COST OF APPLE SHOW $85,000

tor reported a deficit of $3,500, which was promptly met by 100 men subscribing $35 each. E. F. Cartier Van Dissel, first vice president and chairman of the directorate, announces that the time and place of the next exposition, which is to be international in scope, will be decided upon the latter part of January, when the association, headed by Lotus W. Hill of St. Paul, president of the Great Northern Railway Company, will be reorganized to begin the preliminary work for this year's show. Several cities in the middle west, including Chicago and Omaha, are candidates for the show, and if it goes from Spokane this year one of these is likely to capture it, in which event the Spokane association will have full charge.

LITTLEFIELDS AT POMONA.
Editor Daily World: "Please send me the Daily World to my address here until further notice. I will settle when I get back if I should have money enough. There were getting to be so many Wenatchee people at Long Geach that we were afraid they would contaminate the air to such an extent that we would not notice the difference there from Wenatchee, so we moved to Pomona, among the orange trees. This is a pretty place. We like it here very much. My wife and I are feeling as fine as can be. It is nice and warm here; in fact, some days are too warm for comfort in walking about the city on the sunny side of the street. Say, but you are getting out a good paper now."
"H. C. LITTLEFIELD."
