Frank St. Louis, who has just finished serving a term of three months for stealing hams, was in city court Friday and was fined $5 and costs for another of the old charges, and relatives settled the bail. The entire north section of the city had suffered when Officers Thomas Collins and Miss Inevaded quite a number of the missing fowls. St. Louis' arrest followed immediately and many recognized their own and regained them.

The former leaves a child 19 months old and the latter a wife and a boy of 10 years. The only thing they had to say in city court Thursday was that they were harassed by the gossip of their home town and thought last Saturday that they would come to Burlington. Mr. Abair, however, became deeply incensed and followed the pair and that was the cause of the warrant. Before Judge Palmer they were placed under $500 bail each, but no one appeared for them and unless arrangements are made they will remain in jail until the county court disposes of the case.

Boardman, whose residence is given as Cambridge, is in Chittenden county jail on a charge of adultery, having been brought here from Lamotte on account of the lack of a jail there since Hyde Park. Boardman was arrested here about a month ago. He was committed for want of bail in the sum of $500, his hearing being set for June 4. State's Attorney H. B. Shaw has filed in the county clerk's office an information against Graham Wilson, proprietor of a second-class business office, charging him with knowingly selling liquor to a man who was not the person who intended to buy it. The information grows out of the seizure by Sheriff Allen of a wagon load of liquor in charge of George MacBeth and destined to be delivered to Clarence Blufford's place near Fort Ethan Allen. MacBeth was fined in city court $50 and costs with an alternate sentence of 30 days in jail, but sentence was suspended and he was placed in the hands of the probation officer. In Wilson's case, bail has been fixed at $50, which has been furnished. The liquor law provides that holders of second or seventh class licenses cannot sell liquor to a person who is a servant or agent for another party, who is the actual purchaser.

The large number of Burlingtonians who attended the auction of James Farley's racing stables, in Plattsburgh, have now returned to Burlington. The report that many of the horses went at a rather low price. The entire string of eleven which were sold brought a total of $10,750, the prices ranging from $150, which was paid for Wingo, to $2,500, which was paid for Rex McKinney by J. H. Heston of the University. $5000 for Lora of Iowa. The latter offer was received by letter and as no one bid over it the horse, which is considered to be one of the best bred in northern New York, went to him. Among the other horses sold were Louisa Jack, who went to W. W. Knapp of Moores for $2, and Cobalt, and the Hotchkiss, who was purchased by L. B. Jenkins for $700. When Prince C. was brought out Mr. Farley stated that he would not be offered for sale for less than $1,000 and as no such offer was made the horse remained unsold. After the sale of the horses, which took place on the high school grounds, the racers could be shown on the track. The party went to the stables where gullies, blankets, and other articles of the horse world were disposed of at low figures. Mr. Farley has improved so much from his recent illness that he was able to be around during the sale and drive some of the horses.

Cattle Commissioner E. L. Davis of White River Junction was seen Monday at the Van Ness House and reported that the condition of the herds which have been tested for tuberculosis over the State is far better than ever before since the testing was begun, 15 years ago, and stated that the disposition of the farmer to do all in his power to stamp out the plague was also most encouraging. In Orleans county, where conditions were formerly poor, there is now the greatest improvement, but Chittenden county lags far behind the others and nearly as many claims for assessed cattle are paid in this county as in all of the remainder of the State put together. This is partly because of the indifference of the farmers and partly because of the fact which the disease had obtained. The barns in many cases are infested with the germ and even where a herd has been tested and diseased cattle discovered, there is often no disposition to get a robot for which the State is willing to bear the expense. The laws of Burlington compel farmers sending milk into the city to have their cattle tested at least once in two years and if some of the farmers who take advantage of the State's offer they would save the cost of one of the tests which the city obliges.

A London special says that Oscar Hammerstein has indicated that at the end of the present season he will give up London opera. Hammerstein says that there are not enough rich opera goers in London and the rates are too high for the middle class. He says that he has been offered $100,000 to give an opera season in New York. He could cancel his contract with the Metropolitan Opera company to keep out of New York by payment of $25,000.

BUSY DAY IN COURT. Important Cases Disposed of by Acting Judge Ladd.

Yesterday was a busy day in city court where Acting Judge L. P. Ladd presided in the absence of Judge C. S. Palmer. Two cases of adultery were disposed of and several other cases were heard.

The cases of adultery were against Sarah Abair and Frank Frederick, who came to this city a few days ago and were later arrested at the instigation of Mrs. Abair's husband, who followed them here. Both pleaded guilty to information filed against them by State's Attorney H. B. Shaw and the woman was sentenced to not less than a year nor more than 18 months in the State's prison at Windsor, while the man received a penalty of not less than 18 months nor more than two years. The couple had resided in Plattsburgh and became acquainted there. Although both were married they thought they would be happier living together. They consequently fled, Mrs. Abair leaving an 18-month-old baby behind her and Frederick a child ten years of age. Mrs. Abair pleaded with her husband to help her out of the trouble yesterday, but this he refused to do. The woman is about 30 years of age while Frederick is about 35.

The beer merchant, Arthur and John Bennett and Zeb Blair, occupied a part of the attention of the court and their case was continued, each man being placed under bonds of $10. The men were detected stealing a few days ago and as they had been repeatedly warned to keep away, they were taken into custody. The beer was sour and valueless, but in getting it out they often destroyed the barrels, which are expensive.

One of the last cases taken up was that of John Daniels, who pleaded guilty to striking a dog and cutting him severely on the back with a butcher knife. He was fined $5 and costs and said in excuse that his dog was engaged in a fight with the other and he inflicted the wound in an attempt to separate them. The wound on the dog's back was deep to the bone and was four or five inches in length, so severe that it was necessary to take the animal to a veterinary hospital for treatment.

Henry Liberty, who was arrested the night previous for intoxication, was found guilty and was fined $15 and costs. He took an appeal and furnished bail. A few minutes later he was seen to make an attempt to obtain liquor at a second-class license place, but was refused.

Mr. Harrison Cooke, Burlington, Vt.: My Dear Mr. Cooke: I wish to express through you the deep appreciation of my daughters and myself of the noble part taken by the Boy Scouts in the last hours of my beloved husband. Many times have we spoken of the kind courtesy shown by them on that sad day, and I have long wished to express our thanks but my strength has not been equal to the many demands upon it since our return to Washington.

Although this is a late acknowledgment, I assure you it is none the less sincere. With best wishes, Very sincerely yours, MABEL ALLEN FOSTER. May 29, 1912.
