THE SHOOTING.

An Eye Witness tells How Dud Champion Was Killed.

It Is Asserted That Champion Had Confederates Who Had Planned Revenge on Stockmen.

Lusk, Wyo., May 24.—An inquest to ascertain the facts concerning the death of Dud Champion, the brother of Nat Champion, killed at the "77" ranch, 65 miles north of Douglas, Monday night, was held to-day. Cave Matthews, foreman of a Texas outfit and the only eye-witness of the shooting, testified as follows: "Dud Champion came to our wagon while we were camped near the '77' ranch, of which Mike Shaughnessy is foreman, about 6 o'clock Monday evening. In about an hour I saw Shaughnessy coming toward our camp and got on my horse and rode out to meet him. Riding up near where our horses were standing he called out 'hello Mike.' Shaughnessy drew his gun saying, 'Dud, I hear you threaten to kill me on sight.' Champion replied, 'no, hold on, but at the same time started to draw his gun. Shaughnessy had lowered his weapon a little, but when Champion made a threatening movement he fired. Champion fell from his horse. Shaughnessy jumped to the ground and fired again. He then rode away. Champion told me to take his gun and the boys, 'Shonsey killed me.' The verdict of the coroner's jury was, 'killed in self defense.' Champion's funeral will be held here to-morrow. The killing has created great excitement in central Wyoming and trouble is feared.

HE HAD CONFEDERATES.

DOUGLAS, Wyo., May 24.—It has just been learned that Dud Champion, who was killed by Mike Shaughnessy, had one or more confederates and that a conspiracy had been formed to assassinate several of the stockmen who took part in the raid into Johnson county last spring.

Selected a Site.

MISSOULA, May 24.—Missoulians are jubilant. All fears that the university, which is some time or other is to be built in this city, would be located in an undesirable part of the city are at an end. The spot has been chosen. The commissioners have gone and nothing now remains but to wait a few years until the legislature appropriates sufficient available money to put up the structure. After viewing the different sites offered for this purpose, the commission finally decided on 40 acres situated on the south side overlooking the river, half of which land composes a portion of what is known as the Montana addition, being donated by Frank G. Higgins and the remaining 20 acres being the gift of E. L. Bonner and A. B. Hammond. This site, together with 40 inches of water, also donated, is very valuable, being variously estimated at from $50,000 to $60,000. Before leaving the city, the commission appointed a citizen's committee, consisting of Thomas C. Marshall, S. H. T. Ryman and Judge Knowles to secure the proper deeds for the site and to attend to other matters pertaining to the transaction. The work of preparing the grounds will be commenced at once, the land will be cleared and plowed, shade trees planted and other arrangements made for the purpose of beautifying the property. The entire commission departed at noon for Dillon, where they will to-morrow select a site for the location of the normal school.

Defrauded a Widow.

LAUREL, May 24.—Dr. Thomas Butler, who was recently tried at Billings and acquitted of the poisoning of a man named Miller, near Park City, has left the country under circumstances which, to say the least, look very suspicious. Several days ago it is alleged that he secured the signature of Mrs. Miller, wife of the man he was accused of murdering to two mortgages on her property aggregating over $900, representing that the papers were a lease to a house and lot that he had rented of Mrs. Miller for a term of three years, and which he had no further use for. After obtaining the mortgages, he opened negotiations with a lawyer at Red Lodge, named Myers, with a view of disposing of them. After some corresponding a bargain was closed by which Butler received $700 in gold for the papers. To-day Mrs. Miller, who is very illiterate and unable to read, received a notice from Lawyer Myers that he held the mortgage on her property, and at once came to Laurel to see what she could do in the matter. Dr. Butler disappeared Sunday night and is supposed to be in the vicinity of Helena and officers are making a vigorous search for him. He was very popular with the majority of the people here, and much surprise is expressed at his disgraceful conduct. It is hoped that he will be captured and made to suffer the full penalty of the law for his misdoings.

Coming West.

OMAHA, Neb., May 24.—The right-of-way secured by the Burlington people through the Crow reservation in Montana is the first step towards building the line from Sheridan, Wyo., its present terminus, to Billings, where it will form a junction with the Northern Pacific.

General Manager Holdridge this morning said: "The permission to extend the line was absolutely necessary before a spadeful of earth could be thrown up and going through so many hands at Washington, it naturally took considerable time. Some work will undoubtedly be done on the extension this summer, but how much I cannot say. It will be a long extension and the work will go slowly. A beginning will certainly be made. We are anxious to reach Anaconda, but have not yet fixed up a route."

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Castle, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.

Edward Shepard, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well.

J. H. Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle of Electric Bitters and one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at John Wright's drug store.

The Grand Central

Railroad station, Chicago, is being fitted up for hotel purposes during the world's fair. This magnificent fire proof structure located at the corner of Harrison street and Fifth avenue in the very heart of the city, will devote the 3rd, 4th and 5th floors to this purpose. It will be run on European plan; each room will have hot and cold water, electric lights and be steam heated. The office and ladies' parlors, etc., will be located on the third floor and the building will be supplied with all modern conveniences. There will be from 100 to 200 rooms for guests.

This acquisition to the hotel facilities of Chicago will be appreciated by those who wish to be safely housed in a fire proof building, conveniently located itself. Those desiring accommodations can secure them by addressing Mr. T. P. Clifford, the manager, at Chicago. The hotel will be opened May 15th, 1893. The Grand Central station is the Chicago depot of the Northern Pacific railroad (Wisconsin Central division) and by taking that through car line to the world's fair city, visitors will avoid the discomfort of transfer of themselves and baggage through the city. From this station trains run direct to the Worlds Fair grounds during the day.

THE TAILOR OF MANNHEIM.

He Invented a Bullet Proof Coat, and Panted Kings Are at His Feet.

Who could have told before the other day that Mannheim held her epoch making tailor? Who even in Mannheim knew it? Mein Herr Dove—the miraculously, as he is discovered to be—was known to his fellow citizens as a plain "schneider," of whom something might be made were it possible to multiply him by nine. And now where are the nine men—barring the emperor, Prince Bismarck and Count von Caprivi—who have stirred the fatherland as Herr Dove has stirred it these few days? A little while ago Herr Dove was so inebriated that he was constrained to beg the loan of the pistol wherewith he has privately tried his experiment. This moment he may if he like be rich beyond the dreams of avarice. Emperors are "wiring" him, syndicates are clustering round him, French and Russian spies are trying to bag him, and German detectives—as they appear to be—are following the spies. Most wonderful tailor!

Our correspondent's account makes it clear that the new coat of mail is a rigid garment which the warrior can put on his breast when he faces the foe, or clap on his back when he runs away from him. But it strikes us that the miraculous tailor has not and cannot solve the serious problem of impact. His coat of mail can stop the swiftest bullet, but it cannot destroy the force of the blow. Because a bullet is so small a thing, few people, soldiers excepted, understand how great its weight is at its terrific speed. A soldier receiving a bullet on his coat of mail would in all probability be knocked senseless for a time. We can fancy him slowly coming to himself again, sitting up and lazily looking round about him to see how things were going on. He has been technically dead for, say, 5 or 10 most precious minutes. But it is possible that if 30 or 40 per cent of his regiment were in the same position they might just as well, from the general's point of view, be physically dead for all time, and that though lives were saved the day might be lost. A warrior prostrated in that manner might prove a source of perplexity to the Red Cross rescuers and the takers of prisoners.—London News.

The Control of the Nicaragua Canal.

The cost of the Nicaragua canal has been variously estimated. The latest I have seen, and I believe it to be the highest, is $87,000,000. The company engaged in its construction proposes to raise in some way $100,000,000—an excess of $13,000,000 above the estimated cost—to pay interest till the canal is in operation and to provide for contingencies that may arise. The sum is not large if the patronage the canal shall receive proves to be anything like what is predicted and seems probable.

There are differences of views as to how the canal shall be constructed and controlled when in operation. As it will prove most advantageous to our own commerce, and as under public control excessive profits will not be made on the money invested, there is a prevailing sentiment that the government should build it and manage it after it is built; that it should be free to American shipping, and a tax imposed on foreign patrons only to an extent that is necessary to pay the expense of management and repair and a reasonable income on the cost of construction.—Richard H. McDonald, Jr., in Californian.

The Science of Nose Study. Not the least charm of the science of "nasoology" is the chance which it offers to the historian of testing the characters of eminent men by its rigid and unending standard.

The historical value of gems and engravings cannot fail to be enhanced by their bearing on this most interesting subject, and the moral value of actions and actions whose spring has long been doubtful may be solved by reference to the nasal developments of their authors. Apologists for the money making impulse which it pleased Adam Smith to ascribe to human action will, for instance, no longer be able to urge that some such theory was necessary to a logical system of political economy.

Adam Smith possessed the Jewish nose in its highest development. The nose is the reflex of character, and the "naso-logical" political economist will brush aside apologies and estimate the bias of the father of the science not by the necessities of a theory, but by the hard facts of his Semitic profile.—London Spectator

The World's Fair—What It Means.

It means that from May 1st until Oct. 21st there will be an exhibition in Chicago the triumphs of all the ages. The rarest and choicest specimens of the handiwork of man from the nations of the earth will be there to instruct and delight.

That for six months Chicago will be the most cosmopolitan spot on the globe. That the American people will have the wonderful opportunity of mingling with and observing the habits and characteristics of the people of every nation in the world.

That "villages" of the different foreign countries, constructed by and made up entirely of people direct from such countries, will be a most interesting feature of the fair.

That the American citizen, of whatever foreign birth or parentage, may carry himself back again to the land of his origin by visiting and studying these foreign "villages."

That a few days or weeks spent at the World's Fair will be worth years of travel.

That this is the grandest opportunity the American people have ever had for interesting study and pleasure, and that a trip to Chicago during the next six months would be the event of a lifetime.
