

McIntire's Bulletin.

Revised to Date.

That sale of Stetson's Cow Boy Hats created quite an excitement yesterday, and well it might; values from $5.00 to $7.00 at $2.00 your choice, is quite a bargain even at McIntire's, a place notorious in the past for genuine low prices; balance of lot, about 100, go to-day at same price, $2.00 each.

The new Fedora Hats, just received, square and round top. Colors—black, light brown and French grey. Will be eagerly taken by the elite, esthetic gentlemen of Miles who desire to keep abreast the eastern fashion in headwear.

Caps are the correct thing this spring, and the M. M. Co. are strictly in line, and have them all. We, however, recommend the "Commodore," in black, navy and Lohdon fog. The English yachting cap is all right, and a new thing not to be had elsewhere. Prices, 50c, 75c and $1.00.

Cracked the safe.

The light tinged gentry are evidently on the increase around town, and they are so hungry that they are willing to try off any kind of a job which will offer any inducement to line their pockets. Safe crackers have been very scarce here in the past, in fact the first one of that class of work which has occurred in the city for a long time was worked at As-he's livery stable sometime during the latter part of Thursday night. Yesterday morning it was discovered upon opening the safe that the inside door had been pried open probably with a "jimmy," and the contents, about $65 were missing. It was thought on closing up for the night that the combination had been thrown off, but as the outside door gave no evidence of having been tampered with, it is very probable that it was not. There is no trace or clue of the successful operator.

The Wolf Pest.

W. E. Kennedy who was in town yesterday from Pumpkin creek told a JOURNAL reporter that on Wednesday last three yearling calves belonging to John Ross were pulled down and killed by wolves. This occurred in broad daylight and right on the traveled road, but it so happened that though people were in view of the affair none could get within helping distance until it was too late. Mr. Kennedy says the wolves are very plenty in that section and unusually bold. He himself saw one band of eight teen big fellows a few days ago. They thrive on strychnine and appear to know all about the vetoing of the bounty bill, and the failure of bounty appropriations.

A Race and a Fight.

The two-hundred yard race at the track yesterday drew a very fair crowd, and proved to be one of more than usual interest. The betting before the start was quite lively, and both horses had plenty of backers. Al Moody rode Jones' gray horse, while one of Ryan Bros' jockeys, who is known by the nickname of "Fanny," handled McNamee's sorrel. The gray proved too fast for the sorrel and won handily.

After the horses ran through, they turned and came back to the judges for a decision. As they came down the stretch Alex Smith, who had been backing the sorrel, rushed up to the gray horse, and catching hold of Moody, pulled him to the ground. After a very few words they were locked in a first-class fight, but were soon separated, but not until Smith had been considerably damaged by Moody. During the jangle preceding the fight, all that could be gleaned as to its cause and origin, was that Moody had agreed to "pull" the gray and permit the sorrel to win, but Smith claimed that instead of keeping his promise, had run the horse out a winner, to the serious damage of Smith's pocket book.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all of the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach be disordered, you have a dyspeptic look and if your kidneys be affected you have a puffed look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic and acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Wright's drug store, 50 cts. per bottle.

AS IT SHOULD BE.

A. C. Logan and Bessie Southmayd Married in Chicago.

Chicago, April 18.—Arthur C. Logan of Helena, was married to Miss Bessie Southmayd, also of Helena, at the Auditorium yesterday afternoon. About a week ago Mr. Logan arrived at the Auditorium en route to New York. He caught a slight cold and kept his room for a couple of days. He was particularly anxious that his lady love's peace of mind should not be disturbed by hearing the news, and expressed his feelings in the matter to his friend, World's Fair Commissioner Bickford. The commissioner, however, thought Miss Southmayd should be informed of the true state of affairs and accordingly sent her a telegram setting forth the facts. On receipt of the message she immediately started, arriving at the Auditorium yesterday. Seeing that she was present Mr. Logan made up his mind that the occasion was appropriate to the tying of the matrimonial knot. Miss Southmayd acquiesced in the proposition. Mr. and Mrs. Logan will spend their honeymoon in New York. The only persons present at the ceremony were the young woman's aunt and Commissioner Bickford.—Independent.

The many friends of the Mr. and Mrs. Logan in Miles City will recognize in the above announcement, the logical sequence of events and the more intimate friends would have been very much disappointed had matters turned out otherwise. The YELLOWSTONE JOURNAL extends its most sincere and hearty congratulations to both, not unmindful of the fact that "Loggy" is getting a good deal the best of the bargain.

How the Job Was Put Up.

An interesting feature of the watch presentation to Preet, Joe Scott by the stockgrowers association is as follows: The presentation was intended to have taken place last fall, but some obstacle intervened and it was necessarily postponed. Singularly enough Mr. Scott, who had contented himself with a serviceable "bulls-eye," about that time became impressed with the idea that he must buy a new and more imposing looking timepiece. He made this known to his intimate friend Frank Robertson, who was the prime mover in the presentation scheme, and Frank, in order to prevent the purchase, put up a job, the essence of which was that he too needed a new watch, and proposed that they buy watches alike. This was agreed to and it was arranged that some time when they were in Chicago together they would make the purchase. From that time forward the watch question became a burden to Frank. Hitherto he had been a frequent companion of Mr. Scott's in his numerous visits to Chicago, but after the agreement he never dared to mention an eastern trip in Joe's presence, and invariably had important business west when Joe was going east. Almost every time that the latter was in Chicago he would telegraph or write Frank that he intended to buy the two watches before he returned and as promptly as the wire could carry the message, Frank would telegraph a protest and remind him of his promise to defer the purchase until both were there. What with telegraph bills and wear and tear on his nervous system, Frank was well nigh driven to a corner before the date rolled around for stock meeting, when deception would be at an end. Joe is tickled to death now that he didn't make the purchase, but thought for a long time that Frank was acting very queer and unreliable for an old friend.

Stopped the Business.

Sheriff Hawkins went up to Forsyth last night to serve an injunction upon Thomas Alexander from locking up or in any way interfering with the water tank and pumps of the company at that place.

The pump in question has been standing where it now is some nine or ten years, and no objection has been heretofore made to it, but in the absence of Mr. Alexander, who has gone east, his hired men have refused to permit the company to do any work upon the premises.

This the railroad company claims not only interferes with its business but will also seriously impede the carrying of the United States mails. The pump is situated upon land belonging to Mr. Alexander, and is not upon the right of way. The matter will be heard in the district court in a few days.

Mistaken, Mistaken.

The use of this word seems to be so anomalous as to need some inquiry and explanation.

I may be mistaken, for I continually make mistakes. But when shown to have been mistaken I own myself in error. Yet, if I am mistaken, it is not the error of him who mistakes me? But it may be that I am right and that he is mistaken, though I suppose that I ought to take him a good and not mistake him. Nevertheless I often have to say in argument: "You were quite right. I was mistaken."

In a word, though he who mistakes must be in error, our common use of language considers him who is mistaken to be so.—Notes and Queries.

Full of Pith.

Are those disorders which, beginning with an apparently trivial inactivity of the kidneys or bladder, terminate in Bright's disease, diabetes and exstis. The first two not only interrupt the functions of the renal organs, but destroy their structure with as much certainty as tubercular consumption does that of the lungs. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, an excellent diuretic, promoting the activity of these organs without over exciting them, thus averting the deadly maladies in which their inaction is so prone to culminate. The removal from the blood of impurities which the kidneys should but do not, when inactive, secrete, is another beneficial effect of this incomparable medicinal stimulant and purgative. The Bitters is, in all cases, too a fine restorative of vigor and it too, dissolves malarial deposits, and banishes liver complaint and constipation.

Cured When Others Failed

Salt Rheum or Psoriasis—Severe Case

Mr. N. J. McCoun Kingsley, Iowa.

"In 1879 I had an eruption appear on my left leg and arm. Sometimes it would subside and on account of it I was unable to work a great deal of the time. I had seven doctors examine and treat me without success. Some called it psoriasis, some eczema, some salt rheum and one knowing one called it prairie itch. All the doctors in the county had a trial but none did me a particle of good. I spent all my spare money trying to get relief. Finally I was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After using one and a half bottles I saw the benefit. I have now used the third bottle and am completely cured."
