CITY AND VALLEY VOICINGS.

Sunday morning.

Attend the churches.

Read the DAILY JOURNAL.

Then you will surely be happy.

The election returns are not all in yet and seem to drag.

The projectors of the new bank are looking up a location.

The cold weather holds out like the stale editorials of the Press.

Stock men predict an unusually cold winter and plenty of snow.

This weather is not much relished by the sheep and cattle men.

The Yellowstone is running with slush ice above Junction City.

Simon Basinski will be on the boulevard this afternoon, speeding his flyer.

There are rumors of a tumble in the price of board at several of the chop houses.

The train from the east was on time yesterday, notwithstanding the intense cold.

The band concert last evening was enjoyed by many living in the vicinity of the theatre.

The compositors of the Miles City Typographical Union hold a meeting this afternoon.

The boxing match at the Cosmopolitan Friday night demonstrates that we have some knights of the gloves in our midst.

The small boy was hugely enjoying himself yesterday in skating on the ice on Tongue river, which had frozen quite firmly.

Among the kids who took part in the sparring match last evening was one of our carriers, who took the championship sweet bread.

Sam Gordon, of the firm of Theodor Borup, late Broadwater, Hubbell & Co. left for Graveyard bottom and the Rosebud yesterday, to count ties.

Merrill & Graham, of the "Little Delmonico" restaurant, have, with true public spirit, erected a lamp post in front of their place of business.

Everyone owning a cutter will use it to-day. Those not fortunate enough to own one can stand on the sidewalk and see others enjoying the sport.

The hardest work the handsome young cheese and suuff sellers of J. J. Graham's grocery find now is in keeping that "illuminated base burner" from catching cold.

The Inter-Ocean hotel management will serve up a fine dinner to-day. All the delicacies of the season will be furnished in connection with the regular supply of good things.

Yesterday the bell was removed from the Baptist church to the school house and hereafter will be rung to call the scholars to school and to make the various changes in classes, &c.

Col. Wilson, commanding officer at Keogh, was engaged yesterday in moving into his quarters recently vacated by Gen. Whistler. Maj. Brisbin was also moving into new quarters.

In the efforts to secure a commercial office of the Western Union the application was rejected, the business report for one month falling two and a half messages short of the requisite number.

Capt. John Smith has returned to his old stamping grounds. He was seen yesterday at the Cottage saloon. It looks natural to find him here with us, and we hope the visit may be an extended one.

Col. Strader, of W. B. Andrews & Co., druggists, will not return from the east until next Saturday. He writes friends here that he is having a regular "parrot and monkey time" in the wicked city by the big lake.

J. J. Coleman, the able assistant cashier at the First National bank, is one of the best posted young men on finances in the territory. He is a valued assistant of Mr. Stower, whose friendships this territory are legion.

The appearance of counterfeit $10 treasury notes has caused considerable alarm among the money brokers and merchants generally. It is stated that it is a reissue of an old counterfeit which first appeared seven or eight years ago.

George H. Scott, the young tree merchant, reports much interest manifested in tree planting throughout the territory. Nothing in our territory deserves so much encouragement as the planting of trees whether it be fruit or forest.

A. E. Baird, the contractor, acting on the JOURNAL's suggestion regarding the starting of a library and free reading room, makes a special offer. The ladies of the city should act upon it promptly. Similar donations will doubtless follow.

John W. Bagley.

The Cold Snap's Result.

As the cold weather approaches the stud tables are all well patronized. Flick is having a big run at Kehoe & Matthews', and is consequently happy. He reports being considerable ahead on election. Flick runs a square game and will admit no foolishness. The Cosmopolitan does a good business on the games, the lady dealer especially being always busy. Another feature is her kindness to Baker since she went back on our foreman.

Do not pass the Keg saloon without dropping in for a nice drink of good liquor or a fine cigar.

A Public Benefit.

Won't some of the ladies of Miles City make a start in getting up a reading room? There are quite a number of young men here that will donate liberally. A. E. Baird has a library of a hundred volumes of choice literature that he will donate to start the enterprising ladies in this good cause. They are late histories, encyclopedias, popular novels, &c., just the kind of books to start a library. This would be a great inducement to draw the attention of many young men.

Real Estate Sale.

The residence property of Rev. McNiff, on Pleasant street, was sold yesterday to Dr. Adams, of Palmyra, N. Y., for $1,200, which is considerably less than it is worth. The deal, however, was a cash one and as Mr. McNiff had been called to the states some months ago and compelled by circumstances to remain there, he was willing to let it go at the above figure. Dr. Adams also purchased a lot of other property in various parts of the city.

Nothing.

But the best at the Sideboard Saloon.

Kids on Their Muscle.

The "kids" of Miles City, entertained a crowd of sporting men last night at Brown's saloon. A sparring match was the programme. Among the lads that took an active part was Ed. Goettlich, James McCann, George Johnson, Adolph Brown and Edson Whitney. A lively set to took place between Edson, Whitney, and Frank Donegan, in which Donegan was knocked out of the ring several times. They meet this evening again, and a cordial invitation is extended to all the "kids" of Miles City to be present and stand up to be knocked down.

Religious Notes.

BY A PASTOR.

THIS IS SUNDAY MORNING.

Well, what of it? It is a day to be observed as a day for christian worship. Remember it, and hallow it. Read a chapter in your bible: go to church. Don't walk to-day. "Six days shalt thou labor and do all thy work." Don't swear to-day. "Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain." Don't hang around the saloons. Give the bar-tenders a chance to go to church. They need it.

SUNDAY EVENING TALKS.

Pastor Downey will give a series of familiar lectures on subjects of morals and religion for several Sunday evenings at the Baptist church. The first lecture for this evening, November 12, will be the Golden Rule and how to keep it. The effort will be made to make these lectures attractive and adapted to young people.

A car load of all kinds of heating and cooking stoves have just been received at Burleigh's mammoth store. Now is the time to call while the stock is complete.

A GOOD TIME.

Such was the verdict of All Present at the Opening of the New Inter-Ocean Billiard Hall Last Night.

Mr. Charles E. Deane, managing partner of (Macqueen, Young & Deane, proprietors) the Inter-Ocean hotel, gave a grand reception to his friends last night, the occasion being the formal dedication of the new billiard hall recently fitted up regardless of expense by the liberal proprietors of the popular Inter-Ocean. The new hall is fitted up with two of the best billiard and pool tables ever brought to the city. They are from the factory of the Brunswick & Balke Co., whose goods are standard in both hemispheres and known favorably wherever the ivory ball game is understood. Charley Deane was probably the happiest man in the city as he received his many friends and attended to their wants in a pleasant and social manner, indicating him to be a thorough hotel man, "to the manor born." Among those noticed at the pleasant gathering might be mentioned Dr. Linn, J. T. Huffman, Dr. D. H. Dodge, Frank Finling, George Colman, Sam LeRoy, Capt. Edwards, W. B. Andrews, Mr. Morton, of Fort Keogh, A. C. Logan, John Scherlock, A. W. Church, H. W. Filbert, J. J. McLaughlin, Mr. Higgins, Harry Combs, Mr. Towns, Mr. Dowd, Mr. Merrill, of the Delmonico, H. H. Gerrish, W. W. Garlock; W. W. Beasley, Chicago, and many others. An excellent lunch was served and everybody enjoyed the evening, and the success of the new resort is already assured.

John Striegel opened the Union Hall on night of Nov. 6 and furnished music and refreshments. The Union Hall is fitted with a very nice bar and lunch counter, and has some fine billiard and pool tables.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Philip Brady is still in the city.

R. W. Dillon, of Bismarck, is at the Inter-Ocean.

James Hollins, of Helena, enjoys life at the Grand Central.

Capt. E. P. Ewers, fifth infantry, is at present in Santa Cruz California.

T. R. Worthsoman and wife, of Pittsburg, Pa., arrived in the city yesterday, and are quartered at the Grand Central.

Capt. John Smith, a prominent merchant of Billings, is in the city viewing the progress of this great metropolis.

Richard B. Stower, Esq., the polite cashier of the First National bank, left yesterday afternoon for the east, to be absent about ten days. His first objective point is St. Paul.

Northern Pacific Express Company.

If any of the residents of our city are ordering goods from any of the cities of the east, caution should be used so far as is practicable in having them sent by mail. This can be done in every instance where the package does not exceed four pounds in weight. In some cases where the weight exceeds the limit, separate packages can be sent at the rate of twenty-four cents per pound. This caution is deemed necessary, owing to the fraudulent manner they manage affairs in the N. P. express company's headquarters in St. Paul. A box was recently sent to a resident of Miles City, with the name and destination plainly marked thereon. Also the fact that freight charges had been paid through to Miles City. A receipt was given to this effect, and in the face of this evidence, the agent of the Northern Pacific express company at St. Paul, who ever that tenderfoot may be, had the sublime gall to order full charges collected at this end of the line, which the Miles City agent was obliged to do, or have the amount charged up to him. On getting the box of merchandise, the owner protested that the charges had been paid, and showed the evidence of the fact. Whereupon he wrote to the red tape gang at St. Paul, who, in answer, requested the original wrapper of the package must be sent him, which would have to be sent to Boston and from there back again to Miles City via St. Paul, and then back again to St. Paul, where the matter would receive the consideration of the dyspeptic gang that try to manage the affairs of the express company at headquarters. Now it so happens that the "paper wrapper" of the package is a good sized wooden box, and to make it imitate the travels of Mark Twain's beef contract, is simply ridiculous, and shows what kind of a light brained head is in charge of the main office at St. Paul. The fact of an express company having a monopoly on all territorial business, is no excuse for the practice of a game that is no better than highway robbery, and the people so far as is possible should give it a wide berth.

For a fine drink or the best cigar in the city, go to Madam Green's, corner of Main and sixth street. Attentive waiters are always at hand to serve drinks on short notice. Open day and night.

A KIND ACT.

One of Our Philanthropic Business Men Furnishing Free Coal to the City Churches and Needy Poor.

Who in our city does not know Dr. Linn? He is a whole souled gentleman that is doing an act of kindness worthy of mention in these columns, and one which our people will not soon forget. The doctor is the head and front of what is known as the Red Jacket Coal and Stone company, owning valuable coal mines just across the Yellowstone river. This coal is noted for its good quality and has met with a large city sale. Since the purchase of these mines by the doctor, he has steadily developed them, and their capacity is now sufficient to meet all demands. The doctor a few days ago sent a letter to each of the city pastors kindly offering to furnish free of all cost, whatever coal may be needed in the churches during the remainder of the winter, and has gone still further in his kindness, and offers the needy poor the privilege of keeping their homes warm at his expense. All he requires to know is that persons are worthy of the charity, then they will be supplied without stint and without price, all the coal their hearts could wish for. All these little acts of kindness, redound to the credit of the doctor, and some time in the future the bread thus cast upon the Miles City waters will return increased ten fold and placed to his credit.
