GLENDAVE, M. T. Oct. 25, 11:30 P. M.—At the democratic meeting holden here to-night about 200 to 300 were present, with J. F. Maloney in the chair. The meeting was addressed by Major Maginnis, who, after a brief review of Colonel Sanders' campaign orations, proceeded to defend himself against the attacks on his public career as delegate in connection with the Diamond R. ring, etc., then to enumerate his services for the territory in the way of working for establishment of military posts, river appropriations, etc., stating among other things that no other territory had as large a share of appropriations as this. The remainder of the speech was a repudiation of charges of working for the interest of the Northern Pacific railroad company, and his want of energy in presenting a bill for admission of the territory as a state, saying that Dakota had been trying for the last five or six years, and when time was favorable, which he could judge from intimate acquaintance of political temper of congress, he would get bills and papers in fifteen minutes. He closed with a review of the resources of the country and the proud place Montana would take when she became a state. He was followed by C. G. Cox, of Miles City, who, after some brief remarks in his usual caustic manner, reviewed the career of the candidate and his strong claims upon the people for eminent services rendered and his irreproachable public conduct. The meeting closed at 11 P. M., and the chair and speakers went off for a champagne luncheon.

Two Game Birds.

RALEIGH, Oct. 25.—A terrific duel was fought near the old battlefield of the Guilford court house, a few miles from Greensford, last night. The weapons used, were horse-whips. The fight lasted about four hours, and was witnessed by over fifty spectators. Ed. Johnson, one of the duelists was set up, that his skin hung in strips. Chas. Williams, the other man, was also terribly injured. Cause of the duel was a young woman, with whom both were in love.

Examination Postponed.

MADISON, WIS., Oct. 25.—The preliminary examination in the case of Col. Thomas Reynolds, charged with forging pension vouchers, which was set for this morning, was, at the request of Col. William F. Vilas, attorney for the defense, postponed until November 21st to enable him to investigate the facts and decide whether to waive an examination which, owing to pressing duties, he could not do sooner.

A Stunning Fight.

The prize fight between Brian Campbell, of Colorado, and Thos. Lyons of the Pacific coast, occurred yesterday at Pueblo, Colorado. Eight rounds were fought, when Lyons claimed stakes which were paid him on account of total in the last round.

A Dakota Devil.

GRAND FORKS, DAKOTA, Oct. 25.—Great excitement prevails here to-night. This afternoon at 3 o'clock, a negro, who worked in a barber shop in this city, who is only known by the name of Aleck, rode up on horseback, to a party of thirteen men thrashing on a farm, five miles the other side of Norton, and made some inquiries about land in the vicinity, and rode on about half a mile away where he met a young Norwegian girl bringing water to the workmen. The negro was seen dismount, knock her down and outrage her. Some of the men took a team from the thrashing machine, and started in pursuit, but before they reached him, he mounted his horse and rode away. They kept him in sight for another mile, when he was again seen to dismount, hitch his horse, and enter the house of conductor Sam Burbank, of the Manitoba road. As the men approached the house they heard the woman screaming; being armed, they shot the negro's horse, hitched outside. While in the house, the brute outraged Mrs. Burbank and appeared outside just as the pursuers were approaching, he drew a knife and brandished it, making threats and started on a run toward the city. For some unaccountable reason, the cowardly pursuers did not dare fire on him, but followed him three miles farther, and finally allowed him to escape.

LATER—About 10 o'clock officer Ladden and chief of police Hennessy, found the black fiend in bed at East Grand Forks, and had but little difficulty in capturing him. He confessed to the crime, and said he had been drinking. When the vigilance committee heard of the arrest, it was only with difficulty that they were restrained from storming the city jail and lynching the prisoner.

LATER—A mob broke into the jail and took the ravisher out and strung him up. The world is rid of another brute. The negro was hung at the railroad bridge. It is said that the husband of the last woman ravished, was the person that placed the noose around the neck of the wretch. The latest reports are, that the victims will recover. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the poor sufferers.

Campaign Literature.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A well informed Charleston, S. C. republican is here to see Secretary Henderson in the interest of some coalition candidates of South Carolina. He said to-night that he felt quite sure of three counties. These three are Campbell, in Chester, Mackay and Cash. In the county Campbell and Cash are well known independent democrats, Mackay is an equally well known republican. This gentleman thinks that it is possible that Brayton the republican who is in county district may also pull through. Negroes have been advised to vote only for congressional candidates this year. The ballots for congressional candidates are placed in square boxes. They are guarded by federal officials, federal laws, until they are counted. It is believed that they will be fairly counted. The coalition ticket will be allowed to quietly die.

Chandler to the Front.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Secretary Chandler is said to be now devoting himself to the republican congressional committee, and many of the friends of the party will undoubtedly regret that he did not turn his attention to it before so many blunders were committed. It is known that he differs in many particulars from the management, but it is probably too late now to relieve him of the important blunders.

Brutal Murder.

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Intelligence was received here early this morning, from the southern part of the city, of the killing last night, of Albert Hardier, by Frank Miller. The latter was drunk, and was having an altercation with his wife on the sidewalk, when Hardier attempted the part of a peacemaker, when Mrs. Miller slapped him in the face and Miller struck the jugular vein. All are working people.
