The ice in the river at the gorge has gone away back to only 14 or 15 inches above the height reported in mid-winter, whereas it was several feet higher than a few days ago. There is, therefore, little likelihood of its going out for some time, although in a few places the ice is somewhat worn. With the deep snows in the woods, a few days' continuous rain would probably cause considerable dam-

Spring Medicine

There is no other season when medicine is so much needed as in the spring. The blood is impure and impeded—a condition indicated by pimples and other eruptions of the face and body, by deficient vitality, loss of appetite, lack of strength.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It purifies and enriches the blood, cures all skin diseases, and is used in some places, but a raise of five feet at the gorge would be required to move the ice out.

Pine, charged with the murder of a woman, returned a verdict of guilty and the respondent was sentenced to serve not less than two nor more than three years in State's prison at Windsor. William Powers of Winslow, a colored man, pleaded guilty to a breach of the peace and was fined $25 without costs, which he paid. The case grew out of an assault committed some time ago. Clara Schurman pleaded guilty to selling liquor illegally and was sentenced to serve not less than eleven nor more than twelve months in jail, sentence being suspended and the respondent placed in the care of the probation officer.

The University of Vermont baseball team started Wednesday night of last week on a southern trip, without having had any opportunity for out-door practice. The first game was played with Trinity College at Durham, N. C., Friday, Trinity winning by a score of 2 to 1 in 11 innings. A game on Saturday with North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College at Raleigh went 11 innings without either side scoring. At Lexington, Va., on Monday the team defeated Washington and Lee by a score of 7 to 1, Malcolm pitching a no-hit game. Another game at the same place Tuesday was cancelled because of rain. Yesterday at Washington the team was defeated by Georgetown, the score being 4 to 1. Games to-morrow and Saturday will bring the trip to an end.

Burlingtonians who went to New York Thursday night, over the Rutland and New York Central roads, were jarred on the way down, according to the Albany Times-Union of Friday evening, which said: "At the mouth of the Montgomery tunnel between Peekskill and Monticello a big rock, dislodged by the heavy rains and the passing trains, rolled down on to the tracks on train 42, with the Rutland and D. & H. sleepers from the north. The rock struck the side of one of the sleepers, and derailed it and the other cars to the rear. The stout construction of the sleepers saved the passengers, many of whom were still in their seats. From injury. They were all transferred to the coaches in the forward part of the train and taken on to New York."

The two weeks' campaign for old rubber and paper, conducted by the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A., was announced Monday as won by the team headed by F. A. Cumming. Mr. Cumming's team produced a total of 3,588 and 43 pounds of paper and 230 pounds of rubber, while the losing team, headed by W. V. McArthur, brought in 2,265 and 142 pounds of paper and 114 pounds of rubber. Thus a total of 5,853 pounds of paper and 372 pounds of rubber was in all secured, and that means practically 25 for the benefit of the department. Malcolm Johnson of the losing team won first prize, a year's membership in the association, by producing 1,286 pounds of paper and 59 1/2 pounds of rubber. The second prize was won by John Parrar of the losing team, who got 1,000 pounds of paper and 48 pounds of rubber. "Child" prize, $1, was won by Marjorie Miller of Brookline avenue with 1,000 pounds of paper and 48 pounds of rubber.

Another quartette of drunks filled the bench in city court yesterday morning and received the usual penalties for over-indulgence in stimulants. The first to receive his sentence was Joseph Smith, who didn't have anything to say, having said it all and more to the night before. He received a sentence of 15 and costs, as did Carl Moody, another second offender. George Laroo, who was more in noisive at the game than the others, was in the poorest physical condition and shakily pleaded guilty to being drunk. He received 15 and costs. L. M. Sturteck, the veteran, appeared brimming over with good spirits and said that he hadn't been drunk the night before. He was found guilty and fined $5 and costs, but took an appeal. E. G. Webster became surety in the sum of $100 for his appearance in county court. As Joseph Smith had the only one obliged by law to disclose, he took an appeal, no disclosure was taken.

The spring meeting of the Winslow association of Congregational Ministers was held Monday at the College Street church parlors. Prof. Evan Thomas presided in the absence of the moderator, the Rev. W. W. Smith of Colchester. Prayer was offered by the Rev. R. G. Woodbridge of Vermont. The Rev. S. H. Barnum of Jericho Center read a review of a book, "The Minister and the Spiritual Life," written by one of the members of the association, which was afterwards discussed. In the afternoon Prof. Thomas read a paper on "The Religious Life in College." The members present dined at the Van Ness. The Rev. William Chamberlain of Jericho and the Rev. M. Potter of Williston were present and were invited to attend the following members: Prof. S. P. Emerson, of St. Albans; Dr. D. C. Strong of Milton and the Rev. D. I. C. Smart were appointed a committee to prepare a program for next year, the committee to report at the June meeting.

The ladies of the First Church held the closing social of the season Friday in the parish house, with a supper and entertainment attended by about 20 members of the church and their friends. The program following the supper opened with a reading, "The Seven Acts of Shylock," a leap year version of the Shakespearean play, "Merchant of Venice," participated in by four characters. The playlet was written and originally presented at Smith College. Dr. T. S. Brown took the part of Shylock, and the other parts were carried out by Miss Elizabeth Van Buren, Miss Katharine Worcester and Miss Helen P. Bradley. The second number was "Lullaby" by Miss Marjorie Jordan and Miss Joannette Rogers, followed by a vocal solo by Mrs. Harriet P. Willard, the accompaniment in both cases being rendered by Mrs. Jordan, and the entertainment closed with a piano solo by Miss Ruth Buxton.

A meeting of the Modern Woodmen of America of Chittenden county was held Friday in the rooms of the Alpha camp on College street for the discussion of the new rates which were the occasion of a meeting of the delegates to the head camp in Chicago last January. In addition to a number of local speakers, including State Deputy A. O. Palmer, Judge H. S. Peck and others, State Lecturer Benjamin Bates of Montpelier presided at the meeting. Bates expressed himself as being well satisfied with the result of the change. Delegates were present from every camp in Chittenden county which includes Burlington, Winslow, Colchester, Milton, Williston, Richmond, Shelburne, Jericho, Union, Ferrisburgh, Hinesburgh and Huntington. Among the other speakers of note were National Delegates Joseph Cobb of this city and P. M. Libby of Rutland. The evening closed with an informal chat about Woodmen affairs.

A fire which looked as though it was going to wipe out a considerable section of the north end of the city was discovered shortly after five o'clock Sunday afternoon in a barn belonging to Morris Smith in the rear of his residence on First street. It was started by a cigarette stub which a stableman had carelessly thrown on the floor and which had become far advanced. An alarm was rung in from box 57 and some men nearby got into the building and saved a cow and some horses which were in the barn. One horse which was valued at not more than $20, was burned to death as no one thought of him in the scramble. Aside from this and the total destruction of the building, a number of bales of rags, the property of S. H. Miller, were damaged to some extent. No insurance was carried on the rags but there was a small amount on the barn. A strong north wind prevailed at the time and three streams of fire started in the barn and in preventing the flames from spreading to a number of nearby buildings.

OBITUARY

Rev. B. W. Atwell. The Rev. Benjamin Warren Atwell, D. D., died suddenly Wednesday March 27 at his home in Newton, Mass. For about 13 years he was rector of Trinity Church in Shelburne, serving in the rectorship there eight years and this, although he was frequently in demand to supply work. After leaving Shelburne he spent about two years in this city with his wife, Mrs. Atwell, who died last October, and his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dearborn. They removed to Newton, Mass., about six years ago. The present summer they spent on Block Island, off the coast of Maine. Dr. Atwell was graduated from St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y., and the University of Vermont bestowed upon him the degree of Doctor of Divinity some eight years ago.

For Atwell he was in his 74th year, having been born in August, 1837, in Wakefield, Vt. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Atwell, who removed while he was very young to Lowell, where the son attended the public schools. He later studied for the Universalist ministry and attended St. Lawrence University at Canton, N. Y. After his ordination he experienced a change of faith, and became a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church. In his career as a clergyman his first parish was St. Stephen's Church in Lynn, from which he went to Grace Church in Providence, R. I., and after a while to Puttville, Pa., and still later to a parish in Shelburne, Vt. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Dearborn, and a sister, Mrs. A. B. Hurl of Stoneham.

Mrs. Sarah M. Stockwell. Mrs. Sarah M. Stockwell, widow of Joseph Stockwell, well known in Burlington for many years, died at her home, 30 North Windsor avenue, Thursday afternoon at 11:30 o'clock. Death was due to pneumonia. Mrs. Stockwell was born in Salem, N. Y., in 1821, and had lived in Burlington since 1901. She had always resided in the same house and had seen many changes in the vicinity since first coming to Burlington. Mrs. Stockwell was a member of the Unitarian Church, 88 1/2 is survived by her son, Carl P. Stockwell, both of this city. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, with burial in Lake View cemetery.

Mrs. Napoleon Therrien, Burlington, Vt., says: "While suffering from a severe case of kidney trouble, I was advised to try Foley's Kidney Pills. HUTCHINS-PEASE.

Elmore Merchant Came to Burlington for His Bride. Miss Grace W. Pease was married yesterday afternoon at three o'clock to Harry G. Hutchins of Elmore, and after a brief wedding trip, following which they will reside in Elmore. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. G. Denture, pastor of the First Church, in the home of the bride, 117 S. Wood street. A presence of a small circle of relatives and intimate friends.

The bride was gown in a traveling suit of blue chiffon broadcloth, and was not attended. The wedding march from Lohengrin was played by Mrs. Frank J. Sullivan, accompanying George D. Eddy, violinist, who also played De Koven's "O Promise Me Anthing" and others. The house was tastefully decorated by Peters, the florist, with palms and cut flowers. A libal refreshments of punch, ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. W. J. Nichols, sister of the bride. Miss Jennie Perry and Miss Gladys Phelps.

In spite of the fact that those present were keeping a strict watch over the bride and groom, who were thought for a time that it would be impossible to escape undetected, it was suddenly discovered that the pair were missing, and all too late the party saw Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins taking their departure in a carriage at the neighboring street corner. They had succeeded in sending a boy after the conveyance, and by hurrying out of the back door and into the house adjoining, they had reached the carriage before their absence was noticed. It is supposed that they took an evening train for Boston. They are to be at home in Elmore for Easter.

Mrs. Hutchins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Pease of this city. After graduating from the Burlington high school in the class of 1904 she taught school for two years and then took a course in stenography at the Burlington Business College, from which she graduated in the past year and on her first year she has been with the firm of George D. Jarvis & Son, as stenographer and bookkeeper. She has a wide circle of friends in this vicinity who join in extending congratulations and best wishes. The groom is a rising young merchant at Elmore where he is popular and highly esteemed—among all with whom he has come in contact.

GRAND LARCENY CHARGED.

Amos La Pine on Trial for Alleged Theft of $54. Amos La Pine, charged with the theft of $54 from Mrs. Rose Mitchell one day last summer, was placed on trial in Chittenden county court Tuesday and the case went to the jury late in the afternoon.

The story of La Pine's alleged theft is related on the pages ahead Tuesday, and to the effect that the respondent appeared at Mrs. Mitchell's restaurant on Henry street and requested an egg sandwich. It is alleged that while Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Mitchell's granddaughter, was absent for the sandwich, La Pine lost his desire to eat and when the girl returned he is alleged to have been his way out of the place, and a pocket book said to have contained $54 is alleged also to have been missing. The prosecution brought out testimony to show that La Pine had a considerable amount of money after he left the restaurant. The defense in the case was that La Pine did take some money, but not as large an amount as Mrs. Mitchell claimed and not enough to constitute the offense of grand larceny, as charged.

It is the most popular fabric for women's and children's tub dresses, shirt waists, men's pajamas and negligee shirts. It is made for service and gives it, and is the ideal tub fabric—32 inches wide—26c per yard.

monumental manufacturers. Among the marble manufacturers the situation shows gains and labor is better employed. In the slate manufacturing center certain grades of roofing slate have not moved well. The slate business so far this year has not been as good as usual. There is reported considerable stock on hand and at the present time several quarries are closing owing to lack of coal for one reason. With the opening of the spring season the outlook is reported better than it has been for some time. During the past week there has been more inquiry and carload
