CAPTAIN WILHELM VOIGT.

Bohemia by Herr Burgermeister Lieutenant Dr. Langehans of Koppenick. He bought a secondhand captain's uniform and by virtue of its authority ordered out troops from the nearby fortress of Ploetzensee and put all the municipal officials of Koppenick under arrest. In speaking of the affair recently Voigt said:

"I took ten grenadiers, three gendarmes and ten policemen and saw that they had 150 rounds of ammunition. I led them to Koppenick and surrounded the Rathaus. Then I entered the burgermeister's office.

"You are under arrest," I said to the mayor. "You have given offense to a worthy citizen of the duchy of Luxemburg."

"He looked at my uniform, and the power of speech and of thought deserted him, as I knew that it would. I put him and his clerks and all the officials that were in the Rathaus in a wagon and ordered the men to take them to the fort. A captain had ordered it, and they were satisfied."

There were 2,500,000 marks in the treasury of Koppenick. Voigt took several thousand just to show how easy it was and, leaving a receipt for the sum, went by train to the fort to witness the arrival of the mayor and his staff.

He was sentenced to four years' imprisonment. The laughter which his jest caused throughout the world was participated in by Emperor Wilhelm, who caused his confinement to be made easy and pardoned him at the expiration of a year.

Why and Because.
 The players are seated in a ring, a lady and gentleman alternately. The lady asks the gentleman beside her what object he would choose to be if he had the choice. Suppose he replies, "A necktie," then the lady promptly asks him "Why?" He must answer without hesitation, "Because," then give a reason. It might be, "Because I could be worn around your neck."

Then the second lady asks the gentleman next to her the same question, but he must choose a different object. When all the ladies have questioned the gentlemen they in turn are questioned by the gentlemen. Any one hesitating or failing to answer must pay a forfeit.

Buttontook Ball.
 An old croquet ball which has served its usefulness in the game might still be of value to the handy little girl who likes to make pretty articles for her room. After scrubbing and drying the ball gild it with gold paint. Then screw into it small brass hooks, so that they will be in a line right around the large part of the ball. At the top fasten a bow of ribbon which has many loops that cover the top of the ball. One loop should be made longer than the rest, so that this buttontook or key rack may be suspended. In order to have this rack match the color used in the room select ribbon for it the same shade as that used on other fancy articles hanging near.

Birthdays in China.
 In China all the boys born during the year have their birthdays celebrated on the same day, no matter what date the real birthdays are. It is a great occasion, for the Chinese banners are hung out and processions take place. How would you like it if all children in this country had their birthdays in the same way and had one great big birthday party instead of many little ones?

A Ride on the Trolley.
 Said Dolly to Polly: "Now, this would be jolly!"
 Let's all go to ride on the trolley!"
 But Daisy was lazy and said they were crazy:
 "Twas too hot to go on the trolley."
 "It's chilly," said Milly. "I think you are silly."
 To want to ride on the trolley."
 Said Lizzie: "I'm dizzy. Besides, I get dizzy."
 When I go to ride on the trolley."
 Lily Cook took a look at her new birthday book
 And wouldn't leave that for a trolley.
 "There's many a penny," said sensible Jennie.
 "Paid out for our fares on the trolley."
 Said Polly to Dolly. "Though it would be jolly."
 To have a nice ride on the trolley,
 It's funny, my honey, but we have no money,
 And so we can't ride on the trolley."
