THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

President Taft in his message to congress did not disappoint those who are in sympathy with the Rooseveltian policies. He believes in systematizing the public business and in coordinating the work of the various departments of government. He believes in economy in expenditure and in the use of common sense in making appropriations. He believes that the question of public health is a fit subject for the government to consider and he evinces an interest in the social welfare by recommending that proper measures be taken to stamp out the "white slave" traffic.

Perhaps the most significant thing in respect to the message is what the president suggested but which he did not discuss. He felt that the question of amendments to the Sherman anti-trust and the interstate commerce acts were of such importance as to call for a special message and likewise the question of the conservation of the nation's resources was left to future recommendations. But the president intimated that when his recommendation does come it will deal with scientific classification of timber and mineral lands and of water power sites. In fact the president indicated in his message throughout that he is disposed to utilize the results of scientific inquiry to the fullest extent. The message is very satisfactory.

THIS IS MY 78TH BIRTHDAY

Rev. P. S. Henson.
Rev. Poindexter Smith Henson, the eminent Baptist divine who recently resigned from the pulpit of Tremont temple in Boston, was born in Fluvanna county, Virginia, December 7, 1831, the son of a village pastor. After his graduation from Richmond college in 1847, he taught school for a time, then tried the bar, and finally gave that up, to enter his life work in the ministry. His first pastoral service was in his native county. After two years' work there he went to the Broad Street Baptist church in Philadelphia. Seven years later he founded the Memorial Baptist church of Philadelphia, where he worked until 1882, when he went to the First Baptist church of Chicago. In 1901 Dr. Henson accepted a call to the Hanson Place Baptist church in Brooklyn, where he remained until called to Tremont Temple in 1903.

SYSTEMATIZE WORK OF CHURCH

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 7.—The executive committee of the Federal Council of the Church of Christ in America, representing fully 18,000,000 Protestant church members in all parts of the country, opened its first meeting here today. The Federation, which was founded more than a year ago, with the object of avoiding the surplus of churches of small villages and of so systematizing the work of the churches that all parts of the country be covered without overlapping and in the most economical manner, has done some good work during the past year and reports of a highly favorable nature had been prepared for presentation to the executive committee. The chairman of the executive committee, the Rev. Dr. William H. Roberts, the eminent Presbyterian minister of Philadelphia, expressed himself well pleased with the work accomplished during the year. A state federation has been formed in Nebraska, and city federations in Kansas City, St. Joseph and Omaha. Federations have also been formed in many smaller cities and towns. Older federations, especially those in New England, have been greatly strengthened.

Money has been pledged to support a district secretary for what the council calls the department of the interior, with headquarters in Chicago. In Philadelphia a local federation has been formed. Similarly every part of the country is to be organized and efforts are to be made to carry on temperance, educational, missionary and other common work of all Protestant bodies, under this coordinated plan. The session of the executive committee will last three days and it is expected that a great deal of work will be accomplished.

Will Rush Peonage Cases.

Mobile, Ala., Dec. 7.—The federal authorities have prepared for a rigorous prosecution of the peonage cases which are to be brought up for trial before the United States district court which convened here today. Among those to be tried are several prominent residents of Mobile and Monroe counties, who were indicted by the United States grand jury several months ago. The attorney general has reviewed the cases and has instructed District Attorney Armbrrecht to prosecute the cases to the end.

Mrs. William Schlenz, of Waterville, visited at the home of Mrs. Frank Baker yesterday. Mrs. Schlenz is on her way to Spokane, where she will spend the holidays.

DON'T let anything keep you away for truly this sale means more to the consuming public than any former effort at sale making. It opens promptly at 9 a. m., Thursday, Dec. 9, at Schade & Parshall's.

WOULD PROTECT FORESTS

Spokane, Wash., Dec. 7.—Active support and cooperation by the people, legislators and lumbermen of Idaho, Oregon, Montana, California and Washington in practical methods of securing better management and protection of standing forests and the reforestation of cut-over lands is the object of a campaign outlined at the semi-annual meeting of the Western Forestry and Conservation association in the offices of A. L. Flewelling, president, in Spokane. George M. Cornwall, of Portland, was secretary. Arrangements were made to finance and conduct the movement so as to obtain actual results to serve as object lessons. E. T. Allen, of Portland, formerly district forester in charge of all government forest work in Oregon, Washington and Alaska, has been engaged as forester. The meetings will take place in Spokane.

Mr. Allen has resigned from the government forest service to give his entire time to the new management, although in recognition of its useful public character the government allows him to retain the official title of collaborator. Among the chief objects sought by the organization, formed under the name of the Pacific Northwest Forest Protection and Conservation association, in Spokane last January, are the formation and perfection of fire fighting associations throughout the western states, in which state, government and timber owners shall join in hiring patrol and labor; the selection of representative areas for conservative logging and reforestation experiments, and the collection and dissemination of trustworthy information upon forestry and forest legislation. In reality, to make it a clearing house for all forest fire and conservation associations of the five states, also to cooperate closely with the United States forest service.

Other objects set forth by the speakers at the meeting are as follows: "The successful preservation of the forest from fire, the framing of laws for cutting timber and disposing of refuse in a reasonable, practical way, the reforestation of such cut over lands as are not desirable for farm lands, and to provide for special taxation therefor; the preservation of mountain streams for irrigation and all of the other things contemplated by the word 'conservation,' and also to raise the money to carry out the necessary experiments so as to reduce the theory to a sound business basis, for without all these elements the association cannot hope to succeed."

Particular stress will be laid upon the necessity of more adequate protection of forest resources from fire. The forest fire associations of Washington and Idaho spent more than $100,000 during the season of 1909 and it is expected to bring the timber-owners of other states into line. The association also expects more public and legislative cooperation when it is more generally realized that on every thousand feet of timber burned the stumpage owner loses only a dollar or two, while the community loses fully $8 which would have been paid in wages for its manufacture, while of the millions of dollars brought into the five states yearly by the lumber industry, fully 80 per cent is circulated in the arteries of labor, commerce and agriculture. This argument is advanced in the interest of the protection of standing timber from useless destruction, also for the perpetuation of such a tremendous source of wealth by encouraging a second crop.

The executive officers of the association are: President, A. L. Flewelling, Spokane; secretary, Frank H. Lamb, Hoquiam, Wash.; treasurer, T. J. Humbird, Sandpoint, Idaho; vice presidents, D. F. Simons, Jr., Seattle, for Washington; George Kelly, Eugene, for Oregon; F. J. Davies, Coeur d'Alene, for Idaho; C. W. Millet, Kalspell, for Montana, and T. B. Cox, Madera, for California; trustees, John R. Queal, California; John R. Toole, Montana; T. J. Humbird, Idaho; F. C. Knapp, Oregon, and George S. Long, Washington.

Michigan Fruit Growers.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Dec. 7.—The 39th annual gathering of the Michigan State Horticultural society met here today for a three days' session. The attendance is large and representative, and an unusual amount of interest is manifested in the proceedings. In connection with the meeting there is a fine display of fruits and vegetables, there being over 500 plates of the finest products of the orchard and garden. The annual reports of the officers show the society to be in a growing and prosperous condition.

LIQUOR ISSUE IN ELECTIONS

Boston, Nov. 7.—Keen interest has been aroused in the city elections in Massachusetts today by the active campaign of the prohibition forces of the state to make as many cities "dry" as possible. Fourteen of the leading cities of the state vote on the liquor question today, and a week hence nearly all of the remaining cities of the state will vote on the question.

In anticipation of the city elections a spirited contest has been waged all over Massachusetts between the forces of prohibition and those who believe in the regulated saloon. The struggle between the opposing forces is, on the one hand, to increase the number of "dry places," on the other, to reduce it. This, however, is, in a measure, only incidental to the main purpose, so far as the temperance workers are concerned, for they desire, in addition to drawing the prohibition line closer about the saloons, to swell the total vote of the state in favor of prohibition. This is in their favor already by a majority of nearly 20,000, and a large no-license vote at the present elections will add to this considerably. This is desired by the prohibitionists for the moral effect it may have on the state legislature when the constitutional amendment, providing for the re-submission of the question of prohibition to the voters, gets on the legislative calendar next winter.

Not all the work has been done by the prohibitionists, however, since the advocates of license in many of the no-license cities have been making unusual efforts to swing the pendulum the other way in the present elections. This is particularly true in New Bedford, Fall River, Worcester and Lynn, and to a degree in all the other cities which went dry a year ago. In Worcester the fight has been waged for months, while in Fall River and New Bedford it began almost as soon as the votes were counted last December. Both of the latter swung into the no-license column at that time, while Worcester is now completing its second year of prohibition, as is also Lynn.

Election in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Dec. 7.—An election of municipal officers is in progress in this city today, the first in which the candidates were nominated by the non-partisan direct primary system. Mayor George Alexander is a candidate for re-election on a "Good Government" platform. He is opposed by George Smith, the candidate of the so-called "machine." In addition to a mayor, there is to be elected a city treasurer, auditor, assessor and members of the city council and board of education.

TO MR. STRANGER

Have you heard of the new way to fortune
Without risk or worry or toil?
Buy an orchard in sunny Wenatchee
And leave it to nature and soil.

You can't miss getting rich at Wenatchee
Where the dollars grow on trees.
It's done by the big red apple;
Money comes while you sit at your ease.

Each year each acre of apples
Brings a thousand dollars, they say.
I would treat such a statement as Fable.

Accept a straight tip, Mr. Stranger,
If the way to get rich you would learn;
Leave business and worry behind you
And go there. You'll never return.

Injured Fireman is Improving.
Frank Triplett, the fireman who was injured at Leavenworth last Friday, and as a result of being caught in a couple between a freight car and the switch engine lost his right hand, is rapidly improving at the Sacred Heart hospital, Spokane. He will probably be removed to his home at Hillyard this week.

Triplett was first reported to have been a brakeman, and it was said that he had fallen from the train, under the wheels. He is regularly employed as a hostler in the Leavenworth roundhouse.

COMMERCIAL CONGRESS OF SOUTH

Washington, Dec. 7.—The opening of the second day's session of the Southern Commercial congress was marked by an increased attendance at the meeting this morning, at which Mr. Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton association, acted as chairman. At the morning session Hon. Willet M. Hays, assistant secretary of the department of agriculture, and Hon. G. W. Moirer, commissioner of agriculture for Virginia, delivered valuable addresses upon the subject, "Neglected Agricultural Opportunities in the South." Assistant Forester R. S. Kellogg on "Perpetuating the Timber Wealth of the South," and Mr. Hugh McRae of Wilmington, N. C., on "Colonization Opportunity in the Southern States."

At the afternoon session F. W. Faxon, president of the Memphis Business Men's club, acted as chairman. Mr. John Mathews, secretary of the Mississippi Valley Transportation company, St. Louis, discussed "The Commercial Possibilities of Shallow Streams." Mr. George E. Tow, of Washington, D. C., "Opportunities for Invention in the South," and Dr. J. A. Holmes of the U. S. geological survey, "The Opportunity for Southern Statesmanship in Conservation."

Aid for Actor's Kin.

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 7.—A big benefit performance was given at the Chestnut Street theatre this afternoon in aid of Miss Florence and Miss Laura Reed, sisters of the late Roland Reed, the well known comedian. The two sisters, now elderly women, and destitute, were recently found living in a hovel in the slums of this city, often sleeping on park benches, and always in the shadow of starvation. During Mr. Reed's life he maintained for them a comfortable home, but after his death they soon lost, through lack of business training and their own generosity, the small estate he left.

Messrs. Nixon and Zimmerman, Francis Wilson and other well known members of the theatrical profession contributed their services to the benefit performance. Many others who were unable to take part sent liberal checks to aid in the relief of the destitute woman.
