WHOLESALE JOB OF HOUSE BREAKING

Three Men Burglarize Six Homes in Barrackville and Vicinity.

"We'll make a yank here tonight," said a young man Monday evening as he stepped from a freight train at Jamison No. 7 with two pals, and looked around and saw the many opportunities. And the young men who were overheard making this statement to his two buddies, sure did make a yank for this morning when the people of Barrackville and Jamison No. 7 awoke they found just six different homes had been entered by burglars. At Jamison No. 7 the home of Dr. C. J. Cenaway was entered and a small amount of money taken as well as a gold watch. By entering the window the thieves also visited the home of Mrs. Blanche Crow and there stole two overcoats, a suit of clothes, a gold watch and a handbag. The home of J. J. Bartlett, store manager for the Jamison Coal and Coke company at Jamison No. 7 was also entered but no valuables were taken. In Barrackville the thieves visited the home of Charles Ice and took a fountain pen, neckties and numerous other small articles. They also visited the home of L. E. Jamison and took about $250 in money. The home of Lewis Hall was also attractive, for here the thieves went on the back porch and drank their fill of good sweet buttermilk. Sheriff A. M. Glover was notified of the robberies and this morning Deputy Sheriff John Glover and Deputy Sheriff Bells Harris went with the bloodhounds to Jamison No. 7 and trailed the thieves to the railroad track where they had boarded a freight train. They were seen several times in that community previous to the robberies.

PERSHING TO REVIEW ARMY OF BOY SCOUTS

Tonight New York Elks Entertain Commander at Reception.

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—General John J. Pershing escaped a resumption today of the tumultuous welcome that greeted him on his arrival from France yesterday by remaining in his hotel apartment until time to review a small army of 10,000 boy scouts in Central Park this afternoon. The scouts were assigned to act as the general's escort in the park, where 50,000 school children were gathered. Tonight at eight General Pershing will be the guest at a reception tendered him by the Elks. General Pershing will lead the parade of the First division tomorrow. General Pershing arose this morning shortly after six o'clock and breakfasted with his family in his private suite. It was definitely announced that the general will not be able to ride his favorite horse Kidron in tomorrow's parade. A message from the Department of Agriculture stated that the animal must remain in embarkation headquarters at Newport News for the full time of the quarantine. General Pershing will leave New York for Philadelphia Friday morning on a special train. He has accepted an invitation from Mayor Smith to visit Philadelphia and will remain there for two hours before proceeding to Washington. House number 309 Market street, occupied by James Hawkins and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Sheets, was entered yesterday afternoon by a robber, between 2 and 3 o'clock, while the occupants were in another part of the city, except Mrs. Sheets and three small children, who were in a distant room. They heard someone open and shut the front door, but presumed it was Mr. Sheets. The thief went up the stairs and entered the rooms of both families. He safely escaped with two gold watches and chains, belonging to the Hawkins people and two gold rings, belonging to Mrs. Sheets, total about $150. Sheriff Glover's blood hounds were secured to trace the thieves, but as yet no arrests have been made.

WOMEN PLAN TO WILSON DISCUSSES COST OF LIVING

Addressed Minnesota State Legislature on the Subject.

(By Associated Press) ST. PAUL, Sept. 19.—President Wilson's special train arrived at the St. Paul union station at nine o'clock. The President was officially welcomed to the state by Governor Burnquist, and to the Twin Cities by Mayors L. C. Hokanson, of St. Paul, and J. E. Myers, of Minneapolis. The cost of living, President Wilson told the Minnesota legislature today is largely due to a world situation growing out of the sacrifices and wastes of the war. Back of that, added the President, lay the fact that the world has not yet learned what the peace status would be. "The world is not going to settle down," said he, "until it learns what part the United States is to play in the peace." He continued that this was the only nation which would have enough financial resources in the near future to rehabilitate the world economically. The legislature which began yesterday an extraordinary session to consider the high cost of living and other subjects received the President with cheers. He was introduced by Governor J. A. Burnquist, who said Minnesota hoped there would be some arrangement to prevent future wars.

Making Them Turn Corners Correctly

A traffic regulation was put into effect in this city today which it is believed will materially lessen accidents that may occur at street crossings. A large white disk has been painted in the center of the intersection and cars traversing the streets must pass this disk before making the turn into another street. This makes the short turn impossible and it is believed will be effective. Local traffic officers and patrolmen were busy seeing that the regulation was enforced, today and were stationed at the various street corners on Main street throughout the day. The most expert whalers today are the Norwegians; the most successful whaling ground is the South Atlantic in the neighborhood of the South Shetlands and South Orkneys.

NO RUSH TO BUY

The other half of the case sold soon after.

Corn, peas, tomatoes and beans were opened for tasting and stood in dishes on a counter with a spoon handy for each portion. A number bought without tasting and those who did sample the goods said it was good quality. A man with a wagon hauled a number of cases to different addresses for fifty cents for three cases. Even counting the fifty cents, there was a saving of the sum total. Corn sold for $3.00 for 24 cans. Tomatoes for $4.50, peas for $3.00 and baked beans for $4.00. Corn at 12 1/2 c, tomatoes at 18 1/2 c, peas at 12 1/2 c and baked beans at 8 1/2 c a van seemed to those who took advantage of the sale, a sale very much worth while. A number wondered this morning if people were really anxious to save money on groceries or not, considering the small number who turned out. On bargain days in many of the stores there is a line waiting of the opening of the doors. There was no line at the fire department this morning and it required no special exertion to wait upon the trade. A number took several cases and directed up among neighbors. No telephone orders will be received. Until six o'clock this evening the sale will continue. Esther Perry, granddaughter of the inventor of the steel pen, is a taxi driver in London.

INDUSTRIAL SHOW

(Continued from page one.) The T. G. Aultman company has an electric pump on display which Mr. Aultman invented and makes himself. Mr. Aultman has also invented a steam pump. Mr. Aultman has made a number of other inventions, including a wooden pump which he made for protection as it is made of metal pipes, the sulphur only hardens the wood in the wooden pump. Valve and Tank Exhibit. One of the most carefully prepared exhibits is that of the American Valve and Tank company, which is made up to resemble a bungalow bath room, decorated in green and white. Two toilets are shown, one with the tank and the other with the direct water line. The toilets are so connected up that the water in them is running all the time. The Paper Booth. The exhibit of the Mid-West Box company is made up of corrugated paper entirely, including the booth in which the display is located. The exhibit shows both the single and the double faced corrugated cardboard. Containers and fillers of various descriptions are shown. Bottles in the paper boxes are from the Owens Bottle company and the cones in the paper cone boxes are from the Imperial Ice Cream company. The Fairmont Mining Machinery and the Fairmont Wall Plaster companies will each have exhibits adjoining that of the Mid-West Box company, but have not moved in as yet. The Etching Machine. A. B. Knight's electrical etching machine runs continually for the benefit of the visitors. The machine turns out from 300 to 350 dozen of glasses per day. The glasses are held by a vacuum system and the machine adjusts itself for etching pitchers and other ware with handles. Mr. Knight makes fourteen different machines which he has invented himself. He is working on an order to go to Japan and less than three weeks ago shipped a carload of his machines to Havana, Cuba. The glazing machine is another machine Mr. Knight has on display. At the rate of operation 32-48 per minute this glazing machine will glaze and polish the edge of blown tumblers. The display placed by Mr. Knight is a most interesting one and shows much preparation. Few people know that any such machinery has been invented and is being made in this city. The Willits Clay company and the Fairmont Box company will each have displays, but have not moved them to the Y. M. C. A. as yet.
