THE EDMUNDS-BLAINE EPISODE.

Another Version.

Washington Special to the N. Y. Herald.] The true story of the insult offered to er. Edmun's by Mr. Blaine, by gentle men who were at the Arthur mansion at the time, is as follows: When Mr. Blaine of New England and the Northern States, was admitted at the front door, ex-Mar. and is especially pleased when an opporshad McMichael was coming down stairs, timity occurs to show that the "Blair bill" and, supposing the parlor to be empty, es-corted him there. The two had scarcely entered the door, when McMichael, who Johnsbury, "Vermonter," misrepresents knew well the feeling between the two New England leaders, started with surprise, seeing Mr. Edmunds and Mr. Charles E. Miller sitting not four feet distant. It was impossible to withdraw, and McMichael excharact, "Gonthemen, Mr. Blaine." The fact is that in 1840 all the children attended a frest when I heard of the inclinents of the common school branches, and the same is true today. In the year 1855-5, 71667 scholars over flags as children averaged in 1840.

The fact is that in 1840 all the children attended to the public schools an average of 17 and one half weeks. It is not probable that the 95-817 of all ages, and in all schools save colleges, academics and grammar schools, who had schooling and that he weeks the school and in that he much meet that one had a much time. He institled himself to the funeral, which was proper enough, perhaps, but his experience in the past should have took aim that he might meet some people at Mr. Arthur's bier that had not worked for his election to the presidency. He knew perfectly well whom he was likely to meet at Gen. Arthur's house, and if he did not care to meet them he should have remained away. If he had not Mr. Edmund's on the street or at public in republic and refused to speak to him, if would have been another matter; but under the artemastances i think his combat and florent place to give vent to his reverse publicable. "Statistics show what people of ordinary in the little sense in votes and observation in Vermont know, that illiteracy in our State, is an exotic, imported from Canada and Ire land, and that the schools "like the flowers of spring have nothing to do about it."
While there were but 270 20 years old and upward unable to write in 1840, many of these were of foreign birth as the figures to 1850 show. In that year there were 1840 who were 20 and over mathe to write, and of these 5021 were of foreign birth and 616 were mative born. These 616 included imbeelles and all the infortunate odds and ends of burnanty. In 1854 we find 13,395 who were 21 and over annote to write, 783 of foreign birth and 931 not tive born. Here was an introduce in 337 native born illiterates. Is it uses the say that this there is was composed of will dren of the foreign born people are taining of Canadian French, mathe to speak English, the real facts 1 It is ingered that a few of our foreign born people are not quite full dealest Yankees.

In 1870 we had 13.394, who were 21 and over, unable to write, but the place of birth is not given. There were, however, 17,306 anable to write, but the place of native birth. Many children are mathe to write at 10 who afterwards learn, and the same is true to a less degree of trading. There were 15,185 unable to read in 1870 ten years old and over.

In 1850 there were, according to "Vermonter," 12,872 mabble to write 20 and over, a decrease from 13.60 of 21 and over in 1870; 15,681 whites could not write afform her had 50.31 were of foreign lighth and 50.31 were not trengt lighth had 50.31 were not very in 1870; 15,681 whites could not write afform when compared with those of 1870, evidently do not express the same thing exactly, and iney are additing gives the commission of "vermonter" a ghost of a charce of probability.
