

Will You Sit Idly By This Week and See Your Chances of Winning Glimmer?

This is the week someone must draw ahead in the race for golden prizes. The race is so even that the winners cannot even be guessed at.

Are you going to set idly by this week and see your competitors skin you alive? Are you going to let someone else win at the last minute, simply because you lack the energy to finish strong.

Put a punch in your determination and win, now that you have it within your grasp. Only nine more days. Remember that subscriptions are a telling factor these closing days.
