Joint Celebration

The fifty eighth anniversary of the birth of Camden Summers of Clarksburg and the first birthday anniversary of Boyde Camden Cobun, the grandson of Mr. Summers and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Cobun was celebrated in a charming manner last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cobun on Walnut avenue when a dinner of attractive appointments was served, the guests including the year old baby, his parents, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cobun and daughter, Miss Grace, of Boydstown street, his paternal grandparents,

Mr. and Mrs. Camden Summers and daughter, Miss Marie of Clarksburg, and the baby's great aunt Mrs. Mary E. Lee of Jane Lew. A large birthday cake adorned with fifty nine candles, the combined ages of Mr. Summers and his grandson adorned the table and a happy evening was spent with the baby boy as the centre of attraction. The following couplet composed by Mr. Summers voiced the sentiments of the gathering toward the little fellow in whose honor the celebration was arranged:

"A year ago a little stranger—
Strange to all but angels above,
Was welcomed to a home, that home
A stranger

To every rapture of parental love.
The lad, for a lad it was his being
With us till the most eventful night
A year has passed, in which his being
Has been the brightest, most inspiring
Light.

"This eve we celebrate the happy
Thought,
That God, one year of loving comfort
Gives,
And never added health, nor Strength nor grace,
More bountiously to any child that Lives.

"With grateful hearts (our love for his enduring)
We thank our Lord for Jimmy's happy fate;
And pray Him that with every year recurring
Our baby earns an honest man's estate."
