An unusually large number of summer tourists have already arrived in Burlington and the prospect is flattering for an active season.

The Ethans have received invitations to participate in a number of horse tournaments, but they have not yet decided to accept any one of them.

A boom in journalism has evidently struck this city. A paper printed in French has been talked of and is not among the impossibilities of the future.

The Free Press office has received from L. M. Hagar, a number of excellently preserved specimens of seventeen-year locusts, obtained in the West seventeen years ago.

The representation of the Masonic lodges throughout the State at the annual communication of the Grand Lodge was the most complete this year that it has been for a long time.

The funeral of Fred Church took place at St. Paul's church Sunday afternoon, Rev. J. I. Bliss officiating. A large number of the friends and fellow laborers of the deceased were present.

Matilda Robar was taken to Rutland by Sheriff Barton Tuesday. For disturbing the tranquility of our peaceful city, she has been obliged to take up her residence in the House of Correction.

The quarterly convention of the Catholic clergymen of the Burlington conference was held at St. Joseph's college Wednesday morning, June 24, and will take passengers at from points between here and St. Albans. The fare from this city and Winoski will be $1.25, good to return during the 24th of the next day. Sherman's band will accompany the excursion.

The Sherman military band are in great demand, as usual. In addition to the numerous calls they have received in Vermont, they have been invited by Ogdenburg and Canton, N. Y., to play in those respective places on the Fourth of July.

A wisecracker rises up to announce that a district about to be attacked with cholera is at once forsaken by sparrows. Should this become apparent this much abused warbler would probably at once become as great a favorite as it is at present outcast.

The receipts from the Field Day sports were just about enough to pay expenses, which is quite a satisfactory condition of affairs, considering the postponement. The association is in a flourishing financial condition, as it had nearly $100 in the treasury from last year.

The work of laying the sidewalk at the tunnel for the Standard Oil company was begun last week. The track will be of a sufficient length to hold four of the oil-tank cars. The former distributing point for this section was Newwood, N. Y., which has been discontinued.

A down east farmer thinks the potato bug is a blessing rather than a curse, for the reason that it causes farmers to pay close attention to the crop, putting on plaster, water, etc., by means of which much larger crops are raised than formerly. But there are many farmers who would willingly forego this blessing.

Our townsman, W. H. Root, was given an exceedingly fine compliment by the Grand Lodge of Vermont. He was elected grand secretary for the sixth time, and that by a vote of 348 out of 352. He was enabled to announce $5,500 in the treasury of the Grand Lodge and all debts paid.

On the return of the excursion to Plattsburgh last Friday a Swede walked off from the wharf as he was passing towards the street. He was rescued by means of a piece of lumber lowered within his reach, after having disappeared twice. It is uncertain whether the mishap was due to the darkness or Plattsburgh spring water.

A complete set of burglars' tools with a quantity of dynamite and nitro glycerine, were recently discovered under the railroad platform at Queen City Park and were taken to Rutland without the knowledge of the authorities here. Their presence is a mystery, unless some gang had a scheme on foot to raid some St. Albans bank.

Sheriff Atherton of Waterbury was in town Saturday and he announced that on the day previous he had visited South Hero and captured three poach nets, belonging to one Snyder of Syracuse, N. Y., who is quite an adept in the fishing business. Snyder was at work at his nets on the approach of the sheriff and barely escaped capture.

The following cases were disposed of in the City Court Saturday. Matilda Robar was arraigned on the charge of breach of the peace and on trial was found guilty. Mr. Dell is a very popular and capable young man, who will perform the duties of his new position with the utmost courtesy and ability. His many friends will be glad to learn of his promotion.

A farmer says that the grass crop is going to be better than was expected. If the dry spell had continued much longer that crop would have been a total failure, but the recent generous showers have given grass a wonderful start. Grubs have injured grass quite extensively, but it seems to be recovering from the effects of their ravages.

There will be an excursion Saturday evening on the steamer A. Williams to Cedar Beach, Essex, Brown's and Willboro Point, stopping at the latter place nearly an hour. The boat will leave the Champlain Transportation company's dock at 5:30 p. m., and will reach here about 9:30 o'clock.

schools for Montpelier, Rev. H. F. Hill: "On no one thing can we more congratulate ourselves than on the engagement of Mr. N. H. Thompson as a teacher of music. There are many good voices which will be brought out and trained better than is in the power of the present teacher."

Travel to this place from Essex, N. Y., has greatly increased within a week, and almost every morning there is quite a boatload of passengers who come over on the steamer Williams. They come principally on purchasing trips, as almost every variety of goods can be purchased at much less figures than at home or in the towns adjoining.

The staging has at last been removed from the exterior of the Billings library, and the full architectural effect of the magnificent structure can be obtained. Work is being rapidly carried forward on the interior, in order that it may be in readiness for the dedication exercises of Commencement week.

The Street department have ordered a cartload of sewer tile from the Portland Stoneware company as an experiment. It is pronounced equal in quality to the Akron tile which has been used exclusively hitherto, but it can be secured here within a week, whereas the Akron tile requires three weeks to reach this point after the order is sent. The Portland tile will be laid on Champlain street.

Fire was discovered last Friday in a shed attached to the house, corner of North and Hyde streets, and some workmen near by hastened to the spot and, prying the shed from its attachments, tipped it into the old railroad cut. A garden hose was then turned upon the flames, a few minutes' work sufficing to extinguish them. The imprudent fire company showed a commendable presence of mind and their work was most efficient.

The excursion from this city to St. Johns, P. Q., on St. Jean Baptiste day under the auspices of the St. Jean Baptiste and St. Joseph societies of this city bids fair to be largely attended. A special train will leave this city on Wednesday morning, June 24, and will take passengers at from points between here and St. Albans. The fare from this city and Winoski will be $1.25, good to return during the 24th of the next day. Sherman's band will accompany the excursion.

Boys who begin celebrating the Fourth of July several weeks before the advent of Independence day take desperate chances of never seeing that anniversary. Two lads not many miles from this city, after laying a line of powder, connected with it a lighted fuse, and bending over the explosive awaited the results. These were perfectly natural—a flash and two little faces burned and spotted with powder. The eyes of one of the boys were filled with grains of powder.

While digging a sewer on Champlain street workmen came across an old iron pipe which proved to be a section of pipe belonging to the old water works. Two lengths of the pipe were broken off, when they came to a full stream of water. It seems that the old pipe had been used to furnish a partial supply to tenants on Champlain street between College and Main, the end of the pipe being filled with earth. The water had to be shut off until connections could be made.

It has been suggested that a new company be formed here to take the place of Company E, who were mustered out May 30 on account of the expiration of ten years' service. This leaves this city without any representation in the National Guard of Vermont and with the position that this city holds in the State in regard to other matters it can ill afford to be unrepresented in that important organization.

There are plenty of available young men in this city to form a new company and it is to be hoped that some immediate action will be taken in the matter.

An affray took place between two workmen in the marble yard, last Friday, in which one went at the other with a shovel. The latter in trying to guard his head with his arm, received a terrible blow on the forearm. The arm swelled so that Dr. Wheeler, whose services were called in, could not tell whether a bone was broken or not. The men had been good friends; and will be so still, the man who wielded the shovel expressing much regret, when his passion cooled, and doing everything he could to relieve the pain he had caused; while the injured man tells his neighbors that a piece of marble fell on his arm.

The excursion to Plattsburgh last Friday on the steamer Vermont was largely attended and was greatly enjoyed by all, the air being favorable for riding on the water. The game of polo resulted in favor of the Plattsburgh club, three goals to two. The rink team captured the first two goals in about a minute each, and the next two were won by the Plattsburgh boys as they were in the Pioneer's hands as quick time. By this time our boys had become partially accustomed to the smallness of the rink and its surrounding netting, but not sufficiently to enable them to win the last goal which was taken by the Plattsburgh boys after a long and close contest. The return trip was also a pleasant one, large numbers taking part in the dancing, to music furnished by Crossman and Shipman's orchestra. The excursion was a complete success.

Attempted Burglary at Wallingford. An unsuccessful attempt to rob the safe in Hewlett's store in Wallingford was made, Tuesday night, by three burglars. One of the men stood guard outside, while the other two made their way into the store with the tools and explosives for breaking open the safe. Mr. Hewlett, who rooms over the store, hearing some suspicious noises in the night, proceeded to investigate, and discovered the two burglars in the act of breaking open the safe. He managed to get out of the store without being heard or seen by any one of the burglars, and proceeded to call up the neighbors. The store was soon surrounded by an excited throng, one of whom fired into the store with a gun, the charge missing the burglars, passing clear through the store, and out at an opposite window, slightly wounding one of the party on that side. The two burglars inside, who were now nearly scared out of their wits, were easily captured; the third, who was keeping watch, probably escaped on the approach of Mr. Hewlett and his friends. It was found that the safe had been successfully opened, and that the burglars had already divided all the silver there was in it—some eighteen or twenty dollars—having failed, however, to discover $500 in bills, which were more carefully concealed. The prisoners were taken to Rutland, yesterday morning.

Two Hours in an Open Sea on an Overturned Skiff. Henry Root of Swanton, who is staying at North Hero, started Sunday forenoon in a skiff to come to Maquam. There was a high wind and a heavy sea. When within two miles of Maquam his boat capsized. The owner of the skiff, John Mahan, was watching Root from the Maquam shore. Mahan got Joseph Lonsell, an old sailor, to go to the rescue of Root, but his boat was swamped at the start. Then another boat was procured of C. F. Smith and Lonsell and Joseph Busha together succeeded in reaching Root, who had been in the bottom of the skiff to which he had been clinging two hours. At this time the wind shifted west, and the skiff floated ashore.

Signing "Papers."

We understand that some Democratic aspirants for Federal offices in this city and other towns, have adopted the plan of procuring the signatures of Republicans, to papers intended to all them in obtaining the appointments they desire. The headings to these papers commonly state in substance that in the event that the President determines to make a change in the office, the undersigned would be pleased by the appointment of such and such a Democrat. It is very well, under existing circumstances, for Republicans to have a clear understanding of what they are doing; and to adopt some distinct rule, in reference to such requests for their signatures. Of course if any man, of any party, wishes the Republican incumbent of an office put out, and a Democrat appointed in his stead, he can properly sign a petition to that effect. If he desires a change in an office, he can help to bring about a change, by signing papers conditioned upon a change. If a Republican does not desire a change in an office, the only wise way is to keep his name off from all papers presented by office-seekers, who are trying to get the office. A paper stating that the Republican signers will be pleased with the appointment of a Democrat, if there is to be a change, will inevitably be used and taken to show that the signers have little or no objection to a change; and may powerfully help to secure a change. The safe way is to let every man stand on his own bottom; and to give to the Democrats the entire monopoly of the business of getting Republicans removed from office, which they are willing to do for the satisfaction of the public, simply to gratify hungry Democrats who want their places.

The City Census. The work of the city census takers shows the following results as compared with the census of 1880:

Table with 4 columns: Ward, 1880, 1885, Gain. Ward 1: 1880 1065, 1885 1074, Gain 9. Ward 2: 1880 2028, 1885 2039, Gain 11. Ward 3: 1880 392, 1885 404, Gain 12. Ward 4: 1880 274, 1885 278, Gain 4. Ward 5: 1880 264, 1885 267, Gain 3. Total: 1880 1322, 1885 1377, Gain 55. Loss in Ward 1: 21. Net gain: 186.

The apparent loss in Ward 1 is explained by the removal from that ward to Ward III of the Orphan Asylum since the census of 1880 was taken, and aside from this the population in that ward shows a creditable gain. The enumeration, however, has been accomplished in a much shorter time than was anticipated and it has been done in a thorough manner; and the result is very satisfactory. It will be seen that there is a slight discrepancy between the number of population in 1880 as published above and the number printed hitherto, but an examination of the figures in the County Clerk's office shows the above to be correct. It should be stated that the total population as stated above does not include those residents who are making prolonged visits at Brattleboro, Windsor and Rutland.

St. John's Day. The celebration of St. John's day at St. Johns, P. Q., next Wednesday, promises to be a grand affair. There will be a procession composed of several societies and allegorical songs. Speeches will be delivered by distinguished orators from this country and Canada, and there will also be a public lamp and a concert in the evening in which will take part the Harmony band and the best choir of Montreal. The tickets for the excursion from this city and Winoski are now on sale at several places and the excursion looks well for a well patronized excursion.

The 16th Anniversary of Heeman Academy. The graduation exercises of the class of '85 of this well and favorably known academy were held in the Congregational church, New Haven, Friday evening, the 12th inst., with the following order of exercises: Music; oration, "A Question of Today," Robert M. Collins, Middlebury; essay, "Along the Appian Way," Bertha L. Dean, New Haven; music; oration, "Twenty Years of Peace," Will M. Foster, East Middlebury; oration, "History Reports Itself," Fred L. Hamilton, Salisbury; music.

The essay by Miss Dean was a carefully prepared resume of the historical personages and events connected with the Appian Way—higher education. The "Question of Today," as considered by Mr. Collins was the race problem in the South and he argued that its solution must come through the purifying, prejudicial expiating and memory erasing work of time.

Mr. Foote reviewed the great events and inventions which the twenty years succeeding the civil war had brought to the United States. Mr. Hamilton delivered the best written and presented oration of the evening. After reviewing the history of the republics of the past which had reached their zenith only to fade, he applied the question to our own Republic as pertinent to the time, suggesting that if we fail it will be on account of becoming impatient and arrogant, thus inciting disturbances between labor and capital. At the conclusion of the exercises the principal, Mr. C. C. Gove, presented the class with their diplomas and, in so doing, gave them the best wishes of the Academy for their future success, coupled with earnest watchwords for the guidance of their lives. The annual concert followed with the following programme: Overture, "Merry Wives of Windsor;" song, "The Song of the Marguerite;" Miss Fannie P. Lemon; gavotte, "Gwendolin;" orchestra; clarinet solo, "Scene and Air;" Mr. A. D. Vittum; selection, Favorita, orchestra; violoncello solo, "Romance;" Mr. George Allen, Jr.; overture, "William Tell;" orchestra; song, "Alla Stella Confidente" (with cello obbligato); Miss Fannie P. Lemon; cornet solo, "Aria;" Mr. George D. Sherman; potpourri, "The Old Union;" orchestra.

Miss Lemon captured the audience with her first solo and was the recipient of hearty and importunate encore and the audience universally expressed the wish that they might have the pleasure of hearing her again. Mr. Vittum fairly outdid himself and Mr. Allen was also recalled. It is needless to say that the Howard Opera House orchestra will always receive a hearty welcome here.

At the conclusion of the concert the young ladies dispensed ice cream and cake in the church parlors.

The orchestra rendered the programme with excellent effect and were the recipients of hearty applause. Probably no better praise could have been given than the close attention of the large audience throughout the entire programme and that too in a very oppressive atmosphere and with an unusually long order of exercises.

Small Fox at Plattsburgh.

Two cases of small pox are reported at Plattsburgh, in two different localities. Both houses were fenced in, yesterday, and small pox signs put up to warn off the public. Active measures are being taken to prevent the communication or spread of the disease.

OBITUARY.

Edward J. Morgan.

In the death of Mr. Edward J. Morgan the community has lost a respected and valued citizen, an upright and enterprising business man, and to many a beloved and honored friend. He was a member of the well-known and highly prosperous firm of Taft & Morgan, manufacturers of doors, sash and blinds, and in his business relations was known as a man of strict integrity, unwavering fidelity, and a courteous and kindness of demeanor which endeared him to all. It is largely to his business insight and enterprise that the firm of which he was a member owes its present success. Mr. Morgan was born in Wellington, N. Y., in 1835. In early life he was connected with the Crown Point, N. Y., iron works, and there acquired a thorough business education and fitted himself for the responsibilities of his future business career. He remained in the iron business at Crown Point for twenty years, and then came to Burlington and associated himself with Mr. A. Taft in the manufacture of doors, sash and blinds. The success of this enterprise is too well known, not only in Burlington, but throughout New England and the whole country, to need further comment. Mr. Morgan was a member of the Congregational church from his youth, and a man of fervent, though quiet, piety. He was never assuming or self-assertive, and the graces of his gentle character were best known to his more intimate friends and in the home of his family, where he was indeed loving and beloved. Mr. Morgan was in his fifty-first year—the prime of life—when he was taken away, and was in the midst of the career which he had so wisely and bravely planned. His death will be widely mourned, and his family will have the sincerest sympathy of hundreds who, with them, are bereaved in his removal.

A Brilliant Orator.

The Troy Times publishes the following: On Decoration day a well known constable of a certain town in Bennington county was selected to give the oration. His address will long be remembered for its brevity, and as an illustration of "English as she is spoke." The constable cleared his throat of tobacco juice and tobacco and looking solemnly and wisely around into the unfortunates faces of the standers, said: "Fellow citizens, we are met here today to decorate the graves of them our soldiers who died in defiance of their country. Forward, march!"
