QUINTARD'S TROUBLES.

Released from One Jall Only to Be Placed in Another. Charles A. Quintard of the 'Doll's House" company is in a position to pas-indgment on the comparative merits of two of Vermont's jails, since he was liberated from one only to find himself i another. He was recently discharged from the Chittenden county Jall, where be was placed for an unpaid hotel bill; and went to Rutland. There William M. Dunn, advance agent for the company, sued him for $500 for back salary and a Quintard could not furnish ball he went ehind the bars again.

The tables were turned Tuesday, when Dunn was also placed in jall, in default of bail, a civil suit for $1,000 having be brought against aim by Mr. Quintard.

Both cases are returnable at the Soptember term of Rutland county court Quintard and his wife, Hortense Nielsen Quintard, allege that Dunn has not turned over certain moneys belonging to the plaintiffs which he received in a fiduciary apacity. Dunn complained that his salary is in arrears.

The members of the 'Doll's House ompany have been in Rutland several days, awaiting an adjustment of their troubles. They have been playing in numerous small towns with inadequate financial returns.
