

CITY NEWS

David W. Howe has been ordered to Boston from the camp at Plattsburgh for training in aviation.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Ready announce the engagement of their daughter, Mae E., to Birney S. Pease of Springfield, Mass.

Charles Dullahan has resigned his position as assistant bookkeeper and taken a position in the employ of the Hotel Vermont.

A license to sell real estate was granted Saturday at the office of the probate judge in the estate of Isadore H. Plant, late of Burlington.

The will of John O'Brien, late of Bolton, was proved yesterday at the office of the judge of probate, and Mary O'Brien of Bolton was appointed executrix.

Miss Clementine Deslet of Barre and James Edward Tanner, a trooper of the second cavalry, were married last evening at the Baptist parsonage by the Rev. James S. Braker.

The University of Vermont baseball team, weakened by the absence of some of the best players, was defeated by the Williams College nine at Williamstown, Mass., Saturday.

The suit of the Burlington Rendering company vs. W. W. Dane of Cabot, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $400, alleged to be due on a debt, was filed Friday at the county clerk's office.

Mrs. E. F. Davis has resigned her position as soprano soloist at the Baptist Church, where she has sung for several years. Mrs. Davis will continue her work and studies in Boston, where she will reside.

George M. Willard of Jericho was on Saturday appointed administrator of the estate of Martin V. Willard, late of Jericho, with Jacob E. Smith and Frank G. Pease of Jericho commissioners, and L. E. Taylor and H. H. Hovey appraisers.

The Barre Times courteously calls attention to a slip in a local story printed in last week's issue. The error was not made clear that the two cases of poliomyelitis referred to were in Barre town instead of Barre city. No cases have been reported in the latter place and consequently no ban has been put on public gatherings there.

The divorce suit of Mary F. Wilkinson of Burlington vs. James H. Wilkinson was filed Friday at the county clerk's office. The petition recites that the couple were married in this city on November 22, 1909, intolerable severity, and neglect and refusal to support are among the grounds alleged. Mrs. Wilkinson asks the custody of three minor children, two boys, aged 17 and 15 years, and a daughter, aged 14.

Settlements and decrees were made Monday at the office of the judge of probate in the estates of James J. McHugh, late of South Burlington, Marion McGovern, late of Richmond, and William Finley, late of Hinesburg. Exidra Marcotte of Winooki was appointed administratrix, cum testamento annexo, of the estate of Samuel Marcotte, late of Winooki, with A. B. Lavigne and John G. Piche of Winooki commissioners and appraisers.

At the annual meeting of the Waubesa Golf club, held at the club house on Wednesday, June 20, the following were elected to the board of governors for the term of three years: Dr. C. H. Beecher, J. M. Carroll and E. E. Clark. At a meeting of the governing board, held the following day, the following officers were elected: President, George M. Besett; vice-president, George E. Whitney; secretary and treasurer, Frank W. Elliott.

The will of Della Ann Wentworth, late of Burlington, was filed for probate Tuesday at the office of the judge of probate. B. P. O'Brien of Huntington was appointed administrator of the estate of Henry W. Bates, late of Huntington, with Thomas H. Sweet and Mark A. Aiger of Huntington commissioners and appraisers. Henry W. Bates of Chicago was appointed executor of the will of the late Henry Lawrence of this city, with C. W. Brownell and T. S. Dean commissioners and appraisers.

The marriage of Miss Loraine Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Marshall Allen, and Allan McDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus of New York, will take place August 25, at St. Peter's Church, Morristown, N. J., where Mr. and Mrs. Allen have a summer home. Mr. McDougall is now in the officers' training camp at Plattsburgh. Miss Allen has been visiting her grandparents at their summer home on the Shelburne road and is now convalescing from an attack of the measles.

The divorce suit of Katherine Rule vs. Burnice Rule was filed Tuesday at the county clerk's office. The petition sets forth that the couple were married in this city March 27, 1915, at New York, N. Y. They lived together in Burlington, Hinesburg and Charlotte until February 22, 1916, when the petitioner left her husband for alleged good and sufficient reasons. Intolerable severity and neglect and refusal to support are the grounds alleged in the petition. Mr. Rule is said to be residing at the present time in Detroit.

The marriage of Miss Carrie Anna Stannard of 239 South Champlain street and George Burdette of 226 1/2 Pine street took place Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the residence of the bride, P. A. Barry officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Lena Burdette, sister of the groom, and the groom had Leslie Foss as his best man. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride after the ceremony, and Mrs. Burdette and Mr. Burdette left for a short wedding trip. Mr. Burdette is employed by the G. S. Blodgett company.

K. Fairbanks, Douglas G. Garro, Clyde W. Horton, Hermann P. Knickerbocker and Wallace B. Farlow, of the class of 1915; Loren P. Elliott, Irving W. Gale, John L. Lamson, Donald L. Lord, Roy E. McFee, Paul W. Rathfon, Alfred J. Runnals and Clinton E. Smith, of the class of 1920. The camp was under the direct supervision of Prof. Thurman W. Dix of the engineering college.

Thousands crowded Battery Park last evening at the annual lawn party given by the St. Anne's society and flooded the six booths which served candy, ice cream and cake, soft drinks, and dealt out grab-bags, to the eager visitors. As the result of the efforts of the ladies of the society over $300 was raised for the benefit of the poor of the city. Flowers were sold among the crowd by ten young ladies and several hundred enjoyed automobile rides about the city, while a large audience listened to a concert by the Sherman band. The following were the heads of the various committees that handled the great success: E. F. Cassidy, Mrs. Frank Sullivan, Mrs. Norman Falley, Mrs. E. P. Shanley, J. J. Pagers and Mrs. Harry Light. The light department kindly furnished the lights for the lawn party, which the committee gratefully acknowledges.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Thomas Murphy. Mrs. Margaret (nee Narey) Murphy, wife of Thomas Murphy, who is employed at St. Joseph's orphanage, died at 8:30 Friday night at her home 113 North Champlain street after a prolonged illness. Mrs. Murphy was born in Huntington, Canada, in 1860, and came to this city about 25 years ago. Besides her husband, Mrs. Murphy is survived by one son, Arthur, and one daughter, Helen M.

Mrs. Cora Langworthy Fletcher. Mrs. Cora Langworthy Fletcher, wife of P. W. Fletcher of Bridport, died Friday afternoon at a local hospital. Besides her husband, Mrs. Fletcher is survived by three children, Mrs. H. E. Colvin of this city, Mrs. George G. E. Rushforth of Auburn, and a Norman A. Fletcher of Bridport.

Orman P. Ray. Orman P. Ray, who for the 23 years following 1882 was county clerk of Chittenden county, and for the past 35 years a resident of Burlington, died Friday evening at his home, 108 North Winooki street, where he reached his 80th birthday on May 21st, had been in rapidly failing health for more than a year, and for several months had had to have the constant care of a nurse. His death was due to a gradual decline of his physical powers. Two sons, Dr. L. Williams Ray of St. Louis and Prof. P. Orman Ray of Evanston, Ill., survive him. The funeral was held at five o'clock Sunday afternoon at his late home, with interment in the Woodmen cemetery. Mr. Ray was born in Irasburg May 21, 1837, and received his early education in the academies at Waterbury, Morrisville and Essex center. He taught school in Hampshire, then studied law and was admitted to the Vermont and New Hampshire bars. In 1861 he married Mary Isadore Williams of Essex center, who died in 1901. Shortly after their marriage he was appointed county clerk in the Second Vermont regiment and served over three years during the Civil War. When mustered out of the service he held the rank of regimental adjutant. Upon his return from the army, Mr. Ray lived in Colchester and Lancaster, N. H., where he was a member of the law firm of Benton & Ray, along with his older brother, the late Ossian Ray. After some years of residence in New Hampshire, he returned to Vermont and opened a law office in Winooki, where he continued to reside until his appointment as county clerk of Chittenden county in 1882, since which time he has been a resident of Burlington.

Mr. Ray served as county clerk for over 23 years. His administration of the office was marked by a high degree of efficiency and the introduction of many important changes in connection with the office. Upon the death of M. A. Bingham in March, 1910, Mr. Ray was appointed judge of probate by Gov. Allen M. Fletcher to serve out the unexpired term of Judge Bingham.

Mr. Ray was always interested and active in church and other religious work. He was for many years a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, but later united with the Free Methodist church. He was chosen a delegate to the general conference of the latter denomination.

Mr. Ray was active in the organization of the Winooki Savings bank and served on its board of trustees until very recently. He was also treasurer of the bank during its first years, and more recently was its attorney and president for several years.

A. Guy Davis. News was received Tuesday of the death of A. Guy Davis, which occurred in North Adams, Mass., on Monday evening. Mr. Davis will be remembered as manager of the suit department in the Boston store for several years. For the past eight years he had been assistant manager of the Boston store in North Adams.

Mr. Davis is survived by a wife and three children, who will accompany the body to this city. The remains will arrive in Burlington on the 1:00 p. m. train on Friday. Interment will be in Green Mount cemetery, where a prayer service will be held.

Mr. Davis was a member of the Methodist church of Hamilton Lodge, No. 10, in North Adams, where he was a past grand, and of the Beatrice Rebekah Lodge. He became conspicuous in Masonic circles in North Adams and at his death was senior warden of the lodge. He was also a member of the Manchester Center and was about 49 years of age.

Mr. Davis possessed a large circle of friends in this city who will regret to learn of his untimely death.

Clarence D. Gates. Col. Clarence D. Gates died at the home of Mrs. William H. Folsom at 17 Grant street Monday morning from a complication of diseases. Mr. Gates had been ill about two weeks and during this time his daughter, Mrs. Parsons of Fairfax, was with him. Mr. Gates was a veteran of the Civil War, being commissioned October 4, 1862, in the First Regiment of Vermont cavalry, and was mustered out November 18, 1864. Of late years he had been a manager of the Burlington Granite company.

There was a service at St. Paul's chapel Wednesday at 1:00 p. m., preceded by a short service at 12:15 p. m. at 17 Grant street. Interment was in the Binghamville cemetery in Fletcher.

Mrs. William N. Cameron. Mrs. William N. Cameron of 21 Pearl street died Monday evening at a local sanitarium of shock following an operation. She had been ill but a brief time, and was 62 years of age. Her husband, who was a member of the Cameron family, was Adella Jacobs of Weybridge, is survived by her husband; by two children, Warner and Elizabeth; by two sisters, Mrs. Susie Jacobs of Denver, Colo., who was with her at the time of her death, and Miss Clara Jacobs of this city; and by one brother, George Jacobs of Worcester, Mass. Mrs. Cameron had lived in this city for 25 years. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at her late

RELEASE APPROPRIATIONS

The appropriations are of two classes, class A, annual or periodical appropriations, and class B, special appropriations. No account has been taken in the figures given of amounts transferred from the former to the latter but these are not considerable in proportion to the whole. The actual totals are: $234,320 and $338,682, respectively. The latter does not include the expenses of government and paying such appropriation as may be herein made, the latter being a blanket sum called for by section 59 of the act.

SOME OF THE APPROPRIATIONS. Just as reminders the following appropriations for various purposes may be of interest. The secretary of State will have $10,000 for his office and another $10,000 for the purchase of books. The auditor will also have $10,000; State university, $3,800; the department of weights and measures, $3,000; the auditor of accounts, $10,000; the insurance commissioner, $7,000; the commissioner of taxes, $10,000; the secretary of the State, $20,000; the State engineer, $5,000; the State geologist and curator of the cabinet, $2,500; department of education, $20,000; Her husband's daughter, Beatrice, died Monday afternoon at 11:30 o'clock Thursday morning at 11 Hungerford street. Mrs. Isham, who formerly lived in Williston, is survived by two sons, Dr. Alfred F. Isham of Caldwell, Idaho, and Willard B. Isham of Washington, D. C., both of whom were with her at the time of her death.

The funeral services were held Friday afternoon at three o'clock at the First Church chapel and the interment was in the Eldredge cemetery in South Burlington.

Mrs. Isham's sons had planned for some time to come here to pass her 51st birthday anniversary with her, which would have been last Sunday. Mrs. Isham, however, had been stricken with a shock of apoplexy and her sons were hurriedly summoned.

Mrs. Isham was born in Bridport, being the daughter of Moses and Roxina Smith. Her husband, Dr. Alfred F. Isham, was a prominent Woodman, who was also at Chicago to attend the national convention of that order. The delegation consisted of Woodmen from the four States over which the late Mr. Palmer as deputy had jurisdiction. They were from Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut and New Jersey. The interment took place Saturday in the family lot in Chariton, Iowa, which was Mr. Palmer's birthplace. The funeral was held at 11:30 a. m. at the residence of Mrs. Palmer, 113 North Winooki street, where Mrs. Palmer is expected to return to this city at the end of the week.

The body of the late A. O. Palmer of 67 Church street, who died in Chicago last week, was escorted to its final resting place in Chariton, Iowa, where it was laid beside that of a sister of Mr. Palmer, by a number of prominent Woodmen, who were also at Chicago to attend the national convention of that order. The delegation consisted of Woodmen from the four States over which the late Mr. Palmer as deputy had jurisdiction. They were from Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut and New Jersey. The interment took place Saturday in the family lot in Chariton, Iowa, which was Mr. Palmer's birthplace. The funeral was held at 11:30 a. m. at the residence of Mrs. Palmer, 113 North Winooki street, where Mrs. Palmer is expected to return to this city at the end of the week.

Funeral of A. O. Palmer. The body of the late A. O. Palmer of 67 Church street, who died in Chicago last week, was escorted to its final resting place in Chariton, Iowa, where it was laid beside that of a sister of Mr. Palmer, by a number of prominent Woodmen, who were also at Chicago to attend the national convention of that order. The delegation consisted of Woodmen from the four States over which the late Mr. Palmer as deputy had jurisdiction. They were from Vermont, New Hampshire, Connecticut and New Jersey. The interment took place Saturday in the family lot in Chariton, Iowa, which was Mr. Palmer's birthplace. The funeral was held at 11:30 a. m. at the residence of Mrs. Palmer, 113 North Winooki street, where Mrs. Palmer is expected to return to this city at the end of the week.

HOTEL BUSINESS BRISK

Restaurants Here Also Are Doing a Thriving Trade.

Plattsburgh Camp and Extra Thousands at Fort Ethan Allen Thought Mainly Responsible—Tourist Season Is Late.

While the city has been waiting for the completion of the Vermont Canteen, the hotels and restaurants have quietly thrived on patronage provided by Fort Ethan Allen and the Plattsburgh camp. The establishment of a recruiting depot of the regular army, or the overland route and creation of two new regiments have made of the reservation as good a new industry as the hostelry and eating-places could have wanted. The Vermont and New Sherwood are doing at least 50 per cent. more business than they did during June, 1916, and that too with no automobile tourist patronage worth mentioning. The officers' training camp at Plattsburgh has provided more new business still. But the two hotels, while the troops of the fort have helped the small restaurants. The latter's business was pretty flat for several weeks during the latter part of the spring.

The smaller hotels on Main and Church streets also are doing more business than a year ago. One of the hotels in the city claimed to be doing twice as much business as last June, and even to be turning people away. In the absence of the motor car, there is a close estimate was not available.

The Plattsburgh camp is furnishing a large volume of week-end business to the hotels, consisting of relatives and friends, who are coming over to see here and going up to Plattsburgh for the day. The 1st Vermont infantry is also bringing a certain amount of such business to the hotels, and the 2nd, 18th and 19th cavalry, also, as well as the recruiting depot. But the most such patronage, the hotels are getting more commercial trade than they were a year ago. Burlington is becoming more and more the home town of traveling salesmen, that cover the State, and it is attracting at present a large number of salesmen covering New England.

Hotel men can't understand why the automobile tourist season is so late. They are sure that business conditions are unsettled. So far this summer it has been at a minimum. The weather has been cool, but last June was rainy also, yet tourist trade was brisk. If, on top of the extra business, the motor car comes in the swarms they did last summer, the season will be a banner one for the city.

Hotel men can't understand why the automobile tourist season is so late. They are sure that business conditions are unsettled. So far this summer it has been at a minimum. The weather has been cool, but last June was rainy also, yet tourist trade was brisk. If, on top of the extra business, the motor car comes in the swarms they did last summer, the season will be a banner one for the city.

TO TEACH AT U. V. M.

College of Agriculture Announces New Instructor.

H. B. Ellenberger, Ph. D., Cornell, has been appointed associate professor of animal and dairy husbandry at the College of Agriculture of the State university. Miss Charlotte C. Pierpont, B. S., Vermont, has been appointed assistant State club leader in the agricultural extension service. Miss Bertha M. Holden, B. S., Middlebury, has been made instructor in home economics in the service. F. R. Churchill, B. S., Vermont, '17, has been chosen as instructor in dairying. A. C. Lewis, B. S., Vermont, has been made assistant farm management demonstrator. As already announced, Miss Julia L. Hurd, A. M., Columbia, has been appointed supervisor of home economics teaching in the public schools, with instruction in home economics.

GREEN MOUNTAIN CLUB BUSY

Several sections of the Green Mountain club are clearing out their divisions of the Long Trail, on Bolton mountain, and more or less new trail-building will be done. Professor W. S. Monroe of the New York section, which now comprises about 200 members, will arrive in town Saturday morning, and spend most of the time between then and the opening of the summer school of the State university, at which he will teach, in putting the Monroe Sky Line trail into shape. He may extend the trail. The 300-foot section which he heads, in back of him, and the extent of his new work depends principally upon what time he will have and what funds there are for the purpose. For the first time, some of the sections will measure their part of the Long Trail accurately. A wheel with a cyclometer such as is used on a bicycle will be employed. It is hoped, before the summer is over, to measure most of the Long Trail.

The Burlington section is not only clearing out the Long Trail, but will build about a third of a mile of new trail from Camp No. 4, (2 1/2 miles east from Bolton) due north. The section is putting up distance markers and direction arrows every mile or so. Lumbering operations on Mt. Mansfield, east of the forehead, have blocked the trail, and Stowe, which will entertain the Vermont Press association over this weekend, is clearing out the trail in the vicinity between the hotel on the mountain and the Mt. Mansfield Trout club. The association arrives in Stowe tomorrow afternoon, climbs the mountain on Saturday and visits the Trout club on Sunday.

The Rutland section is clearing out its trail from Killington mountain north to Mt. Carmel and re-locating part of it. Like the Burlington section it is measuring its division of the trail. It will put up shelter houses upon the mountain on July 4, made of galvanized iron roofing, built in circular form with a diameter of 17 feet. The Green Mountain club generally is considering the building of a new shelter house near Noyes pond between Killington peak and Mt. Mansfield. The section plans to extend its trail down the south slope of Killington peak.

The geological survey has completed its work on the so-called Rochester quadrangle and recently did some work on the Waitsfield quadrangle, which includes Lincoln mountain. The Johnson section is planning to build a trail over Sterling mountain. The expenditure of the $400 appropriated by the Legislature in 1915 toward a foot-bridge across the Winooki river at Bolton is still being agitated. The Green Mountain club hopes to obtain the rest of the funds needed, $1,000 say.

Several sections of the Green Mountain club are clearing out their divisions of the Long Trail, on Bolton mountain, and more or less new trail-building will be done. Professor W. S. Monroe of the New York section, which now comprises about 200 members, will arrive in town Saturday morning, and spend most of the time between then and the opening of the summer school of the State university, at which he will teach, in putting the Monroe Sky Line trail into shape. He may extend the trail. The 300-foot section which he heads, in back of him, and the extent of his new work depends principally upon what time he will have and what funds there are for the purpose. For the first time, some of the sections will measure their part of the Long Trail accurately. A wheel with a cyclometer such as is used on a bicycle will be employed. It is hoped, before the summer is over, to measure most of the Long Trail.

The Burlington section is not only clearing out the Long Trail, but will build about a third of a mile of new trail from Camp No. 4, (2 1/2 miles east from Bolton) due north. The section is putting up distance markers and direction arrows every mile or so. Lumbering operations on Mt. Mansfield, east of the forehead, have blocked the trail, and Stowe, which will entertain the Vermont Press association over this weekend, is clearing out the trail in the vicinity between the hotel on the mountain and the Mt. Mansfield Trout club. The association arrives in Stowe tomorrow afternoon, climbs the mountain on Saturday and visits the Trout club on Sunday.

The Rutland section is clearing out its trail from Killington mountain north to Mt. Carmel and re-locating part of it. Like the Burlington section it is measuring its division of the trail. It will put up shelter houses upon the mountain on July 4, made of galvanized iron roofing, built in circular form with a diameter of 17 feet. The Green Mountain club generally is considering the building of a new shelter house near Noyes pond between Killington peak and Mt. Mansfield. The section plans to extend its trail down the south slope of Killington peak.

The geological survey has completed its work on the so-called Rochester quadrangle and recently did some work on the Waitsfield quadrangle, which includes Lincoln mountain. The Johnson section is planning to build a trail over Sterling mountain. The expenditure of the $400 appropriated by the Legislature in 1915 toward a foot-bridge across the Winooki river at Bolton is still being agitated. The Green Mountain club hopes to obtain the rest of the funds needed, $1,000 say.

RAISE NAVY AGE LIMIT.

After July 1, Only 18-Year-Old Boys in Service.

Charles F. Johnson of Plattsburgh, N. Y., a marine worker, who has seen considerable service on ocean-going vessels, was enlisted yesterday at the local recruiting office to show the navy. Orders were received at the office stating that after July 1 boys under 18 years of age would not be enlisted. Up to that time 17-year-old boys, who have the written consent of their parents, may be enlisted as apprentices. This will probably prove a stimulus to many 17-year-old youngsters, who have been contemplating applying for enlistment.

The navy department is calling in on Friday night a draft of men who have been sent to their homes to order. This offers a chance for immediate training to boys who enlist now, as there are vacancies for 20 apprentice seamen from the local office, and not quite that many from the other offices. The men and two hospital corps men will also be called in Friday. The entire party will leave on the sleeper that night for New York, a special car having been arranged for them.

Men who had been at their homes awaiting orders, were sent to New York last night. They were part of a draft of ten men who had been called in, the other two going directly to New York from their homes. Charles F. Johnson, the man who enlisted yesterday, also went to New York last night.

CITY'S CROPS THRIVE.

Conservation Committee Plans Canning Demonstrations.

Optimistic reports were made last night by members of the local conservation committee at a meeting in the high school regarding the condition of the various garden plots. The weather kept back the gardeners for a while, but they are now beginning to thrive. The plots of the Ira Allen school, at East and Colchester avenues, the Adams school on South Willard street and the Thayer school on North avenue, which were planted first, are the farthest advanced.

The committee elected Mrs. Bessie Thayer Chandler to take the place of Miss Bertha M. Terrill as a member. It hopes to have at the high school a series of canning demonstrations before very long, in which each of the three parochial and the ten public schools may participate. The committee has approved and ordered paid all bills pending.

AMERICAN LEAGUE STANDING.

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost, Pct. Chicago 23 23 50.0, Boston 23 23 50.0, New York 25 25 50.0, Cleveland 23 23 50.0, Detroit 29 30 49.0, Washington 24 25 48.0, Cincinnati 25 27 48.1, Philadelphia 30 31 49.3.

NATIONAL LEAGUE STANDING.

Table with columns: Team, Won, Lost, Pct. New York 35 21 62.5, Philadelphia 35 22 61.7, Chicago 35 20 63.9, St. Louis 32 25 56.4, Brooklyn 32 25 56.4, Cincinnati 31 26 54.5, Boston 23 32 42.0, Pittsburgh 19 29 39.8.

RELEASE APPROPRIATIONS

State Moneys Available on July 1, by Act No. 58.

University of Vermont Gets $28,000—$2,235,000 in Round Numbers for Support of Government—Special Appropriations.

Several sections of the Green Mountain club are clearing out their divisions of the Long Trail, on Bolton mountain, and more or less new trail-building will be done. Professor W. S. Monroe of the New York section, which now comprises about 200 members, will arrive in town Saturday morning, and spend most of the time between then and the opening of the summer school of the State university, at which he will teach, in putting the Monroe Sky Line trail into shape. He may extend the trail. The 300-foot section which he heads, in back of him, and the extent of his new work depends principally upon what time he will have and what funds there are for the purpose. For the first time, some of the sections will measure their part of the Long Trail accurately. A wheel with a cyclometer such as is used on a bicycle will be employed. It is hoped, before the summer is over, to measure most of the Long Trail.

The Burlington section is not only clearing out the Long Trail, but will build about a third of a mile of new trail from Camp No. 4, (2 1/2 miles east from Bolton) due north. The section is putting up distance markers and direction arrows every mile or so. Lumbering operations on Mt. Mansfield, east of the forehead, have blocked the trail, and Stowe, which will entertain the Vermont Press association over this weekend, is clearing out the trail in the vicinity between the hotel on the mountain and the Mt. Mansfield Trout club. The association arrives in Stowe tomorrow afternoon, climbs the mountain on Saturday and visits the Trout club on Sunday.

The Rutland section is clearing out its trail from Killington mountain north to Mt. Carmel and re-locating part of it. Like the Burlington section it is measuring its division of the trail. It will put up shelter houses upon the mountain on July 4, made of galvanized iron roofing, built in circular form with a diameter of 17 feet. The Green Mountain club generally is considering the building of a new shelter house near Noyes pond between Killington peak and Mt. Mansfield. The section plans to extend its trail down the south slope of Killington peak.

The geological survey has completed its work on the so-called Rochester quadrangle and recently did some work on the Waitsfield quadrangle, which includes Lincoln mountain. The Johnson section is planning to build a trail over Sterling mountain. The expenditure of the $400 appropriated by the Legislature in 1915 toward a foot-bridge across the Winooki river at Bolton is still being agitated. The Green Mountain club hopes to obtain the rest of the funds needed, $1,000 say.

SEVERAL SECTIONS CLEARING AND IMPROVING LONG TRAIL.

Distances Being Accurately Measured for First Time—Local Section to Put Up Signs—Prof. Monroe Arrives Saturday.

Several sections of the Green Mountain club are clearing out their divisions of the Long Trail, on Bolton mountain, and more or less new trail-building will be done. Professor W. S. Monroe of the New York section, which now comprises about 200 members, will arrive in town Saturday morning, and spend most of the time between then and the opening of the summer school of the State university, at which he will teach, in putting the Monroe Sky Line trail into shape. He may extend the trail. The 300-foot section which he heads, in back of him, and the extent of his new work depends principally upon what time he will have and what funds there are for the purpose. For the first time, some of the sections will measure their part of the Long Trail accurately. A wheel with a cyclometer such as is used on a bicycle will be employed. It is hoped, before the summer is over, to measure most of the Long Trail.

The Burlington section is not only clearing out the Long Trail, but will build about a third of a mile of new trail from Camp No. 4, (2 1/2 miles east from Bolton) due north. The section is putting up distance markers and direction arrows every mile or so. Lumbering operations on Mt. Mansfield, east of the forehead, have blocked the trail, and Stowe, which will entertain the Vermont Press association over this weekend, is clearing out the trail in the vicinity between the hotel on the mountain and the Mt. Mansfield Trout club. The association arrives in Stowe tomorrow afternoon, climbs the mountain on Saturday and visits the Trout club on Sunday.

The Rutland section is clearing out its trail from Killington mountain north to Mt. Carmel and re-locating part of it. Like the Burlington section it is measuring its division of the trail. It will put up shelter houses upon the mountain on July 4, made of galvanized iron roofing, built in circular form with a diameter of 17 feet. The Green Mountain club generally is considering the building of a new shelter house near Noyes pond between Killington peak and Mt. Mansfield. The section plans to extend its trail down the south slope of Killington peak.

The geological survey has completed its work on the so-called Rochester quadrangle and recently did some work on the Waitsfield quadrangle, which includes Lincoln mountain. The Johnson section is planning to build a trail over Sterling mountain. The expenditure of the $400 appropriated by the Legislature in 1915 toward a foot-bridge across the Winooki river at Bolton is still being agitated. The Green Mountain club hopes to obtain the rest of the funds needed, $1,000 say.

PIPER'S BODY BURIED.

Funeral of Young U. V. M. Graduate Held at Weatherfield.

The body of John V. Piper reached Vermont on Friday, June 22, and was buried in the Plain cemetery, Weatherfield, in the family lot. Funeral services were held in the Perkinsville Baptist Church Friday afternoon and were conducted by the Rev. A. J. Hopkins, pastor of the church. A large company of relatives and friends was present, and the services were appropriately decorated with flowers in front of the choir gallery and about the pulpit platform. The choir sang two selections, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," at the opening, and "Sometime We'll Understand" at the close of the service.

Dr. Burns of the University of Vermont, with whom Mr. Piper studied and worked, was present and spoke most kindly and appreciatively of his former pupil and friend. He referred to the young student's brilliance and thoroughness in his studies and said that he gave promise of great success in his chosen field of research work in botany, and that the professors of Rutgers College had sent word that if Vermont College had sent like him they hoped that it would send them along. He also gave testimony of the young man's Christian life and character, and spoke of his activity in Sunday school and Y. M. C. A. work, North Winooki avenue, breaking in the jail and other places. Four members of his college fraternity, Alpha Zeta, came to serve as bearers and pay their last tribute of respect.

CHILDREN AND MATCHES.

Combination Provides Work for the Firemen in Two Cases.

Matches used as toys by small children provided a brief amount of work for the fire department yesterday morning and afternoon. A still alarm sent in at 10:30 o'clock in the morning called the department to the residence of Frank Cameron, 181 North Union street, where a four-year-old child was playing with matches had started a fire in the woodshed. At 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon, the department responded to an alarm sent in from box 35, and found that children had started a fire between the garage and the fence in the rear of 18 South Champlain street. Both fires were very quickly extinguished with practically no damage resulting.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

List of unclaimed letters in the Burlington postoffice for the week ending June 23, 1917: Mrs. Agnes Brown, Miss Charlotte Dann, Mrs. Jennie Ennis, Miss Irene Gould, Miss Albertine Garard, Grace Humphrey, Mrs. Earl Howe, Guy C. Jones, Madge Kendall, Miss Susie Lenon, Miss Elizabeth Leonard, Grace Laaser, Miss Addie Wells, Miss Marion Martin, Mrs. E. M. Pratt, Miss Delia Owin, Mrs. W. J. Sullivan, Miss Mary L. Smith, Mrs. Gladys Hupper, Miss Martha Winn, Miss Gertrude Williams.

THE OLD BEE HIVE JUNE 28, 1917 The Summer Clearance Sale Begins Saturday, June 30 See Friday's Papers for Partial Details There never has been any mystery or any misunderstanding of the merchandising this store does in the summer clearance sales. We necessarily carry large stocks to meet the large and varied demand made upon this store and we maintain both the size and variety up to the necessary maximum of each section. In July two factors enter into our program, namely: Our own stocks and certain extraordinary purchases made by us, both of which we clear daily during this month by marking the varied lines at prices so unusual that they become of themselves a forcing out process. The sale will again be broad and comprehensive. There will be no baits, just a genuine markdown on thousands of every day needs, in which you can save a most tidy sum. The sale of Table Linens, Towels, Sheets and Pillow Cases will again be featured so strongly that housekeepers, boarding house proprietors and all big users of the same will find this opportunity the best of the year to supply their needs. There will be a final sale of women's apparel, smart, fashionable summer apparel, including skirts, dresses, petticoats and waists, suits and coats at extremely low prices for quick clearance. Knit underwear, muslin underwear, gloves, hosiery, neckwear, millinery and corsets, immense stocks in which are featured values that are truly unmatched and that should have your closest attention. The summer clearance sale of Rugs, Linoleums, Curtains, Wall Papers and Cooking Ware offers opportunities for housekeepers that should not be missed. The finest Wilton, Hartford Saxony and Axminster Rugs are offered at prices lower than the mills are quoting. It will be a month of great and true economizes here.

ALCOHOL AND GASOLENE

Automobile Shears Steps from Charles H. Spaulding's House. Body Found June 13 at Porter's Point May Be His. Missing from Home for Four Months—Overcoat Will Be Means of Identification—Body Probably Examined To-day.

A warrant charging the operation of an automobile while under the influence of liquor has been issued by City Grand Juror E. M. Horton for the arrest of Charles H. Spaulding, agent for the Studebaker Automobile company, who about midnight Tuesday sent his Studebaker touring car crashing against the veranda of the home of C. H. Spaulding at 373 teaching classes and breaking in two of the steps. In the