SHEEP GROWERS.

Eastern Montanians Hold Their Tenth Annual Convention In This City.

The Old Officers Unanimously Re-Elected—The Scab Question Causes Considerable Comment—Resolutions.

President A. Laney called the association to order at 2:20 p. m., Secretary Merrill being at his desk, with a large attendance of members.

The president made a brief address, congratulating the association upon its prosperity, and the good attendance, and briefly outlined the plan of the meeting.

C. L. Merrill, chairman of the committee on wool warehouse, reported that Messrs. Jordan and Miles had built a commodious warehouse at Miles City, which with the one at Rosebud, gave very good facilities, except at Terry, but as the railroad company declined to assist at this point, nothing could be done.

The report was accepted and the committee discharged.

A. M. Cree, from the committee on assessment, reported that sheep had last year been assessed at $1, but the same had been reduced to 83, at which sum the sheep would be assessed this year, which although perhaps a little high, was the best that could be done.

Mr. Cree suggested that this committee also be discharged, but George W. Myers objected, and asked that in view of the good work done by the committee in keeping down the high assessment of sheep, the committee be made a permanent one, and offered that as a motion, or rather an amendment to Mr. Cree's motion, and Mr. Myers' amendment was adopted. The committee as constituted consists of Messrs. A. M. Cree, Oscar Gruell, W. W. Beasley and President Laney.

Mr. Cree asked for an expression of opinion as to whether the assessment of 83 per head be too high or not, and if it was so considered, the committee would certainly appear before the board of equalization and endeavor to have it reduced, but it was finally concluded to leave this to the committee's discretion, pending any extensive decline in the market values.

Scab inspector H. L. Chenoweth submitted his report as follows:

MILES CITY, April 12, 1893.
 The number of sheep now held under quarantine for scab is as follows:
 David Neilson of Big Porcupine, 1,000 head. This band is in good condition and have been dipped twice and show but little indication of scab.

F. H. Morton of Rosebud, 1,500 head. This band is badly diseased, but have been dipped, and the owner will dip again as soon as the weather will permit.
 John Wescpeter of Little Pumpkin creek, 1,500 head. This band has also been recently dipped and are reported in good condition.

George Barclay of Ekalaka, 600 head. This band is in poor condition and the owner refuses to dip till after shearing.
 So far as I have been able to learn the four bands mentioned are the only cases of scab in Custer county.

H. L. CHENOWETH.
 Accompanying the report Mr. Chenoweth tendered his resignation.

A. M. Cree moved the acceptance of the resignation, and quite severely censured the inspector for not more stringently enforcing the scab laws.

E. C. Howard also spoke upon the subject, and was anxious to see an inspector who would devote his time and attention to the matter.

Mr. Myers said Mr. Chenoweth was not so much to blame as many thought and that Dr. Holloway was equally responsible for the scabby sheep. He also stated that one of Mr. Holloway's deputies had declared to Mr. Chenoweth that the sheep were clean.

Mr. Cree answered this and said that Mr. Chenoweth inspected part of the sheep and took Mr. Barney's word for the fact that the sheep were not scabby, while in fact the 10,000 diseased sheep were naturally in the rear—20 miles away—and Mr. Chenoweth should have visited them. The speaker also stated that Dr. Holloway owed it to the association to be at this meeting.

Mr. Howard stated that one small bunch of the Morton sheep, badly afflicted with scab, was adrift on the Rosebud, having been abandoned by their owners, owing to a dispute between the two owners, and he was seriously alarmed over their presence. Quite an animated discussion followed, participated in by many of the members present.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.
 The motion to accept Mr. Chenoweth's resignation was submitted as follows:

Resolved, That in consideration of the fact that Scab Inspector Chenoweth has tendered to the state veterinarian his resignation, be it

Resolved, That this association recommend to the state veterinarian its acceptance, and that a suitable person be recommended by this association for the position of scab inspector for Custer county, and that he be appointed immediately.

The motion was carried.
 Frank O'Neal suggested Charles O'Neal as scab inspector.

F. A. Lisk and others were also mentioned.

Mr. Myers moved that the association ballot for a man to be recommended for inspector, and the motion was carried.

The president appointed Frank O'Neal and John Barringer as tellers.

A ballot was taken which resulted as follows:

Charles O'Neal	23
Skow Johnson	1
Dr. Redd	1
A. B. Snow	1
F. A. Lisk	5

Chas. O'Neal having had a majority of all the votes cast, was declared the choice of the association for scab inspector.

Frank O'Neal stated that he would like to see the parties who sold these scabby sheep prosecuted, as he knew that Mr. Barney had sold sheep after he knew they were scabby.

Mr. Myers moved that a committee of two be appointed to communicate with the state veterinarian immediately, and have the appointment made by telegraph.

The motion was carried and the chair appointed Messrs. C. L. Merrill and F. D. O'Neal.

A. M. Cree moved that a committee of three be appointed to draw a constitution and by-laws and report the same at the next meeting.

The motion prevailed and the chair appointed C. L. Merrill, F. D. O'Neal and George W. Myers.

The committee appointed to confer with Dr. Holloway was also instructed to communicate with Charles O'Neal and ascertain if he would accept the position.

It was moved that a committee of three be appointed to draw up resolutions and report them at 8 o'clock p. m.
 Messrs. Cree, Selway and Myers were named as such committee.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The chairman announced that the election of officers was now in order.

Mr. Cree moved that in view of the able manner in which the officers had transacted the business of the association, they be declared re-elected, and the motion was carried unanimously.

The selection of an executive committee was deferred until evening.

Mr. G. F. Wright of the Wool and Mutton, a new sheep paper, addressed the meeting briefly and was followed by Mr. Truscott, who stated that he thought from the present appearances the prices would be just as they were last year, and that 14 or 15 cents would probably be advanced.

Mr. McNaughton thought that prices would be satisfactory this year.
 Mr. Lisk declared that he could not make a speech, but was in the market for wool.

N. J. Beilenberg of Deer Lodge said he came down to attend the cattle convention, but was also interested in sheep. There were about 15 bunches of sheep quarantined in his neighborhood, with a disease which the state veterinarian called anthrax. Out of 2,000 head he had lost during the winter all but 100. A neighbor had also lost 1,000 out of 5,000. The sheep are only sick an hour or two, the disease affecting the kidneys. It is thought the disease can be prevented by vaccination, but there is nothing that will cure sheep when attacked.

HERDING AND SHEARING.

Mr. Cree said he was ready to give his ideas on herding and shearing, and wanted to know if those things should be postponed until evening.

The matter was finally left to the committee with the understanding that any member can bring up any subject in the way of an amendment, should the committee overlook the same.

Frank O'Neal moved that notwithstanding the fact Mr. Chenoweth had made one mistake in allowing scab to enter the county, the association tender him a vote of thanks for having generally done his duty faithfully, and the motion prevailed.

The meeting then adjourned until 8 p. m.

EVENING SESSION.

Soon after dark the members of the Miles City band met at their hall, and from thence proceeded to the Macqueen house, where several selections were played. The line of march was taken up for the court house, and stops were made at the corner of Park and Main streets and the postoffice corner, where the band played more music and surprised the people of the city by the vast improvement which they have made in the past few months. The court room was comfortably filled with sheepmen and their visitors, including a number of ladies. In front of the court house another melody was given, and also on the inside.

President Laney then called the meeting to order, with C. S. Wright acting as secretary in the absence of Secretary Merrill.

The president introduced George W. Myers, who in a short and appropriate address welcomed the sheep men on the part of the city.

More music followed and then the president announced the

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

for the ensuing year to be Charles Daly, J. Barringer, Frank D. O'Neal, A. M. Cree and H. S. Lewis.

Chairman Myers of the committee on resolutions, read his report, which was as follows:

WHEREAS, Wolves, coyotes and other stock destroying animals have become so numerous upon the ranges that they have become a menace to the sheep and stock business of state of Montana, be it Resolved, By the woolgrowers and sheepmen of eastern Montana in convention assembled:

First. We commend the wisdom of the Third legislature of Montana in passing the bounty law, believing as we do that instead of bankrupting the state that after paying a bounty tax we would be financially as well off as before, from the fact that the bounties on stock destroying animals would be paid to citizens of our state and the money so paid would remain in this state.

Second. That we deplore the fact that Governor Rickards found it necessary to veto the bounty bill.

Recognizing the fact that the common range of this country is and ought to be as free to one class of stock as well as another, and the fact having been brought to the attention of this association that certain men engage in the sheep business in eastern Montana permit their herders to worry cattle with their dogs when the cattle came to certain springs and watering places, be it

Resolved, That the association condemn such work and will use their best endeavors in the future to prevent such depredations.

Resolved, That in the general efficiency of the administration of the affairs of the office of state veterinarian, the woolgrowers of this section recognize a great danger. Scab is prevalent in numerous bands of sheep in eastern Montana, and in our judgment proper steps for its eradication have not been taken; that in view of the fact that we pay a scab inspection tax, from which we are supposed to derive a certain amount of benefit, be it

Resolved, That we ask his excellency the governor of this state to see to it that the affairs of the office of state veterinarian shall in the future be more faithfully and efficiently administered.

WHEREAS, The sheep industry of the west is now represented by a journal known as "Wool and Mutton," published exclusively in the interests of the woolgrowers and sheep raisers, and believing that such a journal is of great importance in advancing and promoting our interests.

Resolved, That the Eastern Montana Wool Growers' association, in convention assembled, do heartily endorse this new advocate of our interests, and recommend it to all in any way commercially related to the sheep growing industry as worthy of their appreciation and support.

Mr. Cree spoke regarding the dogging of cattle and hoped that nothing of this kind would be heard of again, as it was unfortunate and should not be tolerated.

Mr. Myers referred most favorably to the members of Custer county's legislative delegation for their efforts to secure the passage of the bounty law as it passed the house with a bounty of 85 on wolves and 83 on coyotes, and thought it would have been signed in that shape and been a law today.

The report of the committee was then unanimously adopted.
 J. E. Light was called upon, and as he expressed it proceeded to give these present simply a neighborly talk, which evidently pleased the audience.

Mr. Cree followed in a short address upon his views regarding sheep, especially the adaptability of the marinos to this section.

James Davidson spoke of his own experience, and referred particularly to the proper shedding of sheep.

R. R. Selway made a few remarks on the price of wool clips, and asked of some of his democratic friends if they still thought the removal of the duty on wool would enhance the value of their clips.

Mr. Myers answered quoting the remarks of Messrs. McNaughton and Truscott made during the afternoon, in which they stated that there was no present prospect of a reduction in prices, and cited the raise in Pennsylvania wools.

Mr. Davidson said he was a free trader and drifted off into that line generally.

Mr. Cree advocated the branding of sheep as the only proper way to run such stock.

Mr. Wright of Wool and Mutton desired to return his thanks for the endorsement given his paper.

The convention then adjourned sine die.
