New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Dealings on the Stock Exchange today rounded out the fourth successive week of five full sessions each and one week-end of two-hour sessions in which transactions reached or exceeded 1,000,000 shares. This is a record without precedent since the years which marked the many huge industrial combinations and mergers, including that of the United States Steel Corporation. Yesterday's turnover of 1,750,000 shares was not only the largest with one exception for the current movement, but was even more noteworthy for the enormous proportion of industrial shares dealt in, the group as a whole completely eclipsing the rails, copper and other issues in which speculation recently was most active.

Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 30.—Apart from the interests which have featured the local markets during the entire week, the movement in American Window Glass Machine common attracted considerable attention. The issue showed a strong tendency for another forward march and sold quite freely above 62.

While the volume of sales in Columbia Gas and Electric was not so enormous as it has been lately, the stock nevertheless made another handsome advance as well as scoring another new high record at 32.

Oil and Gas.

The new pool on Dent's Run, Manington district, Marion county, W. Va., is now the leading attraction in the Eastern fields. The Delmar Oil company's No. 24 on the John L. Hays farm for the 24 hours ending at 7 P. M. yesterday produced 840 barrels. Hickman & Hickman's No. 3 on the Alfred Kendall farm produced 757 barrels during the same period. W. F. Bartlett's No. 1 on the Z. E. Batson farm has increased its production to 400 barrels a day. The South Penn Oil company's No. 2 on the Hoard-Batson farm produced 190 barrels the first 19 hours after it was drilled into the pay. It is expected to increase its production when drilled deeper. At present the pool has a production of 2,280 barrels a day.

On Morgan Run in Smithfield district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil company drilled No. 67 on the Blackshear-Wells farm into the Big

Grain and Produce.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—After wheat in some cases had touched the highest prices yet this season, heavy profit-taking by holders led to a decided setback. The chief bullish influence continued to be the lack of rain in Argentina. The closing prices here, however, were weak, 3/4 to 1c net lower, with December at $1.54 and May at $1.53. Corn finished 3/4 to 1/2c up, oats at 1/4c decline to 1/4c advance, and provisions unchanged to 25c down.

NEW YORK LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent)
THE defeat of President Wilson's candidate for the Senate and the renomination of Senator James Martine in the New Jersey primaries is the severest blow the popular Democratic fallacy that "President Wilson is stronger than his party" has thus far received. Senator Martine's election as Senator six years ago brought about by Mr. Wilson, then Governor, at which time Mr. Wilson betrayed his own political sponsor, James Smith. Having made Martine Senator, Mr. Wilson thought he owned him and when, on one or two occasions, Martine showed some independence and refused to vote as the White House directed, Mr. Wilson became very indignant and decreed that Martine should not return to the Senate. Accordingly, he fathered the candidacy of John W. Westcott, Attorney General of New Jersey, and caused all the influence of the White House and the Democratic state machine to be exerted in Westcott's behalf. The result speaks for itself. Westcott was defeated and Martine renominated by 16,000 plurality. Democratic politicians in Jersey declare that the rank and file were not especially strong for Martine but that they bitterly resented President Wilson's autocratic attitude toward their Senator and his interference in the affairs of the State and that Martine's nomination is, therefore, for more of a rebuke for Wilson than a victory for Martine. The victory of Joseph S. Frellinghuysen over former Governor Franklin Murphy in the Republican senatorial primaries is a source of especial gratification to the progressive element of the Republican party. Mr. Frellinghuysen's election is regarded as assured.

Mass. Spurns Wilson:
Not alone in New Jersey has President Wilson sustained a humiliating defeat. In Massachusetts President Wilson has not only been repudiated by his own party, he has been slapped in the face. General Charles H. Cole, former adjutant general of the state, sought the nomination for Governor in Massachusetts and enjoyed the active support of the Wilson administration as well as of the state organization. Every federal officer holder in the state had his coat of working for Cole. On the other hand, a man named Mansfield, less able and less well known, sought the Democratic nomination. The character of the administration's opposition to Mansfield was such that it aroused the indignation of the Bay State Democrats and 45,530 Democrats voted for him, which gave him the nomination.

Perkins on Business:
Governor W. Perkins, than whom no one is more competent to speak of business conditions, has written an open letter to Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary of the President, asking that Mr. Wilson point to a single specific instance wherein the Wilson administration has helped the business of the country. Mr. Perkins points to the "Seven Sisters" legislation which Mr. Wilson caused to be enacted by the New Jersey Legislature and widely advertised as solving the entire trust problem and asserts that there has never been any attempt to enforce them and that they have accomplished nothing. He points out that the Federal Trade Commission has no power to modify the Sherman Law and that he has yet to learn of an instance where that commission has been of service to business. He declares that by withdrawing from the Chinese loan arrangement, President Wilson shut the United States out of its natural opportunity to extend its trade in the Orient, and that by its attitude toward those Americans who in the past have gone into Mexico, invested their money and risked their lives, the Wilson administration has done everything possible to discourage future enterprise of that character. The Perkins letter constitutes a complete exposure of the hollowness of Mr. Wilson's claims that his administration has helped business.

Farmers Must Pay:
Hon. James Wilson, who enjoys the record of having been Secretary of Agriculture longer than any other man in the history of the nation, has issued a statement in which he insists that "the farmer must pay the freight." Mr. Wilson points out that the farmer is the largest shipper in the country and that obviously the increased cost of operating railroads resulting from the Wilson-Adamson wage increase law, must simply place an additional burden on the farmer. He says that the farmers are just and even liberal and that if, on thorough investigation, it had been found that certain railway men were receiving insufficient pay to enable them to live decently and to support and educate their families, the farmer would not have objected to paying his share of the increased cost of shipping, but that the farmer regards it as entirely unreasonable to ask him to stand for increased freight rates, brought about by a material increase of pay to the men who are already the best paid among railway employes, an increase in which so many even harder working employes of the railroads have no share.

Many Would-Be Hosts:
The determination of the administration to transfer the Mexican conference from New London to Atlantic City, where there are so many delightful diversions and where time may be filled with a maximum of enjoyment, has led to keen competition from other cities which would like the distinction of entertaining this unique and innocuous conference and even more to be the recipient of the funds which the United States is expending so lavishly for the entertainment of the Carranza delegates and Southern resorts will become aspirants for a share of this prosperity, and lively competition between the Georgia, Florida, Alabama and Louisiana resorts is expected. Southern Senators are expected to take part in the competition and to exert the same powerful influence which has long endeavored to effect the maintenance of absolute Southern navy yards and the expenditure of vast sums to refurbish those which the best military and naval judgment has decreed should be abandoned. The only menace to this program is the somewhat hasty and choleric temper of Carranza.

Japanese Troubles Ahead:
That difficult and delicate negotiations with Japan, made all the more so by the blundering of the Wilson administration, are in store for the United States is disclosed by the statement of the Japanese Ambassador. Protracted negotiations between Ambassador Chinda and Secretary Bryan regarding the California land problem

Chronic Catarrh is Curable

Nothing is more distressing to the sufferer and his friends. Chronic catarrh is systemic—thatis, it is present throughout the body, though it may manifest itself in a local irritation.
Only a constitutional treatment will overcome systemic catarrh. Local treatments sometimes help the acute manifestations, but they cannot overcome the systemic disorder.
PERUNA Has Helped Thousands
It is a foon to catarrh. The voluntary testimony of thousands establishes that. Peruna benefits in a number of ways. Peruna builds up the digestion, restores the strength, and helps put the system in condition.
Peruna has special value in catarrh: It gives vitality to the system, restores tone to the membranes and enables these to perform their functions. In many cases its benefits begin at once, and it rarely fails when treatment is continued properly. The Peruna Medical Department will be glad to assist you to overcome this disease. The doctor's advice is free. Don't delay treatment.

FANS, MEET THE NEW KINGS OF SWAT!

Here they are—the new kings of swat—all dolled up in their royal regiments.
His Majesty, Tristram the Great of Cleveland, is monarch of all the surveys among the American League plouters with a mark of .387, having supplanted King Tyrus the Mighty who reigned supreme nine years.
His Nibs King Hal of Cincinnati rules the National League with a paltry of .354. He hasn't a worry on his many brow and for the first time in three years is playing the brand of baseball that made him a wonder in his earlier days. During eight years playing on the Cleveland grounds prior to becoming an Injun, hung up a grand average of .384. He battled terrifically during the season at home and was especially effective against the Red Sox—his former shipmates.

"Spoke" has clubbed .403 against the Red Hosed curvists for the season. Chase batted in great form all year, but he is making a wonderful drive and seems destined to finish with a firm grip on the place assigned to the Swat Monarch.
