CAMPBELL'S CASE IN COURT.

Respondent Foster F. Eschling, in the case of the State vs. George L. Campbell in City Court Tuesday morning saved the case for the respondent and the liquor question was ordered returned. The search was made early in November and had been held open for a decision. Yesterday morning the parties and had no objection to a return of the case and said that he had secured additional evidence since the case was heard. A reference was made to the testimony of Capt. William Newton and Dr. Lavoie, who testified to getting drinks at the drug store. This brought Mr. Foster to his feet to call attention to the witness stand. The witness went and helped himself and did not pay for the drink and furthermore that he had no recollection of getting drinks at the drug store. THE CRIME OF THE BOULEVARD SITUATION I

One of the most stubbornly contested in the history of the city was heard in the afternoon session of the City Court when the case of the State vs. George L. Campbell was called up for trial. The case was a charge of selling intoxicating liquor. The testimony introduced was of a character to lead to the conviction of Campbell. Newton made the complaint upon which the case was based to Grand Juror Ferguson as a method of revenge upon Campbell. The two sides, however, introduced equally contradictory testimony and established the fact that some one other than Campbell had sold the liquor. The arguments contained very caustic references to the complainant, who left the court room during the progress of the trial. The case was called up for trial at 10 o'clock. The work of preparing the report of the findings has been divided among the members of the commission, each one having some department of the war. The individual reports will be finally made public.

Gov. Woodbury will return Friday night to his home in Enosburgh, where he will remain until the end of the year. He will go to South, to remain until early spring.

DEATH OF FATHER KERLIDOU.

Father Kerlidou, who has been in the Panny Allen hospital for the past four weeks, died Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. The deceased was born in Brittany, France, in 1858, and was a true missionary. He was Father Cloarec's assistant at St. Joseph's church in this city for a year. Then he was transferred to Newport and Vermont, where he has since remained, attending that town, Isaac La Motte and Father St. Ann until he came to the hospital.

CITY COURT.

There was very little business in City Court Thursday and the room was vacant the greater part of the day, a circumstance which is growing to be unusual. Several cases were pending, however, and the court was held by Judge Jacob Mitchell of Battery street was before the judge for the third consecutive day. This time it was on the disclosure in the case of the State vs. R. E. Totten for assault and robbery. Mitchell entered a plea of not guilty but was fined $100 and costs. An appeal was entered and $50 bail furnished.

THE NEWLY WAVED CAUSE.

The newly waved cause was the scene of a meeting in the city hall last evening by Manager J. R. McLaren to the employees of the Champlain shops. Over 100 guests were present, among them being President W. J. Van Catten of the Champlain Manufacturing company, Manager E. J. Booth of the Booth mill, and C. L. Smith of the Robinson-Edwards Lumber company. The degree to which pleasant relations may exist between the employer and the employed was never more handsomely illustrated. The climax of the pleasant evening was reached when Manager McLaren arose and in a few pleasant words addressed the President Van Catten a beautiful silver fruit dish as a token of the regard and esteem borne for him by the men of the shops.

REWARD OF $1000 OFFERED.

With the Great Fire.

There was little activity at the scene of the great fire of Saturday morning Monday and there is nothing to be done until the arrival of the insurance adjusters. These officials are expected in a day or two and their labors will not be arduous for the fire made very little damage to the property. The few cars loaded with lumber remaining in the depression at the corner of College and Battery streets will soon be estimated. The inventory theory is practically established and a reward of $1000 is offered for the capture of the culprit. John Lashway is still in jail but Clemmy Horvath, who was also arrested, was allowed to go home Tuesday. No additional arrests have been made. Lashway's story has a wide divergence and warrant his detention, to say the least.

THE HIGH SCHOOL REGISTER.

The first number of the High School Register, a publication of the city, is now being prepared. There are 12 pages of reading matter of interest to present and former students. There are some very readable editorials, two stories, original poetry, local album notes, a few good-natured "grinds" and a page of exchanges. In form the publication compares favorably with the University City, the editors explaining that the permanent cover design and headings failed to arrive in time for the first number. The Register reflects on the school and upon the board of eleven editors.

NOVELIST SUED FOR LIBEL.

A suit for libel against a newspaper is a common occurrence, but it is quite unusual that a novelist should be called to account in the same way. An action of this sort, however, is at present causing the noted French writer, Guy de Maupassant, to be troubled, and according to literature, published by Harper & Brothers, she is in court because of a certain passage in one of her latest books, "Le Journal d'un Grincheux." This passage is only a dozen words in length, and it states: "M. Trarieux became a Protestant for the sake of making an advantageous marriage." That might not seem at first sight a very serious charge, but the fact that M. Trarieux is a senator of the case. For each copy of the book sold Trarieux demands five hundred francs, the suppression of the passage in future editions, and fifty thousand francs damages. This is probably the only case of the kind on record, and the financial assistance of a novelist plunged into mourning by the enormous sales of her books.

A FAMILY ROW.

The O'Neills of Essex, Father and Two Sons, in City Court.

Michael O'Neill and his two sons, Thomas and Michael, of Essex were in City Court yesterday afternoon, the father as the prisoner and the son to give the evidence against the other being locked up in the Chittenden County jail under $200 bail, which he has not yet secured, to be held for County Court. The O'Neills have been courts before. Only about a week ago that the son Thomas was tried for a breach of the peace at Essex Junction and sentenced to six months of several dollars. The bad blood which was shown in this trial is the result of the hearing of evidence against the father, who is charged with an assault upon his son with intent to kill.

The trouble took place in Essex at the home of the O'Neills on Tuesday. Thomas had become so involved in trouble that he decided to leave the place and went to take away his gun. The father followed him closely until he was loading some things upon a wagon and he dealt the son two blows with a cane, which was exhibited in court. The case is of wood with a heavy lead covered head and is a dangerous weapon. Upon the lower end were stains of blood. The son was felled to the earth by the blows but soon got up and returned to the scene with a raised rock in his hands, as though he was prepared to dash his brains out. Mr. O'Neill then returned to the scene and the father was twice hit once. After this the other son, Michael, Jr., who gave testimony in court, pounded his father. Each sentence was granted by virtue of the fact that the father's name and delivered with looks of hatred alternately dashed at the two sons. Each was fined $200 and the old gentleman went to jail. The O'Neill family have never been entirely peaceful in disposition and one of the sons yesterday charged his father with having been in jail for having murdered a man many years ago. The old gentleman denied this and said his only son "to Sheriff Reeves' house."

TABLES WERE TURNED.

Respondent was Discharged and Complainant Arrested and Jailed.

Monday morning Silas Lapan of Colchester made his complaint in court for a breach of the peace against Allen of the same town. During the day a hearing was had before Justice H. H. Fuller of Milton and the case was referred to the complainant arrested and Monday night Lapan, the complainant, occupied Allen's place in the jail. Lapan was bound over for the grand jury on the charge of assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to kill.

It was the belief of the officers connected with the case when Allen was arrested he was less guilty than the complainant and that the complainant was in order to shield the real aggressor. The arrest occurred in the township of Milton, one week ago Saturday evening. The complainant was made out of court for the State and when it was found that the affair had occurred in Milton it was disclosed that the Grand Juror of Colchester had no jurisdiction. The case was begun and Monday the trial of Allen was held at Milton. State Attorney Brown appeared for the State and Allen was acquitted. Silas Lapan, the complainant against Allen, was then placed in jail and a hearing had which resulted in his being bound for the grand jury. Deputy Sheriff Ballou made the arrests.

The affair for which the arrests were made occurred late at night in Milton, Allen and a companion were returning from a party at the home of Mrs. Lapan and then, Lapan paying particular attention to Allen. After a few blows Lapan drew a hatchet from his pocket and struck Allen upon the arm and finally upon the head, knocking him down. Early the following morning Lapan entered a complaint against Allen for assault with a dangerous weapon. His arrest took place on Saturday and he returned to his home on Sunday.

GEORGE BURHAM CAPTURED.

Wanted in Chittenden County on Four Different Indictments.

An important arrest was made Monday at Northfield, Vt., when Constable H. J. Clayton secured George Burham, who is wanted in Chittenden County on four different indictments, says Tuesday's Plattsburgh Press.

Burham, alias Baker, is a man about 27 years of age, 5 feet 3 inches in height, weighing about 150 pounds. He has dark hair and mustache, dark complexion, a scar under his right eye. He is listed in the First Vermont volunteers at Rutland under the name of George Gardner.

Which credit is due Sheriff Vaughan and Chief Wool for their efforts in running this man down. Chief Wool has made several of the arrests and the others who had been seen, but Burham was always able to withdraw from the vicinity in time.

Burham has been a terror to the people of Champlain and Chazy for some time dropping in on them when they least expected him.

The indictments were made against him at this last court, one for grand larceny and the other for assault in the first degree.

Chief Wool traced him through Vermont, part of Canada, and back through northeastern New York, and then he disappeared from the scene of his capture in Vermont. He spent much of his time in the granite quarries of Barre, and was finally secured by Sheriff Vaughan of Chazy and brought to Plattsburgh last night.

Sheriff Vaughan considers this an important arrest, because of the fact that the man has caused in this county, but because there are chances that his arrest will clear up several of the most unexplainable robberies in the county when Komey Wells claimed was responsible for the robbery of Mr. Hays' barn and for the robbery of the Kimira Reformatory on Saturday.

RACES WHICH DID NOT PAY.

Suit to Recover a Share in Losses at Howland Park.

If a suit entered in City Court Tuesday morning and continued for two weeks may be taken as a sign that a race meeting which has failed to pay, the suit is that of George M. Lippert, who has a share in a race track which is set forth as the one third share of the losses at the race meeting held at Howland Park last fall.

The suit is entered by the name of Messrs. Delaney and Wilder were two, agreed to hold the race meeting at Howland Park and to share equally in the profits or losses. The meeting was held and did not prove a success from a monetary standpoint and Mr. Wilder refused to accept his share of the losses. Hence the suit.

CLAIMED TO REPRESENT A FASHION COMPANY.

A Brandon correspondent writes that about a month ago a man who gave his name as L. C. Hood with an office at 44 West 12th Street, New York City, claimed to represent the New York Fashion company, called on her and obtained $1 for a year's subscription to Massena's Silverside Guide. She has not received the publication and a letter sent to the address given was returned to her.

As a cure for rheumatism Chamberlain's Pain Balm is gaining a wide reputation. Dr. B. Johnston of Richmond, Ind., has been troubled with that ailment since 1922. In speaking of it he says: "I have found nothing that would relieve me until I used Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It acts like magic with me. My foot was swollen and scarcely any in Burlington made application of Pain Balm relieved me. For sale by R. B. Stearns & Co., Druggists."

RESISTED AN OFFICER.

Deputy Sheriff Ballou of Winooski arrested two men in Winooski Saturday night and placed them in the jail at this city. One will be charged with intoxication and the other with resisting the officer and with a breach of the peace upon an electric car. Walter Kidder was first arrested for intoxication and Charles Lippert was arrested with him. Lippert claimed that if Kidder was arrested he should accompany him. This proved true in that Lippert refused to go with Kidder away from the deputy Kidder was turned over to another man and Ladou went along as traveling companion but not until he had been formally dealt with, but that would have been the case had he conducted himself in a more peaceable manner.
