

VERDICT OF $500 FOR POWELL

Woodbury Brothers Will Carry Case to Supreme Court.

Action was brought to recover for alleged malicious prosecution—Plaintiff claimed Hotel Burlington Depreciated $8,000.

The jury in the Powell-Woodbury suit Tuesday morning in Chittenden county court returned a verdict for Max L. Powell to recover $500 and costs.

Mr. Powell will proceed, according to a statement made yesterday, under the original suit to sue for damages on the $5,000 bond which had been furnished.

The suit in which the verdict was returned Tuesday is known as Max L. Powell, trustee for George M. Delaney, vs. Edward P. and Charles L. Woodbury.

It was an action to recover for alleged malicious prosecution, Mr. Powell claiming that the Woodburys held up by injunction his auction sale of the old Hotel Burlington so long that it depreciated in value about $8,000.

In county court Tuesday the suit for alienation of a husband's affections brought by Mrs. Lina Isham, wife of Edson A. Isham, against Anna Yantz, wife of Otto Yantz, was discontinued.

The case of Harry Strong and Emma Strong vs. Forepaugh & Sells Brothers' united shows, was entered settled and discontinued. This was one of the several suits brought by spectators who were injured when a part of the seats of the Forepaugh-Sells Brothers' circus collapsed during a performance here some years ago.

SCHOOL AT ROCK POINT.

Plans for Alterations Accepted and Work Will Start at Once.

At a meeting of the trustees of the Vermont Episcopal Institute held at the bishop's house, Rock point, the plans and estimates submitted by A. L. Lawrence for the alterations and repairs at Bishop Hopkins hall were accepted.

Unavoidable delay in completing plans and estimates have made it impossible for the trustees to make arrangements for the reopening of the school, as had been hoped, next fall.

Work on the plumbing by the Blodgett company, and on the wiring by the Burlington Light & Power company will be begun at once.

To complete, the necessary alterations will cost about $10,000, and for this the trustees need $5,500 beyond what they now have available.

The principal of the $100,000 endowment fund cannot, of course, be touched, and it is of the greatest importance that the school should open in the fall of 1912 with that year's income intact for school purposes.

Bishop Hall has gathered from friends outside of Vermont a large portion of the endowment fund, and contributions have been made from all over the State. The trustees feel that they may look for help at this point to residents and business men of Burlington, which will largely benefit by the presence of the school.

RUTLAND CLERKS THREATEN STRIKE

Union Representative Serves Notice That Discharged Men Must Have a Hearing.

Rutland, April 25.—E. S. Sherwood of New York, grand local representative of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, who is here in the interest of the men discharged by the Rutland railroad last Friday on the ground, as they claimed, that they were afflicted with a new union formed among the clerks of the general offices, today sent word to General Manager George T. Jarvis of the Rutland road that unless he received a committee of the clerks, all the other union clerks will take some decisive step.

The committee made an attempt to see Mr. Jarvis Monday but was refused admittance to his office. Mr. Jarvis was out of town to-day and Mr. Sherwood sent to him by letter the committee's demand for the reinstatement of the discharged men or that some good reason be given for their dismissal.

UNVEIL TABLET FRIDAY.

Patriotic Societies to Attend Ceremony in General Lincoln's Honor.

It is now evident that the ceremonies connected with the unveiling of the bronze tablet to be placed in the Mary Fletcher Library in honor of the late General Emerson H. Lincoln will be largely attended by all the leading army and navy societies as well as delegations from civil life.

Governor J. A. Mend and staff as well as Mrs. Lincoln, widow of the general, are expected and seats will be reserved for the invited guests and as many as space will permit will be placed for the use of the general public.

The exercises will begin at 10:30 Friday morning and the spectators should be in their seats by ten o'clock. A list of the societies which have been invited to attend follows:

Major and city officials of Burlington. Officers of the United States army and navy and ladies at Fort Ethan Allen and Burlington. Trustees of the Fletcher Free Library, Vermont Commandery, Military Order of the Royal Legion.

Standard Post, No. 2, G. A. R. Sons of Veterans, Camp William Wells, Spanish-American War veterans, Society of Foreign Wars, Company M, 1st Vermont regiment, Woman's Relief Corps, Gardfield Circle, Ladies of the G. A. R. Ladies' Auxiliary, Spanish-American War.

Resident members, Vermont Society of Colonial Wars. Resident members, Colonial Dames. Resident members, Vermont Society, Sons of the American Revolution, Green Mountain Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Clergy of Burlington.

Faculty of the U. V. M. and S. A. C. Members of the Burlington bar. The above organizations are requested to notify T. S. Peck's office not later than Thursday morning as to the number of members that will be present in order that a sufficient number of seats may be reserved.

VERMONT NOTES

Mrs. Hannah Slayton Holt of South Woodstock, aged 98 years, works regularly at her knitting.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold its district meeting at Swanton Wednesday, May 3.

The old home at Highgate of John G. Saxe, the well-known Vermont poet, has been put in repair, with its former appearance carefully preserved.

Henry W. Hudson, inventor of the widely known "Hudson system" of cutting garments, is dead at his home in St. Johnsbury. He was a prominent Mason.

Some 40 or 50 members of the Adirondack Mountain club of Boston plan to enjoy an outing on Mount Mansfield and Camel's Hump the coming season.

Pharmacists' licenses have been granted to Henry R. Church of Bellows Falls, H. D. Davenport of Bennington and Arthur H. Lalloche of Barre, and assistant's certificates, to W. E. Chapman of Fairlee, E. Floyd Libby of Rutland, Harold W. Cole of Bennington, George P. Donovan of Rutland, A. W. Billings of Stowe, H. W. Drew of Hardwick, Frank A. Nutting of Plainfield, Volney K. Young of Newport and E. H. Easton of Brattleboro. The examinations were held at Montpelier April 11.

The Rev. Edward E. Wells, the Rev. Frederick A. Wells and the Rev. G. Leon Wells, all brothers, and all grandsons of the late Rev. George L. Wells of Hardwick, are Methodist Episcopal ministers. Until the death last year of the grandfather, all four were members of the Vermont conference. The Rev. E. E. Wells was transferred recently to the New England southern conference. The Rev. F. A. Wells is pastor at Brattleboro, and the Rev. G. Leon Wells has just taken the charge at Irasburg formerly held by the Rev. E. E. Wells. The Rev. Oscar B. Wells, also of the Vermont conference, is a cousin of the Wells brothers.

ASKED TO DEFINE MEANING OF LADY

Representative Korbly Not Satisfied with Explanation of Snub at Annapolis.

Washington, April 24.—Who and what is a lady of the United States? Many society people in Washington think that this question is clearly involved in the official utterances of the secretary of the navy, who has directed Captain J. M. Boyce, superintendent of the United States Naval Academy, to apologize to Professor Beers and his daughter, Miss Mary Beers, who was snubbed at Annapolis because she was a "working girl."

Secretary Meyer's letter, in which he speaks of the "distasteful" Miss Beers, was written to Representative Korbly of Indiana, who championed the cause of Miss Beers, and is as follows: April 22, 1911.

My Dear Congressman: I very much regret the incident to which you refer in your letter of the 19th inst. It grew out of a misunderstanding of the status of the young lady. The superintendent of the Naval Academy in a letter received to-day explains his position.

The department has directed that Captain Boyce, the superintendent, address a letter of apology to Mr. Beers and his daughter.

Believe me, faithfully yours, (Signed) G. V. L. MEYER.

No one here apparently knows what is meant by the status of a woman in countries where there is no official rank and title.

KORBLY IS NOT SATISFIED. It would seem that some kind of status is necessary to qualify for enjoyment of the society at the Naval Academy.

The explanation of the young lady, who the "person" she who raised the row and the question of the status of the woman. Representative Korbly therefore proposes to repeat his queries to the navy department for the "facts." He says:

"I am asked for the facts and the secretary of the navy has not given them. I shall repeat my request for the facts. I also regret the incident shown Miss Beers, and the inevitable embarrassment she has suffered, but expressions of regret do not explain."

Most Washington women and visiting women of importance take the side of Miss Beers.

AN HONOR TO EARN LIVING. "I think it an honor for a woman to earn her living," said Miss Mabel Boardman, "but I don't think the officials in Annapolis meant the young affair girl as it was taken generally, of course there are certain places for the officers and other enlisted men. That is a matter of discipline. Because a young woman is obliged to work should not put her outside of the sphere of her kind and there will never be such a custom in America, of any great extent at any rate."

Mrs. M. E. Wray, regarding the typical D. A. R. chapter of Newburg, N. Y., said: "When one thinks of such noble women as Anne Morgan and Helen Gould, who work and find glory in the activities of life, and both representative women of America, I should think we would not have to stoop to find a complete answer to the snubfulness that appears to be the motive in the case of Miss Beers. It is rather late in the history of the republic, I should say, to attempt to discredit one who works honorably for an honorable living."

"We can't begin to make any such distinction in this country. I am very glad to say," said Mrs. R. M. La Follette, "I am as any other true American woman and mother would bitterly resent the attempt of any official, however exalted, to make social distinctions in official life. A working woman should be welcomed in any sphere that her education and general bearing will entitle her to."

PROMINENT WOMEN EMPLOYED. "A young woman who works should be given the same social recognition as her brother who also works," was the comment of Mrs. A. L. Barber, "whoever heard of a man being barred from society because he earned money?"

"That one could look down upon and insult a young girl of educated manner, both and breeding, well advised and of pleasing personality, simply because she works for a living is simply because she is a real American," said Mrs. William Cummings Story, honorary state report of New York.

Among society girls in Washington work for a living are: Miss Isabel Hagner, formerly secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt; Miss Alice Biech, former secretary to Mrs. Taft; Miss Katherine Lettermann, Mrs. Taft's private secretary; Miss Alma Ruggles, secretary to Mrs. MacVeagh; Miss Juliette Patten, Miss Maude Ashford; Miss Olga Converse and Miss Maud Converse and many others.

FAMILY ACCEPTS APOLOGY. New Haven, April 24.—The family of Professor Henry A. Beers of Yale regret the incident of the snubbing of his daughter, Mary Heaton Beers, at the Annapolis Naval Academy as closed with the sending of the apology by Captain Boyce, superintendent of the academy. Miss Beers is in Brooklyn with her brother, Henry A. Beers, Jr. He refused to discuss the case.

MANY DELEGATES IN CITY

Grand Lodge Session of N. E. O. P. Transacts Business.

Interest, Enthusiasm and Harmony Mark Gathering—Order in Flourishing Condition—Many Death Claims Paid—Future Bright.

The 22nd annual grand lodge session of the Vermont jurisdiction, New England Order of Protection, was one of the largest meetings in the history of the organization in this State. About 100 delegates were present. Nearly every lodge in the jurisdiction was represented, some by large delegations.

The day's work began at 8:30 Tuesday morning in the Knights of Pythias hall on Church street. Henry R. Hill of Burlington, grand warden of the Vermont order, occupied the chair. The usual business was transacted, including the presentation of officers' reports. The grand warden, in his annual report, stated that he had visited 27 subordinate lodges, and that 15 lodges had observed the 22nd anniversary of the grand lodge or held class initiations the past year.

The new lodge organized were three in membership. Grand City Lodge in Barre began with a membership of 63, Red Clover Lodge of St. Johnsbury, with 57 members, and Camel's Hump of Richmond, with 24. The St. Johnsbury lodge has grown rapidly, and now has a membership of 121.

GAIN IN MEMBERSHIP. Grand Secretary Bartlett of St. Johnsbury reported a very satisfactory gain in membership throughout the State. There has been a net increase of 25 members. The banner lodges of the State are as follows: Vermont of Burlington, 154; Green Mountain of St. Johnsbury, 161; Marble of Rutland, 151; Williams of Bennington, 232; Stannard of Montpelier, 263; Barre of Barre, 257; Lamotte of Montpelier, 125; Evergreen of Hardwick, 224; Brattleboro of Brattleboro, 179; Red Clover of St. Johnsbury, 131; Summit of Graniteville, 121; Holly of Northfield, 106; Granite City of Barre, 138.

DEATH CLAIMS TOTAL $3,550. Upon 28 death claims presented during the year there was paid $3,550. Death claims previously paid amount to $77,000, making a total of $80,550. The insurance in force in Vermont amounts to $1,945,500, the increase for the past year being $141,500.

The grand lodge degree was conferred during the morning session by the grand lodge officers.

There were a number of brief addresses in the afternoon, the speakers expressing hopeful and optimistic opinions as to the future of the fraternity in Vermont. Supreme Warden E. A. Rice of Boston, reviewed the present condition of the order, spoke of its excellent standing, and outlined future expectations. Grand Warden P. Edward Whalen of Connecticut presented greetings from the grand lodge of his own State. Supreme Secretary Daniel F. Frye of Somerville, Mass., urged the Vermonters to greater efforts for the advancement of the order, and made some interesting statements in regard to its growth and size.

Supreme Treasurer John P. Sanborn of Newport, R. I., presented statistics showing the sums of money received and paid out by the supreme lodge, as well as the total amount of insurance in force throughout New England.

Other speakers yesterday were Supreme Vice-Warden David R. Sherwood of Providence, R. I., and Frederick T. Peabody of Melrose, Mass., who is past supreme warden.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS. The following officers for the coming year were elected: Grand warden, Henry R. Hill of Burlington, re-elected; grand vice-warden, the Hon. H. William Scott of Barre; grand secretary, H. A. Bartlett of St. Johnsbury, re-elected; grand treasurer, Henry R. Bartlett of Burlington, re-elected; grand guide, Dr. C. M. Burgees of Waterbury; grand chaplain, Mrs. Helen Herlock of Springfield; grand guardian, Mrs. P. J. Foster of Rutland; grand sentinel, Mrs. Mary Rinz of Montpelier; grand chairman of financial committee, F. D. Fillmore of Bennington; grand chairman of committee on laws, C. T. S. Pierce of Vergennes; grand chair-man of committee on credentials, P. J. Foster of Rutland.

The supreme lodge meets in Boston this week on Tuesday, and the meeting elected Mr. Hill and Mr. Fillmore as representatives from Vermont, to serve for three years.

The meeting of the order was marked by interest, enthusiasm and harmony. Adjournment was taken about 1:30, the delegates leaving town on the late trains yesterday.

SONNET OF THE BOSTONIAN. (News Item)—The exclusive and fashionable Clubmen of Boston has been granted a license to serve intoxicating liquor.

Oh, dainties of effete Boston, what is up? Would you forsake the "placate bean," And in your gay and festive time be seen A-quaffing the intoxicating cup? Ah, we are not! Instead of lily themes, Which ye were wont to forefete to de-

The address of your doctored haunt will be Pierced thus: "Two whiskey straight, three up, one down!" Dear Boston, birthplace of the serious muse, We really do not like to see at all Thy dainties from off the water wagon fall.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulata relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—Mrs. Davis, Green, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

home here, said: "With the receipt of the apology the incident will be regarded closed."

It is understood that Miss Mary Beers has been invited to Annapolis, where she will be accompanied by Mrs. Tarrant. As Mrs. Tarrant had previously received Miss Beers into society at West Point, where she was present at all Military Academy dances last summer, her reception at Annapolis became all the more embarrassing.

GRAND LODGE SESSION

New England Order of Protection Meetings.

Reception and Dance Monday—90 Delegates Attend Convention—Supreme Warden Rice and Other Visitors Here.

Last Monday the Masonic Temple hall was the scene of a brilliant entertainment given by the Burlington Lodge, New England Order of Protection, in honor of the delegates assembled in this city to attend the annual grand lodge session of Vermont. At eight o'clock there was a reception, the receiving line being made up of Grand Warden Henry R. Hill and Mrs. Hill, Grand Treasurer Henry H. Davis, Warden E. W. Crannell of Vermont Lodge, No. 36, the local organization and the vice-warden, Mrs. Blanche Bissonette.

An address of welcome was delivered by the Rev. Charles Staples, who extended a hearty greeting to the visitors not forgetting a word of praise for Burlington. Grand Warden Hill spoke briefly, and introduced Hon. H. William Scott, city judge of Barre, who responded on behalf of the visitors. He was followed by E. A. Rice of Boston, supreme warden of the order, who was at his best in discussing the aims and work of the fraternity. His interesting and instructive address closed with a word of counsel to the Vermont brothers and sisters.

Between the speeches there were a number of musical selections, splendidly rendered by the Vermont quartet, and Lee's Orchestra furnished music for the dancing.

Shortly after nine o'clock the grand march was led by Mr. Rice and Mrs. Hill. A large number of couples taking part. This was followed by a quadrille, and the dancing continued until midnight.

About 115 were present at the reception and dance. Some 90 delegates from the 28 lodges are expected, and about 75 of them were in attendance last evening.

Besides Mr. Rice, there are a number of distinguished visitors from outside of the State. These include Daniel F. Sherwood of Providence, R. I., supreme vice-warden; Daniel E. Frye of Somerville, Mass., supreme secretary; John P. Sanborn of Newport, R. I., supreme treasurer; Frederick T. Peabody of Melrose, Mass., past supreme warden; P. Edward Whalen of New Haven, Conn., past warden of Connecticut, and William H. Howe of Winchester, Mass.

BRADSTREET'S WEEKLY VERMONT TRADE REPORT.

Reports to Bradstreet's for the week show labor fairly well employed and more activity among the building trades. The weather conditions for this week have been more favorable for retail trade and trade has taken on a brisker tone than at any time this spring. Maple sugar season is still holding good and is longer than usual. In this respect what promised to be a short crop, has proven to be one of the best the farmers have had for several years. In some instances the season has been so good that sugar tools have been stored but in a majority of cases the work is still being conducted with profit. While no definite prices have been made, the high prices received, at the commencement of the season do not now obtain.

Reports from manufacturers of small shipping boxes and turned wood products, for a better grade of product. Wholesale dealers in food stuffs report normal trade. Demand for general hardware and supplies is reported reasonably good. With the opening up of building trade dealers in paints and general supplies report active buying. Collections are more or less slow although in certain lines some improvement is noted.

Burlington retail merchants report past week's business has shown more activity than has been apparent for some time and attribute this to more favorable weather. Navigation on the broad lake opened the present week. Reports from Rutland show labor well employed and some improvement in retail trade. At St. Albans labor is said in good demand. Cold weather has affected retail trade thus far but returns from maple sugar crop are coming in and this will benefit retail trade to a considerable extent. Reports from St. Johnsbury speak well regarding prospects for building work; manufacturers are working to full time and demand, generally, holds up well.

Weather conditions are commented upon by retail merchants at Montpelier as being a factor in regarding a larger general business, they speak encouragingly regarding the near future. Barre reports situation as to labor is but little changed. Retail trade is said reasonably good and volume of business done so far compares reasonably well with normal years. Brattleboro reports mills operating full time and a reasonably good business ahead. Labor of all kinds is fully employed and while there has been no heavy buying, retail trade is reasonably good. Bennington reports all manufacturing plants, with exception of two or three mills, employed to capacity. Some improvement is reported among retail merchants. Bellows Falls reports but little change in general condition. There is a fair demand for labor, but like other places in the State, cold weather has retarded spring trade. Middlebury reports more new building work to be commenced this spring. Among other plans is a new school building.

Forecasters John K. Hooper of the local weather bureau station said yesterday that Burlington may expect some really warm, springlike days during the latter part of this week. For the first time this season there is a large area of high pressure overlying the entire eastern part of the United States, from the Mississippi to the seaboard, associated with an approaching area of low pressure in just the right way to bring higher temperatures and opening buds.

The warm period, however, will probably not continue after Sunday, although there is no reason to expect a marked fall in the thermometer at that time. Rain will doubtless accompany or follow the warmer weather of this week.

At the weather observatory on Williston road things are in their usual ship-shape condition. The comfort and convenience of the building is being increased by the laying of the floors in the bath room and lavatory, a local hardware firm having the contract for this work.
