IMPORTANT TO INSURERS.

The safety of the assured depends as much upon the skill and knowledge of the AGENT as upon the soundness of the company. The ability properly to write policies and make the endorsements so frequently called for, as well as to give the advice needed and asked for by almost every person assured, is not acquired in a few days or months, but requires the study and experience of YEARS. It is well known that most of the delay and trouble attending the settlement of losses is the result of the ignorance of AGENTS through whom the insurance is effected, and their inability to render needed assistance at the time of and after a fire.

A Pleasant Party.

At the instance of a few of the leaders of society, a pleasant party was arranged and given to our popular merchant, Lee Eisenberg, last evening.

There was about forty people in attendance. The following is a list of those who participated in the enjoyment: Mrs. Tinsling, Mrs. S. W. McGowan, Mrs. Fuller, Mrs. Jno. J. Coleman, Mrs. Baer, Miss Grace Campbell, Miss Johnston, Miss Bessie McElrath, Miss Annie Weir, Miss Rena Biesonette, Miss Josie Miner, Miss Mamie Clifford, Miss Kenzie, Miss Moran, Miss Bessie Southmayd, Miss Gerlie Baer, Miss Mary Beecher. The gentlemen were A. M. LeRoy, L. C. Dear, N. Nathan, C. F. M. Tinsling, Grant Miner, C. J. Smith, Ed. Green, S. Basinski, H. F. Batchelor, J. W. Scully, H. C. Bill, W. L. Avery, Geo. H. Scott, Geo. Ulmer, J. Fussy, A. C. Van Doren, Dr. Whitney, John J. Coleman, Will Whiteside, M. A. G. Martindale, Sam McGowan, W. C. Coddington and Wm. Tompkins.

The evening was full of pleasant dancing aside from the music and feasting. The occasion was one of the happiest in the history of social events during the season of social parties, hops, entertainments, etc. The programme of twenty figures was danced to the sweetest music, and was highly enjoyed by all the ladies all appeared at their best, for it was really a dress party. At 12:30 dancing was brought to a close for a few moments to serve refreshments. This consisted of the finest lunches that could be prepared by the culinary art. As the gay season approaches its close it moves a little faster, and it seems possible now that until the end comes dances may occur every week instead of every alternate week as has been the regular routine of the winter.

ANOTHER FIRE.

Three Frame Structures on Main Street Consumed by the Devouring Element.

Why will property owners continue to construct frame buildings for business houses is the proposition most appropriate as an introductory to the tale of destruction wrought by flames yesterday morning. At 6 o'clock sharp the alarm was first given and the terrific gale which then prevailed caused much alarm to citizens owning contiguous property. The fire is thought to have originated from a defective flue in the rear part of Red Ward's saloon. The fire burned very slowly for a time and ample opportunity was afforded for the removal of whatever of stock and fixtures easily handled was in the several stores. The drug store, John Wright's, was gutted of nearly everything movable before the fire obtained great headway; Young's confectionery and fruit store was cleared, also the saloon in which the fire originated. Wm. Birkle's stock was saved to some extent, but his loss will be heavier than any of the rest and he carried a very light insurance. At A. Smith's the jeweler's place a large amount of the stock was consumed, and such stuff as was taken out was damaged to a greater or less degree. The Jewelry and valuables were, of course in the safe but anyone who has noticed the multitudinous stock of trinkets, knick-knacks and articles of virtu of which the stock was largely composed, can well understand that a hasty removal of it was little better than leaving it to be destroyed by the flames. The fire burned steadily for nearly two hours, Basinski's brick store checking it on the east side and suffering a little damage to the cornice and nearest window casings. No attempt was made to check the flames, as at a glance the utter uselessness of such attempt was plainly visible and besides no water could be obtained nearer than Gallagher's, all the pumps in the immediate vicinity of the fire being frozen up. The electric light lamp in Wright's place was saved by Billy Long, who was among the first to reach the scene of the conflagration. The buildings were owned respectively by John Gibbs, Major E. Butler and Townner Savage. Their losses were almost fully covered by insurance. Following is a list of the risks covered by local insurance agencies:

By E. A. Kreidler & Co.:
Smith, furniture.....$800
" stock..... 500
" dwelling..... 250
Wright, stock..... 800
" building..... 250
Ward, Stock and fixtures..... 800
Butler, building..... 737
Kennedy, billiard table..... 225
Young, stock and fixtures..... 400 $4,282

By Wm. Courtenay:
Smith, stock and fixtures $3,000
Wright, stock and fixtures 1,000
Savage, building..... 1,200 $5,200

By C. W. Seyde:
Wright, stock and fixtures $2,700
Gibbs, building..... 1,000
Butler, building..... 750
Birkle, stock and fixtures 800 $5,250

Total insurance.....$14,712

Losses on buildings:
Butler.....$1,800
Gibbs..... 1,500
Savage..... 1,600

Total.....$4,900

Estimated loss on stock and fixtures:
Birkle.....$1,200
Wright..... 1,000
Smith..... 2,000
Ward..... 250
Young..... 250

Total.....$4,600

Of these losses all are covered by insurance with the exception of Birkle. Townner Savage will re-build with brick, Butler ditto, but probably not until the town is incorporated. Gibb's building was on leased land and he cannot say just yet what will be done.

John Wright had all his effects taken to the store in the Stockgrowers' bank block recently vacated by Conrad & Co. and he will re-open at once. Young is ready for business at Borchard's store, Smith has his goods in Brandenburg & Van Gasken's building, Birkle is storing his things in one of the new but unfinished Graham buildings and Red Ward is seeking whom he may devour. The amount of pilfering carried on at this fire was outrageous.

A Lost Art Found.

The Courier Journal publishes reports of tests made in the presence of one of its staff, of a new process of hardening and tempering steel by which hardness and elasticity are carried forward in combination. A drill made of new steel penetrated in forty minutes, a steel safe plate warranted to resist any burglar drill for twelve hours. A penknife tempered by the process, cut the stem of a steel key readily, and with the same blade the inventor shaved the hair on his arm. A number of other interesting and successful tests were made. The inventor is a young blacksmith who has been experimenting with the process for years, and who claims that the tempering is conducted without expense or skilled labor and mechanically to perfect equalization. He has also a new process for converting iron into steel.

The Fort Ellis Reservation.

Surveyor General Greene has received orders from Commissioner Sparks of the general land office to advertise for proposals and let a contract for the survey of the Fort Ellis military reservation into ordinary subdivisions.

As in other public land surveys the price must not exceed $9 for meridian and meander lines, $7 for township lines and $5 for section lines per mile.

Profit Sharing.

St. Louis Telegram: N. O. Nelson, a prominent manufacturer of this city, who has had nearly a year's experience in profit sharing with his men, expresses the opinion that it is decidedly the best plan for the prevention of strikes and for the maintenance of good feeling between employer and employe.

Last March he inaugurated profit sharing in the history of the Nelson Manufacturing company, in which between fifty and one hundred men are employed. By agreement with the men they were to work fifty-five hours per week, receive full pay and at the end of the year, after allowing 7 per cent for capital invested, and paying him a salary for his own services, the remainder of the profits was to be divided equally upon the total amount of wages paid and capital employed. Recently the company declared a dividend of 5 per cent on salaries to employes, which has been paid in cash or certificates bearing interest. Mr. Nelson has added several new features to his plan for the present year. Ten per cent of the profits to be devoted to the foundation of a provident and relief fund for employes; 10 per cent will be set aside for a surplus fund to cover losing years, and 2 per cent will go into the purchase of books for an employe's library.

PAGE'S SUNDAY LAW.

An Act to Prohibit the Retailing of Intoxicating Liquors on Sunday—Introduced by Page.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the Territory of Montana: Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, either as principal, agent or otherwise; on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, to retail, sell or otherwise dispose of, to any person or persons whomsoever, any spirituous, vinous or malt liquor, or any intoxicating drinks of any kind or character, or to keep open any saloon, ale or porter house, or tipping place of any character, where such spirituous, vinous or malt liquors or intoxicating drinks are retailed as hereinbefore provided.

Section 2. That each and every person violating any of the provisions of this act, shall for each offense, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine of not less than (10) dollars nor more than (100) dollars.

Section 3. The provisions of this act shall not be construed to include druggists who shall, in good faith, sell or dispose of the articles hereinbefore mentioned for medical purposes only.

Section 4. All moneys collected under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the school fund of the county in which this offense is committed.

Existing Experience.

London Telegram: From an interview with Capt. Deane, who was in charge of the Stanley Falls, on the Congo river, during the recent successful attack by the Arabs, and who is now in London, it appears he and Lieut. Dubois defended the place until their ammunition was exhausted. The Arabs then attacked the Italians with a rush and carried everything before them. When the whites found it necessary to fly, Deane ordered petroleum to be thrown on the building and set fire. They party escaped through the underwood. He and Dubois fell from the slippery rock into the river. Deane swam ashore, leaving Dubois clinging to the rock while Deane was seeking for assistance. Dubois later became exhausted and fell from the rock and was drowned.

Deane fled into the jungle, where he was hunted and tracked by the Arabs for a month. He was barefooted all the time and had only a blanket to cover him. He was wounded in the thigh and arm. He lived on locusts and wild fruits until found and rescued by friendly natives.
