Mr. Scott stated yesterday morning that he had no particular objection to the work, but that his other work called him to many parts of the city and into contact with a great many people, and he felt that if he continued in the employ of the city as dog catcher his friendly relationship with the public might be disturbed.

First Candidate Enters Race for Prince's Hand

MISS INGIE THINKERS

The Watson Building is the first to yield up a candidate in the great contest The West Virginian is staging for the hand of His Royal Highness, the Prince of Wales.

Miss Ingie Thinkers, private secretary to the superintendent of unpaid wages, today submitted her picture in the great international sweepstakes. If she should be the winner, she will become the bride of the British heir apparent—if it is willing. There is no other condition attached.

Interviewed today, Miss Thinkers said:

"I should just love to become the Princess of Wales, or whatever she call the one that is. Of course I don't suppose I will be chosen, but still, you can't never tell, I tell you."

ways say, and stranger things have happened.

"Of course I don't know much about royalty except that I've read lots in books about it and I understand that American girls just get along fine sometimes when they marry kings or dukes, maybe.

"Us American girls are different from foreign girls. We can do anything we have to do. I didn't know anything about being a private secretary when a notable friend of mine got me this job, but it's easy as pie.

"Whenever there's something I don't know how to do, some of the other girls that've been here a long time always show me. And I expect it will be that way when—that is, if I should be lucky, the people over there would show me how to be a princess, or whatever it is you call his wife."

Pithy Paragraphs From Mannington

At the recent style display in Boston 461 varieties of shoes were shown.

They ranged from black to white and back again to red. Then all these colors were mixed.

They had no straps, they had three straps, they had one strap; some had Louis heels, some Cuban, some military, some none at all.

Some were big, some small, and some fit the feet of those who wore them.

Some were high in price, and the others were too.

Deacon Slapapple raises the question, "Just what is style in shoes?"

Candidate says, "Boys, I'm going to bring down the house! Got me a Ford, and talked to about fifty men today."

That's optimism.

Two officials of the Buchanan Chemical Co. were fined $100 each for a dance which was well attended, and tonight a group of young people from Fairmont will entertain there. Tomorrow night a dance will be given by Shinnston people. They held a dance at Midway last week and a large number attended. It is expected that this occasion will be as popular.

CHICKEN SUPPER SUCCESS

MANNINGTON, July 21.—The chicken supper given at Blackshere Farm last night for the benefit of the Southern Methodist church was an unqualified success if that can be judged by the demand for cats. The supper lasted from 5 o'clock to 8 o'clock, and the chicken was exhausted long before 7 o'clock. Other good things were provided however, and everyone got enough.

A large number of people from Mannington attended, as well as many from the Sunday school picnic at Blackshere Park. Of course the members of the church itself patronized the affair largely.

Prior to his conference with Mr. Weeks, Herr Fokker discussed aviation in the United States with President Harding.

METHODISTS HOLD PICNIC YESTERDAY

Dignity Laid Aside and Adults Enjoy the Fun Along With Youngsters.

MANNINGTON, July 21.—The Sunday school picnic given by the Methodist Sunday school at Blackshere Park yesterday was considered an all around success. Everyone seemed to have a very pleasant afternoon.

Sports of many kinds were popular with young and old, and men seemed to take as much delight in the fun as the younger folks. One game which especially appealed to the men was a baseball game played between the men and boys T. S. Rymer starred in this game. He and Attorney L. S. Schwenck dropped their manly roles of dignity and entered into the sport with all the vim and vigor of several years ago. Mr. Schwenck also demonstrated a lot of ability pitching houseflies. Perhaps Charles Phillips should come in for some special mention also, since he was as lively as any yesterday.

Besides the sports mentioned, improvised tennis was provided, and potato races, a doll-dressing contest and other games for the smaller folk. The doll dressing contest was in charge of Miss Genevieve Hess, who provided several little girls with cloth, needles, thread, scissors and the things necessary to make a doll dress in fifteen minutes. This was fun. One game in which the ladies were interested was croquet.

The newly erected pavilion was utilized as a dining room yesterday, and when 100 chairs and several long tables were placed there was room enough to accommodate most of the hungry ones. For supper last evening many attendees playing games, Dainty Refreshments were served at a late hour. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Ray C. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Devore, Mrs. Arlie Williams, Arlie Robbins, Miss Golda Arnett, Miss Mary Adeline Evans, Miss Ellen Williams, Miss Dawn Williams, Miss Josephine Arnett, Miss Ruby Arnett, Miss Katherine Shaffer, Miss Edith Floyd, Miss Berenice Cunningham, Miss Amy Williams, Audrey Arnett, Glenn Devore, Charles Arnett, Arthur Chase, Dale Wilson, Harold Gump Archie Williams, Ray Lee, George Robbins, Gerald Arnett, Eugene Cunningham, and Wayne Williams.

MARGARET HANLEY'S FUNERAL TOMORROW

MANNINGTON, July 21.—The funeral of Margaret Ligouri Hanley who died Wednesday evening at the home of her mother, Mrs. Dan Hanley, will be held from the St. Patrick's Church tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock. Interment will be made in the Mannington Cemetery.

A solemn high requiem mass will be celebrated by the Reverend Father C. J. Kluser, assisted by the Reverend Father Gilsenan of Fairmont and the Reverend Father Collins of Farmington.

Miss Hanley had been ill for many months, and although her death had not been unexpected for some time, yet it came as a shock to the entire community.

She was a graduate of the Mannington High School but for of the Fairmont Normal, and had been a teacher in the public schools when her health permitted. Last year she taught a successful term at the Rymer High School, and during the last month when she was obliged to give her work into other hands for completion.

Margaret was a devout member of the St. Patrick's Catholic Church, the wonderful devotion to which sustained her throughout her long illness. She was a teacher in the Sunday school, a member of the choir and an active worker of the Catholic Daughters of America. She was accomplished in every way, and a musician and singer worthy of mention.

Never once during her illness did she murmur or ask to be relieved from her work, but for it all with resignation, feeling that in the end she might be restored to health and spared to her devoted mother who nursed her so faithfully.

MANNINGTON, July 21.—The playgrounds opened at the Central and Wilson schools are daily drawing more and more children who come to play under the supervision of the two instructors. The playground at the Wilson School is especially attractive, since the lawn is grassed. However, there is more and better equipment at the Central School, and many youngsters would rather play there because of the swings and slide.

$12,000 DAMAGE DONE TO TIPPLE

Fire Declared to Have Been of Incendiary Origin at Junior Mine.

Damage amounting to $12,000 to a tipple of the Junior Mine of the Harry B. Coal Co., at Koon's Run, near Everson, resulted when fire of alleged incendiary origin broke out on the tipple at midnight last night. Only the prompt action of the fire living in the company houses nearby and farmers in the neighborhood prevented the complete destruction of the tipple. The tipple is over a creek, and a bucket brigade worked diligently to check the progress of the flames. Two men stood high up the tipple and pulled the buckets of water up from the creek when filled and dashed them on the fire. A large quantity of chemicals was also used before the fire was under control.

The mine has not been operated since December, 1921. It has never been operated as a non-union mine and the owners did not contemplate opening it on such basis. It was stated today.

June Clark, one of the owners of the mine, said today that the fire was purely of incendiary nature, as there was not a wire on the tipple or on any other inflammable material, near the place where the fire broke out. The fire broke out while the night watchmen had gone away for a few minutes to get his midnight lunch at his home.

While the mine has not been operating for a long time, recently some repair work had been done about the premises with a view of opening up when the present coal difficulties had been smoothed out. It was stated the damage sustained by the fire was fully covered by insurance.

SENATORS ANXIOUS TO END TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Today is the first anniversary of the passage of the Administration Tariff Bill by the House. When the measure will find its niche in statute hall still is problematical, but there are increasing steps that the leaders, at least, on both sides of the Senate are anxious to get it into conference.

Admittedly they are weary of the grind of work on what has become the longest legislative day in the history of the Senate, a day that runs 2,280 hours, or 121 more hours than there were committee amendments to the bill. In the Senate it is still 12 o'clock noon, Thursday, April 20, 1922—the hour the tariff was called up—this bit of legislative action being indulged in with a hope of facilitating final action by keeping out all other except the most pressing legislation.

But this fiction has not prevented senators from talking on most every subject under the sun.
