

LOCAL SOCIAL EVENTS

Music Club Met.
The music department of the Woman's club was delightfully entertained last evening at the home of Mrs. Charles C. Robb on Walnut avenue. The program which was arranged by Mrs. J. Minor Dunham was one of the most enjoyable of the club year. The following participated: Miss Katherine Moore played two selections, "The Deserted Farm" and "Told at Sunset." Miss Edna Jacobs sang "Oh Time Take Me Back" and "Parting." A talk on current events was given by Miss Isa Neal and Mrs. L. N. Yost read a paper on the lives of McDowell, Carrie Jacobs Bond and Sydney Homer.

Called Meeting.
A called meeting of the Missionary society of the Southern M. E. church will be held this evening at the conclusion of the mid week prayer service. A good attendance is desired as a letter from the state president will be under consideration.

Benefit Dance.
A benefit dance, the proceeds of which will be donated to the Red Cross, will be held at Grant Town theatre by women of that town tonight. Music will be furnished by Skinner's orchestra. Short talks will be given during the evening by speakers from the Red Cross and the County Council of Defense. A cordial invitation is extended to all. The following committee has charge of the dance: A. D. Hudon, Fred Toothman, W. J. Hines, J. W. Havlichek, Harry Nichols, John J. McGra, Frank Kincaid, Guy Fluharty, J. G. Bebout, C. F. Bashore.

To Organize Prayer League.
A prayer league will be organized soon by Rev. Lynch, pastor of the Diamond Street M. E. church and the object of the league will be outlined at the regular mid week service to be held at that church this evening.

NO WONDER DOUG CAN KEEP SMILING!

Yes, he's married, girls, and his wife understands him perfectly. Here she is—the same kind of cheery person as her peppy husband who scatters the gospel of sunshine and laughter through a thousand movie audiences every night. They recently promoted an elaborate wild west show for Red Cross benefit, clearing $15,000 in one day at Los Angeles, Cal. The photographer had a nervous half hour trying to keep Doug quiet long enough to get a picture of the couple. Fairbanks' assistance. She's boss of the household.

LANGE'S NOISE MAKER NO FREIGHT

Just Sounded as if a B. & O. Train Was Coming Up Main St.

"Ding-dong, ding-dong," and it just sounds as if a B. & O. freight were coming down Main street, but it is a noise making device for the Smilge campaign of which Paul Lange is chairman with headquarters in the Fleming building. Kids gathered around and as usual began to ring it thinking they could get someone's "nerve" but the big boss was tickled to death that the kids happened that way and helped him out for he was tired ringing it several hours before. But boy like the kids soon grew tired of it when it proved to be work instead of mischief.

"Reminds me of a B. & O. freighter" yelled some one across the street to Paul Lange. The noise maker has attracted lots of attention and not a few people were trying to figure out when the railroad tracks got so close to them.

Paul Lange said today that Tuesday proved to be a good day for the Smilge campaign and $200 worth of Smilge books were sold—all $1 books.

"Keep the boys alike" said one of the purchasers and Mr. Lange is making no effort to force the sale of the $5 books.

Contractors Again Stake Axel Jensen

Hearing that Axel Jensen, a Dane, employed at the Rivesville power plant had applied to the city for enough money to take him to a hospital in Philadelphia, officials of the Sanderson and Porter contractors, came to the city hall yesterday and volunteered to pay the man's expenses to that city.

Evidence showed that the man had been employed by the Sanderson and Porter company and that the company had given him money to go to the Philadelphia hospital. Instead of leaving town he spent the money and came to the city for help. Regardless.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! A SMALL BOTTLE STOPS DANDRUFF

EVERY BIT OF DANDRUFF DISAPPEARS AND HAIR STOPS COMING OUT.

TRY THIS! YOUR HAIR APPEARS GLOSSY, ABUNDANT, WAVY AND BEAUTIFUL.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness; but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, and beautiful.

of the fact that they had already given him money, the Sanderson and Porter officials gave the police enough money to purchase a ticket to Philadelphia. The man was escorted to the railroad station and sent to Philadelphia.

TRENCH LOST BY A COUGH

Bad Cold Caused "Sammy" to Disappear Position to Bosches Who Outnumbered Them in Recent Raising Expedition.

A LESSON FOR THOSE AT HOME.

Recent dispatches received from "over there" tell of how, on a recent raiding expedition the Bosches were unable to locate the position of an advanced trench used for observation, through the coughing of one of our "Sammys" who was troubled with a bad cold. The result was, that our boys, outnumbered greatly, were forced to withdraw and leave the trench in the hands of the Germans.

This is but one instance of the many peculiar things a cough may lead one into. At home, thousands of people neglect to obtain the proper treatment or take sufficient care of themselves to avoid all colds. A neglected cold may result in pneumonia, pleurisy, consumption, and other fatal diseases. To prevent those troubles the cough should be relieved at its first stages.

By taking a tablespoonful of Hypo-Cod before meals and at bedtime it is not only possible to relieve a cough but actually prevent it. Any one whose work compels them to be exposed to the weather should take the necessary precaution to prevent a cough or a cold. For those people Hypo-Cod is the ideal preventive to take.

Hypo-Cod will break the most obstinate cold in head or chest, relieve chronic coughs, clear the bronchial tubes of accumulations, relieve asthma and prevent the resulting ailments. It contains nothing but the very valuable medicinal extractives from fresh cod livers combined with iron, quinine, wild cherry bark, manganese, hypophosphates, lime and aromatics—no dangerous or habit-forming drug is added.

In addition, Hypo-Cod helps make rich, pure blood, strengthens the digestive organs so that they will extract the full nourishment from your food, gives you a hearty appetite, increases weight and doubles the strength in a remarkably little while. You can get a bottle of Hypo-Cod from your druggist for only $1.20 which contains enough of this splendid tonic to treat the average family for weeks. Get a bottle today—don't take chances on that cough or cold any longer.

Sold in Fairmont by Fairmont Pharmacy, Crane's drug store, Martin's drug store, Holt Drug Co., Mountain City Drug Co. and Hall's drug store.

A BIRD IN THE HAND

Two Piano Boxes, Combined and Covered, Make This Kind of House.

It is not necessary to build expensive poultry houses, but they should be serviceable, airy rooms, well lighted, and well ventilated without drafts.

A very satisfactory henhouse can be made of two piano boxes. The boxes are placed back to back 3 feet apart, the back and top of each removed, a frame for roof and floor added and the part between the two boxes built in with the boards removed from the boxes. The whole is covered with roofing paper. A portion of the door should be left open or covered with a piece of muslin to allow light and ventilation, and windows in the rear may be cut if desired. With piano boxes at $2.50 each, such a house can be easily and quickly built for $12. It will accommodate 12 hens comfortably.

A house for the backyard flock need not be expensive. It should be comfortable. Often there is an unused shed or building on the place which can easily be converted into a chicken house. The front of the poultry house should face toward the south, if possible, so that the sun will shine into it. A house which provides a floor space of three or four square feet for each bird is ample in size and fowls are often successfully kept with an allowance no greater than two and one-half to three square feet. Houses must be dry and free from draft, but must allow ventilation. Very satisfactory houses can be made cheaply from piano boxes or other packing cases. Where there is a board fence it is sometimes possible to take advantage of this by building the poultry house in the corner of the fence, making the fence itself, with the cracks covered by strips or battened, serve as the back and one side of the house.

A cheap house 8 feet square can be made of 2 by 4 inch pieces and 12-inch boards and covered with roofing paper. Such a house would be large enough for a flock of 20 to 25 hens. It can be built quickly and is cheap in construction. Plans for building it, which can be easily followed, with a description of all the material needed, are given in a new publication of the United States Department of Agriculture Farmers' Bulletin 889.

If the backyard is well drained, the ground itself should be dry enough to serve as the floor of the house. Often a slight dampness can be corrected by filling up the floor several inches above the outside ground with sand, cinders, gravel or dry dirt. Three or four inches of the surface of the floor, and of the run, if a very small run is used, should be removed and replaced with fresh dirt two or three times a year. If the ground is so wet or damp that the condition can not be corrected by filling it is best to provide a board floor at this will keep the house dry, will allow easier clean-
