Marconi Wireless to Extend.
London, Jan. 20.—Signor Marconi sailed today for America. He will proceed at once to Glace Bay to superintend the installation of transatlantic wireless apparatus there in place of that recently destroyed by fire. The station at Clifden on the Irish coast has been re-equipped, so that the transatlantic wireless service can be resumed as soon as the station at Glace Bay is ready. While in America Signor Marconi will also give attention to the plans of the Marconi company to establish numerous stations at points throughout Canada to which messages from Great Britain can be transmitted by wireless telegraph.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Vinegar's Various Uses.

A little vinegar added to the water in which fish is boiled will remove the strong oily taste.

When added to the water in which fowl is boiled vinegar tends to make the flesh more tender.

If beefsteak is tough rub it with vinegar, let it stand for a few hours, and you will regard your butcher more kindly.

A little vinegar added to butter and sugar is an excellent remedy for hoarseness.

When tired and nervous have some one rub the back of the neck and temples with vinegar and water mixed. It will prove most refreshing.

Vinegar burned in a sickroom or wherever there is a disagreeable stuffy odor will give the room a pleasant aromatic fragrance.

Cleaning Furs.

A method of cleaning furs which is as excellent as it is easy is to clean them with bran.

Fill a dishpan with bran and set it in the oven to warm. Rub the warm bran into the fur again and again until every spot has been gone over several times.

When the bran becomes soiled throw it away and replace it. When the furs are clean brush them well until every particle of bran has been removed. Hang out of doors for a day or two, and the fur will be soft, fluffy and full of life.

Custard Potatoes.

Mash potatoes without milk, simply putting in pepper, salt and butter. Now put through a potato sieve (or a colander will answer for the purpose), leave the flakes as they fall and pour over them an egg beaten with a gill of milk. Bake for about fifteen minutes. When put through the sieve let drop into an earthen dish that will stand the heat and can be sent to the table just as baked. If more than six potatoes are cooked more milk and egg will be needed.

Metal Folding Bed.

In view of the popularity of the metal bed it was only a question of time when there should be metal folding beds. It was an Indiana man who designed the example of the latter shown in the cut herewith. This bed consists of a base on which the framework stands upright when not in use for sleeping purposes. A curtain hangs from the raised foot and not only conceals the furniture, but provides a sort of screen behind which clothing may be hung on the wall if space is much needed. The whole is held in an upright position by clamps which engage the fulcrum rod and the standards. By loosening these clamps the bed is released and may be let down to the floor, a crossbar at the foot keeping it the proper height. The bed is pivoted to the base at the head, and the base acts as a support for this end. It will be readily noted that one of these metal folding beds has the advantage of being easy to keep clean, and there is no danger of a powerful spring closing it as you lie sleeping.

Ham Darioles.

Chop fine enough cold ham to fill a cup, one-quarter cupful of sifted bread-crumbs, the yolks of two hard boiled eggs passed through a sieve, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one-quarter teaspoonful each of salt and paprika, two beaten eggs and one-half cupful of milk. Bake in pattypans, mixture to be three-quarters of an inch thick in the pans. Cook on several folds of paper and surrounded with boiling water until firm in center. Unfold on rounds of toast and set a poached egg on top.

Oyster Cocktails.

Stir together a tablespoonful each of tomato catchup and lemon juice, one-half tablespoonful of grated horseradish, one-half tablespoonful of vinegar, a saltspoonful of salt, one-half spoonful of Worcestershire sauce and six drops of tabasco sauce. Set on the ice until very cold. Put six small oysters into glasses, which should be set in the middle of a plate or crushed ice, and pour into the glasses the chilled sauce.

Pear Honey.

Reserve the juice from cooked pears and boil it with cinnamon bark. Before placing it in the jar boil a fourth teaspoonful of cream of tartar in each half gallon of juice. It prevents the sirup from crystallizing. This is a rich sirup to serve with breakfast cakes.

Washing Windows.

When washing windows put a few drops of turpentine in the water and you will be able to dry them much quicker, and they will be clear and bright.

$3.50 Recipe Cures Weak Men—Free

Send Name and Address Today—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, falling memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that I think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope to any man who will write me for it.

This prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men and I am convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of deficient manhood and vigor failure ever put together.

I think I owe it to my fellow man to send them a copy in confidence so that any man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with repeated failures may stop dragging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what I believe is the quickest-acting restorative, up-building, SPOT-TOUCHING remedy ever devised, and so cure himself at home quietly and quickly. Just drop me a line like this: Dr. A. E. Robinson, 4795 Luck Building, Detroit, Mich., and I will send you a copy of this splendid recipe in a plain ordinary envelope free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3 to $5 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but I send it entirely free.
