LOTTERIES.

A New Jersey Grand Jury Sent Back to Complete Its Work.

Openly Charged that Lotteries Depend on Political Power for Protection.—The Judge Speaks Right Out.

JERSEY CITY, N. J., July 20. The Hudson county grand jury asked to be discharged yesterday but Judge Lippincott refused to entertain the proposition. He said he had a special charge to make. He wished to call their attention to lotteries. "Every lottery," he said, "is a public nuisance and indictable. Every one engaged in maintaining a lottery is indictable. That this business flourishes in Jersey City is a notorious fact. The issue is between lawlessness and the enforcement of the law. The court is almost powerless without indictments and it now desires that you, by your action, aided by the whole power of this court and the state, put an end to this demoralizing evil."

"Has not the grand jury already sufficient evidence to warrant indictment, and has it not already reached a conclusion? If not they can speedily inform themselves as to the names of the men engaged in the business. The court is unwilling to discharge the grand jury without an indictment of the men thus unlawfully engaged."

"It is openly charged that this class is protected, and that their political and other power is sufficient to protect them from indictment. The impression prevails that the grand juries of Hudson county impartially administer the law, and it would seem as if the inference were warranted. The court will enforce the law thoroughly if you will give it the opportunity. If grand juries stand ready to protect criminals the fact should be known at once. There is sufficient evidence before the court to indict these men. If the grand jury has not seen it, that evidence is at their service. I will be glad to place it in the hands of the foreman in open court. If this grand jury does not do its duty one will soon be chosen that will."

The grand jury retired.

Telephotos.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 20. A successful test of Boughton telephotos was conducted here last night. The dots and dashes of bright light, produced by electric incandescence lights, could be distinctly seen by the witnesses on Bird Island Pier, about a mile away, and a letter containing 30 words was sent in 15 minutes. It is also claimed that the signals were read at Point Abino, 10 miles away. The telephotos will be exhibited before the army and navy boards of the old world.

Man and Wife Indicted for Assault.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 20. Charles McGuire and wife, foreman and forewoman at the lace factory in this city, were committed to the county prison without bail. The former was charged with assault upon a girl aged 15 years, his wife assisting him in forcing the crime. The details of the case are the most horrible on record.

The highest waves ever met with in the ocean are said to be those off the Cape of Good Hope. Under the influence of a northwesterly gale they have been known to exceed 40 feet in height.

Timber of the tamarisk or siltum wood has been found perfectly sound in the ancient temples of Egypt in connection with stonework which is known to be at least 4,000 years old.

A Modern Nigger.
Jimson—Where are you going?
Billson—Only off for a day's shooting.
Jimson—Great snakes! With that car-load of freight?
Billson—Those boxes contain books, the latest and most complete compendiums of the game laws of the state. I don't want to shoot anything out of season.—New York Weekly.

The Magic Number.

From the earliest ages, men have attached something of a mystery and magical character to the number seven. The classic world had its seven wonders. Greece had her seven chief cities and her seven sages. The law given from Mount Sinai made the seventh day a holy one. The rainbow presents seven colors. It was a favorite number in the abstruse calculations of the ancient astrologers, and has been much used as a basis for those who attempt to unravel Biblical prophecies. The Burlington Route has on its line seven cities which are foremost in the Great West and well worth a visit—Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Denver. Between all these the Burlington Route, with its magnificent vestibuled trains, is the popular means of communication. For maps, time tables, etc., call on local agents or address W. J. C. Kenyon, Gen. Pass. Agent St. Paul, Minn.

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all of the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach be disordered, you have a dyspeptic look and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great all-terative and tonic and acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Wright's drug store, 50 cts. per bottle.

Wanted—Salesmen.

Wanted—Salesmen, to sell our choice and hardy nursery stock. Many special varieties to offer both in fruits and ornamentals, and controlled only by us. We pay commission or salary, give exclusive territory and pay weekly. Write us at once and secure choice of territory.
MAY BROTHERS, Nurserymen, Rochester, N. Y.

Hints About Driving.

When driving, you must watch the road. Turn out for stones, so that the horse shall not stumble nor the wheels jolt over them; avoid the mudholes and places where the going is bad; let the horse slacken speed when the road becomes heavy, and if you want to make up time, do it where the ground slightly descends.

It is a common mistake to think that a horse can haul a carriage easily on the level. On such a road he has to be pulling every moment; there is no rest. Whereas when the road now rises and now falls the weight is taken off him at times, and he has a chance to recover his wind and to rest his muscles. As between a level road in a valley and an up and down road over the hills, the latter is by far the easier for a horse to travel. When you come to a long level stretch, let your horse walk a bit in the middle of it.

Almost everybody knows that for the first few miles after coming out of the stable a horse should be driven slowly, and especially if he has just been fed. On a journey it is of the utmost importance to observe this rule. Be careful, however, not to check a young nag too quickly when he comes fresh out of the stable. Give him his head, talk to him soothingly, and presently he will come down to a moderate pace. If you pull him up at once, you vex him extremely, so much so that he is not unlikely to kick.—Harper's Young People.

DEPOT QUARTERMASTER'S OFFICE.

Office, Washington, D. C., July 11, 1893.—SEALED PROPOSALS, in triplicate, will be received at this office until 12 o'clock noon, on Tuesday, August 15th, 1893, for the erection of a Superintendent's lodge, of brick, at the Custer Battlefield, Montana, National Cemetery, in accordance with plans and specifications to be seen or had at this office and at the offices of Major J. M. Marshall, Quartermaster, Helena, Montana; the Post Quartermaster, Fort Custer, Montana, and Major J. V. Pury, Chief Quartermaster, Saint Paul, Minnesota. Proposals will also be entertained for the construction of the lodge of stone, on same plans. The Government reserves the right to reject any or all proposals. Envelopes containing proposals should be plainly marked "Proposals for Superintendent's Lodge," and addressed to GEORGE H. WEEKS, Lt. Col. and Deputy Quartermaster General, U. S. A., Depot Quartermaster.

A Great Convenience.

World's Fair visitors traveling via the Northern Pacific R. R. and Wisconsin Central Line, are landed at the Grand Central station in Chicago.

This magnificent fire-proof building, located in the heart of the city has been fitted up as a hotel, run on the European plan with about 200 rooms handsomely furnished and each room is supplied with hot and cold water, electric lights, etc.

The charges for accommodations are reasonable and parties can secure rooms in advance by calling upon agents of the Northern Pacific R. R.

By taking the Northern Pacific through car line to Chicago, visitors will avoid the discomfort of all transfer in that city, and can also travel between the Grand Central station and World's Fair grounds by trains which run direct between the two points.

Championed by a Gamble.

A ragged, barefooted boy, a crossing sweeper, had doffed his cap to the Duchess of Sutherland in the hope of recognition, when he observed a well-dressed but rakish looking man following her across the street, as if trying to force upon her attentions that were evidently obnoxious to her. There was a look of distress on the duchess's face.

"Excuse me, lady," said a boy's voice beside her, "shall I punch 'is lead?" She turned, looked down angrily upon the little sweeper, and then said, smiling: "Why, it's Jemmie!" She had remembered his name after all, and at that moment the boy washed, body and soul. Without a sting for another word he dashed off and turned a sort of violent "heart-wheel" so adroitly calculated that he landed with two very muddy feet in the middle of the other man's waistcoat.

Then, before the man could recover from the shock, the boy had slipped him with one muddy hand across the mouth and with the other had deposited a handful of the Elly compound on the back of his neck.

The next moment the boy was in the grasp of a policeman, who dragged him away to the nearest police station. He was just being charged by the constable with having committed an assault when the duchess entered. She spoke kindly to the gamine and then explained the affair to the inspector on duty.

At her request the boy was set at liberty, and he staid only long enough to say to the inspector: "It's the lady who made me when the cab run over me leg."—London Cor. New York Tribune.

Getting on a Street Car.

Did you ever notice a man who is going to get on a street car while it is in motion? He comes down off the side walk and stands along the side of the track quietly till the car almost reaches him. Then he walks across a few feet and prances about like a string galloping horse, awkward as a Shanghai rooster that wants to fight. Just as the car reaches him he takes two or three steps sideways, and at last, confused as a schoolboy, grasps the hand rail and clings on like a man who is drowning.—Colorado Sun

A Matter of Time.

Wagleigh—How did you like that dinner service I sent you today, dear?
Mrs. Wagleigh—Oh, it is perfectly lovely, but there are only 91 pieces in it, and you know the set mamma has consists of 117 pieces.
Wagleigh—Well, dear, don't let that worry you. After Bridget has handled it for a week or so it will be in a good many more pieces than that.—Exchange.

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying that I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am a well and hearty woman." The World's Fair—What It Means.

It means that from May 1st until Oct. 31st there will be an exhibition in Chicago the triumphs of all the ages. The rarest and choicest specimens of the handiwork of man from the nations of the earth will be there to instruct and delight.

That for six months Chicago will be the most cosmopolitan spot on the globe. That the American people will have the wonderful opportunity of mingling with and observing the habits and characteristics of the people of every nation in the world.

That "villages" of the different foreign countries, constructed by and made up entirely of people direct from such countries, will be a most interesting feature of the fair.

That the American citizen, of whatever foreign birth or parentage, may carry himself back again to the land of his origin by visiting and studying these foreign "villages."

That a few days or weeks spent at the World's Fair will be worth years of travel.

That this is the grandest opportunity the American people have ever had for interesting study and pleasure, and that a trip to Chicago during the next six months would be the event of a lifetime.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway offers the best and most frequent train service from St. Paul and Minneapolis to Chicago. The only line lighting its trains by electricity. The most perfect dining service and the best sleeping cars in this country. Ask your agent for tickets via "The Milwaukee" the Government's Fast Mail Line, or address

J. T. CONLEY, Asst. Gen. Pass. Agt., St. Paul, Minn.

NOTE—Write for a C. M. & St. P. World's Fair folder. It gives full particulars as to how to visit the Fair and what it will cost.
