Will You Lift It?

Many valuable awards are hanging in the balance of the West Virginian's Great Golden Festival—hanging in the balance waiting for owners. Your own energy is the weight which will balance the scale in your favor. Your ambition will lift the $1,000.00 over to you—lift it without the expenditure of a cent. Will you put that weight into the balance?

Does your energy balance your ambition?
Have you moral courage enough to turn your ambition into action? Do you even care enough about success to make the effort? If your ambition is but a dream—sleep on—but if you care —if you are of the more ambitious sort, then the Golden Festival of the West Virginian is your cue. Enter and win.
