IMPRESSIVE FUNERAL SERVICES HELD IN CEMETRY WEST OF PARIS.

PARIS, June 18.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Thousands of miles from their maternal hearth, the American dead, heroes of the second battle of the Marne who have succumbed from grievous wounds in Paris hospitals, are mourned daily by French brothers, fathers or sisters who have felt the sorrow of the kindred of these heroes.

Daily, the funerals leave the city hospitals for the little cemetery dedicated to Americans by the city of Surames, located on a hill to the west of Paris overlooking the capital. Daily, the Republican Guard in their picturesque and historic military attire marches forth to the funeral to bestow France's regard upon these Americans. American Marines act as the guard of honor and though no volley is fired because it is forbidden by the French authorities, the American bugler sounds "taps."

A service is first held in the little chapel in the hospital. Protestant chaplains officiate over the dead of their faith and Catholic priests over theirs. The hospital organization such as can be organized including nurses, orderlies, clerks, doctors attends the service.

port that residents on the river there report fish weighing as much as 24 pounds being caught in the past few days. The trip was made in automobiles and a fine time was given out by the general assessor, who seemed to be the sponsor of the expedition.

According to the Parkersburg Sentinel Thomas A. Stephens, one of the well known Parkersburg oil men, who has drilled oil wells in a number of countries and has traveled around the world considerably, has applied for passports for Cuba, Costa Rica and Panama, and will be in the employ of a large company of oil operators, who are developing fields in those countries.

the heavy fighting. He returned home in six months and later made a trip to Venezuela, where he had been for nearly two years. Prior to his going to England, he had drilled in other foreign fields.

The entire field force of the internal revenue office has been assembled at Parkersburg for the purpose of receiving instructions on matters pertaining to the enforcement of the income tax laws in order that they can take part in the income tax drive which will be inaugurated within a week or two. They will remain during the entire week and will familiarize themselves with the new revenue laws.

ing all those who failed to make income tax returns and who should have done so, as well as those who made returns and showed no taxes; also to uncover the delinquents on special taxes and war stamp taxes, which include stamps on deeds and other papers, as well as the delinquents on all taxes due under the original revenue tax laws.

The following is taken from the Glenville Pathfinder: "Friday evening Grantsville phoned Glenville that an airplane had passed over near that town and that it seems to be headed this way. Only a few here had any idea that a machine was headed this way. However at about 5:30 different ones here heard the sound of the machine, but only a few knew what the noise was. The machine seemed to pass a little south of Glenville but was distinctly heard by people as far as

A Tribute to Advertising

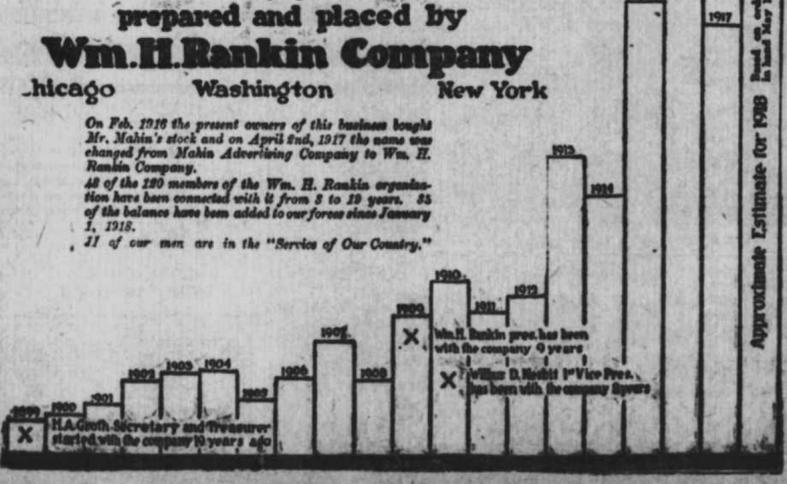

WE TAKE a great deal of pride in the fact that we have had the honor of handling the advertising of the Haynes—"America's First Car"—during the period which its output grew from a few hundred per year to more than ten thousand cars sold in 1917.

Advertising naturally has had a great deal to do with letting the people know about the quality and performance of the Haynes Light Six. It is, therefore, with pleasure we reproduce the letter written to us on April 3rd, by Mr. A. G. Seiberling, General Manager of The Haynes Automobile Company, Kokomo, Indiana:

"The Wm. H. Rankin Co. "Five years ago we made our first contract with your company. It is genuinely gratifying to us now to advise you to continue to place our advertising for the year 1918. "We know that the increase of our business is in no small degree due to advertising and the thorough manner in which you have handled our copy, art work, dealer helps, publicity and merchandizing. "The constant, industrious efforts and the thorough spirit of co-operation with our Advertising and Sales Departments, as evidenced by the members of your organization in furthering our interests cannot help but be a tremendous asset to your company as they have been to ours. "We have always felt we received first-class service from your organization but we have noted a great improvement in service in all lines during the past two years. "In these times when it is so necessary to make every dollar count, it is a relief to know from actual experience that our advertising interests are being cared for efficiently. "We know that you look after our interests as thoroughly as you do your own business and for that reason we are glad to continue to show our appreciation of your services by renewing with you for the sixth consecutive year. "We are interested in making business connections with other companies who have the same ideals of service efficiency that the Haynes Automobile Company has. "The diagram below gives an interesting record of our newspaper business since 1909. "It is interesting to note that our newspaper billing has more than tripled since 1909."

PARIS FAVORS CHECK VELOUR

(By Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.) PARIS, June 11.—Velour in small checks like shepherd's plaid is the most striking of the materials used for fall street suits. It is used sparingly, like all other woolen cloths, as shown in this early fall model, snapped in the Champs-Élysées. The collar, revers and vest of contrasting texture mean both style and economy, but instead of spoiling the design they make it doubly smart.

BITS OF STATE NEWS

A party of local men, who would be real "The Waltons" if there were plenty of fish, enjoyed a fishing trip on the West Fork river near West Milford Tuesday night, according to the Clarksville Exponent. The party consisted of Mrs. S. Swiger, Carl S. Lawson, Dr. J. W. Corder, Warren Moore, O. B. Thornbury and Rev. Sinclair. They landed a 7-pound cat fish and re-

Some thought the Germans were surely coming. Dr. Ewing says that a South Glenville young man, who was back on the hill at work, grabbed half an acre of heavy underbrush in his frantic efforts to reach the bottom of the mill, while a prominent citizen rushed into the Garner hotel with his hat in his hand and his eyes bulging out like walnuts with the bulls on, and yelled "Look out for bombs," and then disappeared up the road toward Northview at a 2:40 clip. "It is supposed that the machine was flying from Cincinnati to Washington, or from Dayton to Norfolk, as we would be in a direct line either way. The wind would easily veer the machine a mile or two from its direct course, and would also carry the noise of the machine quite a distance. This probably is the first flying machine that ever crossed the borders of Gilmer county."
