REFINED CRUELITIES

Practiced at the State Industrial School for Girls in Kansas.

The Inmates Starved and Subjected to Extreme Brutality. They Scarcely Dare Tell of Their Sufferings.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 13. Mrs. Mary Kungel, of Richland, this county, has made complaint before the board of charities against the administration of the State Industrial School for girls at Beloit, Kan. The school is a reformatory. Mrs. Kungel visited it this week to see one of the inmates. She says the conduct of the school is scandalous in the extreme. The inmates, so she says, have insufficient food and extreme punishment is inflicted for trivial offenses. One girl, she says, was punished by having her hands tied behind her back continuously for a week. Another was confined in a dark cell for a month. Still another was stripped of her clothing and was then beaten with a rubber cane with an iron ferrule, her head having been previously fastened in the closet vault so that she could not struggle. Beatings of girls with the rubber cane is frequent punishment and the inmates were so cowed that it was with great difficulty that Mrs. Kungel could induce them to tell of their condition. Mrs. Mary Lease, a member of the board, will make an investigation.

Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13. Nelson Morris & Co.'s large fertilizing and beef packing establishment at Forty-third street and Center avenue took fire to-day, and a square 50x150 feet in dimensions in the fertilizing department. A sudden explosion knocked down an engineer named Peters and started a blaze among the grease and oils. Contact between two electric light wires is thought to have caused the explosion by igniting a cloud of dust that filled the corner. Besides Engineer Peters but one other man, name unknown, was injured. Neither was fatally hurt.

"Old Hutch" Retires.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The once famous wheat speculator, B. P. Hutchinson ("Old Hutch"), has sold his membership in the Chicago board of trade. The certificate, which was issued to the old gentleman twenty-six years ago, went at a very low price. It is understood that the old man realized but a little less than $900 net by the sale. The membership went into Armour & Co.'s office, the hard-headed senior of that firm buying it for an employee. Hutchinson was at one time worth $8,000,000, accumulated in speculation chiefly. The sale of his membership is taken as marking the formal close of his business career.

Not Applicable to Atlanta.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 13.—There is going to be no trouble in Atlanta this fall about moving the cotton crop. The startling reports sent out by Bradstreet to the effect that there would likely be a crisis in cotton affairs at the South because of the inability or unwillingness of the banks to advance sufficient money to move the crop have no application to the situation here. Whatever may be the arguments for the government, Atlanta and this region need fear nothing. The cotton crop is going to be moved.

A Foul Deed.

FOREST CITY, Iowa, Aug. 13.—This county is in a great state of excitement over the foul murder, it is supposed, of John H. Harmon, near Stearns postoffice, who was taken out of bed, carried to an old shell, killed, no one knows just how, and then placed in a kneeling position with a string of hay bale wire around his neck, one end of which was attached to the roof.

Child Burned.

CHIFFEWA FALLS, Wis., Aug. 13.—Lissie, the daughter of Jack Murphy, was seriously burned Saturday afternoon. Her mother was washing and took a boiler off of the stove. A spark flew, set fire to the child's dress, burning her chest and neck nearly to a crisp. The mother was badly burned in the attempt to save her child.

Enlightening the Counselor.

Correspondent Sam Johnston regaled a party with stories about the late Judge Baxter, who presided over the Sixth district of the United States circuit court. Among them was the following:

"Ed. Johnston, who is now one of the law partners of Judge Hoody in New York, once had a case before Judge Baxter down in Tennessee, and in the course of his argument remarked that it was plainly evident that an injunction could not be issued against his client. Judge Baxter interrupted him, saying that he thought he was mistaken.

"Well, your honor, I must confess that I cannot see how it can be done," said Mr. Johnston.

"I can very easily show you if you desire me to," blandly observed Baxter.

"Of course the attorney gallantly expressed how grateful he would feel if the honorable court would instruct him. Baxter picked up a pen, seized a scrap of paper and hurriedly wrote out an order in the proper legal form directing an injunction to be issued against Johnston's client.

"That is the way to do it, Mr. Johnston," said his honor. "Mr. Clerk place this order in its proper place upon the record."—Washington Times.

Subject for Thought.

The young man wanted a position in a concern not known for the large salaries it paid, and he was a calculating young person with a wife.

"We can give you $50 a month," said the manager.

"Fifty a month, did you say?" he questioned, taken aback.

"Yes."

The young man was silent until the manager became nervous.

"Well," he said, "what do you say?"

"I've got to have time to answer."

"What's that for?"

"Well, I've got to study up some plan or other to make enough money to enable me to accept that amount of salary," and he went away to think about it.—Detroit Free Press.

The Cost of Living in Boston.

A young man in Boston asks for a bill of fare "from Monday noon to Saturday noon, at a cost of 4 or less." This young man must be a humorist or a stranger in Boston. He can live for $2 for a week on time, warranted beans, pork in moderation, Cambridgeport selected crackers, best water. In fact this would be extravagance. His Lewis Lyed for a week or two on 2 cents' worth of beans and a cent's worth of vinegar, and we believe he always looked back to this period of his life with a feeling that he had been squandering money and living grossly. One portion of vinegar for two would have been enough and more than enough.

The Impurities of Frozen Water.

The popular idea that water is purified by freezing has been disproved by careful experiments, which show that the average amount of impurity retained by the ice is 34.3 per cent of organic matter and 21.2 per cent of inorganic matter. As organic matter is the more objectionable of the two, the case is worse than was formerly supposed.—New York Journal.

Few Pipes to Be Seen in Spain.

The tobacco pipe is never seen in Spain in use among the natives, nor are tobacco pipes to be purchased in any of the shops. Cigars and cigarettes manufactured in the government factories in Spain, or imported from Cuba or the Philippines, can alone be procured and are universally smoked by the people.

The Strong.

"I think Mr. Richmuck has very weak punch served at his parties," remarked young Swedde to his friend Dan-Loft.
"I don't agree with you," answered his friend, "I got the strongest punch at his house I ever had in my life."
"On what occasion?"
"When I asked him for the hand of his daughter."—Detroit Free Press.

The First Patient.

Young Dr. Meyer is sitting in a crowded tavern. Enter Johann, his servant, who says in a loud voice, "Oh, doctor, come home at once, there is a patient waiting for you." "Then he whispers into the doctor's ear, 'I have locked the front door so it can't get away.'"—Fliegende Blätter.

It will cure sick headache, indigestion, constipation, and drive malaria from the system. Satisfaction guaranteed with each bottle or the money will be refunded. Price only 50c per bottle. Sold by John Wright.

Disappointed by a Game.

A rugged, barefaced, big, cross-eyed newspaper man, who had been in the line of his profession in the line of recognition, when he observed a well-dressed but rich-looking man follow him across the street, as if trying to force upon her attentions that were evidently obnoxious to her. There was a look of distress on the duchess's face.

"Sense me, lady," said a boy's voice beside her, "shall I punch his head?"

She turned, looked down angrily upon the little scoundrel, and then said, smiling, "Why, it's Jennie!"

She had remembered his name after all, and at that moment the boy was hers, body and soul. Without waiting for another word he dashed off and turned a sort of violent "cartwheel" so adroitly calculated that he landed with two very muddy feet in the middle of the offensive man's waistcoat.

Then, before the man could recover from the shock, the boy had slapped him with one muddy hand across the mouth and with the other had deposited a handful of the filth compounded on the back of his neck.

The next moment the boy was in the grasp of a policeman, who dragged him away to the nearest police station. It was just being charged by the constable with having committed an assault when the duchess entered. She spoke kindly to the girl and then explained the affair to the inspector on duty.

At her request the boy was set at liberty, and he stood only long enough to say "good-bye" to the duchess.

The World's Fair—What It Means.

It means that from May 1st until Oct. 31st there will be an exhibition in Chicago the triumphs of all the ages. The rarest and choicest specimens of the handiwork of man from the nations of the earth will be there to instruct and delight.

That for six months Chicago will be the most cosmopolitan spot on the globe.

That the American people will have the wonderful opportunity of mingling with and observing the habits and characteristics of the people of every nation in the world.

That "villages" of the different foreign countries, constructed by and made up entirely of people direct from such countries, will be a most interesting feature of the fair.

That the American citizen, of whatever foreign birth or parentage, may carry himself back again to the land of his origin by visiting and studying these foreign "villages."

That a few days or weeks spent at the World's Fair will be worth years of travel.

That this is the grandest opportunity the American people have ever had for interesting study and pleasure, and that a trip to Chicago during the next six months would be the event of a lifetime.
