St. Albans, Jan. 21.—Deputy Sheriff Luke P. Martin returned this morning from Jay, having in custody R. W. Wood, who is wanted here on the charge of passing a worthless check while working in this city last month. It is alleged that Wood gave a check for $21 to L. P. Vincent of Richford, and that soon afterward he disappeared. Tuesday a lumberman from a camp at Stewart Mills, a hawker in Richford, was in this city and in conversation with Deputy Martin mentioned that a man named Levis, who was working in the camp, had formerly been employed in St. Albans. Mr. Martin thought Wood answered the description so he went to the camp, wading in the snow up to his hips while going from Jay to the camp, and there he located the man among the 25 employees. While working here Wood claimed to be in the employ of the Bar State Forestry company but so far as the local authorities can ascertain there is no company of that name.

ADMINISTRATOR SUES COMPANY ON NEGLIGENCE CHARGE

Rutland, Jan. 21.—Joseph Labate, an administrator of the estate of Louis Pette of Fair Haven, through Philip M. M. Phelps of Fair Haven as counsel, to-day brought suit in Rutland county court against the Old English Slate company of Fair Haven to recover damages of $10,000, alleging that Mr. Pette met his death through negligence of the defendant company.

It is set up in the declaration that while Pette was assisting in raising some heavy blocks of slate from a quarry on April 29, 1913, a block struck some debris near the top of the opening, causing a mass of earth and stone to fall upon Pette and also causing the apparatus to break so that the stone itself fell, crushing the man and that he died next day. Faulty machinery is the ground on which suit is based. Pette left his wife and three children.

WILL MAKE MAN INSANE TO SAVE LIFE

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 21.—The Cook county jail physician to-day confronted with the alternative of allowing a man to die or performing an operation on the brain that will make the patient insane decided that it was his duty to save the man's life if possible.

Andrew Olson, subject of the physician's problem, has little to hope for in any event, as even if both life and reason are saved he will be tried for his life for shooting and killing his wife. Olson after the shooting fired a bullet into his own head.

Dr. Thomas Hogan, jail physician, said that Olson is paralyzed and growing weaker and the bullet must be removed to save his life, but that the operation probably would destroy his mind. Dr. Hogan notified the sheriff that his duty to save human life at any cost would compel him to operate on Olson to-morrow.
