

WILSON PORTRAYS POLITICAL IDEALS

Wishes Less of Personal Passion in Campaigns and an End to Class War.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 10.—Political battle with less personal passion and an end to the "war within the country by competition of classes," were the ideals which Governor Woodrow Wilson set forth to-night in a speech before the United Spanish War veterans.

The Governor was enthusiastically cheered as he spoke at the steel mill to a large crowd. He declared the Spanish-American war had had its value in drawing the nation together and destroying sectional feeling. To the internal politics of the country he made brief reference.

"The trouble with this country," said the Governor, "is that it has been blindly at war within itself by a competition of interests, when this should have been a union of interests. The way not to cure it is to set one class against another. The way to cure it is to see that classes understand one another, that they all know that there is such a thing as a common interest which touches them all alike."

I belong to a political party. For the time being I represent a political party, but I respect a political party merely as the means of handling men together for a service which when they have done to their uttermost, they have forgotten parties in common service. Not all men think alike, and therefore men must group themselves according to their convictions and their thoughts but the impulse back of every one of them must be the same, if it is indeed the impulse of patriotic conviction. And so I congratulate you upon having gone to school in at least one of the schools of patriotism.

"I wish that party battles could be fought with less personal passion and more passion for the common good. I am not interested in fighting persons, but I am interested in fighting things. I am interested in fighting bad tendencies, bad systems, things that lower all the levels of our political and economic morality; and I could wish that these things were visible and tangible so that we wouldn't have to fight them through persons."

Governor Wilson and Gen. Nelson A. Miles reviewed the parade of the veterans in the afternoon. As the Missouri veterans marched by the stand they sang the "Honor" song of the convention. Nearly 3,000 veterans were in line, marching through decorated streets and cheering crowds. The Governor will leave early to-morrow for Jersey City where he will review the Hudson County Democratic club.

STATE FAIR NEXT WEEK.

Livestock Entries Completed for the Largest Showing in Record. White River Junction, Sept. 10.—Secretary F. L. Davis has given out the complete list of entries for the Vermont State fair, to be held here September 17, 18, 19 and 20, and points out that this year's event will see the largest and most showing of livestock ever shown at the fair, and equal in all respects to any fair in New England.

The State fair has always been the parade ground for the finest of the Morgan type of horses and the showing this year will be larger than ever. Two hundred and nine of the finest Morgans in the country will be on exhibition and will be reviewed in the new Morgan horse arena just completed. For the convenience of the spectators a new grandstand has been erected in connection with this arena.

More than 150 other horses will be on exhibition in addition to the big string of trotters numbering one hundred odd. Sixty yoke of oxen, 120 animals in all, will give a touch of past days. There will also be nearly 600 head of other cattle, including some of the highest bred thoroughbreds from famous herds. Over four hundred sheep will be shown and a splendid exhibit of swine. Included in the list are 27 ponies and altogether there will be a livestock exhibit that will be worth going many miles to see.

MOTORMAN BREAKS SKULL.

Charles McCarty of Castleton in Critical Condition—Fell between Cars. Rutland, Sept. 9.—Charles McCarty of Castleton, a motorman employed by the Rutland Railway Light & Power Co., was probably fatally injured this afternoon when he fell between a flat car and an electric car to which it was attached. He was seated on the flat car and in attempting to change his position fell in between the cars. He received a double fracture of the skull, and it was decided that his only chance of recovery lay in an operation which was performed to-night at the Rutland city hospital. His condition is critical.

ROBBED CHURCH OF $170.

Father Turcot and Graniteville Parishioners Fall to Find Miscreant. Montpelier, Sept. 9.—No trace has been secured of the person or persons who robbed the Rev. Father Turcot of St. Sylvester's Catholic Church at Graniteville of $170 Saturday night. The money had been taken at a fair given by the church. Father Turcot left the cash in a satchel and went to the basement to make sure everything was secure and while downstairs he heard footsteps overhead. He hastened back and heard some one running, but was unable to stop them. He believes the robber was some one who was stationed inside the church during the evening and suspicion is attached to certain persons who have been about Graniteville and Websterville for several months. The parishioners are thoroughly aroused and a careful search is being made.

Morrisville, Sept. 9.—John Nurse aged 88 years, who was living with his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace, on Waban avenue, committed suicide by shooting this afternoon at 3:40 o'clock. Mr. Nurse had been in poor health for some weeks.

TRAIN DERAILED AND MANY HURT

Feared Several Dead Would Be Found under the Debris of Wreck near Erie.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 10.—Twenty-eight persons were seriously injured when east-bound train No. 6 of the Nickel Plate road was derailed this afternoon at Fagan road near this city. There were probably a score of others who sought relief at local hotels who were not badly hurt. The injured are: Samuel Schwanz of California, back injured; Samuel Poler of California, back wrenched; Chinback Sney (Chinese), back and skull fractured; M. S. Hules, Antico, Wis., badly cut and bruised; Mrs. M. S. Hules, Antico, contusions about head and body; Frank H. Russell, electrician, Buffalo, back injured; Peter Ellena, South Range, Mich., head hurt; Charles Tenney, teacher, Buffalo, badly bruised, contusions on head and back; Margie Argeland, head cut, contusions about body; Angelo Ardicola, South Range, Mich., head cut and injured about body; J. O. Ruff, South Aurora, N. Y., cut about head; Daughter of J. O. Ruff, minor injuries; Reinhold Togen, New York city, cuts on hands and arms; H. N. Connell, Newton, N. J., contusions about body; William Perry, cook, Buffalo, badly crushed; William Vaughn, waiter, Buffalo, back injured; A. J. Young, North East, Pa., arm broken and internal injuries; Mrs. Bertha Cole, Belle Vernon, Ill., head injured; Mrs. Ella Egan, Chicago, internal injuries; Frank Argeland, Cleveland, Ohio, crushed and bruised; C. S. Walker, St. Paul, injured about body; Mrs. L. M. Walker, St. Paul, contusions about head and internal injuries; Mary Inasaldo, (child), South Range, Mich., head battered and shoulder blade broken; John Inasaldo, South Range, Mich., foot crushed and body bruised; Mrs. J. Inasaldo, South Range, Mich., seriously injured; Nelson Cole, (child), Belle Vernon, Ill., hand crushed and body bruised; Martinouch Eagens, South Range, Mich., head injured.

The prominent railroad men had narrow escapes from death. The private car attached to the rear of the train carried W. H. Coniff, president of the division, and President Dunston of the Port Wayne & Western railroad. This car was attached to an engine and hauled back to the station here where it was held until the track could be cleared and allow it a passage eastward.

It was feared this afternoon that several dead would be found under the debris but at 6:45 o'clock to-night, when the tracks were partly cleared, no bodies were discovered. One of the day coaches was filled with Chinese on their way East. None was seriously hurt.

The engine of the train, it is said, passed safely over a spreading rail, but the tender was thrown off the track, causing the wreck. The derailment of the tender tore up the tracks, making the passage of the mail car impossible. Following this the coaches in the rear of the mail car, with the exception of one in front of the private car, then fell into an eight-foot ditch.

The train contained a large amount of silver but it could not be learned from the railroad officials whether this was in money or bars. Detectives were hurried from Erie to assist the Nickel Plate detectives to guard this silver until the wrecking crew could clear the wreckage and arrangements could be made for having it brought to the city.

The three railroad officials went forward after the accident occurred and did all in their power to help the injured. To Lakeshore trains are in this way they were hurried to their destinations.

CRAFTSBURY LOSES STORE.

Dwelling House and Paint Are Also Destroyed by Fire. Craftsbury, Sept. 10.—Fire at five o'clock this morning destroyed the store of Clyde King and a two-story house belonging to Ernest Dill. It was occupied by William Remington on ground floor and upstairs by Leslie Drew. The paint-shop of G. E. Daberson was also destroyed.

HARVARD VS. YALE TO-DAY. Manchester, Sept. 10.—Harvard and Yale were victors to-day in the second day's play of the 17th annual tournament for the intercollegiate football championship of the Eastern States. Harvard won from Princeton, 5 to 4, and Yale defeated Pennsylvania, 6 to 2. To-morrow Yale and Harvard will meet to decide the team championship and on Thursday play will commence for the singles honors.

PLATTSBURGH FAIR OPENS.

Two Races Are Won by Frisco and Ding Dong. Plattsburgh, N. Y., Sept. 10.—The Clinton county fair opened to-day with an average first day attendance. Two races were put on. The first was the 2:20 pace for a $400 purse and went five heats. It was won by Frisco, a bay stallion owned by W. E. Parier of Pantion, Vt. Second money went to Queen of Clubs who took the first two heats. At their conclusion the judges called the driver of Frisco to the stand, charged him with holding back and warned him to drive to win or take the consequences. Frisco took the next three heats. J. R. Morrow of Swanton, Vt., owns Queen of Clubs. The Judge, another Vermont horse, owned by W. N. Phelps of South Hero, finished outside the money. There were seven starters. Billy Howell, owned by David Stearns of Plattsburgh, took third money and Hugues, a Troy horse, won fourth place. The time was 2:18 1-2, 2:18 1-2, 2:21 1-2, 2:21 1-2, 2:23 1-2.

ARKANSAS LOCAL OPTION.

Prohibition Defeated by Over 35,000 Votes—Democrats Win. Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 10.—Indications on the face of meagre returns from widely scattered districts over Arkansas are that the State wide prohibition petition has been defeated by from 35,000 to 50,000 votes. A large negro vote has been polled and this vote will be almost solid against prohibition. The heavy negro vote on the face of the early returns makes it highly probable that the amendment incorporating the "grandfather" clause which would disqualify fully 75 percent of the negro vote, was defeated. The influence of Congressman Joe T. Robinson, democratic nominee for governor, who favored local option against the prohibition measure, has been widely felt. The success of the entire democratic State ticket and Legislature is assured.

THE COST.

Dr. George Draper of the Rockefeller Institute discussing woman's work in the world, said: "This, my mind you, leaves child-bearing out of count. Two women sat one day on a windswept ocean pier. The first woman had three beautiful children, the other was childless. The childless woman, gazing wistfully out over the tumbling blue water, said: 'I'd give 10 years of my life to have three such children as yours.' 'Well, three children cost about that,' the other woman answered gravely."

HEALTH AND BEAUTY NOTES.

For insomnia lie straight and breathe deeply for 15 minutes, placing the hands at the waist line. Golfers and women who indulge in outdoor exercises are often worried with tired feet. They will derive much relief if they rub the feet with equal parts of lemon juice and alcohol blended together. An excellent cure for nervous or sick headache is to add two or three slices of lemon to a cup of hot tea without the addition of milk, and it is said that munching a lemon prevents sea or train sickness.

VALENTINE TO BE BULL MOOSE U. S. JACKIES ESCORT T. R.

Commissioner of Indian Affairs Gives That As His Only Reason for Resigning. One Hundred Sailors from the Oregon Insist on Attending Progressive Convention.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Robert G. Valentine, commissioner of Indian affairs, today sent his resignation to the interior department to become effective at the discretion of Secretary Fisher. Mr. Valentine will join the Progressive party. Commissioner Valentine previously was assistant to Commissioner Leupp, whom he succeeded.

In a public statement to-day explaining his resignation, Mr. Valentine referred to his desire to work in the Progressive party as his only wish for quitting office. He made no mention of the so-called Indian garb order which he promulgated a few months ago and which raised a storm of protest from officers of the Roman Catholic Church. It forbade the wearing of religious garb by teachers in Indian schools. It was claimed its effect would have been to bar sisters of the Catholic orders from schools on the reservations. President Taft summarily suspended the order. A new one is about to be promulgated. Its terms are not fully known but it is reported it probably will satisfy those on both sides of the controversy.

HAD ALMOST FORGOTTEN HIM. Beverly, Mass., Sept. 10.—The resignation of Robert G. Valentine as commissioner of the bureau of Indian affairs had been expected at the White House almost daily for weeks before President Taft left for Beverly. Scores of letters had passed over the desks of the White House secretaries suggesting candidates to succeed Mr. Valentine but his formal resignation did not come and the President had almost forgotten the reports that he was to retire.

Mr. Valentine's resignation it was said to-night would be accepted when it reaches the President through the interior department. He referred to the condition in New Jersey, saying the Democratic party there is "struggling apparently to get rid of an boss, Mr. Smith, and apparently has gone to bed with another, Mr. Nugent." The colonel, who spent most of the day in Seattle before coming to Tacoma, was followed through the streets there by a hundred bluejackets from the battleship Oregon, on shore leave. After marching they stormed the colonel's hotel. Colonel Roosevelt shook hands all around and the bluejackets trooped out. Nothing more was seen of them until the colonel had begun his speech at the progressive State convention, when sounds of tumult were heard through the closed doors. The Oregon detachment was demanding admittance which the police refused. Colonel Roosevelt again went to the rescue and directed that they be let in. He stayed to the end escorted by Roosevelt to the station and then sent a detachment of seven men to accompany him to Tacoma.

In his speech to-night Colonel Roosevelt reiterated that the republican national convention had been stolen from the people by the bosses, adding "the more rampant of the many thefts necessary to make up a stolen majority in that convention have since been rewarded by unblinking use of party patronage in a fashion as scandalous as the original wrong doing."

"No where," he said, "has this been more scandalous than here in Washington, where the department of justice itself has been prostituted to the reward of highway robbery."

TICKET IN WASHINGTON. Seattle, Wash., Sept. 10.—The progressive State convention to-day nominated a State ticket headed by Robert T. Hodge of Seattle for governor and named the following candidates for Congress: In large—J. A. Falconer, Everett, and J. W. Bryan, Bremerton; first district, J. M. Landon, Seattle; second district, Stanton Warburton, Tacoma; third district, F. M. Goodwin, Spokane.

A platform was adopted which favors the initiative and referendum and the recall of all officers including judges and advocates larger compensation to employees under the employers liability law.

The visit of Theodore Roosevelt and his address were the features of the convention.

Because of a disease that is killing horses in Kansas, army veterinarians at Fort Riley have established a quarantine forbidding the bringing of any horses on the military reservation.

The United States hygienic laboratory at Washington has received for experimental purposes a package containing 50,000 ticks infected with the deadly Rocky mountain spotted fever, enough to kill the entire population of Washington if they should escape.

The estate of the late Episcopal Bishop Charles C. Crafton of the Fond du Lac diocese amounts to only $1,000. The bishop during his episcopate gave $700,000 of his means for the erection of churches and improvements in his diocese.

A movement is on foot, backed by union labor, to have a gigantic petition for the pardon of McNamara brothers, the dynamiters, presented to Governor Johnson, who is said to have promised to show "all clemency possible."

In connection with his threat of a general strike in protest of the experimental imprisonment of Eitor and Giovanniotti, Leader Haywood of the I. W. W. says that this strike will be begun at Lawrence this month and will be spread to all other sections of country immediately.

MUST STRAIGHTEN CUBAN FINANCES

American Representative May Be Sent to Administer Customs and Meet Obligations.

Havana, Sept. 10.—Cuba is facing the most trying period of her career as an independent nation. Unless all signs fall, there will be a fiscal intervention here before October 1. From inside official sources it is learned that the United States authorities, under the personal advice and direction of President Taft, have practically determined to place an American representative in charge of the customs and to handle the staggering finances of the island republic.

The most conservative of Cuban business men know of this and approve the program, feeling that the fiscal intervention is necessary to ward off political intervention, military occupation and annexation to the United States. President Gomez and his advisers are opposed to interference of any sort, but are powerless in the face of the present conditions. The climax has come in this way:

Under the Marconi administration, while the United States had control of the island, contracts were let for the sewerage of the city of Havana. These contracts involved the expenditure of $15,000,000. It was agreed that 10 per cent of the customs receipts should be set aside to meet this obligation. This agreement has not been kept.

MONEY SPENT AND WORK DONE. The $15,000,000 has already been spent and the sewerage work is but half done. Governor Masnon, himself, set the precedent for diverting the sewerage funds by sanctioning the payment of war claims and obligations out of the sewerage contract reserve. President Gomez has advocated the issuance of additional bonds to meet the sewer contractors' claims, but this program has been protested at Washington with the result that President Taft and Secretary of State Knox have vetoed the proposal and now plan to appoint a fiscal agent who will collect the Cuban customs and set aside one-tenth as agreed to meet the sewerage obligations. Just who the appointee will be is a matter of much inside speculation here. It may be that a Cuban banking house will be chosen and a United States consul or officer may be placed in charge. In the latter event, Captain Frank McCoy will probably be chosen.

The air is electric with unrest here in Havana, and in fact, throughout the island. The recent troubles over the Bolly claim and its payment has but served to bring to the surface the fact that there are many similar claims to that of the Clefuegos water works and that Cuba cannot pay them. Conservative estimates place the amount due American contractors at $13,500,000, all overdue, and the creditors clamoring for their pay. Washington has been so numerously besieged that the fiscal intervention has been practically determined upon.

The basic trouble with Cuba and her financial affairs lies with the officialholding class entirely. There are 20,000 government employees in Cuba, a vast majority of whom are merely pensioners with few duties and fewer responsibilities. Practically all the money raised by taxes and customs duties goes to paying salaries to superfluous officials and to keeping up the military and the civil service.

A bill was introduced in the Senate for the letting of contracts for either national or municipal work except to contractors who are Cuban citizens. This bill is the outcome of the recent collection of the claim of Hugh J. Bolly, an American, against the government of Cuba, for $357,000, representing the final settlement of the Clefuegos water works contract.

The bill also provides that in case any foreigners are present sub-contractors interested in such contracts they shall be compelled to sign an agreement renouncing all rights to the protection of the diplomatic representatives of their countries. The latter provision is likely to provoke serious diplomatic remonstrance.

To harden the gums try a wash made of hot water, one pint; borax, one ounce, and a teaspoonful each of spirits of camphor and myrrh. Dissolve the borax in the hot water and let cool before adding the other ingredients.

Test the correctness of your breathing by placing your hands against your abdomen. If its walls rise and fall regularly and in obedience to every breath, you are doing deep breathing. If not, you have not mastered the art.

Fresh lemon juice should be kept in a small bottle on every toilet table. It will allay the irritation caused by stings and bites of insects, and a little in water is excellent as a mouth wash, for it whitens the teeth and makes the mouth feel refreshed.

At no time during the year does the complexion need a little extra care more than just now. Be sure that you take some simple remedy to aid nature in throwing off all objectionable matter, an active liver is the foundation of good health as well as a great skin beautifier. Be careful in your eating. Less meat and more vegetables and fruit are far more beneficial than a heavy diet of pastries and salads. Take all the exercise you can in the open air, even if you cannot do any more than walk to and from your work or business.

POLITICAL THEFT IN CALIFORNIA.

(From the Albany Journal.) Editorially discussing the challenge to debate issued by Representative Barthold, of Missouri, to Senator Cummins, of Iowa, and Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, the Boston Transcript pressed hope that Mr. Cummins would refuse to accept it, the Boston Transcript said: "California politics of the Bull Moose kind cannot be presented in a very favorable light, even by so ingenious a debater as the Iowa. California's trick primary has been on exhibition this very week. As the result of its operation the Roosevelt electors will be placed on the ticket as the republicans under the republican label and in the republican column, although they are pledged to vote against the candidate nominated at the republican convention at Chicago. Colonel Roosevelt has told us that the Progressives are a distinct party, that both of the old parties are played out, and in consonance with this text attacks both Taft and Wilson. Yet he contends to be considered officially the republican candidate for President in California, as he is the Progressive candidate in New York, and the 'Washington' candidate in Pennsylvania. Considering the ethical obligations of the work of the California primaries we should think that Congressman Barthold would have no difficulty in more than keeping his end up in debate with Senator Cummins on the issue of 'righteousness.' Senator Cummins is himself in favor of Roosevelt, but against a third party, a position which would make his participation in a joint debate with Mr. Barthold or any other straight republican the most interesting."

THAT'S DIFFERENT. Some things disseminate surprise. Although they do not advertise—that is to say, before the fact; and yet they some concern attract: The bankrupt travels on gum shoes. Before the public hears his news; The earthquake has no living chance To send an agent in advance; If we could only hear disease, The doctor might not get his fees; And if a bullet one might see, From hurt or worse he then could flee. The many things we don't expect No ad man needs to take effect; But when it comes to merchandise, There's but one rule; just advertise! —Judge.
