Beauty by Park System.

Spokane, March 7.—James W. Duncan, formerly assistant superintendent of parks in Boston, has come to Spokane as superintendent of city parks and boulevards and will begin work soon on plans for beautifying the tracts set aside as recreation places.

The city contemplates the expenditure of $1,000,000, to be raised by a bond issue, for the purpose of developing park lands, the work being under the direction of a civic commission, headed by Aubrey Lee White, a railway operator and capitalist.

Mr. White gave out a statement today in which he says he believes that the city will receive more cash in return during the life of the bonds than it will pay out in 25 years, adding:

"The commission purposes to create with the million dollar fund a park and boulevard system, as suggested by the Olmsted Brothers of Boston. This means 20 playgrounds, or one within a half mile of each home and wherever possible in the neighborhood of a ward school; two parks each of from 20 to 60 acres in every ward, in which such games as baseball and tennis can be enjoyed, and where trees, flowers and other adorning features can be installed, and three large parks in widely different parts of the city, easily reached by street car, carriage or automobile, where boating, bathing, golf, tennis, polo and other games can be indulged in by all. The general average of taxes to be paid by those who vote upon the bond issue will be less than $2 a family a year."

"This is a magnificent country and Spokane appeals to me as a city with an unquestionably bright future," said Mr. Duncan. "It is not long hence when it will be among the foremost inland cities in the world. With its population, estimated today at 138,000 and growing at the rate of 16,000 a year, it must have beautiful parks. It is the heart of a district which will produce the finest parks in the north, largely because of the equable climate, and it is my ambition to give to Spokane a system that will be a credit to its progressive and optimistic people."

Discrimination Charged. Cincinnati, March 7.—Special Examiner Charles Gerry of the Interstate Commerce commission began a hearing here today in the case of the Jackson Iron and Steel company, the Star Furnace company and the Globe Iron company, all of Jackson, and the Wellston Steel and Iron company of Wellston, against the Norfolk & Western and other railroads.

The complaint is that the rate on coke from the Pocahontas district to Wellston and Jackson is excessive, operating in favor of Ironton and Columbus, to the undue disadvantage of the pig iron manufacturers of Jackson and Wellston.

The demand of the complainants is for the establishment of a reasonable maximum rate, with the determination on damages for the discrimination already inflicted.

T. Barton Miller on Trial. Washington, D. C., March 7.—The case of T. Barton Miller, former secretary of the defunct First Co-Operative Building association of Georgetown was called for trial in the second division of the criminal court today.

Miller is charged with destroying the books and records of the association and also with the embezzlement of the association's funds. The case is attracting considerable interest in Washington and the progress of the trial will be watched with more than usual attention.

The defendant has engaged eminent counsel and will, it is expected, make a strong fight.
