generally use two."—Judge.

The Foolish Mathematician.

Absurd is the man who determinedly strives
 To the point where he hasn't a breath,
 To square with the statement "A cat has nine lives."
 The fact it has only one death.
 —New York Tribune.

A Discouraged Father.

Pa—Sometimes I get discouraged about Willie.

Ma—What's the matter now?

Pa—Here he is eleven years old and he can't throw an outcurve yet.—Newark News.

Wormy.

"Sir, I'd have you know that I possess a family tree."

"Then I'll bet it needs spraying."—Bohemian Magazine.

The Monotonous Explanation.

Oh, for some summer when they will assert—
 The change would sure be sweet—
 'Tis not humidity that makes us hurt,
 But just the plain old heat!
 —Washington Star.

A Scientific Kiss.

Briggs—Is there such a thing as a scientific kiss?

Griggs—Surely! One in which you succeed in breaking away from the girl without becoming engaged to her.—New York Life.

Sensible Heiress.

"I'll not wed the count," she said.
 "His bride I'll never be.
 His castles fair are in the air,
 I'd suffer from insomnia there,
 So it's America for me."
 —Chicago News.

Only For Fun.

"Of course you play bridge whist only for fun?"

"Of course," answered Mrs. Spangleton. "But it isn't any fun unless you are playing for money."—Washington Star.

The Lazy Milkmaid.

"I wish you'd turn to milk," she said,
 "And save me all this clutter."
 And Moolie winked the other eye
 And turned instead to butt her.
 —New York Press.

All in Harmony.

"I want something fast in the color of this automobile gown."

"It seems to me that you ought to get something that would run."—Baltimore American.

Entitled to a Show.

Man wants but little here below,
 And he gets a whole lot less.
 In fact, if he but gets a show
 He has cause for thankfulness.
 —Chicago News.

Quite the Contrary.

"I hear your store was burned down last night."

"Nonsense! It was burned up; fire started in the basement."—Philadelphia Press.

The Disease Universal.

Love, love, love.
 Love is like a dizziness—
 It winna let a poor body
 Gang about his business.
 —Philippines Gossip.

Exactly So.

"Pa," said little Willie, who has been reading a cigar store advertisement, "what's 'imported and domestic?'"

"A servant girl," replied pa promptly.—Philadelphia Press.

Some Satisfaction.

It costs a lot to live these days.
 More than it did of yore.
 But, when you stop to think of it,
 It's worth a whole lot more.
 —Judge.

Appropriate.

Little Willie—Say, pa, what is a pneumatic tire?

Pa—It's a name that is sometimes applied to a bore, my son.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

When She Got Them.

Next fall the summer girl will sing
 Of the seaside and its charm,
 Although her tan and freckles are Products of her uncle's farm.
 —Pittsburg Post.

Not His Ambition.

"I see they are experimenting with a machine for laying the dust."
 "Humph! I would rather experiment with one for raising it."—Baltimore American.

As Artists Know.

That "art is long" (that time worn guff)
 Some folks will still repeat.
 It's often scarcely long enough
 For mousing both ends meet.
 —Catholic Standard and Times.

A Cold Deal.

Bearitt—By the way, don't you own some stock in the ice trust?
 Lambleigh—I did own some, but they froze me out.—Chicago News.

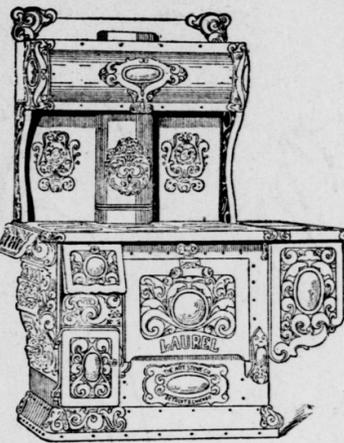

Keeps Love Waiting.

Love, they say, will find the way.
 But oftentimes it must wait
 Till the man behind the game can find
 The coin to pay the freight.
 —Detroit Tribune.
