Recovering Montana Horses.

War parties of Blood Indians left their reserves last Spring and stole a large number of horses on the Marias, in the Gros Ventre camp in the Bear Paw, on the Judith river and near the Missouri. Part of the plunder was taken from citizens of Northern Montana. In June the Bloods went north across the line with their booty. Information to this effect was given to Major Cotton of the mounted police and he sent Sergeant Spieker to investigate. The Stand Off detachment accompanied Sergeant Spieker who hunted through the Blood reserve and recovered twenty-six horses. The Indians were very loth to deliver and the Indian department officials gave the police no encouragement. The recovered horses were taken to Fort Macleod and the police still believe that there are cached on the reserve four horses stolen from Piegan and ten from white men. The mounted police deserve great credit for the energetic efforts they put forth to restore these horses to their owners. The River Press of Fort Benton in referring to the above says: "The conduct of the mounted police in this matter is to be commended and is in marked contrast with our own troops. While the mounted police will turn out to recover horses stolen from American citizens, the military this side of the line will not even protect our own people. This has been the custom of the mounted police for the past ten years, and many animals belonging to citizens of Montana have been recovered by their efforts. We can assure Major Cotton and the mounted police that they have the sincere thanks of our people for the interest they have uniformly displayed toward such of our citizens who have been unfortunate enough to lose horses."

Missouri River Improvements.

The people of Fort Benton are rejoicing because of the needed improvements that are being made in the upper Missouri. The River Press in reference to this says: "The upper Missouri river is evidently assuming some commercial importance. We have now here two government boats—the improvement and survey parties—and a dredge boat to cost $25,000 is being built at this place. The Missouri river commission, which is composed of several prominent gentlemen closely identified with the interests of the Big Muddy, will be here in a few days and they will probably be accompanied by Commodore T. C. Power, the chief of the mariners of the Missouri."

Troops in Motion.

A battalion of five companies of the First Cavalry passed through town on this morning's train en route from Fort Custer to Fort Reno, Indian Territory. This looks as though there was going to be a little business transacted with the Indians in that excited locality. It is no doubt probable that troops will be drawn from other portions of the country and massed there in sufficient numbers to enforce submission of the refractory savages at once. Their being taken from here indicates that the alleged uprising of the Northern Indians reported a few days ago is not received with much credence by the authorities. Lieut. Bailey, commissary at Fort Keogh, furnished the command with rations as they passed through last night.

Sleeper's Hotel.

For some time past a few of our citizens have been actively engaged in canvassing various schemes to secure the erection of a first class brick hotel in town. That finally decided upon as the one conducive of the best results is to raise a bonus for Mr. A. W. Sleeper, in consideration of which he agrees to build on his corner a first class house 75x150 in area, three stories high and equipped with all the modern improvements. There is little doubt but that the bonus will be raised and the building proceeded with, but in order to make it an assured fact, every citizen should contribute his mite. Considered in an unselfish light the object in view takes the position of a public enterprise. All will freely admit that there is nothing the town is so badly in need of as ample hotel accommodations, and the opportunity to secure this desideratum should not be treated with apathy.

Probate Court.

The conclusion arrived at by Judge Staehle in the case of larceny against James Kelly was that there was probable cause for binding him to await the action of the grand jury. His bonds were fixed at $800.

The case of vagrancy against Geo. Lyons was tried before a jury and as the accused presented a good defense the verdict was in his favor and he was discharged.

A young man named Da'v' who had been gathered in charged with vagrancy had a hearing before Judge Staehle and on showing that he was the only support of a widowed mother to whom he was traveling, he was permitted to move on without further delay.

In the report of the McGinnis case yesterday we stated that Attorney Ross appeared for the defense which, in fact, was conducted by Attorney C. R. Middleton, who by his able efforts in behalf of McGinnis succeeded in getting the case into such shape that he got off with a light sentence.

The Nation.

The New York Nation printed in its issue of June 25th, a retrospect of the twenty years of its existence which were completed with that number. The Nation was founded in July, 1865, in recognition of the new order of things which was sure to follow the end of the war and the abolition of slavery. It at once espoused the cause of pure, unpartisan administration of the National Government; and the present condition of civil-service reform is owing to it more than to any other instrumentality. It has been conducted, in its two leading departments, Politics and Literature, by the same editors from the first number, and holds to-day, as for the past twenty years, the first rank in each. It is the medium of the most thoughtful and cultivated discussion in the country—is, in fact, the only truly national journalistic forum. Its foreign correspondence is unrivalled. Its book reviews (by the leading scholars of the country) possess the highest authority. Each number contains a careful news summary, and the best obtainable chronicle of current history. (24 pp., quarto. 10 cents a number; $3 a year. 210 Broadway, New York.)

The Mining District.

Reports from the Helena mining district are favorable, as usual. The Herald says the camp is now pretty lively, about thirty men being employed there. Work is going on regularly on the principal lodes, but now that they have attained considerable depth the miners are greatly inconvenienced by the impure air beneath the surface. Efforts are being made to establish perfect ventilation in some of the mines, two shafts on the Helena lode which will soon be connected being now in course of construction. Not much ore is being taken out at present owing to the work now going on to establish good ventilation.

Assayer Harrison Exonerated.

Recent advices from Washington state that Judge McCue solicitor of the treasury, to whom was referred the evidence taken in the investigation of the charges preferred against Russell D. Harrison, assayer in charge of the United States mint at Helena, Mont., has made his report to the secretary of the treasury, in which he exonerates Mr. Harrison. W. P. Lowner, who was sent to make the investigation, speaks in high terms of the system employed in the office. The solicitor's report is satisfactory to the secretary of the treasury, and Harrison will be so notified.

Fire at Fort Benton.

A dispatch from Benton states that a fire broke out there last night and destroyed Roosevelt's furniture store and warehouse and the Odd Fellows' Temple, occupied by the River Press. The loss is placed at about $20,000; insurance $18,000. Nearly all the material of the River Press was saved, and their loss is fully covered by insurance.—Helena Independent.

Sorry to note this mishap, which at best cannot but greatly inconvenience Editor Collins and the River Press force. We hope the pie will soon be disposed of and to see the Benton daily before us again.

The executive committee of the Montana Stock Growers' association will hold a meeting in Miles City on the 20th of this month to consider matters necessary to be arranged before beef shipments commence.

Montana Mention.

Twenty tough nuts from Bitter Root were converted at the recent camp meeting in that section.

W. B. Welch, the Yellowstone county aspirant to the territorial secretaryship, visited Helena this week.

Nearly 200,000 pounds of wool have been received here from the 29th to the 30th of June, inclusive.—Benton Press.

George Fisher, the well known amateur singer of Butte, has arranged to start about the 1st of August for a trip to Germany. He expects to be absent about three months.

Wm. Woolsey, Jr., has sold his coach line between Livingston and White Sulphur Springs to J. O. Hussey. The sale includes the mail contract, coaches, teams and stations.

Mr. John Furman, the owner of the race horses Nipper and George, has purchased a fine ranch on the south fork of San River and is going to make Montana his home. Mr. Furman is a thorough horseman.

Otto Meyer, of White Sulphur Springs, who got his leg broken on the round-up a year ago, had it fractured again this spring in the same business. He is now about again, but goes on four legs, two of them being wood.

We have been informed on good authority that no very stringent effort will be made to keep miners out of the Sweet Grass. The agent will follow his instructions and notify them to go and that will probably be the last of it.—River Press.

When "Froggy's" horses were stolen, at Pen d'Oreille coulie, eight head of Piegan horses were taken at the same time. The owners of the latter went to the Blood camp and got their animals, and succeeded in recovering "Froggy's" also.

Butte is exulting over its metropolitan aspect, now that the policemen have uniforms. We in Helena, who have been so long accustomed to the regalia of municipality, can look smilingly upon the juvenile exultations of the Silver Bow village.—Herald.

We learn that Frank Wocasek, who came up from Maiden Friday brought information that the Blackfeet Indians stole a band of horses from James Fergus & Son. They were pursued by citizens and all the horses recaptured except five head.—Husbandman.

The Marias cow boys are doing some wonderful work in the way of branding. They branded ninety-two calves in forty-eight minutes, the other day—nearly two calves a minute—and can come pretty near keeping that lick up all day. It will require several weeks yet to complete the work on the range.

Thursday evening while at work in a drift of the Northern Pacific mine, a man named John Tierce, was caught by a cave in the drift and sustained a fracture of the lower end of the left thigh bone. His left knee was also hurt. Friday evening his leg was badly swollen, but it is thought he will be all right in a few days.

A letter received by Dr. Parberry from George Cook, a wool grower living about twenty miles north of Fort Maginnis, states that a number of cabins in his neighborhood have been broken open and robbed of their contents, and that about twenty head of horses have been stolen. The thieves are believed to be Blackfeet Indians.

The First National bank building attracts the attention of strangers passing through town, by the elegance of its design. We observed three passengers from this morning's train who crossed over the street to examine it and who were profuse in their praise of the beauty of the cut of the stone work, and surprised to learn that the stone was quarried so near Billings.—Gazette.

There are now two ship yards in Benton, with several men employed in each of them. The dredge boat is progressing favorably and will be launched in two or three days after the arrival of the Helena, which is bringing up some lumber needed for the bottom of the boat. The survey party of the Missouri are building a quarter boat and it will require some two weeks to complete it.—River Press.

The man who murdered Fred Haining on Birch creek Sunday morning has not been apprehended as yet. The little niece of Haining whom he held in his arms at the time he was shot, and who was badly wounded, is in a dangerous condition. The little one's maimed leg had to be amputated. The community is greatly excited, and if the murderer be caught, his chances are extremely good for lynching.—Inter-Mountain.
