

BRING THE JOY OUT OF LIFE WITH A HORN

Locust Avenue Folks Have a Hot Weather Grouch and Grievance.

When John Hendrick Bangs re-opens his famous Chautauque lecture "Calmness I Have Met" for his next tour of the circuit, many people on Locust Avenue would be pleased to have him interview that uncertain...

After the opening bar, or whatever the musical guys call it, the student's lips fall and the poor innocent horn blows forth a long, weird, dying grunt...

Old residents have become rather hardened to the ordeal but the first time a newcomer gets a new horn, he sticks his head out a window to see if the ambulance is going along...

Only the other night some guy decided he would attempt to make good on the theory that two can live as cheap or cheaper than one, and all the small boys got out dish pans and cake pans and pounded them in front of his front door to show they admired the courage of the man who defied H. C. L. by taking out himself a wife.

The boys put away the pans, hastened home, crawled into bed and pulled the covers over their heads. After six spasms the bugle man quit—and the bride and groom will live happy ever after, if the bugle man only loses his horn or learns how to play it.

EASIER TO SEDUCE. "Any old-fashioned horse thieves around Crimson Gulch?" asked the visitor in quest of adventure.

"No," replied Cactus Joe. "The horse thieves have all gone east and look to steal'n' automobiles, which is less risky and more remunerative." Washington Star.

KILARM, W. Va., June 17. — Coal miners employed at Frances mine get an opportunity to work on the farm of the company when the car supply is short and it is a noticeable point that the men raised on the farm avoid the work while others take to it with better humor.

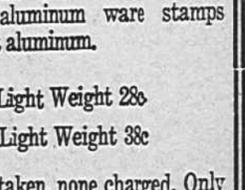

High Cost of Labor.

Customer—What? Two thousand marks for the frame? That is dearer than the picture. Art Dealer—Yes, but the frame was made by a trade union workman and the picture was painted by a mere artist.—Jugend, Munich.
