The reconstruction of the tower and other improvements that have been under way on St. Paul's Church for some weeks are rapidly approaching completion. The tower has been reconstructed as it originally stood at the dedication of the church on November 25, 30 years ago. The old edifice has been closely followed and the stinging planks being taken down this coming week. Considerable work has been done on the roof, strengthening the sustaining timbers and beams that had settled in some places. All of the slate has been gone over and where broken, replaced. Exterior woodwork, cornices, eaves, etc., have been replaced where needed and all repainted. The alterations will cost between $5,000 and $6,000, four large subscriptions covering about one-half of the cost.

VERMONT CAVALRY REUNION

Veterans in Town for 40th Annual Meeting Yesterday.

Business Session Followed by Trip to Fort Ethan Allen, with Banquet and Campfire in the Evening.

The 40th annual meeting of the Vermont Cavalry Reunion, which consists of members of the old First Vermont cavalry, was held in this city yesterday and was one of the most successful in the history of the organization. Over half a hundred of the veterans of the war of 60 years ago were present, some coming from points as far distant as Chicago, and all thoroughly enjoyed the occasion. The reunion began with a business meeting at the Van Ness House early in the afternoon and concluded with a banquet and campfire, after the old soldiers had witnessed a full dress parade at Fort Ethan Allen and been accorded a reception by the officers of that post.

The business meeting was called to order in the roof garden of the hotel by President G. L. McBride and the election of officers and other matters were disposed of rapidly on account of the appointment made at Fort Ethan Allen.

It was voted to hold the next reunion on the field of Gettysburg on one of the second, third or fourth days in July, which will be the 50th anniversary of the battle in which the regiment participated in one of the greatest charges of the war. Gen. T. S. Peck made the motion of adjourning the meeting, which was carried unanimously, and in presenting the matter spoke of the bill now before the Legislature which will provide, if passed, transportation to any veteran to Gettysburg and return. He seemed confident that the bill would go through.

Col. Myron M. Parker of Washington, D. C., was elected president of the society and H. O. Wheeler of this city and Raymond H. Wood of Albany were re-elected treasurer and secretary, respectively. The vice-presidents are Henry C. Smith of Company A, Merritt Wilson of Company B, E. W. Palmer of Company C, John C. Bracey of Company D, S. W. Brush of Company E, H. C. Streeter of Company F, James Barrett of Company G, Sewell Whitcomb of Company H, Marcus Warner of Company I, Charles Jewett of Company K, A. C. Stoughton of Company L, Peter Lander of Company M, and Adjt. C. D. Gates of the field and staff. On motion of Col. Bennett, who is the only surviving colonel of the regiment and who traveled all the way from Chicago to attend the re-union, the secretary read the roll call of those present who had registered with him.

The company then boarded a special car which took them to the post, where they met Col. John C. Graham and were entertained with a magnificent review of the regiment in full dress uniform. This afforded as much enjoyment as anything else at the re-union, being the first opportunity many had of seeing a fully equipped regiment of Uncle Sam's warriors of the present day.

After the review the company returned to the hotel and a social meeting was held before the banquet.

The banquet, served in the evening in Stannard Memorial hall by the Women's Relief Corps, was attended by about 100 members of the regiment with their ladies and invited guests. The speeches were of an informal nature and short, but were uniformly entertaining. G. L. McBride, president of the society, introduced Col. Graham as Peck, a presiding officer, and he acquitted himself in his usual happy manner. A. J. Masham also added to the pleasure of the occasion by rendering a number of songs of his own writing.

The regiment's wonderful history of over 70 engagements and battles afforded material for much of the discussion and much light was shed by the plain stories of the men who participated in the hottest battles of the greatest war the United States has ever known. Before the meeting adjourned resolutions expressing thanks to the officers of Fort Ethan Allen for the courtesies shown them in the afternoon, the Women's Relief Corps for the excellent banquet, the Van Ness house for the use of its roof garden and the committee which furnished the transportation to and from Fort Ethan Allen were adopted.

The speakers were headed by Col. J. W. Bennett, who received an ovation on taking his seat and was given three hearty cheers by the men who fought under him. He told one or two amusing anecdotes of the war. He was followed by Frank R. Wells, son of the late General William Wells, and then came ex-Gov. U. A. Woodbury, who was elected an honorary member of the regiment; Commander George F. Martin of Stannard Post, C. E. Beecher, H. O. Wheeler, ex-Mayor J. R. Burke, E. C. Walker, Charles C. A. Stoughton, Chaplain J. E. Goodrich, Secretary S. H. Wood, General W. V. Henry, Captains Cavanaugh and Luhn of the Post and a number of others. A letter of regret was read from Bishop J. J. Rice because of his enforced absence.
